COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES & SOCIAL SCIENCES

Message From the Dean

1

Dear Graduating Class of 2024,

As the dean of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Utah Valley University, I am thrilled to congratulate you on reaching this significant milestone in your academic journey. Your graduation symbolizes the culmination of your unwavering dedication, hard work, and commitment to learning. Take pride in your achievements; they are a testament to your perseverance and passion for knowledge.

Equipped with the necessary skills and mindset, you are now prepared to excel in any path you choose, whether it involves furthering your education, embarking on a career, or pursuing your interests. Remember, education is a continuous process that extends beyond this momentous occasion. Embrace lifelong learning, seek new knowledge and experiences, and challenge yourself to continually grow and adapt.

We eagerly anticipate witnessing the remarkable accomplishments you will undoubtedly achieve. It has been an honor to be part of your educational journey, and we wish you nothing but success in all your future endeavors. Congratulations once again on your well-deserved triumph!

Sincerely,

Dr. Steven C. Clark
Dean, College of Humanities and Social Science

VALEDICTORIAN

5

In Latin, valedictorian means “farewell sayer” and is considered one of the highest honors a student can achieve at the end of their academic career. This prestigious honor recognizes not only academic excellence by achieving a 4.0 GPA, earning a minimum of 90 credits at UVU, and receiving a bachelor’s degree in a CHSS discipline but also by the demonstration of leadership, character, and service to our college community.

ABIGAIL G. JOHNSON

Bachelor of Social Work

Abigail G. Johnson is from West Jordan, Utah, where her mom and others worked to homeschool her. Johnson is receiving a Bachelor of Social Work with a minor in music. During her time at UVU, she worked as a peer mentor with Wolverines Elevated and completed her practicum with the Division of Child and Family Services. Johnson loves that UVU offers a variety of opportunities to learn and apply that knowledge. After graduation, she intends to take a couple of years to gain experience before pursuing her Master of Social Work.

OUTSTANDING GRADUATES

6

The outstanding graduate is nominated and chosen by the department faculty as the individual who best exemplifies excellence in their field of study and service. These students performed exceptionally throughout their academic careers and are examples to their classmates, faculty, and families.

ANNA BLASER

Bachelor of Arts, Humanities

Outstanding Graduate - Philosophy and Humanities

Anna Blaser is from Eagle Mountain, Utah, and graduated from Westlake High School. She is graduating from UVU with a Bachelor of Arts in humanities. Blaser has had many successes as a Wolverine, including being awarded a full-ride Presidential Scholarship in the fall of 2020, helping to prepare a paper and presentation for the 28th Annual Charles Dickens Society Symposium in Rochester, New York, and creating a pedagogical humanities website for her senior capstone project. She loves how UVU's welcoming environment has helped her connect with fellow students and professors. Blaser is open to wherever life takes her post-graduation and is eager to continue discovering her passions and sharing them with others.

AMANDA HYDE FLINDERS

Bachelor of Science, Applied Communication

Outstanding Graduate - Communication

Amanda Hyde Flinders is from Orem, Utah, where she graduated from Mountain View High School. She is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in applied communication. During her time at UVU, Hyde Flinders acted as president of the Public Relations Student Society of America, was a research assistant at the UVU Social Impact Metric Lab, and performed an in-depth impact audit for the Sundance Institute. She loves the nontraditional student mentorship communication faculty provide to help students reach their goals. After graduation, Hyde Flinders hopes to do public relations work in healthcare.

RAELENE NAEGLER

Bachelor of Science, English and Literature

Outstanding Graduate – English and Literature

Raelene Naegle attended Pleasant Grove High School in her hometown of Pleasant Grove, Utah. She is graduating with a Bachelor of Science in English and literature. Naegle has left her mark on UVU by making the dean's list and High Honor Roll and serving as editor-in-chief of Essays. She said she appreciates her incredible professors and loves the beautiful view of the mountains that she enjoyed while working at the UVU Fulton Library. After graduation, Naegle is considering graduate school or a study abroad program.

ZADIE JANE OBRAY

Bachelor of Science, History and Social Studies Education

Outstanding Graduate – History and Political Science

Zadie Jane Obrey hails from Woods Cross, Utah, and graduated from Woods Cross High School. She is leaving UVU with a Bachelor of Science in history and social studies education. With the support of her spouse, Zac, and the Ferrin family, Obrey maintained a 4.0 GPA and was published in the Crescat Scientia. She loves the professors at UVU and appreciates their varying backgrounds. Obrey has just accepted a job teaching eighth grade United States history at Elk Ridge Middle School in South Jordan, Utah.

HOLLY AYN SLIVKOFF

Bachelor of Arts, Integrated Studies

Outstanding Graduate – Languages and Cultures

Holly Ayn Slivkoff attended Clovis North High School in Fresno, California, and is graduating with a bachelor's degree in integrated studies with minors in Russian studies and history. She said the best part of her UVU experience was interacting with the Russian department faculty. Her lifelong goal is to learn Russian to understand speeches, songs, and prayers in her Russian-speaking church. Outside of academics, Slivkoff is a membership director at The Ranches Golf Club. She enjoys knitting, crocheting, skiing, and playing tennis and she thanks her family and her boyfriend, Eli, who have supported her throughout her educational journey.

LINDSEY WILCOX

Bachelor of Science, Family Science; Associate of Social Science

Outstanding Graduate – Behavioral Science

Lindsey Wilcox is from Cardston, Alberta, Canada, and graduated from Queen Creek American Leadership Academy High School. She maintained a 4.0 cumulative GPA throughout college, volunteered with Mindset Family Therapy and The Refuge Utah, interned for UVU's Stronger Families Project, and served as the UVU Family Science Club president. She also presented at the 2023 Utah Council on Family Relations. After graduation, she plans to pursue a master's degree in marriage and family therapy. Wilcox would like to thank her husband, Brayson, and her parents, siblings, and professors for their support throughout her education.

EXCEPTIONAL STUDENT RECOGNITION

The exceptional student recognition is for students who have distinguished themselves by achieving a 4.0 GPA, earning a minimum of 90 credits at UVU, and receiving positive recommendations from faculty, advisors, and mentors.

BOT

11

CLAUDIA JORGENSEN

Associate Professor, Behavioral Science

Board of Trustees Award of Excellence

From Salt Lake City, Utah, Dr. Claudia Jorgensen joined the Wolverine family in 2013 as an assistant professor and is presently an associate professor in the behavioral science department. Jorgensen holds an associate degree in early childhood development from Oakland Community College, two bachelor's degrees in biology and psychology from the University of Michigan-Flint, and a Ph.D. in neuroscience from Florida State University. With an extensive collection of published academic work and multiple awards under her belt, including the 2023 UVU Single Academic Innovation Award, Jorgensen is dedicated to further studying her craft and providing students with a high-quality educational experience. The driving force behind her dedication is also her favorite aspect of working at UVU: the university's mission to create a welcoming environment for students, staff, and faculty. In her free time, Jorgensen loves to spend time outdoors or coloring and doing puzzles with her husband, Hans Jorgensen, and their two children, Aiden and Amelia.

FACULTY AND STAFF AWARDS

12

The following faculty and staff from the College of Humanities and Social Sciences received awards this year for their exemplary work.

JORDAN ALLEN

*Assistant Professor, Communication
Faculty Senate Award of Excellence*

Jordan Allen is from Butte, Montana, and is an assistant professor of communication at UVU. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in psychology and a master's degree and Ph.D. in interpersonal and family communication from the University of Montana and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Allen has dedicated her career to researching how to navigate and improve difficult conversations in personal and professional contexts. Her favorite part of teaching at UVU is building relationships with dedicated and curious students. She expressed that "helping students articulate and answer questions about the world around them is a true joy."

TREVOR MORRIS

*Program Manager, Faculty Development
Adjunct Instructor, Behavioral Science
Faculty Senate Award of Excellence*

Trevor Morris is from Springville, Utah, and is a program manager of faculty development and an adjunct instructor of behavioral science. He holds a Bachelor of Science in behavioral sciences from UVU and a Master of Science in psychology from Palo Alto University. He is currently working to earn his Ph.D. in learning and cognition from the University of Utah. Morris researches the cognitive aspects of learning and the integration of artificial intelligence in education. His favorite aspect of working at UVU is seeing faculty and students succeed and grow.

CHRISTA ALBRECHT-CRANE

Professor, English

Dean's Award of Excellence for Faculty Service

Christa Albrecht-Crane is an English professor who has been teaching at UVU since 2001 in areas including composition studies, critical theory, and cultural studies. She holds a B.A. in American studies from Ludwig-Maximilians University in Munich, Germany, an M.A. in American studies from Washington State University, and a Ph.D. in Rhetoric and Technical Communication from Michigan Technological University. Albrecht-Crane has published numerous articles and book chapters and co-edited an essay collection. She received UVU's Faculty Excellence Award in 2005 and 2020, and the Dean's Award for Scholarly Research in 2011. In her view, the best thing about teaching at UVU is mentoring underprivileged students at a public, open-enrollment university.

RACHEL AROCHO

Assistant Professor, Family Science

Dean's Award of Excellence for Teaching

Dr. Rachel Arocho is from Vernal, Utah, and received a bachelor's degree in family, consumer, and human development from Utah State University Uintah Basin Regional Campus, and a master's degree in human development and family science and a Ph.D. from The Ohio State University. Arocho was a postdoctoral fellow at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill before joining UVU, where she has received two Flexible Teaching Awards. Arocho enjoys teaching and mentoring UVU students and learning new things from them. In her spare time, she loves playing video games with her husband, reading science fiction, and enjoying time with her dog, Chico.

STEVEN M. SYLVESTER

Associate Professor, Political Science

Dean's Award of Excellence for Scholarship

Dr. Steven M. Sylvester is from Fairfield, California, and earned his bachelor's degree and master's degree in political science from California State University and his Ph.D. from the University of Kansas. Sylvester serves in various capacities at UVU as an associate professor, vice chair of the Institutional Review Board, and director of the Master of Public Administration Program. His award-winning articles on anti-vaccine policy and the opioid epidemic have been published in highly regarded journals, and he received the Presidential Fellowship for Faculty Scholarship from UVU. Articles in his extensive portfolio of scholarship have been cited over 1,000 times in the past five years, making him one of the most cited scholars in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. Sylvester enjoys skiing, golfing, working out, traveling, and attending Broadway shows with his wife.

JOLENE ARNOFF

Assistant to the Dean

Dean's Award of Excellence for Staff

Jolene Arnoff, from Placentia, California, has worked in UVU's College of Humanities and Social Sciences since 2009. She earned a degree in university studies and has previously worked for large and small organizations, including a semiconductor manufacturer, a private high school, and a helicopter company. She said the best part of working at UVU is her colleagues, who provide invaluable expertise, encouragement, and friendship. Arnoff and her husband have three children and five granddaughters. In her spare time, she loves to travel, read, do puzzles, and work in her yard.
