CONTENTS

Pope Pius II and Desiderius Erasmus: The Turkish Threat and the Need for Unity
Kristopher Willis ................................................................. 1

Are the National Liberation Front (FLN) Terrorists or Heroes?
Krista Mosbacker ................................................................. 21

Legal Battles Preluding Civil War: Constitutional Arguments For and Against Southern Secession
Kameron R. Gonzalez ............................................................ 35

Commissioner Lin and Charles Elliot: The First Opium War
Jay T. Cherry ................................................................. 55

Stoughton’s Empire: The Glorious Revolution and the Role of the Merchant Class in Shaping American Protestantism
Morgan S. Hardy ................................................................. 67

The Influence of the Netherlands in South Africa during the 19th Century
Joshua Spencer ................................................................. 87

To What Extent Do Circumstances Determine Human Behavior?
Ben Aldana ................................................................. 99

“The Bloody Massacre:” The Boston Massacre and the Hidden History of a Labor Dispute
Joshua J. Eaton ................................................................. 125

The Republic of Mali: Crisis in Northern Mali
Marie Essiko Poudiougou ................................................... 143