ROOTS OF KNOWLEDGE
UTAH VALLEY UNIVERSITY

MISSION

With a commitment to student success at UVU, Roots of Knowledge facilitates interdisciplinary, multicultural education and inspires investment in the story of humanity.

By enabling dialogue and connection, Roots of Knowledge is ever evolving to meet the needs of our community.

ABOUT

Unveiled in 2016, Roots of Knowledge is a 154-foot stained-glass exhibit in the Fulton Library's Bingham Gallery. Comprised of 80 windows and more than 40,000 pieces of stained glass, Roots of Knowledge was created by Holdman Studios in collaboration with Utah Valley University. From conception to completion, this privately funded project spanned twelve years, with four years of active construction. Showcasing a sweeping landscape of human achievement and pursuit of learning, the stained-glass windows inspire scholarship, cultivate passion, and ignite curiosity.

We welcome all visitors to engage with Roots of Knowledge through ongoing dialogue and compassionate curiosity. Diverse perspectives are necessary to interpret this work and its impact; understanding our rich and complicated past is essential to building a hopeful future.

PUBLIC TOURS

Roots of Knowledge offers free virtual, audio, and guided tours to the public. Walk-in visitors can explore the exhibit with self-guided virtual and audio tours or attend a docent-led tour of the gallery.

Docents are available for scheduled tours and walk-in guests; for docent availability, please refer to the Roots of Knowledge website at uvu.edu/rootsofknowledge.

SPEAKER SERIES

Featuring UVU faculty and scholars, the Speaker Series showcases public lectures on topics ranging from the humanities to STEM. For our full event calendar, visit uvu.edu/rootsofknowledge/events.html.

FIELD TRIPS

Guided and self-guided field trips include interactive activities rooted in Utah State Core Curriculum standards. To schedule a school field trip, please call 801-863-7172.
