Appendix V: Original Survey ..................................................................................501
Student Omnibus Survey - Executive Summary

Survey Overview. A representative sample of 13,000 UVU students from the Fall 2011 semester were asked to participate in a web-based survey about their UVU experience and opinions. 1,468 students completed the survey; the margin of error is ± 2.49 percent.

Course and Class Satisfaction. Students were most satisfied with the quality of in-class courses (81%), the availability of morning classes (71%), and the availability of general education courses (76%). Students were least satisfied with the quality of pre-recorded lectures (36%), the availability of weekend classes (30%), and the availability of major upper-division courses.

Almost all students were satisfied with UVU’s main campus (93%), and the fewest students were satisfied with the Heber City campus (39%). The service that students were most satisfied with was Academic Advising (67%), and the service that students were least satisfied with was the availability of jobs, both ON campus (34%) and OFF (33%).

Freshman Reading Program. Two percent (2%) of students reported reading Othello because of the reading program assignment while four percent (4%) of students reported the same for Outcasts United. Most students reported not knowing about the reading assignments (38%) or gave no answer about them (36%).

Athletics. Twenty-seven percent (27%) of students reported attending at least one sporting event, the most popular of which were men’s basketball and baseball, and women’s volleyball.

UVU’s Student Assessed GPA

Registration Issues. Forty-nine percent (49%) of students did not encounter any issues with registration. The biggest issue that students did encounter was getting courses offered at the time(s) they wanted.

Campus Events. The most popular events on campus were featured speakers, performances, and club meetings. The least popular events on campus were debates, internships, and intramural games.
Additional Findings

UCCU Center. Students were most satisfied with the cleanliness of the UCCU Center and its outside grounds, as well as the product or talent that was attracted. Students were least satisfied with parking access, concessions, and directional signage.

Mental Health Counseling. The three biggest factors that might have prevented students from attending in-person mental health counseling during normal business hours were the out of pocket costs (53%), scheduling conflicts (52%), and concerns with billing (28%).

The problems that students felt could be treated most effectively by online mental health counseling were life stressors (49%), anxiety (40%), and depression (35%).

Among the students who had concerns regarding online mental health counseling services, the biggest concerns were difficulty relating to the counselor (47%), confidentiality (33%), billing (28%), and hardware failure (26%).

Cashier’s Office. The most common suggestions for online services that students would like to see offered through Tuition Payment PLUS were a mobile app and accepting Visa cards.

Engaged Learning. Seventy-three percent (73%) of students reported at least some familiarity with “engaged learning”. Students reported that they encountered “engaged learning” in fifty-three percent (53%) of their classes.

School Pride. Forty-seven percent (47%) of students reported having high levels of student pride. Only seven percent (7%) of students reported involvement in the Mighty Athletic Wolverine League (MAWL), but sixty-nine percent (69%) did not know how to sign up for it. Nineteen percent (19%) of students reported wearing green for at least one Wolverine Wednesday.

UVU Parking. Students were asked how much they would pay for a guaranteed parking space in the new parking structure. Twenty-nine percent (29%) reported that would pay up to $200 and thirteen percent (13%) reported that they would pay up to $100. Thirty-seven percent (37%) of students were unwilling to pay for parking.
Omnibus Overview
A representative sample of 13,000 UVU students from the Fall 2011 semester were asked to participate in a web-based survey. Students were asked about their UVU experience and opinions regarding several UVU departments and services. 1,468 students completed the survey; the margin of error is ± 2.49 percent.

Hot Issues
Freshman Reading Program
President Holland's freshman reading program encouraged incoming freshman to read two books: Othello and Outcasts United. Two percent (2%) of students reported reading Othello because of the assignment while four percent (4%) of students reported reading Outcasts United because of the assignment. Nearly three-fourths of students either reported not knowing about the program (37%) or selected “No Answer” (36%).

In conjunction with the freshman reading program, several events were offered on campus. The most popular of these events were the Othello productions, which thirty-nine percent (39%) of students reported knowledge of and eight percent (8%) attended. Nineteen percent (19%) of students reported knowledge of the three remaining events (the Othello discussion, the Outcasts United discussion, and the speakers during 'Outcasts Speak' week), and roughly three percent (3%) reported attendance.

Positive Course Experiences
Students were asked to describe the environment of their courses. Eighty-nine percent reported being treated respectfully by other students almost all of the time. Only sixty-five percent could report the same for using the required text books for class. Table 1 to the right shows how often each experience occurs.

Course and Class Satisfaction
Students were most satisfied with the availability of morning classes (71%), followed by afternoon classes (68%) and evening classes (54%). Only thirty percent (30%) of students were satisfied with the availability of weekend classes. Figure 1 to the right shows the various levels of student satisfaction with the different course times.

Among students who were interested in taking the course types that follow, seventy-six percent (76%) were satisfied with the availability of general education courses, seventy-one percent (71%) were satisfied with the availability of elective courses, sixty-eight percent (68%) with the availability of prerequisite courses, and sixty-two percent (62%) with the availability of major lower-division courses, and fifty-four percent (54%) were satisfied with the availability of major upper-division courses.

Eighty-one percent (81%) of students who took in-class courses were either satisfied or very satisfied with the availability of those courses. Of the students who took alternative delivery method courses, students were most satisfied with the availability of live interactive courses (65%), followed by internet courses (58%), mixed delivery courses (48%), and pre-recorded lecture courses (36%).

The location that students were most satisfied with was UVU’s main campus (93%). Seventy percent (70%) of students reported no opinion about UVU West, and more than eighty percent (80%) of students reported no opinion for the Wasatch, North Valley, and South Valley campuses. Among students who attended the alternate UVU locations, students were least satisfied with the Wasatch campus in Heber City (39%). Figure 2 to the right shows students’ level of satisfaction with all UVU campuses.

Students were asked how satisfied they were with various student services. Students were most satisfied with was Academic Advising and least satisfied with the availability of jobs, both on campus and off. Table 2 below shows the level of satisfaction with student services.

Student Satisfaction with UVU Campuses

Amongst the miscellaneous category, students were most satisfied with the size of classes. Students who used these services were least satisfied with the availability of grants and scholarships and financial aid advising. Table 3
Degree Availability

Sixty-five percent (65%) of students were able to find the degrees that interested them at UVU. The most requested degree by students who were unable to find the degree(s) that interested them at UVU was Engineering (23%). Figure 3 below details the most popular requests for degrees or majors.

!Most Requested Degrees and Majors

Registration Issues

When asked to respond to the statement “I did not encounter any issues with registration,” forty-nine percent (49%) of students either agreed or strongly agreed, while thirty-two percent (32%) of students either disagreed or strongly disagreed. There were a few issues that students encountered during the registration process, and Figure 4 to the right shows what percent of students struggled with each of the issues listed.

UVU’s GPA

Students were asked to give UVU a letter grade for overall experience. These scores were then computed into a grade point average (GPA), much like the students who attend here. UVU was given a student assessed GPA of 3.40. Figure 5 to the left shows UVU’s GPA since 2008. During this period of time, UVU has improved its overall GPA.

UVU Improvements

Forty-four percent (44%) of students reported having high or very high levels of student pride. This is a slight decrease from forty-five percent (45%) in 2010, though still an increase over forty percent (40%) in 2009. Students were asked to provide suggestions that could help UVU become a better University. The two most popular suggestions were for more and better live classes (mentioned by 39% of students) and for improved parking (mentioned by 17% of students). Other popular suggestions for improvement included the registration process, teacher instruction and availability, online classes, and the addition of a football team.

Athletics

When asked how many UVU athletic events they attend per semester, twenty percent (20%) of students reported attending only one to three. A total of twenty-seven percent (27%) of students reported attending at least one sporting event, while seventy-three percent (73%) reported attending none. This demonstrates increased attendance at sporting events over the twenty-three percent (23%) of students who attended at least one in 2010. The three most popular sports at UVU were men’s basketball and baseball, and women’s volleyball. Table 4 to the right shows the popularity (by percent of all votes) of UVU’s different athletic programs.

Campus Events

The most popular events on campus were featured speakers, performances, and club meetings. The least popular events on campus were debates, internships, and intramural games. Table 5 to the left details what percentage of students reported attending each of the events listed.

Students were asked which frozen yogurt or soft-serve ice cream place they would like to see at UVU. The results were near evenly split between Farr’s, Red Mango, Spoon Me, and Yogurtland.
Additional Findings

UCCU Center

Of the students who reported attending a UCCU Center event, seventy-eight percent (78%) were either satisfied or very satisfied. Thirty-six percent (36%) of students reported a high likelihood of attending another event. Forty-nine percent (49%) of students reported a high or very high likelihood of sharing their UCCU Center experience with family and friends. Students were most satisfied with the UCCU Center’s cleanliness, both inside and out, and least satisfied with parking access. Table 6 to the right shows what percent of students were satisfied with each service.

Students were asked to provide additional comments about how the UCCU Center could be improved. The most popular suggestion was for increased parking. Also mentioned were the variety and quality of events, concessions, and concerts.

Mental Health Counseling

Forty-two percent (42%) of students reported that it would be easy for them to go to in-person mental health counseling during normal business hours if they chose to do so, while twenty-six percent (26%) reported that it would be difficult. Nineteen percent (19%) of students reported that they would not attend mental health counseling. The three biggest factors that might have prevented students from attending in-person mental health counseling were the out of pocket costs (53%), scheduling conflicts (52%), and concerns with billing (28%).

Fifty-one percent (51%) of students felt that individual mental health counseling could be effectively provided online. Much fewer students felt the same about other types of mental health counseling: couples (19%), group (15%), and family (12%). Forty-two percent (42%) of students felt that online mental health counseling would not be suitable for any counseling service. The problems that students felt could be treated most effectively by online mental health counseling were life stressors (46%), anxiety (40%), and depression (35%).

The most popular times during which students would seek online mental health counseling were from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. during the work week and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the weekend. Twenty-seven percent (27%) of students would not seek online mental health counseling during the week, and Thirty-four percent (34%) of students would not seek online mental health counseling during the weekend. Figure 6 to the left shows the popularity of times during which students would seek online mental health counseling.

Among the students who had concerns regarding online mental health counseling services, the biggest concern was difficulty relating to the counselor (47%), followed by confidentiality (33%), billing (28%), and hardware failure (26%). If they had their choice, most students would attend in-person counseling only (59%) or a combination of in-person and online counseling (22%). Very few students would choose only online counseling (2%). Seventeen percent (17%) of students reported that they would not seek mental health counseling at all. Less than half of students felt it would be beneficial for UVU to offer online mental health counseling in addition to in-person. Table 7 below shows students’ preferences regarding online mental health counseling.

Technology

An overwhelming majority (95%) of students reported being comfortable learning new computer technologies. Figure 7 to the right details what percent of students reported regularly using the technologies listed. Almost all students reported regularly using email, text messaging, and the internet.

Student Basics

The most popular majors that students reported studying are, in order of popularity, Business Management, Accounting, Behavioral Science, Psychology, English, and Exercise Science.

Eighty-three percent (83%) of students reported using a debit card or credit card for the majority of their purchases, and fifteen percent (15%) reported using cash.

Ninety-four percent (94%) of students reported taking classes at UVU’s main campus. The next most popular “campus” was distance education (13%), followed by UVU West (4%), UVU South Valley (2%), UVU North Valley (1%), and UVU Wasatch (1%).

Seventy percent (70%) of students reported having health insurance.
Engaged Learning

Eighty-eight percent (88%) of students reported having heard of “engaged learning.” Of those students, thirty-one percent (31%) were confident they knew what it meant, fifty-two percent (52%) were somewhat familiar, and seventeen percent (17%) did not know what it meant. The most popular way that students reported having heard about “engaged learning” was from highway billboards or bus signs (61%), followed by mailing materials or brochures (46%), and instructors (40%).

After being given a definition of “engaged learning”, students reported that they encountered it in fifty-three percent (53%) of their classes. When asked what “engaged learning” meant to them, most students replied with “active learning”. This included classroom discussions and not just lectures, projects outside of class and off campus, as well as interaction with professors. Seventy-six percent (76%) of students felt that “engaged learning” was appropriate for all class subjects. Subjects that the remaining students felt were not appropriate for “engaged learning” include math and history.

Students were asked about different elements of “engaged learning”, whether they were used in their classes, and which best suit how they learn. Figure 8 below details students’ responses for each element of engaged learning.

Alternate Delivery Times and Locations

Students were asked to describe their familiarity with UVU’s alternative delivery times and locations. This familiarity is detailed in Table 8 below. When asked how they learned about the alternative campuses, seventy percent (70%) of students reported discovering them in UVU’s class catalog or during the registration process. Other popular options include UVU’s web page (35%), on-campus advertising (33%), friends or family members (20%), and UVU professors or administrators (14%).

Contacting Students

Students’ most preferred way to be contacted was through email; whether their UVU email addresses (39%) or personal email addresses (35%). Following that, students preferred to be contacted by text message (17%) or by phone call (7%).

Summer Classes

The most preferred length of a summer class was 7 weeks (53%) followed by 10 weeks (24%) and 14 weeks (22%). Sixty-six percent (66%) of students preferred summer classes beginning in May, while thirty-four percent (34%) preferred summer classes beginning in June.

Cashier’s Office

Seventy-four percent (74%) of students have had experience with at least one of the services offered by the Cashier’s office. The most popular method was through One Stop (47%). Figure 9 to the right shows the popularity of the different methods. Most students who visited the Cashier’s office in person rated the helpfulness of the employees as either excellent (48%), above average (15%), or average (31%).

Only thirty-five percent (35%) of students reported using the Cashier’s webpage. The most common suggestions for online services that students would like to see offered through Tuition Payment PLUS were a mobile app and accepting Visa cards.

UVU Facilities

The majority of students were pleased with UVU’s external facilities. Seventy-six percent (76%) felt that there were sufficient crosswalks available, sixty-five percent (65%) felt that parking facilities were well taken care of, and sixty-three percent (63%) felt that there was sufficient lighting. Students were very satisfied with the appearance of UVU’s grounds and facilities in general. Table 9 to the left shows the percent of students who reported being satisfied with the listed facilities (among students who reported using them).

The areas where students suggested the most improvements could be made were parking and bathrooms. Seventy-seven percent (77%) of students were in favor of a smoke free campus, fourteen percent (14%) did not care, and nine percent (9%) were opposed. Students who reported a low level of satisfaction with safety issues on campus were most concerned about leaving campus after dark. They would like to see increased officer patrols, external lighting, and emergency call boxes.

Seventy-nine percent (79%) of students reported owning some kind of parking pass. Student Parking was by far the most popular. Figure 10 to the right shows how the popularity of different parking passes compare. Students were asked how much they would pay for a guaranteed parking space in the new parking structure. Thirty percent (30%) of students reported that would pay $200, twenty percent (20%) would pay between $100 and $150, and fourteen percent (14%) would pay less than $100. Bear in mind that the survey did not specify whether this fee was for a single semester or an entire year. Thirty-seven percent (37%) of students were unwilling to pay for parking.

Mighty Athletic Wolverine League

Only seven percent (7%) of students reported involvement in the Mighty Athletic Wolverine League (MAWL), but sixty-nine percent (69%) did not know how to sign up for it. After a brief detailing of the MAWL registration process and some of its benefits, students who were not already members of the MAWL were asked how the information affected their opinion. Thirty-two percent (32%) reported not being likely to join at all, twenty-seven percent (27%) were not swayed in their opinion to join, twenty-six percent (26%) were more likely to consider joining, and fourteen percent (14%) were more likely to join.

Nineteen percent (19%) of students reported wearing green for Wolverine Wednesday. Most students who didn’t wear green were either not on campus on Wednesdays or didn’t know that they were supposed to. In order to increase their level of school pride, students suggested adding a football team, improving the campus, and increasing the variety of activities and events.

Students were asked what would be the most effective way for them to find out about activities or events, and the most popular method was email. Table 10 to the right outlines how popular each method of communication was.
Hot Issue Questions

Hot topic questions, or questions of special interest to the University president, were taken from the fall 2011 student omnibus and compared to the questions asked in six previous omnibus surveys (fall: 2008, 2009, 2010 & spring: 2009, 2010, 2011).

Q.1 (trend)

“President Holland invited Freshmen to read two books before school started. Select the options that apply to you:”

For the last three years the University president has invited students to read two books before the beginning of the fall semester and then inquired at the end of the fall semester, in the student omnibus survey, whether they had read the suggested books.

Survey data indicates a decrease in the number of students who were unaware of the assignment and an increase in the number of students who completed the assignment.
Q.2
“In conjunction with President Holland’s freshman reading program several events were offered this fall at UVU. Select the options that apply to you.”

These graphs show that a majority of students did not attend an Othello production or discussion.
Q.3 (trend)
"If any of these statements are descriptive of any course you are taking at UVU this Fall semester, please rate the frequency of occurrence:"

There has been a consistent increase in student’s perceptions of positive course experiences happening “Almost all of the time.”
Q.4 (trend)

“Would you be interested in taking a mixed delivery course?” – F2009
“You mentioned you could not get the course(s) in the delivery method you wanted. What type of delivery method did you want?” – F2010
“How satisfied are you with the availability of UVU's course delivery types? – F2011”

The following trend data is from differing questions but a similar thread of interest in Mixed Delivery courses.
Q.5 (trend)

“You mentioned you could not get the course(s) at the time you wanted. What time(s) did you want?” – F2010/S2011

“How satisfied are you with the availability of UVU’s course times?” – F2011

There seems to be steady demand for a wider selection of and preference for morning classes and majority of students that are not satisfied with course time availability.
Q.6 (trend)
“How satisfied are you with the availability of UVU’s course types?” – F2011
“You mentioned you could not get the course(s) type you wanted. What course(s) did you want?” – S2011

These graphs, although unable to display a proper trend, due to changes in the question text, show a consistent and increasing trend in demand for prerequisite courses.
Q.7 (trend)

“How satisfied are you with UVU’s location types?” – F2011
“You mentioned you ould not get the course(s) at the location you wanted. What location did you want?” – F2010/S2011

These graphs, although unable to display a proper trend, due to changes in the question text, show the highest demand for and satisfaction with UVU’s main campus and the least demand for and satisfaction with the Wasatch campus.
Q.8

“How satisfied are you with the following?”

These satisfaction ratings indicate dissatisfaction with the availability of jobs on and off campus.
Q.9 (trend)
“How satisfied are you with the following?”

Student satisfaction with the registration process, after the fall 2008 semester, has been hovering between 79 and 89 percent, for an average of 84 percent.
"Is there a major or degree you are interested in that UVU doesn't offer?"

A majority of students indicated that they found the major/degree they were interested in. Of that 35% who did not find their degree of interest at UVU 23%, a majority, of them were interested in Engineering.
Q.11
“If yes, please specify the major or degree:”

A majority of students who could not find the major/degree they wanted indicated that they were looking for an engineering degree.

"Please indicate your level of agreement with the following statements concerning Fall 2011 registration:"

Student satisfaction with registration is improving overall.
“How would you rate your overall experience at UVU?”

Student “overall experience” ratings are more positive, excellent or good, in the past three years.
Q.14
“How would you rate your sense of student pride of UVU?”

Student pride has remained fairly steady.
“Please list one suggestion that can help UVU become a better University.”

A majority of students took issue with availability and cost of parking and the availability and quality of live classes.

“How often do you attend UVU/NCAA athletic events?”

More students attended athletic events than the year previously.

“Which athletic programs are you most interested in? (choose 1, 2, 3 in order of preference)?”

Students indicated that they were most interested in Men’s Basketball, Women’s Volleyball, and Men’s Baseball. Trend data also suggests that women’s volleyball has the first highest record (both for 2011 and when averaging the records from 2004-05—2011-12), second highest student attendance, third highest student top interest, and sixth most funded sport.
“Other (please specify):”

Students were most interested in having a football or rugby team.
Q.19
“How many times this semester have you attended or participated in the following on-campus events/activities?”

Appendix III: Survey Results: Text Response

~You have an amazing foundation set up to support either an engineering or architectural design program. ~It would be nice to have a bachelor’s and master’s program available in the culinary program. ~A master’s degree in hospitality management would also be very nice.

A dance degree that has 3 tracks within the degree: ballet, modern, and jazz. It is a great necessity as a potential professional dancer to have extensive training in all of these fields.

A four-year ABET-accredited engineering program.

A higher law degree would be nice.

A masters degree in behavioral science

A Master’s Program in Criminal Justice or Forensic Psychology.

A minor in German

A mixture between the digital Media and software development

Abuse survivor studies

Abuse Survivor Studies

Advertising

Aerospace, Aeronautical Engineering, or plain Engineering

Agriculture
An associates in Forensic Science. Or a Hybrid between Forensics and Criminal Justice programme offer by Weber State University. More online classes should be offered, especially for generals and lower division classes.

An Italian minor/major, an Arabic major/minor, or a translation/interpretation degree.

BA in Fire science

BA/BS Music in Conducting

Bachelor in Engineering

Bachelor in Facilities Management

Bachelor of Fine Arts, Masters of Fine Arts

Bachelor of Science History (only BS is History Education)

Bachelor of Social Work

Bachelor of Social Work - I know you guys are getting it next year it just sucks you didn't have it before I graduated.

Bachelor's in Culinary arts

Bachelor's in nutrition.

Bachelor's in nutrition.

Bachelor's in nutrition.

Bachelor's in nutrition.

Bachelors of Early Childhood Education

Bachelors of University Studies with an emphasis in ______. I think it would be helpful for those of us that have a lot of credits and would still like to focus in an area, but don't want to spend another 3 years and waste all the previous credits.

Bachelors or Masters of science in Midwifery

Basically i's the widespread availability of multiple business MBA programs. I would just like to see more MBA programs.

behavioral science

Behavioral science as minor or area of interest. Special education during day classes.

Behavioral Science with emphasis in Psychology

BFA In Theatre Arts. We have a BS, and an BA But an BFA would be so helpful in this field whereas the BS is not.

BFA Theater Arts
Biochemical engineering
Biochemistry
biochemistry
biomedical engineering
Biomedical Informatics or a degree which will prep more for this major.
broadcast journalism
broadcast journalism
Broadcasting

BS in Astronomy. There are two graduate Astrophysics degrees at both the U of U and at BYU. Having a BS in Astrophysics would better prepare students in those fields. Of course my dream would be an MS in Astrophysics as well.

BS in engineering
BS in General History
BS of Real Estate

BS/BA Technical Communications. Although it shows that it is offered in the form of a ‘minor’, ‘AS/AA’, and ‘certificate’, none of the required courses are ever offered in order for me to fulfill the qualifications. Seems a little ridiculous!

Chinese language
Cinema Studies?

Civil Engineering

Classical Studies, Archaeology, and Religious Studies
Classics, Linguistics, Greek and Latin as actual languages.

Clinical Psychology clothing and textiles

CNA, emt, more health programs

Communication Disorders/Speech Pathology, and Linguistics.

Communications minor

Communications-Advertising or New Media. I really have enjoyed the communications at other schools I have attended, but when I had to make the transfer to UVU, I was disappointed by the lack of options that the Communications program has to offer.

Community Recreation Management

Comparative Literary and Culture Studies Computer engineering conservation, environment, wildlife biology Constitutional Studies
Construction management
Consulting Management
Costume Design. Linguistics.
Costuming and/or Fashion

Engineering
Engineering (ElecE, ChemE, MechE, etc.)

Engineering is only taught on a general level, to an associates degree. I'm not sure about this one cause I have not looked into it yet, but Economics would also be a set in the right direction for this school.
Engineering is overcrowded at the University of Utah and not enough mining Engineers are graduating to meet the demand of the western U.S. vast energy and mineral economy. This University desperately needs applied scientists because few people care about the state of our finite planet.

I am interested in an elementary theatre teaching degree or theatre for young audiences degree.

i can't remember. but yeah.

I know that you already have a minor for this and other one like it, but it would be nice, if you could make it an official degree and that would a multiple language type of writing, speaking, etc.... Instead of just taking one language and having it be put on your degree as a minor.

I think the Business Programs need to be resigned to be more competitive with what other schools are offering. Such as degree's in Human Resources, Marketing etc. Instead of emphasis's

I understand that the U has a certificate regarding Criminal justice or something like it, related to psychology. Access to a certificate of that sort would be interesting to me.

I was interested in pursuing a Culinary Arts degree, but not a Hospitality Management degree when I first started college. I ended up going with Business Management. I want to do an HR/Org Behavior degree, but there isn't one. Only a 'track' under the General Business emphasis

I wish that the recreation management could be split into a public recreation and an outdoor recreation emphasis.
I wish there was an actual film degree at UVU not just digital media with an emphasis in cinematography. But I imagine it's just a matter of time.

I wish there were more graduate programs, specifically, a high school counselors program.

I wish UVU could offer more health technical degrees such as Radiology or Physical therapy (Weber would be a good example for UVU to follow). It's true that UVU offers the pre-health program but it would be great if the students could actually gain all our education from you guys.

I wish you could have a Behavioral Science degree and have two concentrations or pick two concentrations for an interdisciplinary degree.

I would have liked the BESC SW degree to stay a little longer because I fell right in the crack of getting the new degree or the old one so I had to switch my concentration. When Social Work is all that has ever peaked my interest.

I would like a Masters of Social Work and PhD in Clinical Psychology

I would like a more specialized degree for Biochemistry, not just a chemistry degree with an emphasis

I would like to pursue art further than just a bachelors degree

I would like to see a graduate degree in criminology, criminal law, or criminal justice

I would like to see more graduate programs as the school gets bigger

I would like to see something specific to music composition, not just the music major

I'd like to see Zoology and Botany in the science department

It doesn't matter because uvu probably won't get it anyway.

It isn't that a major is missing, its that UVU could expand their Integrated studies. Often the question for students is what to major in? I think every major should make itself available for integrated studies so students can choose a field of interest and a practical one. like CMGT and Bus MGMT

It would be nice to see a Masters Degree in Accounting offered.

*Have more classes in the afternoon for those who work mornings and work is not flexible. *Parking availability

3.0 GPA requirement to enroll at UVU

A better north entrance into UVU (by education building)

A better soccer field for the men's soccer club would be most appreciated.

A better system for registering. I tried to register for classes for the Spring 2012 semester and had many errors in trying to add classes.

A better understanding of the non traditional student, for example I qualify for BAP but unable to join since they only can allow students who can attend a 1 in the afternoon meeting to join.

A better way to communicate with students about upcoming events. I usually don't find out about them until after the fact. Also, many students in my online class have submitted complaints about the class and the instructor but never receive responses.

A big complaint I hear often is that people can't get into the classes that they want to register for. I'm trying to fill up my schedule for more classes, but they're only offered during certain semesters.

A football team would be nice.

A football team would be very nice.

A football team!

A lot of the music courses I need are offered around the same block of time 12-1 and 1-2 it would be nice if they were offered at various times, specifically the choirs.
a performing arts center, one that serves as a great resource to the community and as a gathering place for on campus events.

A rally or two to help with school spirit

A Serious Athletic Dept. More than just intramurals. How about a football team???

A student parking garage that's large enough to make a difference. You have to get over your reputation of being a glorified High School, that will just take time.

A time control device so I can get all my homework done without freaking out.

Abandon any hope of ever having a respectable athletics program. Instead, spend university resources on developing academically.

Academic Advisers need to answer their phones.

Academic advisers who know what they are doing.

Academic advising has never been a positive or helpful experience for me. I feel like I have had to figure things out on my own and rely on myself as far as registration and course planning goes. Waits have been very long and advisors have been less than friendly and not particularly helpful. Improving this situation would increase student success in my opinion.

Academic advisors who seem genuinely interested in the student.

Actually, I believe its just me. The School is fine.

actually there was one thing about registration. is there any way to the on campus courses from the ones off campus. it made things a little confusing. I spent the whole process wondering if I'd have to work a commute to heber in for class

ADD ACTUAL BOOKS INTO THE SCHOOL LIBRARY AND STOP TRYING TO MAKE IT A 'DIGITAL MEDIA CENTER.' THIS IS SUPPOSED TO BE A UNIVERSITY...LET'S STEP IT UP AND MAKE IT ONE.

Add more computers in the second floor, so there are more computers available during week days in the morning. Make library books more easily found. Note: Most college students prefer to do homework in campus because help is provided.

add more gluten free options in the common area/cafeteria. I can't really eat anything and even Costa Vida got rid of their corn tortillas. I've considered starting a petition, but don't have much free time to do so. Next semester, I just might.

Add more sports collegiatley so we can get scholarships

Add Sexual Orientation and Gender expression to the Discrimination Policy. Other major universities in the state have it, why not UVU??

Address lack of parking issues

Advertise events more and give more info on how to get involved.

All classes to be a 1hr 15 min class. All of my MWF 50-minute classes are JUST.TOO.SHORT. We barely get into the 'meat' of something, and class is over. Some of my professors chronically 'run over', other cut off abruptly at the 50-minute mark. In either case, I'm left dissatisfied. I'd LOVE to see a variety of days offering two-day courses of 1 hr 15 min's each. (This classtime allotment need not be reserved to T/TH only ... go for some Mon/Wed, or Tues/Fri, or Mon/Fri, or Wed/Fri etc

All of my classes are online. I would like to see an online digital photography class.

All of my professors have been very harsh and unfair on my grading and in general unhelpful when asked questions.

Allow older people that are going back to school to further their career to skip the GE classes that are pointless to the career path they have already been on or wanting to advance. They are a waste of time and money.

Allow us to sign up for classes without having to see a counselor before we are able to.

An art building for the art student.

Anything to help older non-traditional students would be great!

As a culinary student, I feel like we're cut off from the rest of the university. I know it's a lot to ask, but could someone like the Dean or President Holland stop by to say hello once in a while? It would be nice for others in the university to know we exist. Visitors could probably even score a meal if their timing is right.

As a senior, I notice that classes required in my program only have one section available each semester. Often, these conflict with other required classes that only offer one section. I have been forced to choose which I will take instead of being able to take both.

As an English major emphasizing in editing/publishing, not wanting to teach, I'd be exited to have a formal emphasis on editing offered. The job market for editors is wide and technical writing isn't always necessary. The emphasis could include Editing, Advanced Editing, Desktop Publishing, Grammars and any others related and an internship. I made up my own emphasis, but if the Department would offer a certificate, my resume would benefit. I do, however, feel pretty well prepared.

As I was signing up for classes today, I found that I couldn't take any classes that I was interested in to satisfy my art requirement. As I went to register, they were listed 'for art majors only'. This was disappointing. Also, I have read many student reviews on the math teachers here at UVU and most of them aren't great. It is so hard to get into the math classes with 'good' teachers because it doesn't seem like there are many of them and the times of the classes they teach are very limited.

As my first year in the school I have been very pleased with the school. When ever I had question someone was always able to answer it. At this time I can't think of anything to suggest.

Athletics needs to switch Conferences. I think that people would be more excited about coming to sporting events if they actually knew who UVU was competing against. I think that athletics can be a great boost of school unity (which I think UVU struggles with)

Attending the Ranking of the universities in the United States

Availability of classes across the week. I know that with my work schedule I would prefer more Monday/Wednesday classes. Currently there aren't very many and most classes are on Tuesday/Thursday.

AVAILABILITY OF CLASSES OF ALL TIMES, THE TUES/THURS IS ESPECIALLY BAD. BETTER INSTRUCTORS. I COULDN'T BELIEVE ALL OF THE BAD REVIEWS I FOUND ON RATEMYPROFESSOR.COM. VERY HARD TO FIND A GOOD INSTRUCTOR!!

Be a more spirit/pride-oriented university. I'm very jealous of friends and family at BYU that have such pride in BYU. I'd love to find ways, get pumped, etc., to have the same level of pride in UVU.
Be better at enforcing no smoking near the buildings.
Be clear. I find that often I miss out on opportunities just because I had no idea.
Be more concerned with advocating for the students, not the ‘first rate, world-class’ faculty
Be sure to send these surveys to students that have attended the school for more than a couple weeks
Because there are students of ‘ALL’ ages, I’d suggest to have activities for those of more ‘mature’ ages.
Become closed enrollment. People don’t take UVU seriously because anyone can get in. Even though we’re the largest University in the state all the other Universities laugh at us and think it’s just a big high school. I’d like to see that change. For UVU to become more exclusive and to show everyone why we’re the biggest University in the state and for students to have a little more pride.
Besides the obvious better parking, more places to sit in hallway.
Better access to the testing center.
Better Advisor. They advised me to retake classes I didn’t need to and gave poor recommendations for electives Better announcements
Better Art Facilities
Better career transition. On campus recruiting for jobs that I am actually interested in is very limited Better class availability (ex. Cinematography, ridiculously difficult to get into)
Better class schedules for classes for students with families and full time jobs and more internet classes.
Better cooperation between departments. There is too much bureaucracy and unwillingness to work together. ex, The Language department being unwilling, fighting the philosophy department over the Greek and Latin language classes counting as language credit.
Better facilities and more full time faculty members in the Fine Arts Department.
Better facilities! Buildings are kind of outdated. This relates to off-campus housing, but I feel they often take advantage of college students.
Better food/more restaurants
Better freaking parking
Better informed and organized teachers. Appropriate level of instruction given level of course. For instance, my music 1010 seems like a lot of material is more suited to higher level music courses (going far beyond a basic introduction to music history).
Better instructors
Better lounge for CS people. :/
Better music program! Need to promote it more so more people will join. Offer more scholarships or something.
Better parking
Better Parking
Better parking and better student involvement/knowledge. Activities that I want to attend are usually at times I cannot attend them because of class or work.

Better Parking and well lit crosswalks. The campus parking lots are very dark and I hate having my wife walk around on campus for night classes. Thus I often drop her off and pick her up. Also would like to be able to walk through the buildings without having to actually walk outside in bad weather.

Better parking methods. Maybe have a larger free pass parking area.

Better parking or lower parking costs. More evening classes to choose from for people with day jobs.

Better parking situation. The bookstore being more accessible for those of us that work during the day good parking, offer a swimming pool and excise in the pool good parking.

better promotions of sports teams and games

Better quality instructors

Better questions on this survey for starters, I feel like my answers about my courses vary from class to class, so to give you an answer generally is kind of tough because I feel differently about each course/each instructor so my answers were impacted by that. More parking! Parking is definitely an issue that needs to be resolved. Better SRIs and informing the students about them would help with instructor ratings.

Better recreational facilities: an indoor track with weight room and courts combined rather than all separated along a hallway.

better science equipment. lapidary lab in an area that doesn't disturb other classes with noise!!! More affordable prices for required text books. FINISH THE CONSTRUCTION

Better staff instruction

Better system for students to get around campus. The buses are okay but they don't come around often enough. That daily walk from GT to LA is pretty brutal.

Better Teachers. Better availability of upper division classes.

Better toilet paper for the bathrooms. Seriously.

Better uniformity between teachers within individual disciplines is needed.

Better/more visitor parking parking at the main campus.

block classes are very diffcult too much information to cram into to short of a time

Bring back the Hockey Team!

Build a Fine Arts Building so that the Art students/ Faculty don't complain about the Music Department being too loud, so that we can have some more practice rooms we don't have to fight over, and so the dancers don't have to run across campus after every class because their studios are separated between the LA and the GT buildings.

Build a parking building.
build a parking garage

build a parking garage. I pay $50 for a spot and there is rarely one available closer to the school than the free parking. If there is an event stop taking the paid lots take the free lots because those people don't pay for them.

Build a parking structure in the student lot next to the library. Instead of expanding outward, where you will eventually run out of room, expand upward.

build more of a science museum

Build the Fine Arts Building! Also, as a music major I feel that one thing that should be addressed sooner rather later is increasing the number of practice rooms. Currently there are only 6 rooms! There are hundreds of music majors that are competing for these rooms every day.

Build up a football program.

build up research that funnels into tech transfer. More coordination of CS and Mgmt in creating entrepreneurship opportunities for both types of students.

Can't really think of anything! It is a really good school.

can't think of anything right now

Cap registration so that we can continue to focus on the students we have, and grow in ability to serve current students, rather than use resources in order to grow in size.

change the perception of the faculty, I have had SEVERAL professors refer to the university as 'UV High' and 'BYU Prep'

Changes are coming in the near future, but UVU needs to get serious with its transportation issues. We need more buses coming into and around campus, more bike racks, and maybe a parking garage to replace the acres and acres of parking lots. We need better access from the new Frontrunner station to the main campus and with other mass transit and long-distance buses (like UTA's express buses).

cheaper parking

Cheaper tuition

Cheaper Tuition. Not charging for everything.

Check on the quality of brand new teachers. My English teacher is not very good.

Chic-fil-a!!!!!!!

Class availability is most important for me.

Close open-enrollment.

Closer and less crowded testing center.

closer free parking

Come observe the instructors in class unannounced or without disclosing your identity. I think students rate and evaluate their instructors, but no one listens to their opinions. If administrators aren't going to listen to the students, they should at least investigate or observe whether their complaints are true or not. I have had instructors that are horrible. And yet, they keep teaching - and the students have no option but to keep taking classes from them because there are limited choices.

Consistency in course work according to the number of credit hours a class is and the difficulty level, ie. 4000 level classes comparable to other 4000 level classes and 2000 level classes comparable in time and tasks with other 2000 level classes.

Continue adding majors - keep the academic standards high - monitor young, adjunct teachers for teaching techniques and making sure they’re not overloaded, either with outside work or graduate course work, thus making their availability to students and effectiveness at risk.

Continue expanding course selection and academic programs. Maybe focus less on being a general education, transfer type of school and place more emphasis on specialized training and degrees by offering more mid- and upper-level courses in place of some entry-level courses.

Continue to bring interesting speakers on campus and maybe even more.

Continue to focus on improving academic programs.

Continue to grow the facilities because of an increase in the student body.

Continue to offer more Majors.

Continue to strive towards being a University that a student would be proud to have graduated from because of the education and experience gained, not just a stepping stone school to another.

Continue to work on developing student involvement in activities and sporting events.

Continuing to hold high standards and expectations of students don’t be afraid to expect more of the student body so as to facilitate a higher regarded reputation.

Course continuity. Every single class I have taken is like a stand-alone class. Even all of my accounting and finance classes.

Create a system that allows students to rate a teachers performance during each day to day basis in the semester. Too many teachers are ruining students education based on their crude form of teaching.

Create more class times for certain courses, especially those of the exercise science major, because they all fill up immediately after registration begins each semester, and many students aren’t able to get into the classes they want.

create more school spirit through activities that everyone will come to.

CS 1030 online, 'Foundations of Computer Science', has been the worst educational experience I have ever had. The User Interface is broken! The calendar from summer semester is still up, and was the only calendar for the first half fall semester. Assignments don't line up with Assessments, and due dates are almost always conflicting. Worst of all, the professor RARELY responds to inquiries of any kind. It should be called independent study, not a course for which I paid over $500.

Cut the LDS ties. The institute of religion's presence is too strong; the president should not host 'firesides.' These actions are the cause of my 'very low' sense of student pride.

Develop a program that helps out of state students feel more welcome by the administration and faculty.
Develop at collegiate football team to create school pride and distinguish ourselves like from schools like BYU.... I understand it is expensive to develop and to operate a football team.... I think there would be a bigger alumni program....

different anatomy instructors

Disclose the books and fees within the course descriptions to allow students to make better course decisions. Some of us are paying our own way through school.

Do more marketing geared towards east coast towns and cities. I am originally from New Jersey but NOBODY even knows about UVU over there (my opinion) and its a DAMN GOOD school! I don't expect people to know about every college in the nation but they need to know about UVU! UVU basically gave me the resources to become a commercial pilot. I spread the word about the university every chance I get by word of mouth. But you guys must but forth better marketing in the east coast for sure.

Do more to create excitement, enthusiasm, and school pride in students by advertising and creating incentives for students to participate in school activities.

Do not hire teachers that cannot speak English well!!

Do not require Ethics and Values.

do not require pre reques that dont matter in the slightest.

Do something about registration. It's hard to get into the classes you need for your major when you only offer 1 class each semester.

Don't accept so many new students each semester

Don't block off motorcycle parking without first informing students.

Don't let just anyone attend who wants to. It would help with overcrowding and help decrease the dropout rate if there were higher prerequisites for attending UVU.

Dormitories.

Drop the Prices on The Parking Passes my sister goes to a different College and what they pay is so nice compared to what UVU has to pay.

Easier access to call center for basic questions and support. Higher grants based on need!!

Either build more facilities/create more class sections to accommodate the large student population, or limit admissions. I really like the fact that UVU tries to have small class sizes, but If UVU stays an open admissions university, we simply do not have the necessary space with the current facilities. There are not enough openings in each course for all the students that need to take it.

Either give seniors a week head-start on registration or fix the system so that they can login to register during their one day advantage.

Email event invitations to students, link up facebook and send things of pertinence or something like that. Program for transfer students as such is for 1st year freshmen to get the transfer kids goin more.

Encourage everyone in everything not just sports and the timing of the lunches are always during my classes.

End open enrollment and control class sizes
Establish a team to respond to emergencies on campus. Namely medical emergencies and trauma.

Evaluate Instructors MORE OFTEN!!! There are instructors that don't do their jobs to help the students succeed! They need to be more understanding that we are students who have lives just like them!

Evening / weekend class selection is poor. Very limited childcare is provided for non-traditional students. No reason to stay on campus after classes end. It would be nice to have rec facilities. Parking is a complete joke.

Positives- I LOVE UVUâ and the reasons why I do. Instructors are genuine, kind and very respectful. They always have time for me. Hands on learning and the abilities to do internships that will give me the experiences I need for my major. Campus is beautiful and pleasant.

Events need to be advertised more in the GT building. I'm a music major hardly leave the music department because that's where most of my classes are, but I feel like I never know what is going in in the school.

Every time I go to One Stop I don't get very friendly help. When I ask questions or need help processing something one of the girls is very reluctant, has a huge attitude problem, like I'm bugging her on her break. I've been to One Stop probably 4-5 times and have only had great help twice. If the University needs certain things done for registration, financial aid, etc., then One Stop should be a better service to the students they are supposed to be helping in order to complete those tasks.

Everyone could smile more.

Everything honestly seems to be very complicated when it doesn't need to be. Like paying fees and that type of stuff is always more of a hassle than anywhere else I've attended.

Everything is pretty good, except the classes for my major (anthropology) are not offered at certain times which conflicts with schedules.

Everything's fine

Expand integrated studies

Expand majors

Expand student parking.

Explicit information on scholarships and financial aid (including the policies for both)

Faculty help.

Fall semester I registered for math 1050 in may or June. When I registered it looked like a 2 hour class two days a week. When class began I was informed that it was a hybrid class. I tried it out for 2 or 3 weeks even though I wanted a traditional class setup which I thought I registered for. However, after a few weeks I realized that the class setup wouldn't work for a few reasons which I think need some real revision. Firstly mymathlab needs to have a 3 week refund policy, even if a partial...

Far more internet classes are needed. Ideally, UVU should strive for online versions of all classes (except hands-on classes such as labs).

Faster shuttle services at night. Most nights I have to walk to get to class on time and I still beat the bus

Financial Aid. When you are talking to the financial aid. Most of them have no clue what they are talking about. You have to call three or four times for the right person that knows what they are talking about. Anyway, financial aid people, all of them need to be one the same page.

Find a better way to create student pride. Get more involvement in the activities.
Find a way to allow Seniors to add classes they need? :/

Find a way to change the feel to a University. Currently it feels more like a high school.

Find more parking for students that is close to the school- underground.

find ways to grow school spirit, and encourage uvu clothing (not byu or the uofu)

Finish the construction faster. It is a pain in the behind.

Finish the construction.

Finish the construction.

Finish the Pope Science building faster.

finish the science building faster.

Finish up the construction

Fire Kent Wing(art)if you have not already. I have had alot of instructors at my time here at UVSC...and UVU and he is by far the worst. Very smart about the subject, but does not have a clue how to teach.

Fire most of the Graphic Design instructors or train them to take pride in their work and care about their students.

First a Football team. Second more attention should be spent on Dinning services. The new options are nice but we are far away from other schools in the state and being the largest student body in Utah we should get more. Dinning services does a great job with what they have.

First of all, pat on the back for the wonderful work, I wouldn't go any where else than right here. I think some things I would like though is better off-campus housing, more school activities, more MBA programs, better requisite classes availability, and a football team.

Fix the damn registration problems!

Fix the waitlist situation. Way too many kids and I can't ever get into the class times I want or at resonable hours.

Add more classes!!!!!!!

Fix the website. It is difficult to navigate and out of date. The registration part of the site should have a schedule visible at all times with a drag and drop feature to place the classes, and an area to search the classes. The Uvlink would be better if the email system was updated and the side bar navigation was simplified. There needs to be an indoor way in between the PE building and the hall of flags.

football

Football

Football Team

Football team

Football team and swim team

football team!!

Football, Parking, fire a few teachers
For international students, it would be better to see new faces other than the ones that do the same activities every year. They don't give opportunity to new talent to contribute to new ideas.

For those of us who are online students, we need teachers who are willing to check and respond to all emails and questions given to them at least twice a day. A teacher who fails to respond to emails and questions in a timely manner is useless to us who are trying to learn. Answering emails and questions on a discussion board are an online student's way of getting actual instructions so we can actually do the course and not waste our time and money with failing and having to do it all over again.

foster more school pride

Free parking!

get a better school of the arts building.

Get a football team.

GET A FOOTBALL PROGRAM!!!!!!!!!!!!

Get a football team to bring in more money for the school.

Get a football team, improve parking, offer better graduation tracking programs so unnecessary classes aren't taken, and better academic advising

get a football team.

Get a football team.

Get a good sports team in any sport that the students can rally behind and build student pride.

get a taco bell

Get Academic Advisers that are helpful to students. When declaring my major, the advisers seemed to be there to sabotage my needs for classes instead of helping me find ways to complete my degree.

Get an Business Degree option for the Honors Program.

Get better 1010 Math Teachers.

Get better teachers

Get better teachers! I had some real bad ones!

Get better teachers, I don't want to be taught by adjuncts that aren't that great at teaching. I want to be able to register with any teacher and have a good experience.

Get housing and sports teams, especially football, to help unite the students. It still feels like a community college. There's no student or school pride.

Get Information on sports on a wider scale, I don't see a whole lot in the CS building

Get more evening and weekend courses.

Get more majors. The Integrated studies program is a joke--you can't do anything with it, and have to deal with transferring/quitting because you can't study and get the degree you want.

GET MORE PARKING!!!
Get more parking!!! :)

Get more professors to teach more interesting classes rather than just the generals that take up too much of the teaching time the current professors already have.

Get more teachers that have specific experience in the things that they are teaching.

Get more then just a couple of really good professors

Get other departments/majors involved in things together so we can get to know more students better.

Get people involved with athletics!!!!!! I'm an athlete and even I feel a lack of pride for sports other than my own. I think it would help with the pride of our school. It would be awesome to see UVU hats everywhere instead of BYU ones, and instead of them talking about the 'big byu games and plans' to be talking about UVU's. I LOVE UVU! I just want everyone else to love it too!!

get people motivated and not just there for a degree

Get ranked. The school is a little like high school, so make the classes more difficult, and remove the open enrollment.

Get rid of all the construction :)

Get rid of all the pervert overlords. Get more parking. I don't care it your 'examination' showed 500 open spots at prime time. They aren't there or are being filled immediately or are at ridiculous locations. Get a better testing center. Larger. Better equipped. Attached to the rest of campus.

Get rid of Edwin Miner.

get rid of the three year time limit for math courses to count for pre-reqs, that is the most retarded policy I have ever heard of.

Get the construction finished on the PE building.

Get the state to provide money on a per-student basis. I know this would make the U and USU angry, but we need the money more than they do.

Get the students more involved, have the teachers work with the students

Get the veterinary technician program

Get the word out about sporting events.

Get us an art building!

Get your advisors all on the same page so they don't cost us several semesters and thousands of dollars (all of which we pay the consequences for even though they're the ones who give us the inaccurate/bad 'advice').

Getting rid of the STOOPID Math Gen Ed requirement!

Getting the news of upcoming event out earlier and to more people.

Give bigger funding for instructors, in-class/out-of-class activities, and other educational activities rather than dances or concert that is NOT educational whatsoever
Give incentives for students to fly with UVU. There are too many hoops and not enough instructors available for the students to try and work with. It causes the education/flight training to take twice as long as it should, and as soon as possible UVU should try to get their students to CFI.

GOOD professors at the good times of the day and not switching them once we are all signed up. I had to change my entire schedule around because the teachers I signed up for switched times. I didn't like how I was ready to sign up and was the early bird but ended up getting professors I didn't want to take. I didn't see the need for priority sign ups if we don't know the professors we are going to be taking.

Grading- many instructors make exams worth a majority of the grades. A balanced grading system between HW and Test would be nice. Some students are smart but just aren't good test takers.

Greater emphasis on Athletics, this is where we can become one and enjoy ourselves.

Have a Battle of the Bands. If you do I am not aware of it.

Have a crosswalk from the library over to the bus stop across the street. I've seen a lot of students cross the road right there because they don't want to walk to the crosswalks by the Institute and the other side of the library.

Have a representative from Student Services come to each classroom in the beginning of the semester and encourage students to join a club or any other UVU activities. In addition, providing a list of all UVU activities, including sports, seminars, seasonal etc... for that month via text or email.

Have a second year track in calculus for science and engineering for those who are not math majors. Some students, such as myself, have an easier time understanding the subject when we are solving real world problems.

Have a special education major. List of what staff is teaching what classes during registration. Sometimes they aren't listed.

Have activities at more times of the day. I have to have class in the morning and the evening to fit around work, so I can't go most of the activities.

Have advisors that are easily accessible and don't just tell you to use the tracking system. Students need to know which classes should be taken with other classes. For example you probably don't want to take anatomy, math 1050, and physiology all at the same time. Also, I am currently taking a volleyball class this semester, but class is canceled at least every other week. If there are going to be events in the UCC center, then do not put a class in there!!! I am paying for this class!

Have all of your classes to the main campus - find a way to expand like building another level or something because it is so frustrating to be driving back and forth between main campus and health classes all the time. Especially with all of this stupid construction.

Have classes offered more. It's hard to work out a schedule when certain classes are only offered a couple of times.

Have counselors available on the first day of school. Have more upper level courses available in the evening and on weekends.

Have dances and activities that students that are not 18 can participated in. I graduated from high school as well as from UVU with my associates degree when I was 16. Now I'm 17 but I can't go to any of the dances or anything because I am only 17 and there is an age limit.

Have instructors give more thorough lectures as to help students take more precise notes.
Have more classes available so I don't have to be 25th on the waiting list.

Have more diversity

Have more financial options for students.

Have more Masters programs

Have more options of days and times for each class offered.

Have more parking space.

Have more parking!

Have more places that do not allow smoking.

Have more places to choose to eat a nice meal, study and have group discussions. (Like a mensa)

Have more sections available and more professors for the intermediate level accounting classes.

Have more sections for classes that are required to take.

Have more than one teacher teach a required course, so you have choices and not have to go to another university to get a better instructor.

Have more things available for blind like jobs and offers for jobs outside of school.

Have professors teach instead of reading powerpoint slides. I can read power points and the books without having to show up to class. Professors need to actual teach. Also have more engagement with business to help gain experience have teachers know how to use canvas - and have them use it use online textbook material allow greater compatibility when interfacing with on campus internet have performance grading sheet for professors after each class/semester (sorry more than one) have the professors lecture. Most of them just give the material and we have to find out by ourselves what the class is about.

have the shuttle going both ways around campus have the teachers of different departments agree more so students can take certain classes when they need to.

Have the UVU shuttle go both ways not just clock wise.

Have you thought about building dorms? I know that UVU has a reputation of being a commuter school. Maybe dorms could help with removing that reputation.

Have your arts program get their act together. It took TWO weeks to get started on my online course....all the while I was working on course work that was listed on blackboard only to find out that it was for a different instructor. That bugged me REALLY bad. Come on, we are a University and it takes TWO WEEKS to get a class STARTED? I will not be continuing my course work here because of this experience.

Have your Major classes actually help you in the field your going into. For example I am a Theatre Education major and I have found that most of the Education classes I am required to take are more frustrating then helpful.
A lot of what they teach us isn't really applicable to what how we teach or what we do. I would prefer more classes that would help me know my content more and a few classes on instructional methods and management.

Having a football team would build student pride for UVU.

Having a football team would definitely help out with student pride. As of now my friends and I don't really attend any of the athletics events but with a football team students would get more into the sporting events and attend more.

Having a method put into place, that can remove or be put off to the side, where your excess credits that don't count for the degree you are trying to get. Can be put there and not count towards the 180 or however many hour you need to get your BS degree, so that you don't have to meet with a financial aid counselor or someone else over there, everytime you fill out your financial aid for the year and either have to write a letter, argue with them, etc... for why you need the financial aid.

Having better Music Facilities so that the music majors have good quality facilities that they can use and then won't disturb other students.

Help freshman/new students register.

Help the club sports get more money, recognition and support

Higher standards/rules for student body

Hire better teachers. If I am paying to attend a university, I expect to learn things. There are way to many lazy teachers at UVU.

Hire more teachers, increase campus size, double layer all parking lots. Underground parking or multi-layer parking.

Honestly... It's an ugly place. But I almost like it that way. The library is sweet, I was here when it opened too. All new buildings should be modernized like the Library, for sure.

Hybrid and online classes are a great idea. Even online content for normal courses can be a very effective tool, but there are WAY too many online sources for classes. In my 5 classes, I utilize Canvas, Blackboard, wileyplus, myitlab, mymanagementlab and ftp sites. In some classes I use up to THREE of the sources I mentioned just to keep track of ONE class. It gets confusing. It's tedious. My suggestion would be a one stop site for all course material.

Hybrid courses need help. they are hurting my grade because the teachers are unprepared to teach them.

I am user of the online classes due to my work schedule. I am pleased to see most of the courses I need are online. I would like to see each degree offered completely online.

I am 53 have a full time career, and just want to finish the degree I started 30+ years ago. I don't need all the fluff and activities of college life that are basically engineered around young people anyway. Just make the classes I need to graduate available. Also a more user friendly Wolverine track that would let me plan my education out better would be nice. The old 'What If' for education planning was much better and user friendly.

I am a Deaf Studies Major-Interpreting Emphasis and I am very unsatisfied with a few things. I still have 72 credits to take before I graduate, but most of the classes I need are never offered. I am concerned that I will not be able to graduate for many years because of this. Also, in my ASL classes, I do not learn any sign language. Most people in my classes agree. We feel that we do not know the language well enough to move on to higher level classes.

I am a DGM student and my concern is with the lack of diversity of the professors. For example, the three best classes that I have taken for my degree (all of which were upper division courses) were taught by adjunct professors. I have had seven courses all taught by the same professor, who in my opinion isn't nearly as qualified, experienced or knowledgeable about the subjects he teaches as an working professional adjunct professor could be. So, my suggestion is to hire more adjunct professors.

I am considering transferring because I'm fed up with the registration game. I register first thing in the morning on my registration date and I still end up having to wait list for classes and/or sign up for other classes for the sake of maintaining full-time status. It doesn't give me a lot of hope I can graduate from UVU in a reasonable time when classes are so full. I hate competing for spots in classes.

I am in the finance major and it has been very difficult for me to find classes towards the end of my degree that will be compatible with my work schedule. My recommendation is either offer two class times (morning and evening) or at least offer one face-to-face class and one hybrid or internet class. Some classes I was really hoping to take I will never be able to just because of how far apart the classes are.

I am trying to finish a B.S. Technology Management through Distance Education, but a few Upper Division requirements are not available online yet.

I am very excited that we are becoming such large college but the parking is absolutely atrocious. You expect us to pay $80 for parking yet it is nearly impossible to find a parking spot remotely close to where your class is. I have had to park all the way over by the testing center just to sprint to my class in the business building. I opted not to pay $80 for a parking spot b/c its a waste. I never found a spot to park last semester.

I attended BYU before enrolling at UVU and have found the course work to be substantially easier at UVU. So, my suggestion would to be to increase the difficulty of the courses. I often wonder how I would compare to students of another university in the job force.

I believe what would help UVU to become a better university would be the parking. There is never enough parking and it costs a lot just to have a pass. To pay so much for a parking pass and not be able to park even close is not very good.

I bought a yellow parking pass for this semester, and I park in the morning. However, on Tuesdays and Thursdays I have a class over at the West Campus and I have 15 minutes to get back form there, so I drive there during an hour break that I have, but when coming back I have to drive back to the Library for a class. With the construction and with the lack of parking there is no way that I'm ever on time. I suggest having a shuttle that goes form main campus to west campus that's free

I can't wait to see the end of the road construction at university parkway;it's is making the entrance to the university very difficult.

I currently can't think of anything...

I currently have all my educational needs met, so I can't really think of anything I would change.

I don't like the new registration page. It makes it difficult to see the classes I want to sign up for. Also my class calendar, I liked the old one.

I don't understanding why the library closes so early on Friday? It should be open Mon-Sat until 12am. Its sad that I have to go to BYU library to study on Fridays. They seem to take education much more seriously. Rarely do my professors take advantage of the entire class time to teach. We always get out at least 30 minutes early, yet they complain there is 'not enough class time'.

I don’t use student loans or scholarship or grants. I work full-time and my wife works part-time, while she is finishing up school. As soon as she is done she will work full-time. We use the three-step student tuition and this year someone set up two payments in the same month. Having two payments in the same month defeats the while purpose of having the tuition enrollment program, because it wouldn't let us register without paying for the 2nd installment first.

I feel if we had nicer desks in the classrooms and more available computer labs it would be better.

I feel like if this survey had come sooner after registering for the fall semester I would have stronger opinions that I would be able to relate to you because I remember being extremely frustrated with a majority of the process but am unable to recall at this time what those frustrations were.

I feel like in my classes I have just been teaching myself. There doesn’t seem to be a lot of instruction from the professors or its not focused on what is important.

I feel many of the instructors at UVU are not as professional as you would expect a university professor to be.

I feel that more classes should be offered @ additotional 'off-site' facilities to better accommodate commuting students.

I feel that the activities at UVU over promise and under deliver. I went to the mardi gra activity this year with a date, and I was embarrassed by the activity. I told her there would be dinner, a jazz band, and a dance, because that is what the flyer said. However, when we got there we were allowed one piece of pizza per person, the 'jazz band' was 3 ppl, and the dance was lame. We were hungry the whole night, and we were dissapointed because of failed expectations. I don't go to UVU activities.

I feel that the real negatives of UVU are how crowded it is. Having so many students makes parking and getting in to classes frustrating.

I find that signing up for classes is confusing online, especially if you have any types of holds as I do. I had to see my academic consoler to figure out how to sign up at a time when it was very inconvenient for me to do so. I am also looking to be an Art History Major but it is not offered here.

I found that many courses are only listed but not available, especially upper division courses for major. I cannot plan well and cannot expect when I will be able to graduate. Some people suggest me to transfer to other college or university since they have more courses (including online courses) available.

I hate it when signing up for classes that all the great course times are gone. I can't work and attend most of my classes because I get the crappy hours. I also see about half the people drop out of the courses easily. Yet I'm stuck in. I'm pretty sure if you take enough elective courses you can get a higher position among the registration list. Why does a person who takes all P.E. courses and drops out of a good time get to register before I do?

I have been going to UVU since 01 when it was UVSC. I had no idea I needed to create a portfolio until way way later up until two semesters ago. I just wanted to finish college with that 'peice of paper' using the checklist mentality. What I recommend is some way to begin the portfolio creation process way before the senior level. Possibly even in generals?

I have found that my academic advisor is rarely/never helpful when I really need her to be. That isn't because she doesn't do her job. It's because they're are too many students assigned to her. I think there either need to be less students or more advisors.

I have found the quality of the teaching staff to be very inconsistent some are great and other
I have heard UVU is suppose to be good at helping you find experience in your field but I never had any opportunity or requests for an internship in any field let alone my field in aviation.

I have no idea

I have no suggestions at this time.

I know it's not a suggestion, but I believe some way in helping the students feel like they're not lesser because they're not BYU or U of U. I'm not sure what it takes to help change the mentality of those outside of the University, and I'm not even sure if it's a problem with employers. Maybe publish some type of statistical analysis that shows why UVU is just as good if not better than BYU and U of U.

I know that Behavioral Science advisors are busy getting ready for the new BSW, but I have sometimes felt that social work emphasis students have been forgotten about and no one cares about whether or not we graduate. Every student should feel important, which most the time UVU does an excellent job at!

I know this is already in progress, but expansion. UVU was in great need of expansion a long time ago. I also think academic programs need to be ran by a committee and not just controlled by one person (i.e. the anatomy program.

I like how there is an emphasis on offering alternate courses in the business department that are unique to the specialties/interests/knowledge of the faculty. I would think that by continuing to provide these kinds of courses and by allowing students to integrate these alternate courses into their degree, they will be better able to market themselves. For instance I am an economics major, by the time I graduate I will have the equivalent of a 'financial economic' degree at another university.

I like the in and out signs on the doors at certain areas. Adding a few more of these to the doors out of the LA building would help as well, with all of the construction going on.

I love the Wee Care Facility and would like to see it expanded to help more students.

I met many American people from different departments. Many of them are very kindly, but some are RACISTS. I think the Math Lab, should hire students who really help others students who are not AMERICANS STUDENTS. As an immigrant i felt sometimes hostile treat from them.........if you don't believe my words, i suggest you do a survey to understand many things that this department maybe is unknown.

I really enjoy studying at this university, I can't complain

I still feel like a number when it comes to feeling like the University cares, even after attending for 4 semesters going on 5.

I suggest that instead of building a new student center more classrooms, and faculty are needed in an effort decrease class size would be a better use of money. We students don't need a new student center yet. I would also point out that classes held in hallways such as those outside of the gymnasium are quite ridiculous in my opinion.

I suggest that need more shuttle around the campus. Also set one more bus stop station near SC or LC.

I think a few hours of orientation could have been better spent learning to use canvas and the library and website. Some of my teachers do not even know how to use canvas. I can only access my grades in one out of five of my classes. This is very frustrerating. However I am very satisfied with four of my teachers and the campus.

I think dorms and on campus housing would really aid to the overall college experience.
I think everything is good. I do not have any suggestions, mainly because I have not experienced anything else that would compare to UVU.

I think it would be great if we had more opportunities to show our society what we have to offer. Because we don’t do football, a hugely favored sport in this area, I feel that UVU just slips under the radar. I think it would also be great to build a community of our own like BYU has. All we have is campus and 2 designated housing facilities. What about a UVU restaurant? These would make us more involved and distinguished instead of just blending in.

I think more engaged learning. Pushing teachers to be more hands on and teach class on what things go on in real life. and better parking systems. Parking is ridiculous and expensive.

I think that a parking garage would be great, That way one parking lot would be used and parking be built up rather then spread out. The spare parking lots could be used for other UVU related activities or buildings. There would be parking available for students without having to make a trek from close to the freeway because they couldn’t find a parking space close to their building.

I think that if the CLSS 1000 class was recommended stronger to incoming students it would help. I took it because my brother-in-law took a class like it at BYU and told me to look for one at UVU and I had to ask my counselor about it and just said it could be a good class but it didn’t count towards my major. I really liked that class it taught me a lot of helpful information as well as got me connected to the school much more than I thought I would.

I think that if there was a football team than there would be a lot more ‘pride’ for UVU from the students.

I think that the administrative people are very unkind and unfriendly. I feel like people aren’t willing to help and treat you like you are just a bother.

I think there are too many students and not enough faculty to cover so my suggestion would be to either get more staff for some classes or not do open enrollment. I realize its not that easy but that is the biggest thing I have noticed that seems to be a problem.

I think they could lower the cost of food. We are poor students with families. I paid 4:00 for a container of fruit. I am so dissatisfied at the quality of the food and the prices.

I think UVU could do a lot to increase energy efficiency. The University could really be an example in Utah in this area.

I think UVU would become a better university if more people attended the sporting events, because I believe sports bring unity to a university.

I think you should really look at the math department and wonder why so many students fail math 1010. It is because your course is designed to fail a lot of students. And that is wrong.

I wish the advisors would be more helpful. I haven’t gone to school for a long time and every time I ask questions I feel like I’m bothering someone or I’m dumb for asking. There job is to advise so advise give me some ideas tell me what other people take what’s a good class or maybe tell me other things that are offered like courses or programs I didn’t know about the math lab last semester until the final week and when I finally went there was amazed at how awesome it is.

I wish the UVU link for registration was easier to access. I seem to always have to call to get walked through it.

I work as a sales rep so I travel a lot and had 4 classes with mandatory attendance with only 3 absences allowed. This is a huge nuisance that even though I am a high contributor and get my homework done I'm being penalized because I have to work. This is college not high school If a student can’t make it its detrimental to their grade by the fact they missed out on information to be penalized further is unfair. I've even spoke with teachers and some were accepting while others were unmoving.

I work full time and go to school for the most part full time, it is harder for me to participate in school events and activities because they go on when I am in class or at work. I have a harder time feeling like I am a contributor to the school. It would be awesome if we pulled student quality assurance teams, you could pull them from these surveys. I am also interested to know how UVU students are contributing in the community.

I work full time and I need IS courses offered after 5pm, there are next to no classes in this timeframe. I chose UVU because they were more friendly to people who have real jobs. Unfortunately due the scheduling of my courses, I will likely not finish school for years to come.

I would just like more options, many of my classes are only taught at one time! It's very limiting to me and my work :?

I would like a little more information on the classes I might register for, and suggestions of classes that might be a better fit. I would love it if there were no classes on Fridays at noon.

I would like more general ed classes to be offered online and more once a week classes.

I would like to have known more about how to access scholarships. To have just been made more aware of them from my advisor. I realize that most of this responsibility falls upon my own shoulders. Although, I would like to know more about what is offered.

I would like to see a better range of class times for the upper division courses. I have run into the issue where all of my major courses are in the mornings, it is difficult to plan around a work schedule when supporting a family.

I would like to see a stronger push for Academic rigour, a stronger sense of unity in the student body, and a shift away from the 'tech-school' atmosphere that still lingers from past endeavors UVU was associated with.

I would like to see an expanded student recreation center that included a swimming pool and indoor track. I love the racquetball facilities and basketball courts and exercise rooms.

I would like to see hand dryers in place of paper towels in the bathrooms to conserve paper.

I would like to see more classes offered in the morning for English majors specifically working on upper division and more classes offered online.

I would like to see more courses offered at the Wasatch location. I have to take all of my core classes in Orem, and I live in Midway.

I would like to see more undergraduate and graduate research in the sciences.

I would like to see some of the practical arts classes come back, such as jewelry making, and I am a culinary arts major and would love to have some specialized classes within that major such as confectionary or cheese making classes.

I would love it if more classes were offered at different times. My husband is a computer science major and we have a hard time syncing up classes because for some reason upper division classes for him are only available in the evenings while mine are mostly mornings. I greatly appreciate the new parking lot out by the L.A. building.

I would love to become involved in sports but I am a beginner. Perhaps offering entry level classes but also separating them by MALE or FEMALE courses would be helpful in getting students more involved in the school and promote school pride.
I would love to see more master's programs in the humanities department, particularly an Integrated Studies program and/or an MFA in creative writing.

I would reconsider the colors of the university. I know that the school has invested a lot into the current school colors. But it is my personal opinion that the current shade of green is a little 'immature' and 'small' for a university that is striving to become a better institution. More professional looking school colors would help dissolve the stigma that the university is still just a ðUVSCö college; but rather is developing into a more prestigious university.

I would say that student pride is hard to create without sports teams that are competitive against other universities in Utah. I would be much more likely to be proud of UVU if I could say that we have a great basketball or football team. I would also say that a parking garage would be pretty helpful.

I would suggest increasing the faculty before trying to add a recreation center or make a new track that I can't even access. I, and most students, come for an education, not to hang out.

I would suggest more hybrid and internet courses and more afternoon and evening classes.

idk

If councilors were more available and helpful it would do a lot for morale of students.

If it is a face to face course, why is everything still online?

If people are registered for online or weekend classes only, let them know that they don't need to worry about getting a parking tag for weekends.

If students have to take business communication it should either be combined with engl 2010/2020 or it should simply take it's place. It seems redundant to take a broad class after taking a more specific, all-inclusive class.

If UVU got into a more competitive conference. They would be more recognized as a university rather just a college.

If UVU wants its students engaged and full of school pride, it needs a football team. The basketball team is great, the baseball team is great, even volleyball is great, but football is America's sport. The other sports will get better attendance once UVU has a successful football team.

If you have a declared major have an option on your class search to put in your major and then have the classes that, that one major requires only.

If you insist on raising tuition almost every year, get a higher quality level of faculty.

I'm not joking when I suggest that UVU study the possibility of providing a peaceful and safe area where students can take naps. U o U has studied the benefits of naps and I think it is clear from that fact that students sleep in public areas already that napping accommodations would provide true value to the student body.

im not sure

I'm sure there are some areas that can be improved but can't think of any at the moment.

Improve academic advising. Almost every time i've visited with a counselor it's been fairly discouraging, and i walk away feeling like i wasnt told totally accurate information. Also, the last time i visited my counselor she couldn't have looked more bored. I understand that a counselor see's many students about the same thing over and over, which might get tedious at times, but please remember its your job and you chose to do it.
Improve Parking!! Improve music program, by making it competitive with other programs. Don't let students desire for ease conflict with university goals. Be harder on the students, and raise expectations for students with UVU degrees.

Improve the implementation of online classes, and include a more thorough expectation of what an online class will entail in the catalog. There is an expectation of independent study with an online class, if the class is going to involve multiple due dates and group work that should be highlighted in the course catalog.

Improve the internet courses!

improve the parking situation and you need better elevators in some of the older buildings. More computers in the upper levels of the library.

Improve the quality of the Academic Advising. The people who work in the department are often rude and seem hurried.

In general I think it would be helpful if there was more communication on different options for assistance. For example, Wee Care options, financial aid options, etc. I just feel that information isn't really easy to find.

In the french department don't put the RM's with the students who started their french career in college!! They aren't at the same level!! It is my only complaint about UVU and I am now super embarrassed to speak french in my class and my french is getting worse everyday!!! I am super disappointed because I loved learning french and was planning on minoring.

Increase availability of upper level courses. One modern physics course per year is hard to work with.

Increase bandwidth on the UVLink server so that registration can run more smoothly. (I couldn't even look up classes to add until 12:45 am on the night I registered and I even had priority registration)

Increase of parking spaces, more variety of classes in Criminal Justice course, increase of major. I also would suggest that UVU should give students a choice either they they take math course (until 1040) or Language course (until 202G) for general education just like BYU does. Math is not really necessary for everybody.

Increase the availability of trade orientated classes, and offer classes which would fulfill the requirements of other Utah schools (possible partnership) which offer degrees in areas where UVU doesn't

Increase the gpa requirements for students to get into their desired school like the Woodburry School of business or whatever programs there are. That way there is still open enrollment but then students still need to work hard to get into their upper division classes.

Increase the respectability of the school's curriculum; I feel it doesn't get the credit it deserves when compared to other universities.

increase the space available in the testing center. there are way too many students that need to use the testing center and it is way too crowded.

Increased focus on academics, less focus on clubs.

Interdepartmental awareness and support. I am a poor college student who needs to spend my money and free time seeing theatre for classes. So I'm not willing to spend a free night seeing a sporting event, music concert, or dance recital that is going to cost me money I can't afford to spend! UofU has a great program that lets students who are enrolled see arts events at a deeply discounted rate. We need that if the university wants its students to have a deeper sense of pride and awareness.
It feels like a high school. I am here for my education and nothing else. UVU as far as I know of is not competitive in any way, or in any way that I care about supporting the university. It seems at university a lot of school pride is in sports or in something else. We don't have good sports or anything else, so who cares?

It feels like UVU wants everyone to think that it is an open school, which I applaud, but there needs to be enough courses available to accommodate the growing student body. I am also frustrated over space allocation. The art department for instance is just jammed into buildings that are no where near ideal for their needs. And a class I am taking this semester had to give up one day of instruction per week because the University is trying to find 'creative' ways of dealing with its over schedul

It is extremely difficult trying to find classes once you are in your upper division major classes! Some are only offered at ONE TIME, ONCE A YEAR!!

It is hard to set a time with the counselor for pre-med and pre-dental students. I think it would be better if there were more counselors or one for pre-med students and one for pre-dental students specifically.

It is ridiculous that as a continuing student I have to walk into the financial aid office to get help. I should be able to email or chat to get assistance with financial aid. Access to the counselors is very difficult, and again, I can only meet with them in person. Their time on email is managed during their lunch times and is inconsistent. There needs to be greater availability of Internet-based courses. Why do you think they fill up on the first day of registration?

it is very expensive because i AM an international student they dont allow us very well to work on campus when we really needed of jobs.

It might sound silly, but if there could be some sort of 'nap rooms’ provided (even if it's just a carpeted floor), that would be awesome. I know that many of us students are on campus all day and often get very little to no sleep the night before...just having a private/comfortable place to go and close your eyes for 30 minutes would be so refreshing. Sometimes I end up leaving school early just to go home for a rest...

It seems the different schools are very localized to the student center which makes sense, however I tend to miss alot of school activities as most my classes are around the GT and CS buildings on the outside of campus so to speak, if more effort was placed in increasing advertisements of college activities throughout campus I would be pleased

It would be easier to see the different links and buttons on the website if it wasn't transaparent is so near the same color as the background.

It would be helpful to know which semesters classes are offered. There have been multiple times I've gone to register for a class needed for my major, and I find out its only taught in the Spring, or only taught in the Fall. If its possible, I would suggest that classes are color-coded on Wolverine Track to show when they are available. For example: Red-Spring Only. Green-Fall only. Yellow-Summer Only. Black-Year around.

It would be nice if you could keep the different majors located within a single building. English classes should not be in the Gunther Trade when you have a Liberal Arts building filled with math classes.

It would be nice in the registration portion of the website if you could see your class schedule of the semester you are registering for. I attended a university prior to UVU that you could actually see your week schedule and times of classes. This was not only helpful for registration but for the first week or so of class it was nice to be able to print the schedule out. If this already exists on the website than it isn't very easy to find.

It would be nice of upper division and lower division of all majors were offered either at night or on weekend and at distant campuses. I'm in Business Marketing Education program and I am getting to the point in upper division courses that are only offered during the day and at UVU. I work full time to make ends meet so I now need to find away to continue to work and finish my education

It would be nice to have an Italian language course.

It would great if there was more art exhibition of artworks by UVU students in campus.

It would help to have a bigger campus.

It's difficult as someone who is interested in Animation who has to walk a fine line between taking the appropriate computer science classes and art classes. I would like to be able to take some of the upper level art classes but there are so many art pre-requisites to get into some of the classes that would be helpful for an animation student, such as digital painting and figure drawing. The other problem is that even if I wanted to take all the pre-requisites there just aren't enough available.

It's simply awesome!!

I've had good experiences with my academic advisor, but my husband and sister have both been frustrated with theirs. They find it difficult to contact their advisors and when they do, they have had issues with getting the appropriate amount of help or advice. I've heard this from other students as well. I think the advisors play an important role and should be very available and well informed.

Just finding ways to create more space—more classrooms, more parking, etc. because this university is growing at such a fast rate. And continuing to build the programs so this university can become more well-known and accredited in different programs.

Keep class sizes small so it feels more personal with teachers.

Keep growing and grow the reputation of UVU as a University that contend with the other big Universities in Utah.

Keep improving the quality of instruction.

Keep it a university for the working student, there are already typical universities. UVU use to take care of the non-traditional student, now I feel like they are trying to be like everyone else.

Kindly build smoking houses away from non-smokers. Making designated areas if smoking is going to be allow, to not stump on other people's rights, to smoke free air.

LA building basement and 2nd floor is a death trap. Only one elevator and there is no other exits in case of emergency. I am wheel chair bound and last semester the elevator was down for several hours and I was stuck upstairs till the vator was in working order. You should make a ramp going to the library from 2nd floor. Other problem is the parking. Unless I get to school by 8 in the morning I have to park out in booney and wheel in the winter time of which makes my body hurt.

Large parking structure.

Larger class room cap for higher rated professors. More students in with the best teachers, less in with the not so good teachers as to give the lesser skilled professors more time to focus on individual students.

Larger classrooms and more classrooms with windows.

Less busy work—more class discussion. That is the best way I learn!

Less required textbooks, or at least limited to one per class. Or cheaper textbooks.

Let Digital Media Gaming and Animation Emphasis sign up for art-major only drawing classes.
Let people know how to get scholarships and what scholarships are offered

Let the labs stay open longer on Friday. Please let the students know what is going on.

Limit the acceptance rate. There are way too many people on campus. It's not the UVSC I started at and loved. People come to UVU now because it accepts everyone and they think it will be easy. They want to please their parents by going to college. Some of us want to be here and want to learn and the amount of people wasting space and resources is frustrating.

links for prerequisites during registration

Listen to students in making decisions on teachers. I have been in classes with teachers who are tenured full-time faculty who are awful teachers who don't care about students, while adjunct faculty are much better but don't get to teach the higher level classes and even have to have 2nd jobs just to make ends meet.

Lower textbook costs.

Lower the cost of tuition!!!

LOWER TUITION

Lower tuition, better parking or better parking prices, not so liberally annoying teachers, have more class times for required classes, actually offer the classes people need.

Macroeconomic professor are not good

Maintain the focus on academics. Resist the temptation to add a football team.

Majors offered

Make Blackboard more user-friendly.

Make class times offered on more days and more times throughout the day.

Make clubs more noticeable.

Make electronic text books more readily available and at a more reasonable price than a physical text book

Make enrollment stricter. No more open enrollment. Parking is fine by the way, students are just too lazy to walk, but there are plenty of spaces.

Make events more well known. I hear about activities more from my instructors than the students who run them.

Make it closed enrollment.

Make it easier to pay for school! Visa visa! I work very hard for my money and have given you very much of it and I'm still paying. I don't need to pay for fees from my bank on top of all of this. Figure a way out. You're not the only University out there, many many people accept visa. Making a deal should be a priority.

Make it possible to pass Math with a D.

Make it required for faculty to teach upper division classes throughout the day, not just at 1:00pm. All of the classes I could take are offered at the same time. Staggering the times would be great.
Make more general ed, Math, and science courses available online for Global Aviation Students. There are not very many options. My first choice would not have been BIO1010, it takes more than twice the time as my other four classes combined and it is not very relevant to my program.

Make night classes twice a week and 1.5 hours long instead of once a week and 3 hours long. The way it is now is not working. Most classes beg to be let out early because it is just too long to sit in one spot after you've been at work all day, and if we do get let out early we end up getting behind. Even if you don't get out early, you are cramming way too much into the 3 hour time frame. I believe this would help students and instructors a great deal.

Make Racquetball a sport rather than a club

Make required major classes more available. Not just once every other year.

Make sure professors stick to the course material I am paying for. It is frustrating to have class discussion not be on topic and then be told to cover 4 chapters on your own for the test in a week.

Make sure that all building are aware of what is going on with the university.

Make sure that an entry level class is being taught as such, and not at a higher level just because the instructor thinks, in their own opinion, that it should. Also, try not to change instructors at the last minute.

Make the bureaucracy easier to navigate. No one is helpful, there are far too many hoops to jump through if anything needs to be done. The atrocious registration process is the biggest example of this.

Make the experience at UVU one of education and real learning, not of 'the harder the class, the better it is.'

Make the resources more known, i really don't know what is even out there for me.

make your website more user friendly especially if your employees are going to always direct students back to the website when they come to them for assistance.

Many of my needed classes are scheduled at the exact same time for Spring semester so I can't take all the classes I would want to.

Many students work outside of school and have families and such. Excessive homework loads or 'busy-body work' seems to be the standard for many general education courses. I understand UVU seeks to produce well rounded individuals, but many students aren't really learning. They retain what is necessary for the course and then dump it out of their minds as soon as the semester ends. Maybe focus more on learning instead of amount of homework.

market XC and track and field

Maybe offer more morning classes.

more academic advisors in the departments

More activities, friendlier environment.

More activity for the non traditional student. I wasn't able to attend the book activities because I had class.

More activities.

More art classrooms so that more students can take the specified art classes, or admit less people to the school.

More athletic events.
More availability in Gen ed. They fill up too quick.

class availability of required classes

More availability of upper level (4000 level) classes for evening students. I was considering a class for winter semester that was only offered during the day and I work a regular 9-5.

More availability with parking

More availability of Education classes. It is very hard as a freshman to get registered in some of the classes because all three areas use some of the same classes. I would love to see a Special education Bachelor Degree offered.

More campus activities for non-traditional students. As an older person, I don't feel like the activities are geared toward me at all, so I don't get engaged on campus beyond just my classes.

More campus activities!

More caring and helpful instructors. A good amount of the teachers seem like they don't want to be there teaching so it results in a less exciting/interesting education.

more chemistry classes

More class availability. Especially in high demand classes, such as English.

More Class options for each class. In my major a lot of classes are one section every other year in the fall only or every other year in the spring only. Or they are only taught in the fall or only offered in the spring with only one class available to take and usually conflicts with times of other classes. If you aren't able to take it that fall then you have to wait until the following year to take the class that you hope will fit into your schedule the following year. More class sections. :)

More class times for upper division courses.

More class times that are available for each class

More class times!!!

More classes

More classes available during the day. A lot of them were full when I went to register

More classes smaller class sizes

More classes that start around 3 and 4 o'clock. especially business class. Also your never gonna hold a candle to BYU athletic wise because there is no football program. I know lots of UVU students that can piggy back with a BYU student and get an all sports pass. I do this and attend every home football and basketball.

More classes, better times. We need options. Most of us work full time. Right? We need all kinds of different schedules. Keeping classes small is what has made UVU great!

More classes. Registering sucks! You can never get completely signed up for what you need.

More computer labs in other buildings

More computers
more dances and other fun activities

More diversity in the courses. I have taken numerous courses and they have had so much overlap that it has seemed like almost half of the classes are the exact same. That being said it would be better to go into more depth on a subject than a quick overview. Example of classes are entrepreneurship, material management, project management, total quality management.

More effective student government. We need to strengthen the Student Alumni Association.

MORE EVENING CLASSES

More evening classes, or online classes for major courses and general ed classes.

More experienced teachers (quantity)

More financial aid options for students who fall below the 2.0 GPA requirement.

More first and second block/half semester classes.

More food places open on saturdays for lunch

More free food. I don't have any suggestions. I am having a blast at UVU.

More full time professors who know what they are doing and less adjunct teachers that barely know more than the students.

More graduate level programs.

More Handicapped Parking closer to the buildings more hands on help in financial aid and career counseling more health careers and design

More help for students like class reviews and good TAs. More professors

More help from academic advisors

More interaction between different majors. Courses on financial literacy - learning how to invest, start businesses. Train the faculty to teach students how to network and actually seek out employment after graduation, in degrees other than business and marketing.

more internet classes

more involvement with students with teacher

More Language Opportunities. On campus, Hebrew, Aramaic, Italian

More lighting at night = safer campus more major classes at more times than just one time slot. Some classes are only offered with one available time. Some classes are only offered once a year or so.

More Major options.

More majors
More Majors

MORE MAJORS/MINORS.

More Master’s Degrees

More math instruction available from a second source. For example if you have a professor that you just can’t understand then it would be nice to have a second option to be taught the same section or sections again.

More microwave ovens

more next to campus housing not next to byu

More night classes and weekend classes. General Ed is mainly what is only offered at nights and now a days when people have good jobs they can’t continue their education during the day. They will usually always choose work over school and getting into more debt. I want to pursue another degree but nights and weekends is the only time I can do that. I would hate to drop out just because its not offered.

More night classes.

More nutrition classes and a nutrition major.

More of a variety in afternoon and night classes

More On Campus jobs that do not require pre requisites.

More one on one interaction

More online courses offered

More online courses or hybrid courses. More classes, wait list is long for some classes.

More online options for classes, because of how big the school is getting, it will help accomodate all the students better.

More online upper level business management classes would be nice.

More open to different people. Designated areas to smoke cigarettes

More opportunities to get involved in activities for those who go to classes at night.

more parking

more parking

more parking

More parking

More parking and better lighting around campus especially along the loop and between buildings.

more parking and less parking tick for improper display this is greed at its best. they none by the license plate if the car has a permit or not. we need more English 2010 class from 830 pm to 500 pm m/t/w/t

More parking for WB building
More parking on main campus

More parking options. Bigger lots or more parking that is off campus and the shuttle takes us over to campus.

more parking!

More Parking! and do not raise tuition again while lowering financial aid.

More parking.

More Parking. I wish there was a way to park closer to the WB building.

More parking. More required general classes offered.

More personal attention from the advisor assigned to my major. It would be nice to just receive an email, or a call asking how things are going and if I needed help or had any questions.

More practice rooms for music majors.

More prestigious majors and more majors offered.

More publicity for special lectures would be beneficial.

More qualified instructors and higher performance standards

More scheduling flexibility for mothers who are attending school during their children's schooling (i.e. classes offered from 10-2, other than general electives or lunch time campus activities).

More science classes! :)

More sciences classes need to be available. CHEm 2 is only being taught in two different sections. The waitlist for these classes is unreal. This semester I was waitlisted at 65 and there were not a lot of sections. Also offering a night class in these upper division courses would be helpful not only for me but other students as well. We need more instructors!

More social activities (dances with famous DJs, famous bands, etc.)

More social and less homework during the weekend. Balance between homework and social. Depression is becoming a problem

More space for studying.

More spanish classes

More sports

More sports teams, and more advertisement and support for sports teams.

more student dances/social activities, ways to meet people!

more student date night activities and advertise better

More student parking spaces.

More support of the Arts; focus on Education rather than job training.
More things to do on campus. For example an arcade or bowling or a larger area with more pool, ping pong, air hockey tables.

more training on how online classes should be run they are either amazing or the worst i have ever taken. some teachers don't know how to adapt to online from classroom. maybe younger more tech savvy professors to teach online courses. if students have issues with professors having a resource to go to that does not have a bias would also be helpful and more approachable.

More understanding to students needs

More University spirit. Giving students equal chance to hear about upcoming sports events.

More upper classes at different times. Better ways to be able to register for class. Not have such a long waiting period for waitlist.

more variety of food

More visitor parking. Parking passes are expensive, and with living off campus, I am not there every day. There is only one visitor parking lot at the Main campus and it is a bit inconvenient.

More weekend and night classes available for those who have to work during the day.

Most areas/departments on campus are not professional or serious. The standard of conduct here needs to be higher.

Move the testing center to main campus

My frustration is the bottle-necking that sometimes happens registering for evening classes required for my Major. They often fill up very quickly and the instructor seems to change frequently. I've registered for a teacher that is very thorough and Blackboard savvy and first day of class, I learn the instructor has been re-assigned. My classroom experience is vastly different than my peers in a different section of the same course.

My main problem is that I feel that it is unethical for a college to offer unlimited enrollment and then have so-called ‘soft caps’ that prevent them from entering the courses necessary for them to complete their education. This puts them into a state of limbo. By doing this, UVU is preventing these students from seeking to further their education elsewhere.

My only suggestion would be how the internet classes are run. The class I am taking is so much more complicated than if I took it on campus. Unfortunately I have to take some courses online because I am a single parent and work and have to raise my kids. It has been hard to do the required amount of work needed for the course. I have friends who said the same thing and had to drop the class, and took it on campus.

My suggestion is to be more sensitive to foreign students. I meet misunderstanding at UVU. I am not asking to treat them differently with favor but just remember that for most of them study at UVU is a challenge.

My whole experience here has been very positive.

NA

Need on-campus housing, which would be the biggest help in building school spirit.

Need to have a finance lab. More tutors
NEEDS MORE PARKING AT TOP OF HILL!!!! I can never make it to my first class on time because I spend 20 min looking for parking every morning, and I am unable to try earlier because that’s the soonest I can drop my child off at the wee care. Also need scholarships for out of state! This school costs way too much for out or state with no chance of financial help other than going into a LOT of debt.

Needs more parking. Needs to keep access to the GT building open late on Friday and Saturdays. I think the GT building gets locked up by 5 on Saturdays and students need to be able to get in to work on projects here at the school.

Night programs would be very useful for those of us who work.

no

no comment

No comments. :-D

NO SMOKING anywhere on campus. Even passing by makes my allergies bad.

No smoking on Campus!

no suggestions. I’m very satisfied.

none

None at this time.

Not charging ridiculous fees, such as in the Testing Center and Temporary Parking Passes

Nothing

nothing

Nothing, Go Wolverines!!!

Offer a larger array of classes and majors that may be more applicable to more people.

Offer a more variety of degrees and make course work harder

Offer a psychology major

Offer AVC courses more often than one class, once a year offer better class times and such for the martial arts classes

Offer better schedule options when pursuing major-related classes. Its almost impossible to get classes that fulfill your major and that are not M-F.

Offer classes with an appropriate level of challenge, and educate students on how to move beyond classes that are too easy.

Offer classes with professors that know english. If not, offer another professor to teach that class so the students can decide.

Offer hospitality classes more often. Make sure during the first and second drafts of scheduling that classes that should be taken during the same semester do not have a time conflict.
Offer more afternoon classes. There are a ton of morning classes, but it's hard when you have to work in the mornings.

Offer more bachelors and masters programs

Offer more class options for some of the core classes.

Offer more class times to at least for business and management majors their pre-requisite classes have no times that work for the track times for next semester.

Offer more class times, its hard if you don't live close to the school to organize your schedule with limited times offered.

Offer more classes for requisites. Many classes are filled and leave students with no opportunity to get into classes they need to take.

Offer more classes for the Exercise Science classes! They all fill up WAY too quickly and I can never get into the classes I need!

Offer more classes in my major.

Offer more classes later in the afternoon during the week

Offer more courses online that are not specific to any degree such as Calculus.

Offer more English Major classes online or in the evening.

Offer more evening and weekend class options.

Offer more evening classes for those who work during the day. It is hard to find evening classes for my major (marketing.)

Offer more evening classes. the selection of classes is few.

Offer more food options for vegetarians/health conscious.

Offer more general class times, they fill up all to quickly. If they all fill up then there should be more created to facilitate the need, vs just having people take them the next semester.

Offer more international marketing (MGMT 335G) sections.

Offer more minors (like communications) and review the classes needed to obtain a minor. My business management minor has a class (Info 3120) that requires me to have two other computer-related prerequisites. In essence, it makes me take six additional credits and 2 additional semesters to obtain a minor.

Offer more online classes!! Every class should have an online option, even foreign languages and sciences.

Offer more services to Weekend, Evening class students. I have no access to the Multicultural office, because I am on not on campus in the day. More classes then would also be great.

Offer more than 1 class a semester for upper-division business classes

Offer more upper division Behavioral Science courses.

Offer more Upper Division classes at accessible times i.e. morning
Offer some of the upper division courses in the morning instead of in late afternoon. I am always at school right in the middle of the day and I hate trying to work around that schedule.

Offer student insurance plan through the university. Get a new building--or update the current building--for the school of the arts. The Gunther building is terrible, especially the AVC area of the 5th floor where the computer labs are.

Offer to accept the UVU licence plate as a parking pass or get a bell tower.

Offer upper division courses more frequently. For example, the medieval history course is only offered once in two years. My schedule would have been much better if it were offered every year. I am pleased with the decision to expand and offer two more medieval history classes. There hasn't been enough focus on that period, and too much on American history, in my opinion.

Offering Gluten Free options in the cafeteria!

Offering more courses for upper-division major classes.

Offering more options for people who want to take later classes. Like on wolverine wed. you only get to partake in activities if you are on campus and free between noon and one.

Offering more sections for exercise science courses and easier registration process

Offering more than one instructor for a class. I am required to take Info 3100 but for both spring and fall 2011 only one instructor was teaching the class. I signed up for the class in Spring 2011 and knew on the first day that I wouldn't be able stand the instructor so I dropped the class and picked up another one that I needed. I had never done this before because I am usually not picky about instructors. I ended up doing online an online course and I dislike online courses - No face to face.

On campus housing.

On campus housing.

On-campus housing would facilitate more pride in the university and greater participation on campus. Students don't value UVU to the extent that they should. Most go through the motions of getting up, going to class, and than getting out. UVU is not a place for a 'fast food' educational center surrounded by enormous parking lots, its my school. The stigma of 'committer school' status will make UVU a second choice, and not an education destination if it is not broken. UVU has a tremendous chance.

On-campus housing. It encourages a stronger academic and social community.

Once the newer programs become more solid, I'm sure a lot of quality will improve.

One concern I have is that classes in the event center are cancelled when there are big events going on. I have missed 3 volleyball classes because of different events within this semester alone. I paid for those classes and think that if there is a conflict with the building, then the classes should be moved to a different location for those days. Don't shortchange the students in order to make more money for the university.

One of my classes is in a storage room and it's very cluttered. It's kind of bothering.

One thing I would like to see at UVU is more maps that are easy to read. As a freshman on campus this year, I got very lost very easily the first week or so of classes. Even though I went to orientation, took a tour and had previously been to UVU campus, I was not familiar enough with the campus to navigate around campus without getting lost and frustrated. I found myself wishing for more maps that are easy to read and I think that would help a lot of students and visitors.
One thing that I've been frustrated with is my major. I want to go into Graphic Design. All I have left to take are upper division courses but if I don't get into the program this next spring then basically I have to quit school or completely start over in a different area with lower division classes. If I want to be a Graphic Designer then why can't I be one? Don't tell us to pick our own majors if you're not going to let us be what we want to be.

One University campus that I have been too, they had golf carts helping to shuttle students from one end of campus to another. They were run by student clubs and organizations and were free to the students. There is only 10 minutes in between classes and for those of us that have back to back classes in different buildings in different parts of the campus, this would be helpful.

Online student information on UV link. It is very confusing to find personal information, such as total number of hours, registration status, financial aid, etc. The folders are confusing and hard to see. They should be more organized, easier to use, and more noticeable. The personal information is the main reason for logging onto UV Link.

open enrollment. It's causing registration, parking, etc. at the University to become a pain.

Our UVU starts more and more post-grad programs.

Parking
Parking
Parking
PARKING
Parking [Especially on North Side] is ridiculous. Everything is engulfed in faculty or guest.

Parking and shuttle services.

PARKING I pay a lot of money to park and parking is BAD !

parking is a nightmare. More spaces would be awesome...or don't charge me so much. Also, I would love more evening classes to be offered since I work full time. And...a little professional notice if classes are going to be cancelled, so I don't leave work, and then have to turn around and go back.

Parking privileges or other types of perks for students that are Seniors or meet a specific academic criteria.

Parking services are ridiculous. Either eliminate the need for a paid parking pass, or be smart about it.

parking space, speed limit enforcement within the campus parking, it is impossible to find parking even though I paid for the closest parking!

parking. Is there like a building code issue that mandates there be no multi-level parking? I understand it's a challenge since UVU's a commuter school. Also, I would love a real track to run around before classes. Like at the Orem Rec center. Could you do that for me, love?

Parking. Not sure how you can fix it, but sometimes it's kind of ridiculous.

Perhaps if the teachers were less prejudice against the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints as well as ANY Christian religion. I would feel a lot more comfortable in class if my teachers weren't periodically belittling my religion and my God. I respect them as my teachers and I would like their respect as well.

Personally, I found the coursework for most of my classes too easy. For someone who wants to attend graduate school, I am concerned about what my degree is actually 'worth'.

Phase out ineffective teachers from faculty. They are very rare, but I had my first ineffective teacher this semester and it is frustrating.

Please do not lose the warmth, personalization, and interest in individual students with your status as a university. The caring for the students has stood out for me at this university. Please avoid making the degree more important than the experience with your teachers. I worked at/attended a school that had become a university that put so much emphasis on the degree that it created an inferior educational environment for the students. I have learned most from teachers with experience.

Please do something about parking.

Please get more qualified Academic Advisors!!! The ones we have don't care, don't know, and don't have a clue about advising. They rarely reply to emails, take long lunch breaks, and mess up peoples' schedules so they have to stay in school twice as long. All in all, they are just bad employees. Everyone complains about them. In fact, I never complained about an academic adviser or heard so many complaints about academic advisers until I came to UVU, and I've been to two other universities.

Please get more teachers so more class times can be available when core classes are being required for a specific major. Other colleges around the state are able to provide a plethora of class times for the same classes myself and other students are not available to take. This makes is so working at the same time or during the day is out of the question because some classes are offered once or twice and only in the middle of the day at 11 or 1.

Please improve the math department. Also i struggle understanding a couple of my current teachers due to a language barrier. I feel it very unfair paying for a class that i have to teach myself though my own research and through paying a personal tutor.

Please improve the quality of the education. Many instructors didn't receive proper training on Canvas, and many of those who did receive a little training don't use all that Canvas has to offer.

Please offer more online courses and night classes.

Please overhaul the developmental math program. Student failure rates in these classes are too high. There are very few good math teachers in this program, and most of them aren't interested in trying to become a good teacher. As MATH 1050 is required for all degrees there should be an emphasis on improving student success rates. The ban on calculators in that class is asinine. By that point a calculator will not help a student who doesn't know how to perform the problems to begin with.

Please plan and open options so that the classes students need to graduate in a timely manner are offered at a variety of times and are taught and avalible every semester so that a student, if following the degree path are able to gt thier BA or BS in four years without having to wait for the class to be taught again. If it's required, it should be offered. Especially in the HASS. Thanks!

Please provide a studio room for the Visual Arts students, we need one desperately.

Please, for goodness sake, market your services to your students! So many helpful resources are out there, but we just don't know about them. For example, I didn't know a thing about the Service Learning program until my junior year. Also, I had no idea the amazing Pulitzer-winning author Marilynne Robinson was speaking at our campus because there was NO advertising for it. Granted she came during Fall Break, but please let us know when amazing chances come up!

Preforming Arts Building

Professors in the business school need to be able to speak and understand English. This is a serious problem. My peers and I discuss our frustration and share it with potential future students who ask us questions.

Promote activities better and encourage student pride.

Properly equip the new science building.

Provide an Italian program.

Provide another option for ge requirement of Values and Ethics. This is a border line offensive class. I have never heard one positive experience from over 50 students I have talked with, including three of my children who were required to take this. Now its my turn to endure this waste of time and money. Surely there is some thing that could be substituted? The question is, was it worth my time writing this response?

Provide better academic counseling.

Provide better over the phone services. The people talked to over the phone seem to not have the best idea of what services UVU offers where. I was transferred many times before finding the correct person to talk to.

provide more upper or lower division major classes with different schedule more effective academic tutors and TAs (instructors are very hard to get a hold of..) get rid of faculties who do not want to teach I feel like the bookstore is there for their own profit, not providing and making it easier for students to buy textbooks (they would buy back textbooks for very cheap and sell them back for the doubled price!)

Publicize sporting events better. I think thats what student pride revolves most around is the athletic teams. I'm not sure if the creation of a football team is even being considered, but that would be a good idea I think.

Put the good teachers in the morning. Be more aggressive to build buildings and Parking Lots.

Putting more attention into the times that classes are offered so as to minimize two required classes for graduation being overlapping.

Quickly finish the construction. The less I have to walk in the freezing weather, the better.

Quiet open enrollment. Filter back the number of students that do seem to really want to be there. In every class there is a handful of students who never show, do work, participate, and hold the class back in some cases. It seems like they are only there cause it was easy to be there.

Quiet growing so fast! Really though, I appreciate all the opportunities available here!

Quit spending money on non-essential things. For example the new signs renaming the parking lots.

Reach out to those not attending the main campus. I attend the campus on Technology Way - for Culinary Arts - and I never hear of activities going on. I hear about the dances and fun activities on facebook from my friends AFTER they have happened.

Realize that the art programs are just as important as all the others. Get a football team.
Registration for this coming semester was horrible. I only have a small handful of courses for graduation next semester and 2 courses overlapped by 15 minutes. No one has been able to offer any sort of help. This seems like a major oversight that could have been easily avoided.

Registration needs to be fixed so it doesn't get bogged down the night people need to register.

Registration services is a big let down. I spent 2 hours trying to register for the courses I wanted (from midnight to 2 a.m.) because the server was too busy (and I am on the priority list).

resolve parking and pedestrian walkway issues.

Retention rates are an issue for any university, and UVU is no exception. Improvements could be made to staff training so that they could refer students to the right departments for help. It has been brought to my attention that some of the staff don't know where students should go for help, nor do they care. Sometimes these staff members are students themselves. Better training in retention as well as responsibility could help UVU become a better University.

Revamp the prequisites for the nursing program, its harder to get in here, than BYU, U of U or SLCC, or Provo College. I as a student would rather start and finish at one institution.

Review teachers with bad ratings

Rid the school of any attendance policy for classes that don't really aren't involving. Some classes you lose points if you don't go. I already payed to go to class, if i can't come for under a certain circumstance (not due to laziness) i will get points taken away regardless of how i am actually doing in the class academic wise. Is it a good idea to go to class. Yes. Should we skip class. No. But let's face it this is a university.

Rodayne Esmay is a joke. He is incompetent and incredibly rude when asked for advice or help.

Rotate the emphasis classes to be evening and daytime. Creative writing required classes are always in the middle of the day. My husband can't finish his degree. Some business classes I'm trying to take are only offered one time of the day or only once per year. Also--update the Wolverine Track! it still lists outdated majors & not the new ones available in 'what if', concentration portion lists ALL available instead of just ones available under the chosen major. It's not helpful!

Schools perfect.

Should have more parking spaces that are closer.

Should make UVU women's and men's rugby a school sponsored sport. Not just a club team. We could use the funding, and the fans coming out to our games.

show students where their voice can be heard, who they can talk to if they don't like a teacher, etc.

Shuttle trips a little more frequent.

Shuttles running both directions.

Since there are so many older/working students, there is a need for classes that are mandatory in the evenings or weekends. And as an English major, many are not. Having trouble finding some of the English classes or Fine arts classes that are evening.

smaller class size, more diversity, a.k.a. less mormons and discrimination.
Smaller class sizes, admission requirements (non-open enrollment), more specific career path advising.

smaller classes

solve parking issues

Solve the parking problem so that going on campus isn't such a chore. Also, offer more early morning courses and hybrid courses to minimize the number of students on campus during the day.

Some classes I need in an Art (illustration) major are not offered some semesters. I don't see why a University would not offer a class in Spring/Fall semesters when the bulk of students are attending. Some classes are only offered once in the term at a time I cannot attend. I talked to an adviser who said she had numerous complaints about this. Why if students are complaining is the college just continuing this process. This limiting of availability is causing me to check other school options.

Some courses need to have better instructors. Some of the teachers are really smart, but they don't know how to teach it and then us students end up getting a bad grade because we did our best of what we knew and tried to communicate with the professors, but got no help.

some of general course, they usually teach for test. I don't want to study for only test but more useful knowledge i want to gain during studying at UVU. this is my first semester, so i expect that next semester, I will get more practical knowledge than just preparing for test.

Some of the classes that are required for certain degrees are only offered at night. I understand this is to accommodate most of the work force, but there are not alternative class times offered in those subject areas during the day, making it hard to compact and organize my class schedule. I also think that only having those particular classes offered at those times extended the time it will take to graduate.

Some of the classes that I wanted to take aren't available. A class that I wanted to take was only taught by one instructor which I had taken previously and didn't like so I couldn't take the class.

Some of the professors who are in charge of internet courses need to get their act together. I am speaking about Gregory Rasmussen who is my professor in my History 1700 class. I didn't receive a single grade on an assignment until mid October and my midterm that was taken 3 weeks ago still isn't graded. Unfortunately, no one in this class is happy with the professor or his grading assistants. If I have any complaints this semester, it's with this class.

Somehow break down the cultural barrier between religious and non-religious students. Maybe activities or presentations that promote acceptance of others regardless of habits and demonize judgementalism.

Something needs to be done about parking. It's getting ridiculous. I see more spaces open in the faculty parking, than in the over crowded and congested student areas. If UVU claims to support their students as much as they say they do, let students know by providing better access.

Something to help with the amount of classes that students cannot get into because they are already full.

Sports teams, a performing arts center, and more school spirit.

Staff needs to have better training and not send the student through a run around to get questions answered. I was transferred eight times back and forth between three different departments before I actually got an answer. It feels like no one wants to take responsibility and actually help you, they just want to pass the buck along because they think it isn't their job. The three departments were: (first followed the online instructions) One Stop Financial Aid Registrar start a college football program

Start acting like a university. Actually require students to work in their courses. I've noticed that this has been increasing, but there are still many professors and students who assume because of open enrollment that it's like a high school where professors are going to hold their hands. It brings down the level of teaching the professors can do, and the professors begin to expect less of the students in turn. Also, more professors doing actual research in their field.

Stop accepting anything that breathes. Without some standards of acceptance, the University is quickly growing beyond what it can handle. Parking is miserable. Traffic is suicide-inducing. Foot traffic on campus is dismal. Lines to get food are impossible at times. Bathrooms are cramped and crowded. Stairwells get slogged down to handicap rates of movement due to the volume of human life. The classrooms are filled with students who have no place in college, wasting seats meant for scholars.

Stop hiring instructors that have thick or strong accents.

Stop open enrollment

Stop open enrollment so that the community etc take UVU students more seriously.

Stop Open Enrollment. There are too many students and not enough classes/teachers.

Stop trying to be u of u

Stop wasting almost half of our student fees on the worthless athletic dept, nobody except the MAWL go to any of the games and the only reason the MAWL does is because they get free food. It is an extreme waste of student fees, we would be way better off to spend that extra money on buildings, parking, faculty, staff, services that would actually be utilized.

Streamline registration so it's not so frustrating at midnight.

Stronger evaluations of faculty and staff.

Stronger school pride with more activities

Students enroll in droves but hardly anybody attends (especially lower level) classes. I see this as a huge problem, and addressing it would help UVU become a better university.

Students get in for free to basketball games and other sporting events. I think that this will increase students coming to games and getting involved. Then when we establish a fan base then we can start charging minimal charges.

Students in general need to become more involved in the university. I know the majority of that responsibility falls to the students. I don't have any masterful plans on how to achieve that, maybe offer neater activities to get more students to come to the school outside of class time. I know it is heavily discouraged, but I think on-campus housing could do wonders for the student life at UVU.

Support for the Greeks on campus

Support the clubs/teams that are not as popular at UVU more, like the rodeo team. The boys and girls on the team work hard and probably train harder than students in other teams/clubs but get very little to no recognition or support from the school, and i'm sure there are other groups out there that feel the same.

Take a look at the math program. It keeps getting tougher and tougher to pass math. For those of us that are not majoring in math or math related major it can be quite overwhelming.

Take care of parking problems
Take into account that students of LDS Background have a mission coming up and can not dive into a major program. make sure that the advisors are aware of this.

take student feed back about professors more seriously and realize that seniors need classes offered and there should be a way to know for sure if a class will be offered two semesters in advance i dont need to know when or who will be teaching but i need to know that i can take it so that i can garentee graduating on time

Take teacher feedback more seriously.

Teachers being available to students. My weekend teacher is never available and never on campus. It is very frustrating!

Teachers need to be held more accountable when complaints are lodged. Issues should not be blown over.

Teachers should use the same grading and online homework sites it gets very confusing and in one of my classes we fell behind because we could not access the homework. Its a bit stressful.

Teachers that know their subject and teach it. Too many 'let's waste time evaluating each other's work' and not enough time learning how to make a better quality result.

tell instructors to stop making attendance policies which can dock points for missing a session.

That the Professors actually care about the students they are teaching, esp. in the Sciences

The Academic advisers should be able to solve problems and clarify issues, without passing the buck to others who also want to pass the buck and eventually not help at all. I feel strongly that there is a severe lack of professionalism and general common sense with the academic advisory staff.

The academic advisors could be more helpful with deciding which classes would be best to take each semester.

The amount of 'required' electives not associated with the degree, are a waste of money and time, therefore should be re-evaluated and severely reduced.

The availability of Upper division courses more than just at specific times of the year and with different media formats. Anything other than flexible options has an antiquated mindset. Couple that request with relevant subject material that is applicable to a students chosen profession and UVU would indeed be a forward thinking and leadership directed university.

The bookstore is horrendously expensive, and not just for the books.

The classes are easier than high school classes. Making the classes college level classes would improve UVU.

The classroom testing center could definitely use some improvement/expansion.

The cream colored walls can be stifling and slightly depressive; I would suggest letting the art students paint murals or painting the hallways with a brighter color.

The current campus retention rate is significantly below par compared to other comparable universities. A few reasons may be the lack of recognition students receive from their professors that makes them feel noticed. One solution would be to make class attendance policies campus wide (class attendance is mandatory). Students may feel as though their presence is recognized while penalizing those who 'feed' off of other students.

The dance program needs new and bigger studios. They also need a whole building where all the studios are together. There are also not enough dance classes offered.
The English department needs to step it up. My 1010 English course did nothing to prepare me for my 2010 course, or did it prepare me for my law in technology course. I am not complaining, but I really don't know how I got an 'A' in English 1010.

The Nursing Program needs to be expanded. I have been trying to get in for two semesters and there are so many people applying, it's nearly impossible to get in. The program needs to be funded and expanded to allow more students into the program each semester. I am seriously considering going to another school for my RN because UVU's program is ridiculous to get into. Many of my fellow pre-nursing students are or have already gone to a different institution.

The only issue I have ever really faced at UVU is with the financial aid office. I have been 'randomly' selected the last 3 years to prove my financial aid eligibility. That is really frustrating when I am trying to register and get my everything worked out to go to school.

The only issue I've had is with my ethics and values class. it was really hard to get into, and then once I did get in I've had a few issues with my professor that put that class as my least favorite ever. So a suggestion would be to have more, with different professors, ethics and values classes available.

The only suggestion I have is planning upper level course times a little better. Of the 6 courses I needed to choose from for my next semester, all of them only had one morning time, and they all had the SAME time. The only other option was an evenning class, which I cannot do because I am working to put myself through school now that my scholarship is expired. It's becoming almost impossible to stay employed AND graduate , and I'd really rather not have to choose one or the other.

The parking is rather expensive. Also, sometimes finding a spot is difficult if you don't arrive early.

The professors have not been the best. I feel like some are just in it for the paycheck and not about actually teaching the material.

The registration process for returning students is ridiculously hard to follow and led to my extreme delay in signing up for the classes with the instructors I wanted. I had to settle for a science class and I am not at all pleased with the instructor. He is hard to relate to, intimidating to ask questions of and his class is impossible to follow and I'm frustrated.

The registration process is a total disaster! I am a senior and need certain classes in order to graduate. When I log on at midnight, the server gets jammed and kicks everyone off! It took me 3 hours to register just so I can graduate in April. I am very unhappy with the entire process!! There needs to be some major changes made!

The registration process is ridiculous! Its super complicated the first time around and almost deterred me from starting school.

The School of the Arts needs to advertise better. Concerts, shows and exhibits need to be listed in the arts sections of the newspapers and it might be wise to buy ad space. Also, there needs to be designated free parking near the SC for Ragan Theater events. Of course, a fine arts center would be nice too...

The student staff needs help in 'service with a smile'. The girl at the testing center was extremely cranky and didn't seem to want to be there. Two guys in the bookstore were clueless and unwilling to really help. Overall, the UVU staff is great...the students hired to be staff are terrible and need a lesson in customer service! I work in a service oriented industry (geomatics and engineering) and this is not what I expect when it comes to service.

The students fill out teacher evaluation forms but do they ever get looked at? What becomes of them? I feel like I fill out these forms but I don't know if anyone is even reading my evaluation. Also, I need to be able to get Coca Cola at the soda fountains! How am I supposed to make it through the next 4 years without it?!
The teacher to pupil interaction is excellent here, but the rigor and demand of coursework is often laxidazical, not that meeting of what a university should be. Basically to expect the professors to demand more from the students and themselves to be able to handle and back up those demands.

The testing center is not very user friendly. There has been improvements which have made it better for the fall 2010 semester but it is still difficult to get correct information for the employees concerning policies. They seem to change depending on who you speak with.

The UVU website is really hard to navigate. Also, information about various programs and events is EXTREMELY difficult to find.

The vending machines have stuff that is $.85 or $1.35 - as opposed to $.75 or $1.25. I am running out of times.

The Waitlists for classes are horrible no matter how early you sign up for a class. Sometimes you can't take the classes that you need because of this and it can be very frustrating.

The website is confusing it took me a long time to register and apply

The website is terribly over complicated, not very user friendly. This strikes me as funny sense this seems to be what the majority of this survey is about, how fun friendly and what the quality of service is offered! The other is the same issue that all universities face, the education system is broken in America. The best way to fix this, is ask the educated college students!

There are a couple of things I feel like really need to be addressed with teachers. I am taking an online class and it is very difficult to reach the teacher and get a response from him. I tried to find out specifics for a midterm weeks in advance and it took so long for him to respond and I had an important question that he never did respond to. When I asked the initial question, he made light of it and portrayed it as a rumor, making me feel like I should have never asked the question.

There are a lot of things every day that I find out about through coincidence. I feel like some of these things should have been more obviously put in front of my face....which is often times what I need to notice things outside my narrow vision :P For instance, Wolverine Track..

There are some instructor that are devoted to teaching and I actually learn from them. Then, there are those that doesn't take a chance to notice that students are not understanding anything that they're saying. Approach with information but still doesn't adjust.

There are some teachers who are simply not interested in student success- they seem more interested in paring down their program than helping students succeed.

There is a fairly consistent feeling among the students, myself included, that the teacher evaluations with our concerns, feedback, etc. are not actually addressed. If a consistant number of students comment or request similar things in regards to a class or teacher, I believe UVU should address that issue in a manner that acknowledges the student's concerns and informs the student(s) of the action taken by UVU.

There is a huge opportunity to have a Korean language department-- yet despite lots of pushing from an acquaintance of mine, there has been little interest from the administration in trying to make that happen. Someone has dropped the ball-- we claim to be a University with diversity-- yet the largest group (that I know of) of foreign students on campus is from Korea, and our cultural diversity programs and language department doesn't reflect that. Change this. Start a Korean program.

There is a lot of construction going on around campus and surrounding areas, cutting off some of the buildings and parking. I would suggest that for future construction you provide better access to these things as they made it difficult to get to class on time.
There is virtually no support for non-traditional (older) students. It's hard returning to school after being out for 10 or 20 years, and I see so many older students besides myself coming back due to job instability in this economy. Our brains aren't used to learning in an academic setting, and it is more challenging in that sense, even though we bring life experience with us. I'd like to see some support.

There needs to be a dressing room in the Gunther Trades building.

There needs to be more offerings of upper-division course work offered for evening students.

There needs to be more study area near the science building.

There seem to be many last minute changes in offered courses.

There was mention of fast food places, and I think that Little Caesar's would do extremely well on Campus or at least near it. As for the classes, most of mine are great. My only issue has been my Eng. 1010 class with Annette Tyler. There are a lot of days that I leave the classroom feeling like I have not been taught anything that day.

They need to offer more upper division classes at more times. I work full time and don't have enough time to take a class that starts after 2 PM. Also there needs to be a new testing center. Testing center cannot handle the amount of students that come into take tests. Facilities need to be bigger and server needs to be bigger to handle all the students. I feel like UVU still has facilities that can handle the amount of students attending now.

This probably doesn't apply to the university as a whole, but the professor of the only class I'm in takes a very long time to grade homework assignments. This prevents me from recognizing mistakes quickly and hinders my progress. Homework assignments and projects should be graded quickly, so that I can evaluate my progress and areas I need to study and practice more.

This school is awesome and I love it!

This year Canvas was hard to adjust to. The tecs at the library were hardly trained, but did the best they could anyway. If a program like this needs to happen again, at least train the people we are supposed to turn to for help.

To be honest, I think a lot of students, including myself, do not have much student pride because UVU is still considered the arm pit university. My family and friends all believe that the only reason anyone would go to UVU is because they couldn't get into any other school. They always comment, 'if UVU is so big now why don't they have a football team?' or 'UVU is just a small nobody college, they don't even have a football team.' I don't love football, but having a team would give UVU more credibility.

To fix class schedules and make things easier to learn on the internet courses. My experience with online classes is less than perfect.

To rethink having hybrid classes. Students learn in different ways and I know you are trying to expand your resources but having hybrid classes makes it harder to keep up with school work and harder to get the help needed at the time you needed. I have been here for six years and I have seen the differences and great efforts the university has done to become better.

Too many adjunct professors with poor instructional skills. Training Adjuncts in classroom presentations.

Tower parking, especially by M25 parking lot. There were many times I missed class because I couldn't find a parking spot. I live in Spanish Fork and had to take my kids to school first. By the time I get there it would be 9:05 am. After looking for a spot in the M25 lot then moving to other parking lots, a lot of the time I would end up in the L7 lot. Then it wouldn't be worth running to my class across campus just to make 10 min of class.

Train the teachers in basic instructional models so they have some teaching pedagogy, especially those with no teaching background.
Try to make new students feel more welcome. I didn't feel welcome at all.

Trying to obtain financial aid provided the biggest hindrance. They were very strict and hard to work with. And I wasn't able to receive enough financial aid.

Tuition is a bit high. I feel that UVU should be a more affordable university. Also, undergraduate jobs on or off campus are very high to come by. I think there should be, at the very least, a job services-type service available for undergraduate students to help them find jobs.

Tuition should be less expensive. Getting a better education shouldn't be so financially stressful for anyone.

Turn food court, on second floor of SC building, into a buffet.

Upper division class never ask students what they would like to be available. It would be nice if they just asked what the students needed and when instead of just offering a class at one specific hour only one semester and then expect students to fit that into their schedule especially when these one time only classes interfere with other required courses.

UVSC became UVU, yet course catalog still has UVSC as opening line; ah, oops?? Parking structures instead of parking lots. Combine 800 N and North campus into one road. Have bus stops in middle or far side of parking perimeters. Make time frames more visible (for all events - registration, audit, withdrawal, etc.). It's there, but not always clear. What does UVU's tentative future schedule look like, in say five years? Make activities more visible.

UVU has a tons of nontraditional students, hence the school needs to offer more classes, such as night and weekend classes, to fit the needs of those nontraditional students.

UVU is a business. The students are the customers. Is this a focus that the instructors understand? Customer service? From a University angle... Understand current student market, and what they value. Are there metrics to let you know if you are ahead or behind in delivering that value? Is it visible to the student body? If not I think that would really help.

UVU is a great school for first year students and I would not change a thing.

UVU is well on its way to becoming a 'real' university (in practice, not just in title). However, it seems like it is still viewed as a 'less than' university. With the recent upgrades around campus, I think time and continued improvement is the only thing that will help UVU's general image.

UVU needs a bigger testing center.

UVU needs more departmental speakers, in my opinion. At another school I attended, we had faculty performances (I was a music major), but here, we seem to never have anything like that, at least for the English department. I would also like to see more facilities used by students. A friend of mine needed to make a film and tried to use the Ragan Theater for his project (a UVU class project assigned by his teacher). He was told he needed to pay a fee to use the theater. Not cool.

UVU's sports teams should be able to compete with other universities such as BYU.

We need more art work and landmarks that would define us as a university. Things like pictures and painting of Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, Martin Luther King, etc. in the LA Building so that you know you are in the LA Building. Also similar things can be done in the science building and other buildings. We also need to get into a regional conference. If this was made a priority by administration all the facets of the university would grow, including academics, etc.

We need more parking.
We need more parking!!

We should have a football team

Well having professors that aren't so biased against the LDS religion would be nice and who don't spout their own beliefs as facts.

Well if they put more tutoring that would be a better idea so the students fell more courage to study so they gained a better desired to study because if they dont put tutors they get discouraged sometimes they said that they are going to help but they dont well more parking, i know your working on it, and to be able to register for class at midnight and not have uvu website go down

Well, we all know that parking is a joke, so that won't need to be mentioned. I've never been a big fan of the location of the testing center, but I don't currently use it this semester, so I'm not too concerned about that right now.

When a group, such as let's the UVU Wind Ensemble, receives an invitation to play at the 2012 Olympic Games in London, FIND THE FUNDING!!!! That was a wasted opportunity for international exposure.

When a hold is on a students account, the account should list WHAT the holds are so the students know exactly what needs to be done to continue.

When I need to contact an instructor to get approval to register for his/her course, often I cannot find an email address for adjunct-instructors. I have a degree from a 'previous-life' that is more than 10 years old, yet I have to be a freshman at UVU because my credits are older. I am not degree-seeking at UVU, yet I must get instructor approval for courses where I do not have the pre-requisite(s). It is very difficult to get instructor approval for a course when I cannot contact them.

When there are more students then there are classes available, get more classes. Rather than having only two art history teachers and giving them a room of 150 students, hire another art history teacher. a room of that many students leaves poor to no time for one on one with the teacher or feedback.

When there were guest speakers or other such activities at the campus, it was always in the middle of the day and I work full time. There were some that I would have attended if they were available later at night.

Why did the parking services switch to cardboard mirror-hangings instead of stickers? I had my parking permit stolen from my car this semester and had to pay large sums of money to remedy the situation. You can't steal a sticker so easily.

Wider range of advertising strategies

With registration, students are very busy and have a lot of other things they need to do outside of school. I think that when it comes time to registration I believe the student needs to contact their advisor and discuss via e-mail, phone call, etc. to see what they need to do for registraion for school. I find it very frutrating when I don't have time to meet with my advisor and then my registration is on hold.

With some instructors they ask for a book but they don't use it, and that is fustrating for me and a wast of my money. Another thing is that when some teachers do use the text they skip around the book such as starting from chapters 13-15 then skipping to 7-9 then 5-1 and when the text advances in each chapter so that you understand the consept of the class it is hard to tell what is going on.

With the exception of a few, the advisers at UVU are terrible. Most of them are annoyed with the questions that you ask. I realize that they encounter the same questions all day, but that is their job. I have been extremely dissatisfied with the quality of the advisers in nearly all departments. There are a few, however, who have been exceptional.

Work towards a more accredited university

Work with students better who have illnesses.

You already know it, but more classrooms so more people (like my family) can go to classes they need.

You have got to realize that dumb teenagers are not your only students. you have so many students with families to raise that you need to broaden your internet, weekend, and evening class availability, especially for classes in the arts majors and higher level classes for those students close to graduating...which are mostly people with families and full-time jobs, not teenagers with nothing but time on their hands.

You need more professors to teach music available in the evenings

(I haven't used it except for dance classes in a room that isn't equipped for that type of activity)

accommodates everyone's needs, family environment, friendly staff

All of the available events have occurred while I was working. I would love to attend a concert or a dance but there is always a scheduling conflict.

All the events I've been to at the UCCU center have been fun and well organized.

Attended a concert there and it was not over crowded and we had a great time. Easy parking and a good value on the tickets.

Ballroom classes that I pay for get canceled because for events in the UCCU center.

Beautiful facility.

Because I do? I am indifferent about sports...

Because I have a full time job and am a full time student and can't find the time to go to sport games, though I think my company rents out some space there for our chrismas party, so it's good that way.

Because I have had no problems, and have enjoyed all the events I have gone to there.

Because I have never been there.

Because I have went to a few concerts there and it is a good place for concerts.

Because I love the concerts that are held there

Because I never really go there...

Because it doesn't feel like home at UVU. There aren't free things given out, Athletics are not emphasized.
Because it given me to expand my education beond high school
Because it is a good facility despite the fact that I still can't remember not to call it by its old name.
Because it is very organainzed. A great number of people go to the events there and make it fun!
Because it seems like there is always something going on there that i can participate in.
because its great and fun place :)
Because it's huge.
Because it's pretty active, and large.
Because they dont give me or allow me a job so that i could work to help pay off from my tuitionn
Because they host such a wide variety of events.
Because when there are events held there during school that are not related to the university it causes parking isues!
Being a single mother and not being to get my children in an affordable day care when I have class, how am I expected to get care for my children while attending extra-curricular activities?

Each event that I have attended at the UCCU center be it a dance, performance or a sporting event has been a good experience and the facilities have been more than adequate.
easy access
Easy entrance, to the building. However, parking is horrible.
easy parking.
Even though I get a weekly update of UVU activities--with the school load I am taking, the emails are too cluttered and I don’t have time to search through them to see what might be interesting. Thus, I didn’t even know that the UCCU Events Center offered such a variety of activities.

Events seem to run fairly well, and the building is kept in pretty good condition.

Every event I’ve attended at the UCCU center has been lovely and well organized.

Ever since I was young, I remember being in the UCCU Center for different events so I just have a lot of memories there.

Every event I have been to at the UCCU Events Center has been very enjoyable.

Every event I’ve attended has been executed very well.

every time I've been there there has been plenty of room

Every time I’ve been there, It has been fine.

Everything goes smoothly when I attend.

Everything I have been to there has been fun and I can always see.

First, I did not get any information and i don’t know where i can get information for this. Second, I am still struggling to follow all the class that i attend and doing homework. so i have no time to go and enjoy events.

For concerts the seating isn’t too far from the stage so while you’re sitting you can still feel close to the performers. Plus for sporting events it is easy to navigate the building to get to your seat.

For what I attend it seems to work great, but there have times when the stairs or railings are broken and it seems kind of dangerous.

Good

Good building, not great but good

Good concert performances there

Good facilities with available parking and good traffic flow for big time events.

Good facility. Lots of space, well maintained.

Good seat capacity, lots of events there. Have used several times a semester.

Good size arena.

great atmosphere

Great coaching, team spirit

Great seating and environment for all types of audiences including children, families and for date nights.

Had great time and no problems with the facility

Has always been clean and events have been run professionally whenever i have gone to the UCCU center
Have had both ups and downs.... some instructors need to be replaced- maybe offer more then one insrucotr to each the class... Other instructors love their jobs and it shows...God Bless Cirtis Fillmore for getting my daughter interested in going bcaik to school as well as Brent Bullock... those guys ROCK!!!

Have not attended any events at the UCCU Center

Have not had a lot of experience with it.

Haven't attended enough events to give a valid opinion.

haven't been there yet

Haven't been to anything there

Haven't ever been in the building.

Haven't ever really had a problem with the place. Never attended an athletic event there but I have attended various activities such as trade shows and high school graduations.

I actually work at the UCCU Center, in the operations department. Much of the equipment at the events center is old, worn, and in disrepair, and we do not have the funds necessary to repair them. The university wastes money on trying to make things LOOK good, but it doesn't invest any money in making things FUNCTION well. Any day, now, those 8000 seats are going to break down and fall apart, and the large scoreboard hanging from the ceiling will probably fall too.

I always watch mma fights there and it has a great view of the octagon

I am a busy mom working full time and going to school. I spend my few moments of free time with my family at home.

I am a culinary student, and spend a lot of time in the UCCU building. The space is fantastic for banquets and parties.

I am a nontraditional student and I am there only for the education, I am not attending for recreational activities or to meet my future spouse.

I am a single mother and full time student. I don't have time for extracurricular activities and couldn't afford it even if I did.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am just not that interested in UVU sports. I live very close to BYU campus and my wife, along with most of my friends, go to BYU. So most sporting events I go to are BYU's.

I am not interested in the sports events.

I am not interested in watching other people play sports

I am not really in it very often nor have I really ever thOught of my experiences in there with so much thought. It seems like a great building I just don't know much about it personally.

I am satisfied of how I can find the help I need in anything. Anyone I talk to is nice and not judgemental. All of the students, falctuity and staff genuinely help me in anything. I can feel that they care for my success as much if not, more than I do. Which is what keeps me attending and working harder. I am grateful for all the support.
I am satisfied with the Event Center. It serves its purpose. I hardly ever go to any functions there, so it doesn't mean much to me, but I have attended a concert there, and a few sporting events. I think events being held there could be better publicized to generate a higher attendance at events being held there though.

I am too busy with my classes to attend these events.

I attended a concert there, it was a good, fitting venue.

I attended the Jason Derulo concert last fall and I felt like there were lots of empty seats that night. But if more people wanted to attend events, I don't think 8,000 would be enough, especially if sports teams started playing other universities like BYU. Then more and more people would want to attend the events, and 8,000 would not suffice for the population of our ever-growing school.

I attended the state wrestling match. Seating was great anywhere in the arena. Concessions were readily available.

I attended the USU UVU mens basketball game last year and found that you could not see the court when sitting in the higher seats along with that there were alot of rude individuals in the crowd from UVU. I have been to USU games and they are loud and annoying but they are cheering for their team and not degrading the other students and fans.

I attended Women's Event and a speech there and feel like it's capacity is very versatile. It gives me a sense of school pride when I'm in there as well.

I came to UCCU for a concert once and Presidential Scholarship Ball as a volunteer. There is not anything unique about this place and not many events attracted me to attend.

I can see well, and the seats are comfortable.

I cannot get tickets at the student price for my whole family. I would attend if you could get a family rate to attend the events like you can for just a student at a discounted price.

I cannot sit in wheel chair for more than 3 hours with out being in extrem pain. that is why I do not attend.

I can't really complain. I think getting in and out of the center is a little weird, as in, parking. Can't there be a parking structure somewhere?

I currently just don't have the time to attend many activities between work, school, and family.

I do not attend a lot of sporting events but I do see concerts there and it is a nice facility.

I do not attend events @ the UCCU center.

I do not go to the UCCU Center.

I do not have time to attend events.

I do not like that the name was changed from the David O McKay Events Center, seems like when you name a building after someone that might mean something and you don't just sell it out to the highest bidder.

I do not live in the area.

I don have much extra time.

I don't attend events there that often, but overall it has been fine.
I don't care about the events, I care about the center because it's also the home of the Culinary Arts program. I've always enjoyed catering at the UCCU center.

I don't care all that much, but everything I have done at the UCCU center seems to go pretty well.

I don't care for sports, they serve no purpose, I don't go there. Nor do I care for dances or concerts.

I don't ever go in that building so I don't know if I'm satisfied or not.

I don't feel as if UVU has a great athletic foundation (unlike BYU and the U) and generally uninterested in attending UVU athletic events when I can attend higher quality athletic events @ BYU campus

I dont go there

I dont go to any activities.

I dont' go to any sporting events.

I don't go to events really.

I don't go to school events, I have 0 school pride. I am there for a degree, that is it.

I don't go.

I don't have the time or the desire to make the time to go to these events.

I DONT HAVE THE TIME TO ATTEND MANY EVENTS.

I don't have time for that.

I don't have time or money to attend most of the events.

I don't have time to attend sporting events. I work 2 jobs and am just trying to finish my degree. Plus, I never see advertising for any sporting events.

I don't have time to go to events.

I don't have time to go to school events. I work full-time.

I don't have time to go to these events.

I don't hear about things that would take me there, so I haven't been.

I don't know much about it but I may or may not like it.

I don't know much about it, and so I don't attend.

I don't know what it looks like and never experience in UCCU events center.

I don't like it when dance classes are canceled for events.

I don't love that they changed the name, but I think it's a great center.

i dont much experience the uccu center but im not against it

I don't participate in a lot of outside activities, I've only been in the building once. I also am a transfer student from University of Kentucky so I'm not used to attending smaller events.
I don't participate in any of these events lately.

I don't really attend events here, but on the very few occasions I have, it was great.

I don't really care, nor do I have time for events that take place at the so-called UCCU Center.

I don't really go because I don't have that much time.

I don't really like going to big events with a lot of people. The events I have attended there were nice.

I don't remember really much about the Center.

I don't think I have ever been to the UCCU center. I don't even know where it is at.

I don't use it enough, and I feel like we should spend more money on things like finishing that stupid hallway between the LA and the student center. That is much more deserving of student funds, since I couldn't care less about having an events center. Why, when basketball is such a low part of UVU's renowned campus, is so much money put there of all places? The best way to get a good athletics program is to first have a great faculty. We need to build that more before we start working on this UCCU bullshit.

I don't use it very often but I feel like it is large enough for the events held there.

I don't use it very often. Only a few times at most.

I don't use it, I don't have an opinion.

I don't use it.

I don't use that building much, but it was big enough and fun each time I have.

I don't use the facility.

I Don't use the UCCU Center cause there isn't anything that interests me there.

I enjoy events at the center, but am not a super big fan of the UCCU logo that lights up at night on the building.

I enjoy having a large facility close by that I can attend and use for school and personal reasons.

I enjoy the easy access to seats around the building. Maybe have some awesome light would be cool.

I enjoyed the atmosphere and space.

I feel dances should be decorated more. Halloween dance was pretty lame.

I feel it is a good facility, but is right out of the 80's. My biggest problem is that we don't fill it up for activities, specifically athletics.

I feel it's a good place to host these events and all, but feels somewhat small in a sense.

I feel it's an adequate venue for the things that occur there, and I would be satisfied more if I went to more of those functions, which I do not. I am quite busy enough with homework.

I feel like it is a good center for community and school events.

I feel like it is a great environment.

I feel like it is a nice building that is large enough to hold large amounts of people and it gets used a lot.
I feel like the place is suited for the activities that are held there.

I feel like when events are held it is after hours or on weekends so parking is not a nightmare. The facility is set up well. I've only been to a couple of games. I do like that Pres. Holland holds a fireside to start off the school year there.

I feel that if more money was allocated to the building the UCCU Center would be able to host more events that students would be able to afford.

I feel that it is a great venue for sports as well as concerts. I went to the 30 Seconds to Mars concert and I loved it!

I feel that the UCCU Center does a great job of providing a venue for these events. I would just like to see more in attendance specifically at the athletic events.

I feel that the UCCU Center is able to serve its purpose.

I feel they have a good place for many different events and the hosts of each event I've been to has done a good job. The concession stands also do great and the facility is very well kept.

I felt that it fells need others around use

I go to the Heber Campus and so I don't have time to make it down to the main campus.

I graduated from High School in the UCCU Center (I still prefer it as the David O McKay building) I've also attended other events there as well.

I graduated in the UCCU center when it was still the David O. McKay Event Center. I felt that UVU did a great job with setting everything up and it made it easy for parents and family to attend. I felt that there was enough parking for everyone too. I also attended a Halloween dance there in 2007.

I graduated in the UCCU Center, and my Experience was fairly good.

I had my high school graduation at the UCCU Event Center and I thought it went fine.

I hate the UCCU center. They have rights to the parking lot and us students are never notified when an event will be held there and all of the parking spaces taken. I arrive to school and find the parking lot full on random days and then I have to park in a neighborhood on the north side of the school. Even the 'free' parking lots are full. I then have to walk for a half hour and then I am late for my classes. This is a university right? You guys are supposed to be smart and yet you can't even figure out how to communicate a schedule to the students?

I have a general lack of awareness concerning the events held there.

I have a volleyball class in this building that is constantly canceled for these events. I miss approximately 1/3 of my class time, while the other court that is used for basketball classes does not have this issue. I find this an unfair situation, regardless of the ratio of students in basketball in comparison.

I have always had a generally good experience when attending sporting events, concerts, etc..

I have always had a good experience at the UCCU Center. Events are advertised well and in general are very organized.

I have always had a good experience there.

I have attended a few concerts and events outside of school and the event center is great.
I have attended a few different events at the UCCU Events Center, and have had great experiences each time. It is a great building that serves as a great host for games, concerts, etc.

I have attended many events at the UCCU center and overall it has been a good experience. Getting to our seats is always a little cumbersome, however, once there we all get settled in and the show is great. When my in-laws come along, it is very difficult to park, get in the building and then get to the seats (the are quite old a have a hard time walking very far, taking stairs and getting up and out of the seats). The snack bars are pretty pricey for students without a lot of healthy options, that could be improved. Also, more concerts throughout the year would be nice. :)

I have attended one concert there and that was before I started attending classes.

I have attended only a few events at the UCCU center so I don't really have an opinion on the place.

I have attended several concerts there, but not many sporting events. It is a fine venue for live music.

I have attended some concerts and have enjoyed them for the most part.

I have attended sports events and they were satisfactory. However, I have attended dances here and so have a number of my friends and the experience was awful. The atmosphere was dirty and uncomfortable. Anyone I know that has attended a dance here saw people drunk, high, or dressed inappropriately. People I know commonly associate these activities with the University. If the University wants a better, more serious, professional reputation, dances should be better supervised.

I have attended UVU, on and off through the years, since it was UVCC. I've watched it grow and for most of that time I've had no complaints. I only wish more universities would have campuses where you can reach any building without having to go out into the cold to change classes.

I have been satisfied with my experience with the UCCU

I have been so busy I have had no time to go over there.

I have been there a couple of times on different events and enjoyed the layout of the facility.

I have been there only a few times for non-school related events; i.e. Home Shows, Forgotten Carols, etc. But the times I have been there have been great!

I have been to a concert at the UCCU center, and there were many rules and regulations. Made it extremely frustrating and I don't want to go back for another one. I mean really, no lids on the water bottles!!

I have been to a few volleyball games.

I have been to the UCCU Events center for many events including, concerts, games, and graduation. Each event has been very nice and accommodating to the specific event.

I have been to three events here: Concert, wonderful; dance, wonderful; circus, wonderful.

I have come to a few of the community events and its good.

I have enjoyed the activities and events that I have gone to at the UCCU center.

I have enjoyed the set-up each time I have attended.

I have had several experiences with the conference center over the years—both as a community member and as a student. I think the building is well used for many different events. I also have experienced SUU's equivalent, the Centrum, and if I could choose between the two, I would choose SUU's. It is lighter, brighter, less claustrophobic. Different flooring surfaces can be put down to accommodate different events, it is larger and better lit. When I enter the UCCU building I feel like I am entering a pit--either from the top or the bottom. In addition, SUU’s Centrum also has classrooms and offices built around the perimeter, increasing classroom and office capacity. One of the big advantages of the UCCU building is the kitchen in the building. This provides much greater flexibility in the range of events that can be hosted at the UCCU building. For example, the Presidential Scholarship Dinner was very impressive, and possible because of the kitchen and available amenitie

I have limited time for extracurricular activities, so I do not spend enough time there to truly evaluate the center.

I have never attended an event there.

I have never been around the UCCU Center
I have never been in any activities there
I have never been in the building.
I have never been in the Events Center.
I have never been in the UCCU Center except for the time I went on my tour of UVU before enrollment.
I have never been in there. Seems fine to me.
I have never been inside the Event Center.
I have never been there before.
I have never been to a sporting event there... or anything there really.
I have never been to an event at the UCCU center.
I have never been to any event at the UCCU center.
I have never been. No comments.
I have never entered the building. I am not interested in watching sports or dancing. If there were to be a speaker there, I might attend depending on who it is.

I have never had a bad experience there, but nor have I had one that I would write home about.
I have never had any problems finding seats, getting in, and I have enjoyed my overall experience there. It's a wonderful facility and is a great part of our school.

I have never had any problems with the UCCU center.
I have never used it, except for when I graduated high school five years ago when it was the Mckay Events center.
I have no interest in college sports and I do not want to support student that receive scholarships related to sports.

I have no interest in the sporting events, dances, concerts, speeches, commencement ceremonies, conferences or community events that take place at UVU. Corporate alliances and liability prohibit any of the sporting or community events that I would be interested in attending. UVU has not brought good music to the UVU center since 2007.

I have no opinion concerning the event center.

I have no real interest in attending events.

I have no reason to go there.

I have no reason to use the UCCU center. It has awesome concerts and such, but I rarely have time for it. I enjoy attending academic panels and lectures more.

I have not attended many events at the UCCU center so I don't have much of an opinion. This semester so far, I have only been there for a fireside that President Holland gave.

I have not been there yet

I have not been to an event since I've been a student but the center is beautiful.

I have not had the chance to attend an event of any kind at the UCCU Events Center, save my High School Graduation.

I have only attended a couple of events here. The size is pretty good and the bathrooms are in a good spot.

I have only attended speeches at the UCCU center, but have still been satisfied with the ample amount of space that it offers for that use. A problem I have personally encountered in the past regarding visitors/those unfamiliar with UVU that come for an event at the UCCU center was that they either did not know where the UCCU Event Center was on campus or they could not find where they should enter the UCCU Events Center. Both times I was able to help the lost visitors but I also suppose the new lighted maps of the main campus would be able to combat that as well.

I have only been in there once and not for a event.

I have only been there for a couple of basketball games and dance competitions but I the building isn't super confusing to get around in and there are a lot of entrances and exits to seating.

I have only been there for state wrestling tournaments but I was satisfied with how things were set up

I have only been there once for a LDS fireside and it all went great.

I have only been to one activity, but it was a good experience.

I have only been to one event and it was great. The seats aren't too uncomfortable and the event i went to had plenty of empty seats, so it seems big enough.

I have only been to one event there, for Institute, it worked well enough for that.

I have only been to one event there, the Jason De Rulo concert last year. It worked fine for that event

I have only been to one event there. I was surprised by how few people attended it. But it seemed like a nice place.

I have only been to the UCCU center for High School graduations. The facility is fine, but nothing to get excited about. It is like most of the campus, functional but not inspiring.
I have only been to the UCCU center twice. Once for a concert and once for a friends graduation. Both times it was satisfactory and I enjoyed it.

I have only used it for my high school graduation so I don't have an opinion.

I have performed in it various times and attended a fireside and was very satisfied with the setting.

I have yet to attend an event there, but I will once basketball season starts.

I have yet to go to an event there. The people they get for that venue are usually crappy 90's bands.

I haven't attended an event at the UCCU Center in a very long time. I think the last time I was there was either when the Dalai Lama spoke or when INXS played there many, many years ago.

I haven't attended any events there

I haven't attended very many events in the UCCU center, but I think it is a very nice building and gym.

I haven't been able to attend any events there yet.

I haven't been any thing at the UCCU center, but i've seen it and it seems satisfactory

I haven't been there for a while.

I haven't been there to list a good experience

I haven't been to a game yet, but I have been in it before and it seems fine to me.

I haven't been to an event that was being held there.

I haven't been to any events.

I haven't been to many events there.

I haven't been to one while I have attended here, but I have participated before while watching Drill Team competition and it was fun.

I haven't done much there.

I haven't had any kind of problem there.

I haven't had any problems with it.

I haven't had anything to do with the building since it became the UCCU Events Center.

I haven't had the opportunity to partake in any of the said events in that area and would like to do so when I have the time

I haven't had the opportunity to attend more than once.

I haven't used it yet.

I haven't used the building or been in it unless it was for high school volleyball back in high school.

I honestly haven't been in the center for a very long time. The last time I was there was for a garden expo, and everything was handled pretty well.
I honestly love college sports. I would go to them ALL THE TIME if I had time away from my homework and work, and if the tickets were cheaper.

I just don't have time

I just go to class.

I like how in one case it can be turned into a basketball court, and the next day, it's used for a concert. I like how it has versatility in its uses, yet still comes across as professional.

I like how it's big and roomy. I like how UCCU Center is so big that they hold all the volleyball tournaments and stuff there.

I like it

I like it,

I like that we have a place for conferences, concerts, events but as I have previously stated I do not like the fact that nearly half of our student fees go towards athletics, I think we should cancel athletics and put the money where it would be used by a majority of students not just a very very small minority.

I like the activities that are held there. I've seen concerts and been to basketball games and they are both a lot of fun.

I like the flexibility of the facility. It can be opened up to accommodate large crowds or kept small for smaller events. I have attended activities where it was completely packed to the rafters and others when there were only a hundred people or so. I also like the ease of access when coming in and going out.

I like the organization.

I like the small classes, and when the teachers are good then that makes the classes very enjoyable.

I like this environment.

I liked the McKay event center better. I don't like the moly monkey speakers or the greedy BYU monkeys at the credit union.

I live a half hour away from campus with my husband and four kids. I don't seem to have time or money to use on things like this where I'd either have to find and pay a babysitter, or take the kids and pay for them. They would probably not enjoy, or appreciate these things at their young age, and would make it difficult for my husband and I to enjoy.

I live about 800 miles away from campus.

I live in Idaho.

I live in Salk Lake and attend classes at night and online. The less time I have to spend in Utah county the better.

I live in Virginia

I love going to concerts there and the staff is generally friendly and helpful.

I love how large it is and how many people is seats

I love that there is no bad seats. And the atmosphere in the center is comfortable despite the huge size.
I never use it.
I never use it.
I never use the facility.
I only been in that building only once when i graduated from high school.
I only go on campus when I have classes or a club activity. I don't always have transportation because I am living at home in Provo and don't always have a car.
i only go their to watch the basketball games,
I played in the gym for basketball camps when i was in high school and it was decently accomodating.
I previously mentioned that if students are paying to use this building for a class then it would be great if classes were held. I am paying for a volleyball class that meets in the UCCU center and almost every other week at least one class is canceled because of events occurring in this building. If this class is going to be offered and students are having to pay, then there should be a class. This is a 'university', right?
I rarely have time to attend those events--plus my work schedule is in the evenings, when most events take place.
I really like the UCCU center. I think the UCCU center needs a license to serve beer at its concerts and athletic events.
I really love UCCU center. A lot of great bands come and I love to see them.
i saw a concert once, it was cool.
I saw President Uchtdorf and President Holland both speak there.
I think is great.
I think it does a good job with what it has; i'd like to see more events there.
I think it is a great building and used well. My high school graduation was held there so I am a little biased
I think it is a great facility that looks clean and nice. I like that we host other activities there often because it builds the sense of culture on campus.
I think it is great for concerts in particular. It is a fantastic venue. Every time yall sign on an great band I am there. Please get more!
I think it's a fun place, and it has plenty of room for fun!
I think it's a great facility.
I think it's being used well to bring in the community and the public and be exposed to the university in a good way.
I think it's great to use the UCCU Center for so many things. I think it's nice to have high school graduations at the University to give future students a welcome. But I don't attend lots of events, I just don't have time. And I'm unhappy that it's no longer the McKay events center. I thought that was a more appropriate name and UCCU is kind of confusing with UVU and whatnot.
I think it's great, very conviently located and large enough to have events such as the ones listed above.
I think that it is a great venue for many events

I think the center is great and I've been there many times, however, I do wish it was much larger.

I think the events are great, but they should not interfere with student class time.

I think the name of the center needs to be changed. In today's economy, having a building owned by a bank has a negative conation to it. The university doesn't want visiting VIP's to see that their stadium is owned by a bank; even if UCCU is a major sponsor.

I think the overall campus needed to be studied and analized for a better lay out of the buildings and parking. The testing center has to be improved with a better building more accessible to students. It is far away, needs to be more centered.

I think the seats could be more comfortable and at some of the games I had to sit behind the green man group and couldn't really see.

I think the UCCU center is very versatile.

I think the UCCU events center is set up great. We love coming to mens basketball games.

I think we need nicer seating instead of these swaying bleachers! scary!

I use the UCCU center as a hallway to get from class to the baseball stadium. Sometimes they don't let me through and I am forced to walk around. This is extremely inconvenient, especially if it's cold outside and I freeze while making the trek to bypass the UCCU center. Also the concrete in the hallways could be redone.

I use to go to dances there as a freshman and they were fun. I've been to concerts there that were fun too.

I used to go to the flash games at the UCCU Center. I think that it is a very nice place. I've always had a good experience when attending events there.

I used to work at the event center, and I felt if they have 8000 seats, UVU needs to increase more bathrooms there. Even employees, we all had to use one of those bathrooms which normal people also use, so whenever we had events including graduation, concerts, sport games, or any other big events, I waited forever to use bathrooms.

I usually don't have money to attend the events. I would attend more if the fees were built into tuition.

I want to attend many events but other events like friends or work got in the way...

I was on the drill team in high school and attended the state competition for the last three years and our basketball team played in the playoffs there where the drill team danced its a nice facility. Otherwise I have only been there for the green out dance which was a lot of fun.

I was slightly disappointed when the name of the building changed.

I was so scared to sit on the high risers that I could barely enjoy myself. It swayed in a way that didn't make me feel safe.

I went and saw the Piccadilly circus there. There was nothing incredible about the space. It was nice enough and clean. I do wish that the seats weren't so hard.

I went to a basketball game here and I liked the announcers plus the bounce house
I went to a concert and thought the bleachers were quite unstable. People were standing and dancing on them and the entire area swayed. I'm a retired Firefighter/Paramedic and that made me leave the bleachers and hang out on the cement walkway, missing the concert.

I went to my sister's graduation a few years ago but haven't been since. From the little experience I had, the UCCU center is a great place to hold such events.

I went to my very first concert many years ago there and I thought it was a great. I could see really well. I've been there for high school drill competitions, and went to my husband's graduation and never had a bad experience.

I went to one concert and it went really well. However, I like the old name better. We'll all get used to the UCCU Center, but it doesn't sound as good.

I went to the Green-out dance and it was enjoyable. Also, they have occasionally good concerts.

I work a lot and am not able to attend the events.

I work as an usher in the events center. I feel that things are run smoothly.

I work full time and don't have time or interest to go to games currently.

I work full time as well as go to school full time. I do not have time to attend any events here due to the fullness of my schedule.

I work full time in law enforcement. I don't have time to attend these kind of events. I spend my free time with my family. I used to officiate collegiate sports but I just don't have the time anymore.

I work full time, school part time and have a family and home to take care of. I LOVE sports but don't have to much time to enjoy them.

I work in the morning and go to school at night. The time I have free is for my children. So, really I don't have the time to experience the use of the facility.

I work there and fell that the operations crew gets taken advantage of. They do not get paid very often and get treated very poorly.

I would have to say that nothing exceptional stood out to me and nothing disappointed me.

I would love to attend UVU functions but I can't due to school scheduling conflicts. I do want to point out though that UVU far exceeds any other higher education when it relates to student functions. We might not be as big as the other institutions, but our school spirit and pride run much deeper in our students.

I'm a online student so I've never been to the University campus.

I'm an older, returning senior so I don't attend events, but I did attend high school graduation last spring. It was a good experience.

I'm an online student... I've never even seen the UCCU Center

I'm here to go to school and get a goddamn degree. I'm not here to play tiddly winks or footsie with people who aren't serious about their education.

Im in the military til november 2013. I wont get to see the UCCU center until i leave the military and head back to UTAH.

I'm not from the area and I have never attended anything at the UCCU Center.
I'm not here for the university experience i'm here for a degree

I'm not interested in most sports - except football & baseball - I have actually never been in the event center

I'm not sure what exactly constitutes a good experience inside a building. It was air conditioned, things moved along, nobody stripped down and streaked (a negative actually)

I'm not sure. I feel like there isn't a real reason to go to sporting events at UVU. I lack a sense of pride for the athletics of this University, possibly because I don't know anybody that participates in any of the sports. If there was some way to get a good promotional or marketing campaign for the University’s athletic department, I think it would help initiate a change in the attendance at sporting events.

It accomplishes the purpose for which it was designed, and I have no other expectations for it.

It does the job. It seems big enough for the needs of the university at this time.

it does what it was built to do

It feels like a high school arena... not that exciting for college students

It has always seemed adequate whenever I have been there.

It has been a long time since I have participated in any activities in the UCCU center, however I do enjoy going to concerts at this venue. It would be great to see more artists come through and play there.

It has lots of space and is pretty well organized as far as seating and access points.

It has many seats and is quite big, which is ideal for big events.

It has many uses and plenty of room. I also graduated from high school there and I have good memories of that.

It has to do with the online class. I am not satisfied with the history course I am taking. I have enjoyed the Saturday class I am taking though.

It hosts some good events.

It i an ok facility but it need more food accomidations and the seating is bad.

It is a big venue for all types of events.

It is a good place to hold conferences with lots of people.

It is a good venue for the university.

It is a great event center for the events that I have attended.

It is a great facility for events and classes. I love that it is so versatile and attached to the school as well. I think the space is used well, and there are more things in there than people realize (like the culinary arts restaraunt for example).

It is a great gym!

It is a great option for events for the whole valley

It is a great place, and had no problem going in, only maybe going out. I got lost to where to go to exit the building. Seemed that there were not enough signs or people telling me the right way to exist. Other than that, it is a great place to have a variety of events.
It is a large center that always has enough seats and is very well maintained: i.e. kept clean, no trash, etc.

it is a nice area

It is a nice building and I feel comfortable at events.

It is a nice building and I have attended several events there.

It is a nice facility and there is plenty of room to sit. Every seat in the place is a good seat.

It is a nice facility.

It is a very good building and have done several things within the UCCU event center and for the most part, enjoy the different types of activity's that i have done there. The only thing i would try and fix is that sometimes, there are pockets of cold air in the building, especially when the you are in there with very few games, not so much when you have say a big game in there with a lot of people, since by the time the game finish, you are nice and toasty warm.

It is a very well place for things to be done.

It is an amazing place and very fun when you are in it. The only problem is when I went for the first time I did not know where to go. I did not know how to get the tickets for the event and there was not a lot of direction on how to get into the seating area when I went.

It is an event center, it is not great, it is not bad.

It is big enough to hold a lot of people, and it is adaptable to host many different kinds of activities.

it is big!

It is big, and clear to see anything.

It is clean and sufficient for the needs of the school.

It is great that so many things are offered.

It is large and I don't know what I would change in it.

It is nice to have the facility and have enjoyed the events i have attended. However, it woefully small for the largest university in the state and the accustics ore horrible.

It is really big and nice and isn't diry. It is really clean and fun environment.

It is so hard to hear concerts and such in the center

It is soooo huge, and NICE.

It is usually very clean every time i go and the organization of the center is pretty easy to navigate.

It is very large and although it is large, I have never had a problem hearing anything in there

It is well-equipped.

It isn't the classiest looking place, but it is nice. It is big and very convenient to have on our campus.

It looks great and can hold alot of events.
It meets the needs for the events held there

It seems adequate for the activities that are held there.

It seems old but I really like it there. I have gone to a few events there since I have attended UVU and I truly enjoyed my experience.

It seems to work just fine.

It serves its purpose.

It sounds like the better choice

It was big enough for the event

It was sufficient for my needs for what I have attended at the UCCU Center.

It would be a lot better if more bands or DJs were invited as opposed to only about one per semester.

IT'S A CREDIT UNION... THE MONEY SHOULD BE FUNNELING BACK TO THE PEOPLE NOT A NAME FOR A BUILDING.

It's a fairly nice facility

It's a good building but when I go to events it always takes way more time than usual to get out and I have never been when it is full

It's a good set up, I've liked being in the building, and I don't feel too crowded even when the place is filled.

It's a good size for games

It's a good venue. I played there in high school and liked it.

It's a great event center for Utah Valley that bring in many events and concerts that would go to Salt Lake if it wasn't here.

It's a great place for large events that not only serves the University, but the surrounding community as well.

It's a great place to have all sorts of activities. The location is great, the building is nice and neat and well organized.

It's a great venue, easily accessible, and it makes our university look legitimate.

It's a nice building

It's a nice building

It's a nice center and our basketball is good.

It's a nice facility.

It's a nice place and very accommodating!

It's a nice place.

It's a very good set up for all of these activities. Is there a way to make it even better?
Its always cold in there, I don't like it.

It's always gotten the job done in a comfortable manner. I enjoy attending events housed in the UCCU Center.

It's amazing that it can be used for so many things!

It's an alright facility. UVU is one of the largest Universities in Utah in student enrollment, yet other universities have much better Events center. But it is understandable for a newer university.

Its an appropriate venue for the level of sports at UVU

It's big enough for concerts, but small enough that you feel like a lot more people are there when there's a small crowd

It's big enough for the events, its fairly clean, and it brings back good memories from the Bruno Mars concert last May.

It's big enough to hold a great crowd, and yet compact enough to feel the spirit. It's also a very versatile building

It's doing its job well.

It's done its job.

It's easily accessible and being a student gives you discounts on tickets and such.

It's easy to get around in and know where to go. Very friendly and comfortable place.

It's enough seats to accommodate whatever it is currently hosting.

It's fine.

It's huge and is used for a versatile amount of activities

It's just a really good school to attend to.

It's large and spacious and comfortable.

It's nice and big.

It's nice and big...I haven't gone to many events at the UCCU Center, to be honest. Never since I started coming to UVU yet.

It's nice, but from a performer's standpoint the acoustics in it aren't very good.

It's not very aesthetically pleasing inside.

It's size and facilities have met all of the needs for the events that I have attended there. Staff was more than adequate as well.

It's very large so there's plenty of room. They are always hosting all kinds of events there.

It's very open and friendly and the staff are nice and helpful. :) made my day a couple of times.

I've attended several events in the UCCU Center and I've never had issues with it.

I've been in there a few times and it's been big enough to accommodate whichever event is being hosted.
I've been there once a few years ago (before I was a UVU student). I really liked it and it accommodated the event well. However, I haven't attended any events since.

I've been to a lot of great concerts there and is probably my favorite venue for a concert in general.

I've been to Flash games and conferences at the UCCU Center. It is comfortable, clean, and spacious. The bathrooms are very nice. It was hard to find a way in without the stairs the first time, when I had a stroller. That should be more clearly marked/well lit at night (going around the side of the building to the stairs is kinda dark).

I've gone to a few events there, but I can't remember caring that much about the facility. It neither impressed me nor disappointed me. Which is what a place like that should probably do.

I've gone to concerts there. They were really good. They need to have more concerts and more artists that people actually like.

I've had a good seat most every time I've gone to an event

I've never attended an event in the UCCU Center.

I've never attended an event in the UCCU events center.

I've never been.

I've never been in it.

I've never been in the past 5 years

I've never been there

I've never been there.

I've never been there.

I've never been there. need friends. meh

I've never been to a UVU game.

I've never been to an event at the UCCU center. While I'm for the center to exist on campus, I'm not convinced that ANY athletics is appropriate for our institution.

I've never even been in the building

I've never even been there...

I've never gone to any athletic events or dances there.

I've never had a bad experience in there. I have gone to concerts, My high school graduation was held there, I was in the Miss UVU Pageant there. Everything has always run smoothly and it has been easy to hear and get tickets.

I've never had a problem with it

I've never needed or wanted to attend an event there.

I've not been to any events in the UCCU center.

I've only attended a few events there and they were all well done.
I've only attended a local high school 50th anniversary there and that was about 5-6 years ago.

I've only attended there twice.

I've only been in the event center twice.

I've only been in there twice, once for my high school graduation, and again for my Associate's Degree graduation. The Events Center worked fine for those events, but I have no strong opinions.

I've only been once for the Women's Expo, and there was a lot of space and I liked that it held something so fun!

I've only been there a few times, never had any problems.

I've only been there to go to a dance, but I think it's a nice facility.

I've only been working behind the scenes, but it's a beautiful place. I catered for the President's Scholarship Ball and it was big enough - so it didn't feel crammed. It was nice.

I've only ever been in the UCCU center one time and it was to perform for the scholarship ball so I don't really have an opinion of the facilities.

I've only ever had good times in the UCCU center. I love the concerts there as well.

I've only had brief experience there for the Green Out Dance, but it seems like a very sturdy building and its suitable for everything I've seen thus far.

Just because it fits a lot of people and it host great events that everyone one could go to.

just very busy with work and school and did not have time for other activities.

Lack of interest

Last year my husband worked with the Utah Flash. The staff and the facilities were always nice to work with. Unfortunately, I will not have much of an excuse to visit the UCCU center on a regular basis. However, I support maintaining the facility, it is a great venue for all events.

limited finances. Family commitments.

Many of the events that happen there don't often apply to me.

meh

Mostly satisfied, I just wish more people would come to the events.

Much of my first degree was completed in the event center as part of the UVU culinary arts major

My experience with the UCCU center has been very satisfying. I have class in Restaurant Forte and I helped serve at the scholarship ball. I like how the center can transform for just about anything.

My experiences at the UCCU center have always been fun. Never had a problem finding a seat or anything. There's a good variety of concessions. Parking is the only thing that is frustrating.

My good experiences and bad experiences are equal.
My life is so busy with school, homework, and home life that I have never had a desire to devote time to going to the events held there.

My life is too busy and I don't have extra money for events.

My only issue is parking. I end up not being able to park close enough to class at night and end up walking to the back of the parking lot in the pitch black.

Need to serve beer. Not all students here abstain from drinking, those that do would attend more sporting events if beer was served.

Never have been there.

Never have time to go to anything.

Never hear of anything going on there, also too hard to get back and forth on campus

Never participated in much there

Never used it

Never used it.

Nice feel to it

Nice seating good size.

No comments. :-D

No good or bad experiences.
No interactive media in venue. No video screens. Lighting is poor. Yellow seats are ugly and just highlight the fact that they are empty. There is little community involvement. No major advertising to try to build community support for athletics. We hardly ever see major names, concerts, or big events.

No matter what type of event they are having it always looks amazing. It shocks me how they can transform the gym into the scholarship ball.

No opinion

No school spirit.

No strong opinion.

No time to go to sporting events not a big user not big enough, not enough events.

Not enough of a variety of food. Especially for vegetarians. Portion sizes are often uneven.

Not enough parking, the events aren't appealing, bigger concerts and events would increase my satisfaction.

Not interested or don't know of any events that take place there that would.

Not much into sports.

not that interested in sports and dances are crowded

Nothing there of interest.

Older

ONLY ATTENDE ONE CIRCUS WITH THE FAMILY. OTHER THAN THAT, NOT TIME TO ATTEND STUFF AS I WORK, DO SCHOOL, AND HAVE A FAMILY.

Only been once!

Organized and well rounded

Overall, there is a great amount of versatility in the building and a large enough capacity to allow for not only a wide variety of events, but also a wide space and adequate seating for participants.

Parking can be a joke sometimes

Parking for patrons and presenters is very difficult. The set-up areas are small and restrictive. Still, the facility is nice enough.

PUT A DANG INDOOR TRACK IN THERE! THE SCHOOL DOESN'T DO MUCH AT ALL TO SUPPORT XC AND TRACK PROGRAMS.

Seats are too small for large people. (not fat, just tall and bigger people) seems like it is getting good use small seats with people hitting your head as they walk by

So far I have had good experiences at the UCCU center, but I have also not been there very often. I spend more time in the other buildings on campus.

So far it seems to accommodate the needs.

Sound carries well so you can hear people speak.

The 2005 ZZ Top Concert was amazing!

The activities at the UCCU center have always been fun.

The building and facilities need to be updated some new paint, and update the bathrooms nothing major just needs better maintained

The building does not attract events that capture my interest. Additionally, the campus becomes overcrowded during events, making it difficult to reach my destination in a timely manner.

The building is really nice!

The center is capable of hosting a small amount of people as well as a large amount of people. I have never thought of anything I did not like at the UCCU center.

The classes are fun and I am learning a lot.

The concerts there are great and cheap. There is plenty of parking as well.

The cost of tickets as well as tuition is a little bit much for me.

The event center does not host volleyball games or wrestling matches. I work in the Athletic Marketing office. The UCCU Center only hosts Mens and Womens Basketball. It would be AWESOME if we could get volleyball and wrestling meets there, but they are played in the Activity Center.

The events are planned to make everything easy going and fun!

The events center is good size and has a lot that can be offered with it.

The events dont seem amazing but they also dont suck. The event center is clean and well maintained and seems to house many events.

The events I have attended in the past were great. I could see and hear fine, and I was comfortable enough.

The facility is acceptable but could certainly utilize upgrades in various areas.

the fact that they are allowed to have events in the middle of the semester that takes up student parking that WE FREAKING PAY FOR is rediclous it makes me furious every semester

The few events that I have been to at the UCCU center, it was clean. The seats weren't terribly uncomfortable and I was pretty close to the action which you lose with a huge arena.

The few times I've been to the UCCU Center it was nice.

The last time I was in there was almost two years ago for the Bar J Wranglers.

The lines go pretty fast, and good security

The location of the ticket booth and how to get upstairs to the arena seating is extremely confusing. 1. The school could do a much better job of directing patrons to the ticket booth from the parking lot. 2. The ticket counter could do a MUCH MUCH better job of directing patrons to the elevators. I constantly see people wandering around lost because they can't figure out how to navigate the area after their tickets are purchased.

The one and only reason is the fact that you had the Arcade Fire concert there. Keep bands like that coming and I will come back.

The only time I've ever been in the Events Center was for my Volleyball 1 class. I was pretty pleased with it because it allowed me to play volleyball every other day (always gets points in my book). However, other than that, I have never attended anything in the Events Center, and thus have no opinion.

The place isn't too big so I like being able to see the players and there always seems to be room to accommodate the people you come with. Yes it can be crowded but it doesn't matter because any one who comes to the events have a good time.

the seat are good and the food is grate the people and crowds are fun

The seats aren't too comfortable, but I don't think that can be changed. I have been to a movie years and years ago there, and a concert there. It was a lot of fun both times. It was the 30 Seconds to Mars concert. That was a blast.

The sports teams that are the most popular don't ever play against bigger schools. At least not mens basketball and there isn't even a football team.

The Three Doors Down Concert was amazing.

The UCCU center has a lot of good seating and their events are always very enjoyable. Also, they don't just have sporting events they have concerts, expos, etc.

The UCCU Center is a great facility.

The UCCU has been more than happy to work with my club in our events and also it hosts part of the Culinary Arts facilities and it pairs very well with its support of our colleges Culinary Arts program

The venue is always clean, there are always seats. We need to create incentives to get the students there and then they will realize its a great venue and our basketball teams are pretty good.

The venue is satisfactory, the only problem is the parking for both attendees and students/faculty when there is an event. It usually takes on a nightmarish quality for everyone.

There are fun or interesting events going on and it has easy access.

There aren't things that interest me enough to attend at the UCCU center.

There is always a very good atmosphere!

There is always great visibility and it is easy to see & hear what is going on.

There was not proper ushering and it was noisy (this was for a performance—-not a sporting event).

There wasn't anything that bothered me but there wasn't anything exceptional either.

there's alot of amazing events, and activitys that go on there: such as basketball.

There's always plenty of seats and food available if needed
These are very difficult times and even though the campus is great re-evaluation of the costly ineffective electives should be considered. The amount of reverse racism innuendos used in classrooms disappointing. I've never experienced so underlining attempts to create a indifference among students.

They are a good facility I did have them refuse to help someone with a disability, but other than that I have had good experiences.

They are enjoyable

They have made every event that I have been to in there run without any hiccups and I think that it is a good facility.

They need better and more accessible restrooms

This is my first experience at the main campus. Also I'm here to get an education and don't need to recreate.

This is my first semester on campus (have been an online student until now) and have not had a need to use the facility yet, or the time.

Though i havent attended things within the uccu center all that often, the times i have i've enjoyed being there; whether for sporting events, or any other kind of activity. Its a nice building which serves it's purpose.

Tidy, Well kept.

time mandated elsewhere

To busy to really care about it.

too busy usually to attend

Too busy with work and school. I usually am not involved in these activities.

UCCU is always dirty. The people are un-friendly. The Concerts are always bad with second rate acts. There should be way more concerts and events booked and its a giant waste of space. It's almost like the UCCU is not even ran by the school, and way more should be done to promote sporting events there. Except for a few banners around campus there is nothing. HOW ABOUT A PEP RALLY!

UVU athletic marking sucks, I never know when there is a game. They should have people physically in the hallways the day before and the day of a basketball game to personally invite people to come.

Very large.

Very nice and well done!

Very Nice Facility.

Very professional.

Was able to start with it right away since I already have an account there.

We are Division I, so at the moment it is sufficient.

We have work parties here.

well i dont go to many sporting events because of transportation but i love taking sports photography.
well I haven't done much there but, if I'm remembering right thats where I had my high school graduation. its big. and yeah, sure im happy with it

Well I've never been there really... Except for musical performances.

Well kept facility.

Well to be honest most of the events that I attend at UVU are in the library or in the LA building because I am in the deaf studies program and have not had an event there.

Well, because I don't like UVU to be honest, so why should I support them in those kinds of programs? Plus, then I'd have to go on campus to go to something like that and well, just, no thank you!

Well, There isn't anything bad about it. It is great that it holds all kinds of meeting, parties, and concerts.

What I have attended there I have enjoyed.

When I was there it was big and had alot of room.

When I've attended conferences or ceremonies in the past, the center was well maintained and adequately supplied.

When they have events at the UCCU during school hrs they take parking away from students because the park in the lot by the LA and library.

Whenever I have been in there for any reason, I didn't have any complaints.

Why is so much of this survey about athletics? Why don't you look into the arts?

Wish i had more time to do fun things.

Work two part-time jobs, school part-time, and a have a child... no time.
A full course load does not accommodate attending extra activities. Again, I'm too busy with school and work, I rarely ever get spare time to attend these events. Again, I don't want to pay to go. I also commute by bus from Lehi, so it doesn't make sense to come back. Again, I work full-time.

All of the events at the UCCU Center have been very entertaining and not too pricey. I would love to attend more. All the events I've been to at the UCCU center have been fun and well organized. All was explained above...

Am a fan of sports but have not yet had the chance to attend any events, would like to in the future. As a full time student and parent, I simply don't have time for or interest in most extracurricular events. As a parent attending events usually comes down to having the money to attend.

As a student, scholarship holder, and employee, I rarely have time to attend any sort of event. As above

As I meet more people and get more comfortable with my surroundings I will be more likely to attend events. As mentioned above, there is not anything unique about this place and not many events attracted me to attend as mentioned above I don't have time and honestly I usually have class during game times. I also do not have extra money to attend these functions.

Aside from the very crowded parking, it's a great venue.

Attending an event at the UCCU center has everything to do with the potential event and nothing to do with the venue itself.

Basketball

Basketball season is coming up, I enjoy men’s basketball.

Because any time I have in the past I always have a wonderful time.

Because events for the area is hosted in the UCCU center

Because everything has been a great experience for me when i have been there.

Because I am a MAWL member.

because i am going to graduate :]

Because I am on UVUSA.

Because I don't go there much.

Because I don't know anybody who would be included in such events and none of the events really interest me so I just don't see the need to go.

Because i don't know what it looks like in UCCU Center. Also this year is my first one to attend the university Utah Valley. I don't get all of places. Just most of places i have seen. So i want to see it and experience with it.

because I don't live in Utah

Because I don't live near enough to campus to make the effort to go there except for classes and I have kids that take up my time outside of class.

because I dont wanna spend my life a vegtable. I wanna get out and do stuff. why not go to your event center.

Because I have to put the floor down for the basketball team. There is about a 95% chance I'll be there on Monday morning at six a.m. I also go to the occasional basketball game and concert.

Because I know that it will be something that is worth my time.

Because i like it and it's fun!

Because I like to support my teams.

because i liked it once before, could be good again.

because i love dance and sport :D

Because I love the concerts that are thrown there

Because i play golf for the university and I want to support the other teams!

Because I really feel connected with the university, and I would to support it.

Because I work in the Athletics

Because I'll probably cater another event there.
Because I'm a poor college student and I don't have money to be going to a bunch of events at the UCCU center...especially when it costs an arm and a leg to get in.

Because I'm not really interested in UVU athletics, I would possibly attend a music concert if it were a good group. Other than that, I have no reason to use the facility.

Because it gives me that University atmosphere that every student desires.

Because it is too far from where I live to go to things like that. So I don't attend.

Because it's an easy venue for me to get to and events are often going on during school so I'm aware it's going on.

Because I've enjoyed the other events i've gone to.

Because my high school children often play sports at the UCCU Center and I'm a fan of UVU sports played at the UCCU center. I also attend camps and concerts there.

because sometimes i am interested in what is going on!

Because that's where future events are...?

Because that's where things are located! Don't really have a choice on where events are located. It's fine.

Because the amount of homework and study time that my instructors require does NOT allow me for time to attend anything the school sponsors, even things I want to attend.

Because the center hosts a lot of state things and tournaments.

because the price is right for the tickets, it is fun activities for our children.

because there are a lot of events there

Because there isn't usually anything offered there that I am interested in or have the money to go to.

Because there's always something going on.

because they look very entertaining

Because they're always well-done and the space is awesome.

Because this is my school. I will support it.

Because you get good events sometimes.

Because.

Between work and school, I usually don't have time.

cause I like events.

College is more fun when you're involved. Even if the UCCU Center was a bad facility, which it isn't, I would still go to events hosted there.

Concerts are coming that i might wanna see, but i think we should have more a dance scene for dj's and club music.
Cuz they rock.

Definitely will support future events at UVU

Depends on concerts held there.

Depends on if I have time.

Depends on the event and what is available. I enjoy attending the Women's High school volleyball state finals. Other than that I haven't attended many events there.

Depends on the event, I am a little shy and It takes big things in order for me to attend.

Depends on the event, if we had a speaker from the film industry I'd go.

Depends on the event.

depends on what event. I hate dancing so those are out, but concerts are always appealing.

depends on what is going on there.

Depends on what it is. I love the firesides and dances. I don't really care about athletics.

Depends on what the event is depends on what the event is.

Depends on what the event is. Sports aren't that important to me, though I understand that I am rare in this thinking. If a popular band/group were to come and perform, I would be more likely to attend. The price of the event also has a big impact on whether I attend or not. 2 tickets for $25 for the 30 Second to Mars concert, for example, were incredibly well priced. My wife and I thoroughly enjoyed it. But, we're also exceptionally poor, so our budget is very limited.

Depends on what the event or who the speaker is. Most events that come to the UCCU Center interest me very, very little.

Depends on what's there

Depends what is going on, if I have a reason to go

Depends what's going on over there and if i will attend or not.

Disinterested. I spend my free time at the art Museums and working with the other Illustration students in non-class related Art study.

Don't foresee any events worth going to.

Don't go there ...

Don't have a lot of free time these days.

Don't have the time.

Dont have time

Don't have time
Don't have time or desire
don't know
don't know
Don’t know of any future activities there except for when I graduate.
Don’t know that I’ll be doing much there.
Don’t know what events are going on.
Don’t use it.
easy freeway access.
Eventually there will be some reason for me to go there... Hopefully graduation if nothing else.
Extremely busy schedule, makes it impossible to know for sure.
Finding the time and having an interest in the offered event(s) would be the key to my attendance.

gotten carlos december for my work and other commitments,
For the same reason i described above. I enjoy the times i go there, especially for sporting events.
Girlfriend is interested... thus, I'll probably be interested.

Good
Good concerts.
Good events happening there.
Good events such as Showdown Fights Graduation
Graduation.
Hate sports
Have little free time in order to attend.
Haven't hosted anything that really interested me.
I already have enough schoolwork to do. I work and I try to be involved with church.
I always have fun at the events in the UCCU center
I am a big wrestling fan and look forward to attending the meets as well as I am a member of the Screamin Green Pep Band!!!
I am a non-traditional student and choose not to get involved in most of the student activities because I have children at home and a job off campus. (I'm too busy)
I am a senior student and a majority of the time my classes have been off campus.

I am a single mother and full time student. I don't have time for extracurricular activities and couldn't afford it even if I did.

I am a soldier.

I am a student athlete. I like sports.

I am about to graduate next semester

I am almost a senior and am very involved in my studies.

I am an adult with a family so most college activities don't interest me. I do enjoy some of the guest speakers though.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am busy but enjoy the sports.

I am busy with academics and even though I pay student fees, I still have to pay for sporting events, so I don't go.

I am excited to attend the first nationally televised UVU game.

I am focused on school not fun. Plus things change when you are married.

I am getting married and moving. My fiancé and I will probably attend one more semester at UVU, but we haven't been to any of the events anyways. Nothing against UVU.

I am in the culinary program. I will be learning in the kitchen there, and I will most likely be serving at or cooking for other events in the UCCU building. I also like the Christmas Fair that is held there every year.

I am involved in student government and we host many activities and events there

I am just too busy to do anything outside of school and my family.

I am leaving on a mission after this semester is finished and won't be hear to do so but, for the rest of this semester I am very motivated to attend an event in the UCCU center.

I am majoring in Humanities, and I am sure that there will be something going on there that I will need to attend.

I am not a sports fan

I am not extremely interested in sports

I am not happy going to school here

I am not interested in athletic activities, and the concerts that have occurred have not been enough to draw me there.

I am not interested in sports, but I can see attending concerts, graduations, lectures there.

I am not interested in sports.

I am not interested in watching sports.

I am not involved in anything pertaining to that center as of yet.
I am not sure how busy i will be. but i want to.

I am not sure if i will or not but as i am seeing some of the things that happen there (concerts, dance, other sports etc) i am becoming more interested in attending them.

I am often at work and don't have time to go to activities or events. I also don't know when things are and/or don't have anyone to attend with.

I am over forty-years old, and most of the time I feel lost among so many young students.

I am poor and getting married.

I am poor and I came to college to get a degree, not blow my money on tickets to things. I was never really a sports fan to begin with anyway.

I am really poor right now, but later, when I have money, I would most likely to a concert or two there.

I am sure something will come through that I want/need to attend that will also fit into my limited schedule on campus.

I am too busy with work, and homework outside of work. Then wife and soon to be child.

I am trying to attend more UVU sporting events.

I am very busy and don't usually have time for School events.

I am very busy and often don't have time or am not interested in the events taking place.

I am very busy, and unless it is required for a class, I probably wouldn't have time or money to attend an event at the UCCU center.

I am very busy.

I am very involved at the University and love the activities there. Especially basketball games.

I am way to busy working and studying to have free time to waste on a volleyball game.

I attend events at the UCCU center because it is the closest event center to where i live.

I attend high school competitions, dances, and have performed at the center, so it is likely I will continue to do so.

I attend most of the conferences and expos that come to the event center.

I better at least make it there for graduation!

I can feel the environment

I can't go back and change my answer, but I forgot, I did attend one event. I never PLAN to, but you never know...

I can't really afford to attend events and concerts.

I can't wait for basketball season to start!

I can't wait for Basketball season!

I commute and go to work in Herriman (30-45 min. away), so it is hard for me to go to school events.
i depends on if i'm interested in going and I have the time~

I do like being involved in concerts and speeches, but this semester is quite busy for me.

I do not feel involved with my school, very sad.

I do not have money to attend any events and in the last month due to my work schedule I have worked almost every night there has been an event.

I do not have the time. I'm nearly 30 years old and have other priorities.

I do not have very much extra time to attend such events. I also have little interest in attending.

I do not live in Orem.

I do not live in the area.

I do not live in the area. My classes are online.

I do not make it to Orem that often with my family and work schedule. I do enjoy the events they do have on campus.

I do not make time to attend any events.

I do not really have time for the games.

I don't always know when events are going on.

I don't appreciate sports.

I don't attend athletic events.

I don't attend events.

I don't attend many sporting events.

I don't attend many events. I'm a little older than the average student.

i don't care

I don't care

I don't care for sports / concerts

I don't even know what it's used for.

I don't feel like the events especially sports give me a reason to go.

I don't get out much, sports and music venues don't really interest me.

I don't go to many events because I'm married and have a family life.

I don't go to watch athletic events.

I don't have a lot of excess time with jobs, school and life.

I don't have a lot of friends on campus yet, and I don't want to go alone.
I don't have a lot of time. I work and on top of that study.

I don't have a reason to go. I'm too busy with other things.

I don't have alot of 'free time' to go to the events.

I don't have an overwhelming desire to visit the center, but I know there may be future events that I will be interested in.

I don't have free time to go to events. I work 12 hour shifts Thursday through Sunday. The weekends are usually when things happen at the center.

I don't have much time for extra activities, and I don't like sports much.

I don't have much time to attend any events.

I don't have the money to spend on things I'm not very interested in anyway

I don't have the time.

I don't have time for events

I don't have time for extra curricular events, but I'm sure I'll have to go to something there some day.

I don't have time for most events.

I don't have time for that.

i dont have time i have to work.

I don't have time or money to go to events

I don't have time to go to school things, I am too busy with family and homework.

I don't have time.

I don't have time.

I don't have time. I'm old and do things more right here in my own community.

I don't know what events will be held there so I don't know if there will be anything I'm interested in attending.

I don't know what is going on nor do I have the time for it.

I don't know what is going on there, or where it is.

I don't know what that is nor do I have any interest

I don't like large groups of people.

I don't make it to Orem very often.

I don't often attend events at the UCCU Center

I don't really attend anything there i have a busy schedule

I don't see why it would be beneficial
I don't support sports for moral reasons.

I don't watch sports or anything all too often, but I expect I will be in the future.

I enjoy coming to the games, but dislike that we can't have too much fun (using noise makers) without the threat of being kicked out even though there is no posted rules nor rules in the NCAA bylaws that say you can't have mouth blown horns.

I enjoy concerts and prefer smaller venues compared to places that can seat 20,000+

I enjoy concerts at the event center.

I enjoy events that UVU puts on.

I enjoy going to bball games and other concerts and events there.

I enjoy going to events.

I enjoy listening to speakers.

I enjoy the atmosphere.

I enjoy the events sponsored here and love the 'feel' of the campus

I enjoy the variety

I enjoy watching the men's basketball games. The team is well coached and the environment is fun.

I enjoyed the concert and the value I paid to attend.

I feel comfortable there.

I feel limited in my time. With school, homework, work, and taking care of my home I don't have much time to go to games. Also, my funds are sparse, I must be as frugal as possible just to get by.

I feel that the event center has a very 'lame' feeling to it. It's like our poor attempt to have a major event center for our university.

I feel there are great ammenities that UVU offers

I figure I'll go to a basketball game, but I'll never ever go to a UVU dance because I have heard of the extremely wicked things that happen there.

I go there almost every day, just to walk around and see whats going on. :)

I go to concerts, firesides, family events, etc.

I go to school full time and work full time so I don't have time for many recreational activities.

I go to those that interest me

I guess it depends on the event.

I had to attend class(evening)and was not expensive but could not afford to take my family to the Circus

I had very good experiences going it was fast an easy. Did not have any hassels
I have a busy schedule.

I have a busy schedule.

I have a family and job besides school. I'm pretty busy

I have a family and work full-time... very little time for much else.

I have a family now and don't often attend the majority of events that are held here

I have a family, job and homework to do, so I don't have much time to spend on extra activities.

I have a lot of other things to attend and don't have time to go to events in the UCCU Center, although I would like to.

I have a lot of work at home. I would love to attend a UVU event, but with all the work with history and class Saturday I just don't have time.

I have attended community events at the center and I am likely to attend others as well as school sponsored events.

I have been to about 4 events in the center and I have had a good experience each time. However, I feel that lining up such as for concerts, could have better flow.

I have been unable to attend events in the past, but my schedule might be open enough in the future to allow me to support UVU's athletes.

I have better things to do.

I have children I would love to take to some events, however it is hard with our schedules.

I have enjoyed the activities I have gone to so far, so I expect to enjoy more.

I have enjoyed the events that I have experienced there so far.

I have gone to some of those events and they are great.

I have more siblings that are going to graduate in the future. I may also go to a concert or even a school event.

I have never been there before.

I have never been

I have no friends at school.

I have no idea what is coming up, so how should I know? I do not attend performances because of the place.

I have no interest in anything that uses that building

I have no interest in athletics or concerts. I am here to finish a degree and get my family above the federal poverty line.

I have no interest in attending or participating in any sports program at UVU. With a full time job and school work, I barely have enough time for my family.

I have no interest in watching sports or such things.
I have no reason not to.

I have no time because too much homework.

I have no time for activities

I have no way to find care for my children. I don't know anyone down here.

I have not been there yet, however I might attend the Forgotten Coral performance that is coming up.

I have not been to a UVU sponsored activity but not for lack of interest. I hear UVU activities are usually worth attending!

I have only attended a few events at the UCCU center but I have always had a great time.

I have relatives that go there often to compeate in competitions.

I have set a goal to go to games and things that are low of cost to support UVU

I have to work whenever I'm not in school so I don't have time to attend.

I have too many obligations to attend events

I haven't seen anything interesting or not too expensive for family

I hear about interesting performances there often.

I hope to be graduating soon.

I hope to graduate and most of the graduations are help there.

I hope to graduate UVU and I assume the commencement will be there.

I just don't care enough.

I just don't get much time for leisure activities such as these events.

I just don't have the money to attend.

I just go to class.

I just love being at school events.

I just typically don't attend the events they hold there.

I like all the events that are held there.

I like attending events at the center, with how busy my schedule is the only conflict is finding time to go.

I like attending local events and the UCCU center usually has that.

I like basketball and might go to some concerts.

I like concerts and basketball.

I like going to concerts and sporting events.

I like going to event's and activities but I am usually busy with school and work, so I can't go very often.
I like going to events at the events center

I like sporting events, but with life, work and all sometimes I don't have time.

I like the arena.

I like the atmosphere and it is close to home so I don't have to travel far distance to catch a game or concert.

I like the dances and concerts held at the UCCU center, so I'm willing to go to more. Also, I'm thinking of going to some basketball games soon too.

I like the events that are held there.

I like the way it is set up because some event centers aren't set up very well, but the UCCU center is.

I like to be involved.

I like to go to concerts there, but that's about it

I like to go to the women's basketball games often

I like to go to things when I know when and what dates and times they happen.

I like to support the school

I like to take my family to basketball games and other activities. We attended the circus last month and had a lot of fun. I can see us attending more events in the future.

I like watching live basketball.

I like watching men's basketball, but I'm an Utah State fan so no other game will give me that experience of a game at the spectrum.

I live 60 miles away.

I live by BYU. I'm too far away to want to visit an event there.

I live in California

I live in Idaho

I live in Orem and have been to many in the past and would imagine I would keep going in the future.

I live in Orem and usually my husband doesn't like driving that far.

I live in Provo so I usually don't come to UVU other than for classes.

I live in Riverton and I'm never on campus when things are going on. I want to attend as many UVU wrestling meets as I can though.

I live in Salt Lake County and have young children, it is not that easy for me to spend more time than I already do at campus.

I live in Virginia
I live too far and am not overly interested in the events offered. I would probably go to a concert if it was something I was interested in, but I feel like the advertising for concerts isn’t very good as I haven’t noticed any artists that would be coming to the UCCU center.

I live too far away, and have kids. Nothing so far has been good enough to make me want to come.

I live very far away and don’t have the disposable income to waste on concerts and sporting events.

I love basketball.

I love going to concerts and games at the school whenever I have free time. I have always liked attending events at the UCCU center.

I love going to concerts at the UCCU Events Center.

I love many of the events at the center.

I love sports, and I love attending our men’s basketball games in particular. I enjoy being involved on campus, and so I would definitely be involved in another event there in the future.

I love the convenience of seeing concerts right here in Orem, instead of having to go to SLC.

I love the team venue I was on a cross country team for 10 years.

I love the women’s/men’s/x-mas Expo!

I love to go to sporting events there. Any event they have there is awesome.

I love to watch sports.

I might go to see a concert, if the right band came along-- I was very excited when Smashing Pumpkins was here a couple of years ago-- and really sad that I missed it. Being married tends to curtail your attendance any performance, and I’ve never been interested in sports, and spectator events of other kinds are often uninteresting to me.

I might or might not

I never get around to it

I never hear about any of the events soon enough.

I never hear about what events are happening, all my classes are in one building, so I don’t venture much into other buildings where info about activities may be more present or talked about. I would attend if I knew.

I plan on coming to a basketball game soon.

I plan on graduating.

I plan to attend one in December of 2011.

I plan to graduate.

I plan to watch basketball games.

I prefer smaller venues for concerts and am not really interested in athletics so I don’t really go to UCCU events too often. It’s not a bad place I just prefer smaller venues for what I am into.
I rarely attend large events like concerts anymore. There is always a chance but it is not high on my priority list.

I rarely attended events due to a lack of time.

I rarely have time to get to see any athletic games but I help with high school drill teams so I attend at least once a year.

I really don’t have time to attend events with my schooling and work schedules.

I really enjoy attending on-campus events however my schedule does not allow a lot of participation in out of school activities.

I really like to get involved, and i wish i could attend more events, but they seem to all happen at 12 noon, and i work at noon, so i cant make it to most of them.

I seriously couldn't care less about this venue. I went to the Halloween dance there, and the capacity was far greater than it needed to be. Not to mention the dance was 10 dollars for students! I would pay half that to attend a decent nightclub in Salt Lake. You understand the foolishness of this, right? It's not necessary. Let's have our dances elsewhere, where people don't have to feel like they're the only people there based on oversized venues.

I simply don't have the time or the way to get there in-between jobs.

I suppose there will come a time when I'll graduate and possibly have a conference or guest speaker there who is part of my major.

I think campus money could be better used in other areas besides sports.

I think there are lots of great things there

I travel from Payson on the bus so there is not much time I'm not doing homework or something.

I usually enjoy myself there because the best events go down there.

I volunteer for culinary events, so I will either attend or work another event there. I also attend most Home Expos

I want to attend more basketball games.

I want to connect with more student. Bring support to UVU teams.

I want to watch a few mens basketball games.

I want to watch basketball games and concerts there.

I was so scared to sit on the high risers that I could barely enjoy myself. It swayed in a way that didn't make me feel safe. I don't want to sit in these seats ever again.

I will be graduating next semester and will have a lighter class load which should allow me time to attend a future event at the UCCU Center.

I will be graduating soon.

i will eventually go to an event

I will eventually graduate

I will go there if there is a need. I will likely not seek out specific events specific to that building.
I will in the future become more involved with the school, right now I live at home, so I only go up to UVU for school, not events.

I will most likely attend a concert there...and there is always something going on.

I will most likely participate in an activity at some point.

i will probably go if there is a concert there.

I work a lot and am not able to attend the events.

I work a lot and don't have much time to attend.

I work a lot so I don't have a lot of free time to go to the events I would like to. I have wanted to attend a lot of events (i.e., Othello play and discussion with President Holland, Bill Nye) but I was unable to attend due to work.

I work full time and am a full time student.

I work full time and go to school full time. Any 'free' time I have is doing homework or trying to spend time with my husband.

I work on the weekends.

I would attend if there were an event that I was interested in

I would be more than happy to attend an event at the UCCU Center if one interests me.

I would go if there was something interesting to see.

I would go to more sporting events if there was a better atmosphere there and lots of school support went.

I would like to attend a concert perhaps, but I have to have the time and opportunity to do it, plus it would have to be something that I'm sufficiently interested in.

I would like to bring my children. Otherwise I might not attend.

I would like to come to more events. I work whenever events are happening.

I would like to go to some events at the UCCU Center, but I don't always know when the events are.

I would like to go to some sort event while I'm attending UVU.

I would love to go sometime to see what kind of basketball team we have.

I would love to go to the concerts of great bands.

I would love to see a stadium built for football.

i would n=more go for the event not so much the building

i would only go to watch the basket ball game and maybe other things in the furture.

I would rather attend a football game, but we do not have a football team.

I'd like to attend an event but I work a lot and go to school. I just don't have hardly any free time and if I do I get stuff done around the house.
I'd like to go, just my schedule is so full it is difficult.

If a band I like plays there, I will most likely go.

If a musician I liked were to have a concert, I would go, but so far I haven't liked any of the bands that play there, and I don't enjoy sporting events, so I haven't had any reason to attend events at the UCCU Center.

If an event is offered on days that I can attend then I would attend if was a performing arts event such as a play, opera or dance.

if anything interesting comes up, i would like to attend

If I don't know about the events held there I am unlikely to attend or participate in them.

If I have the opportunity or time I would attend more.

if i have time i will attend

if i have time i would most likely attend.

If I knew about them and my friends would go, I would be more likely to go

If i know and if i can find some events that i interested, i will attend. however, now i have no idea and no information.

If it interests me and I am available to go.

If it is something I am interested in, I will go.

If it's a sporting event probably not because I can go watch BYU play. Dance or other function maybe.

If some good musicians came there's a good chance I would attend. Unfortunately, there aren't that many concerts that I'm interested in that come to the Center.

If something comes up that I find important, then I might go.

If something interests me, I will go. I don't live in Provo and I have a family, so my extracurricular time is limited.

If the basketball team plays another team of high caliber and one that I enjoy watching, then I'll go.

If the right event were to take place and I was aware of it, I would be likely to go. Otherwise, I wouldn't attend.

If there are more events that I'm interested in, I don't see why I wouldn't go there again.

If there are good bands like Sugarcult and 30 Seconds to Mars that have played in the past, oh I am all over going to the UCCU Center!

If there happens to be an event that I would personally like to attend I will go to it. Regardless of whether it is in the UCCU Events Center, Raegen Theater, Ballroom, etc.. As long as there is enough room for all the attendees and I have a spot I'm happy.

If there is an event I'm interested in attending, I might go.

If there is an event that applies to my needs or interests, I will go.

If there is an event that interests me, I will attend.
If there is an upcoming event that sparks my interest, I would go.
If there is something I want to go there for then I'll go.
If there is something I want to see there I will go.
If there is something there that I like and it coincides with my schedule I would attend.
If there is something there, I'll go, but not a hang out point, if that makes sense
If there's something I'm interested in I'll go.
IF they ever had anything interesting I might go.
If UVU sports become more competitive then I would be more inclined to attend them
I'll attend an event if I have interest in it.
I'll attend what I have to for school or what I need to for family social obligations.
I'll go next there is something I want to go to and it works with my schedule.
I'll most likely attend a game, concert, etc. there in the future.
I love attending concerts such as 'The forgotten Carols'
I'm a big fan of basketball and I'm sure I'll get myself to a dance/concert eventually.
i'm a full time student who also works thirty plus hours a week. if its important i'd go. if not i'm busy
I'm a poor student who will only pay to go to things I REALLY want to see...And that would be football. :)
I'm almost never available when events are being held.
I'm always interested in going to concerts and will go when there are artists I like.
I'm an online only student
I'm an online student... I've never even seen the UCCU Center
I'm boring and married and not as interested anymore
I'm busy with study at UVU. I'm also not really interested in events that takes place at the UCCU Event Center.
I'm going to be in the pep band so I'll be at almost all the basketball games.
I'm graduating soon
I'm here to get an education and don't need to recreate.
I'm involved in the school...
I'm just not in the neighborhood.
I'm just not the 'get involved' type. Between work and school, I have no free time to attend events.
I'm married and involved with my family. I'd rather be involved with them.
im need to go see some productions for class,
I'm new but I have school spirit so id like to attend the events that I can
I'm not a sports person, so I attend the UCCU center when there is a concert I want to go to. Actually going depends on who is playing at the concert.
I'm not a traditional student. I work full-time.
Im not at campus a lot. I commute to school
I'm not interested in extra curricular activities at UVU.
I'm not interested in sports and don't have time for most other things.
I'm not interested in sports and especially not dance events.
I'm not interested in supporting athletics, but i will probably attend one or more other activities there.
I'm not interested in/with UCCU center. :0)
I'm not into sports.
I'm not really a social event type of person..
I'm not that interested in sports.
im only part time and dont have much time to attend
I'm pretty busy and don't really feel that I need to go there. Not that I'm avoiding it, it just isn't a place I need to be at.
I'm required to for one of my classes. And it will be a nice break from the mainstream.
I'm sure I will go to a game or a speech there, I have been several times over the years.
I'm sure it'll happen at some point, but right now, it's not a priority.
I'm sure there will be some event that I'd like to attend there in the future, and the building poses no obstacle to that.
Im sure there will be something there that Ill have time to go to.
I'm too busy and nothing is that big of a deal for me to go.
I'm too busy with school and work.
I'm too busy.
I'm usually not very aware of when games are going on. That's not really an interest of mine.
in the past I haven't had much time, but my situation has changed.
interested in finishing my education as fast as possible and I don't have time for other thing with school, work, and family interesting
Interesting speakers.

Is there any other place for our sports?

it could happen

It depends on if I actually feel like attending a basketball game or if we have something else that catches my interest held there.

It depends on the event that is going to happen.

it depends on the event.

It depends on what events will be coming!

It depends on what is going on if I'll go or not.

It depends on what is there. I usually go to the Forgotten Carols.

It depends on what the event is. The arena has little to do with my desire to attend.

It has always seemed adequate whenever I have been there.

It is a close and convenient facility with high-level events taking place in it. Specifically MMA events (Showdown) as well as UVU athletic events.

It is a very good building and have done several things within the UCCU event center and for the most part, enjoy the different types of activity's that i have done there. The only thing i would try and fix is that sometimes, there are pockets of cold air in the building, especially when the you are in there with very few games, not so much when you have say a big game in there with a lot of people, since by the time the game finish, you are nice and toasty warm.

It is a very nice facility.

It is a wonderful center and really gives a lot of 'brownie points' to the quality of the University. I haven't been there much, but for the times that I have, I have had great experiences.

It is close.

It is fun and a nice center.

It is just not inviting. I think student want to show campus pride for its sports teams but way more should be done to promote it. Everything at the UCCU is about MONEY and it does not feel like it's for UVU students.

it is not the main reason i am in school, so i am not that interested in it.

It is on the far end of campus. I do not go over there all that often...

It is practically the only venue in town.

It is the biggest venue in the area.

It just depends on what is happening.

It just depends on what the event. I'm planning on attending wrestling matches, but I'm not really into the dances and stuff. Also I live in Mapleton so I don't like to commute back and forth more than I have to.
It just depends where and what time the event takes place and if it fits with my schedule of classes and family.

It merely depends on what the event is.

It really depends on what kind of events are going to be held and if I'd really be interested in going to that event or have the time to go to the event.

It was a hassle to pay to get in, it is poorly decorated, and not worth my money it was fun

It was fun last time I went but I have to make time for it if I do go. The events don't draw me in but I will go if there is nothing else to do.

It would depend on the event, but the venue would not put me off.

It's a good facility.

It's a nice family outing.

It's along way to drive for me and I work at night.

It's always a good time.

It's an easy place to find.

It's close, comfortable, and my past experience has been very good.

It's hard to find the time to attend events because of family life even though it would be enjoyable.

It's inevitable.

It's local.

It's nice and big.

It's not that I am not interested in what is going on there I just don't have the time or want to travel the distance to get there.

I've been to concerts there before and had a good experience.

I've never experienced problems with it

I've never gone before, I have no reason to want to go later.

I've only been there three times

I've seen the facility. I think it looks great but I have not attended an event. When I do I'm sure I'll be happy.

Just depends on the event and if it is held inside the UCCU center.

Just not into it/nobody to go with

Just waiting for basketball to start and my schedule to not be so intense

Lack of free time....

lack of time and interest in sports that are held indoors, with few exceptions.
Like I said, I love college sports. If I can ever find a time when one of my favorite sports is in season and I have time to go, I'm all in.

Live in Idaho.

Looking forward to the mma fights.

Maybe I'll be there again; busy.

More into BYU sports

Most of the events are sports related. I might attend a concert or other event but not sports ones.

Most of the events are usually in the evening, so I am usually at home studying. It takes 30-40 minutes for me to get to campus from my home, so it would take up a whole evening to go to an event.

Most that I would attend are required for my major.

Mostly time, a full time student in the sciences as well as a mom and work part time, a lot of this is extra stuff that I do not have time to participate in.

Moving out of state

My BS degree graduation will presumably take place there, so I'll certainly attend at least that one event there in the future.

My courses might allow me to go there more often because my schedule will be different next semester.

My course load, which I need to take to achieve my goals, is too high for me to be able to attend these events.

My experience has been good and if there is an even there that I am interested in, I wouldn't hesitate to go.

My family is partial to the graduation ritual.

My husband is the GM at the Woodbury Hotel across the street (The Hampton Inn and Suites) and we try to attend as many events as we can to support Brian (over at the UCCU Center). We have enjoyed bringing our children to the center for as many events as we can get them to.

My involvement with the UCCU Center has been more on the community events.

My life is too busy and I don't have extra money for events.

My son and I like to go see basketball games, and he gets in free.

My suggestion is to take a poll from the students to see what bands/comedians they would like to see play at the school. Obviously due to budgetary constraints you might have to do two polls, where the first is completely open to all suggestions and the second would be one where students could choose from a list of their most popular choices that contains the artists that the school could afford.

My work schedule is changing next semester, so I'll have free evenings.

My younger sister will be graduating. Therefore, I will be going soon enough.

NA

Need better concerts
Never been... really busy
No beer service
No comment
no income.
no major issue that I have noticed
No money, no time, no care.
No opinion
No place to park, too many people, not things that I'm really interested in, and I DON'T LIKE UCCU (the Credit Union).
No reason not to no support to the programs I care about so why should I spend time and money on the things that are important to the university.
No Time
No time
No time and I'm more interested in hockey, rugby and roller derby which doesn't seem to be as advertised or supported.
NO TIME, NOT A QUALITY EVENT
No time.
No time.
No time. I work and go to school and have a family.
Not a lot of time or money on my hands to go to events.
not a sports fan
Not a sports person, no interesting conferences.
Not competitive enough/big enough team to get me fired up to go to a game not enough advertisement i never hear about things going on
Not enough of the activities that my family would want to attend.
Not enough things I'm interested in.
not enough time in my schedule not given any reason to.
Not interested
not interested in anything they do
Not interested in the events hosted there.
Not interested very much in watching sports
Not interested.
Not many academic panels or lectures lend themselves well to that sort of venue.
Not sure if something comes up
Not too many events I'm interested in/no time
Not very interested in the performers who come. The student body would benefit from a wider array of performers and presentations there.
Nothing has caught my interest yet and if something does I will attend Nothing I am interested in.
Nothing I am really interested in that comes to UVU
Nothing I care about has EVER occurred there, or anywhere on campus.
nothing is offered that i would want to attend
Nothing really interests me that have taken place, at least not enough to go. Also I don't like driving down to Orem for things other than I am required to.
Occasionally, I attend events.
Older
Once again, no time and very little interest.
Out of state.
Over the course of going to school here it's just gonna happen.
Overall good experiences. I like to go to the circus there.
Packed schedule and I live in Springville so it is kind of a pain to come up to Orem just for one little thing Parking is terrible.
Planning on attending the MAWL games.
Please see above response.
Pointless? I only go to events that my kids would enjoy or ones that are related to my major.
Probably only for graduation in a few years.
regardless of how comfortable the seats are and the view it is important to support my team.
S/A
Same answers as before.
Same as above.

Same as above.

Same as above. I cannot sit for very long. I cannot even become a full time student because of the pain. My pain last for hours and some times days. Depends on how long I have sat in chair.

Same as above. It accommodates a lot of people, and I feel like most events there can be successful.

Same as why I don't attend them now.

Same reason I stated above.

Same reasons stated above.

sheer disinterest.

So far I've never been in the building, doesn't look up from there I'd think.

Some events interest me and others do not. I expect that sooner or later there will be one that I want to attend.

Sometimes good bands come through. It's bound to happen again.

Sounds fun

sporting events are fun!

Sports are fun to go to Sports have no place at universities. Gaudy excuses and false hopes, wasting parking spaces and classroom seats on delusional athletes. I have never attended a sporting event and never will.

State High School Volleyball,

The 30 seconds to mars concert that was hosted there was incredible

The comfort of the building is not pleasant and there is a significant problem with traffic.

The concert I attended was difficult to see from the stands and I live in Salt Lake so not convenient.

The dances are fun. My sister is still on the drill team so I will be there to watch her dance for state.

The events and attractions taking place are important to me.

The events are fun to attend. The events draw many people which makes for a fun experience.

The events generally do not interest me.

The events held there are usually entertaining ones that I would attend.

The events that are held at the UCCU center do not interest me.
the events that i have attended i have had a very good experience.

the first concert was awesome, i am sure there will be more that will be awesome as well.

the forgotten carols is coming in december.

the forgotten carols is coming.

the only event i ever plan on attending at the UCCU Center is my Graduation.

the only thing you have going on there that i would like to see is the forgotten carols. i wish you would go back to it being the David O Mackay center.

the prices are reasonable, the facility is clean and taken care of, and the faculty is attentive.

the sporting events that i attend are out doors. Most of the speakers i go to listen to are not at this location.

the staff is top notch.

the staff is very professional and everything always looks amazing.

the ticket are price rite and its good family time the ticket prices are reasonable and i enjoy going.

the UCCU Center hosts a variety of community activities that are likely to appeal to me.

the Women's Expo is held every year at the UCCU center. Of course I'm going to go back for that!

there a many events that i am required to or choose to attend that are held at the UCCU center.

there are a lot of great events that come there so i will be back.

there are lots of events at the UCCU Center. it is very probable that i will attend one in the future.

there are many events that take place at the UCCU center. i feel like the events are just as expensive as anywhere else, and while i would like to support my school, i'm not willing to pay the high prices for an event i don't have a deep desire to attend.

there are not many activities that i am interested in.

there are often events going on there that i am interested in.

there are things that are put on there other than school activities, concerts and stuff and i would most likely go to a concert if i know in time.

there are usually good events held at UVU so i'm bound to go to another one in the future.

there area usually pretty good concerts that take place there.

there aren't many events in which i am interested going on there hasn't been anything that has caught my interest.

there haven't been very many events i was interested in attended recently.
There is a lot going on so I would go, but there aren't a lot of things I am interested in.

There is always events such as gradations that I will attend.

There is always something going on at the center. I'd like to take my kids to the games there.

There is always the chance that attending an event would be part of an assignment, or something that I am really interested in attending.

There is little point in attending College Athletics, or events.

There is no reason for me to attend the event unless it piques my interest.

There isn't anything I'm interested in happening there.

There was an instance where I attended a concert where to be on the actual floor with the stage, I had to go buy a ticket to the baseball game going on that night, than I was admitted to the floor seats. Many concert goers were forced to sit in the stadium seating. I hope this has changed since that concert.

They have a great variety of entertainment available there.

They have bands come that I like but not often and there normaly GA which is uncomfortable in an enclosed space like that with stupid people.

They host CES firesides there which I like to attend.

They make me.

They usually have good concerts there.

They're all Mormon and I'm not.

This is where my Graduation will take place.

Though I do not usually use the UCCU center, if an event came along that I wanted to attend, I would do so.

Time- I work nights so it's hard to get to evening events.

TO BUSY

to busy with classes and class work and family!

Too busy

Too busy and I'm not really into that stuff, if I have free time I'd rather spend it doing something else.

too busy building businesses

Too busy focusing on course work.

Too busy to attend extra-curricular activities

Too busy to really care.

Too busy with my homework and class assignments.

Too busy with program, family, responsibilities that there is not enough time.
Too busy with school and personal life to attend events.

Too busy with school work anyway.

Too far away to drive to. I'm more interested in bigger programs.

too hard to get back and forth on campus

Unless it is truly intriguing, I can almost guarantee I won't be there.

Unless it was a concert I was interested in, I would not attend events there.

Until the bleachers have been changed I will only go to graduations.

usually gets good concerts

Usually High School graduation takes place there, and my little brother graduates next year. I will have to go to the UCCU center to see him!

UVU always has good things that come there so I enjoy going there. I have attended wrestling matches, dances, and a basketball game. I liked it.

UVU is exciting plain and simple.

Very nice and great space and location!

VERY POOR single mom of 4 children. Cannot afford events. Cannot afford babysitting for events where children are not invited.

Very rarely are there events that interest me enough or that I have time attend.

We enjoy attending events, it just costs a lot of money.

Well I haven't been to one yet, but I do enjoy watching sports! (football team at uvu would be awesome!!)

Well kept facility.

Well there are graduations and state High School Wrestling held there, so I'll probably end up going sometime.

Well, I am sure I will be there for my graduation in a year and there could be some potential concerts and other things I would go there for!

when i have the time to go

When I see something that I want to go to, I'll go to it. Until then, I won't.

When something comes through that I am interested in I will go. If not I don't go to anything.

Why not, it looks Great and looking forward to an event there.

Why not?

Why not?

Why pay when I can have fun with my roommates?

Will have busy schedule.
With my classes, I'm usually at school most of the day so the last thing I want to do is to come back later for a sporting event. I like the firesides Pres. Holland holds there. During UVU employee appreciation games I try to be in attendance because they are usually right before going on a break so I have time to go.

With my schedule, I rarely have time to attend events. If I had more time I would attend more future events.

Within the past year I only attended two events there, so I don't think it would be realistic to say very high or high, but I do want to attend more basketball games this year.

work and homework

Work two part-time jobs, school part-time, and a have a child... no time.

Wouldn't need to use it

YOU DON'T HAVE ENOUGH INTELLECTUAL DISPLAYS. And the place often smells.

You need a swim team  http://www.facebook.com/uvu.swim http://www.facebook.com/group.php?gid=115217788505983

ZZ Top might come back
Again I'm not going so I wouldn't be taking someone there.

Again- working nights cuts into my social life....

Again, I've liked all the events I've attended that have been in the UCCU center. It's always been fun.

All the events I've been to at the UCCU center have been fun and well organized.

Already have shared these experiences with family and friends. Will continue to do so.

As I mentioned beforeà There is not anything unique about this place and not many events attracted me to attend

As I said, I need events that carry more weight for me

As the saying goes, if it's a good experience you tell a few, if it's bad then everyone knows.

Attended Muse concert few years ago. Was great but need more events like this as opposed to fairs or wrestling.

because

Because chances are if I'm going to an event I'll be going with friends and/or family. I tell people about fun things I'm involved in.

Because generally I don't care.

Because I already tell people that uvu is a really good school already.
Because I always do :).

Because I always tell my family and friends how things are going.

because i am never around people who want to go to the events.

Because I had fun.

Because i have no experience. I will try to attend next semester.

because I have shared with family.

Because I love UVU

Because I might not attend.

Because I take family or friends with me when I go to events so it's natural to discuss experiences with them.

Because I usually go with a family member or friends.

because i want them to come next time :)

Because I was never happy go here

Because I will most likely share my high school graduation experience with my family and friends in the future.

Because I will tell people what I experienced at any place I go.

Because i will tell them about all the great evens that will be happening in the UCCU Center. It is a great time when there is a great number of people there.

Because I would most likely want a friend to go with me the next time there is an event I'm going to.

Because I would want my wife with me.

Because if i had fun i think everyone should know so i spread the word.

Because it is something extra you do that you don't normally.

Because it was an excellent experience

Because it would depend on the event.

Because its a good facility

Because it's awesome.

because Its not on my priority list of things to do.

Because it's where what's happening is happening. If the location sucks, I'll remember that and not go the next time I'm invited.

Because no one wants to go to an event alone.

Because of the bar j wranglers

Because people ask and I answer.
Because people don't really care...maybe one day I would tell them something about it but the odds are kind of low so that's why I say 'low.'

Because school spirit sucks and no body goes to games because there fun to go too

Because they need to know?

Because when i go to something I'm likely to talk about it with someone and share my experiences.

Because when they know about it they will be likely to want to attend the next event.

Because.

Because if I went and it was at the school it was something that my family would have most likely enjoyed as well.

Build support for UVU.

Cause I'm married

cause it was fairly routine things I attended that don't necessarily make for stimulating conversation

Cuz my friends come to school as well.

Cuz UVU is awesome

Depends on event

depends on event

Depends on if I make the time to attend this event. If so, I probably would like to tell my friends about it. I prefer to be with friends than by myself at social functions.

Depends on if my family member could go.

depends on the event, not so much the building

Depends on what the event is.

Distance--family priorities.

Do not live close enough to attend events.

Doing stuff alone is better in the woods.

Don't Attend

don't care to tell people about it!

Don't have a lot of friends in Utah

Dont really know what to share...

Don't really talk about that kind of stuff

Events are generally good, although attendance is usually low.
Everytime I have been to the UCCU center the rules seem to be all they are worried about! I feel like it needs to be much relaxed, so people can enjoy the event.

Family doesn't live here.

forgotten carols family

Friend will come.

Friends make it better.

Fun is better with friends.

Generally, if I attend something of this manner, it is because I am going with a group of people.

go with my whole family including my brother in law

good

Graduation is a big event

Graduation is a great family get together.

Graduation.

Great campus, easy access to instructors who know their field of work well. The fact that during my undergraduate days and today I have and continue to have easy access to PhD's to help me with problems. That doesn't happen at larger universities, at least not very often.

Have done so & will continue to do so.

Have yet to attend any events.

Haven't attended enough events there to recommend it or not.

I absolutely love this school. My experience is fantastic.

I always come with family and friends.

I always do stuff with my wife and son, if I do it at all.

I always enjoyed my time there

I always share experiences that I have had with my family or friends, whether it be good or bad.

I always share my experiences with others. I also have always been satisfied with events I attended at the UCCU event center, so I will naturally share my experiences there.

I always talk with friends about fun activities.

I always tell my family how much fun I had, and I usually bring family/friends with me.

I am a BYU fan. It is unlikely I will ever attend a UVU sporting event unless something really unique occurs here.

I am a family man and social.

I am a non-traditional student who is a full time employee at UVU. I only attend those activities that are of interest.
I am a non-traditional student, returning to academics after many years away. This campus has made me feel at home, successful, and welcomed by faculty and students of all ages and cultures. The events offered here are so diversified that anyone would be able to find an activity that they would enjoy.

I am a story teller and I will tell people how it is.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am attending the Forgotten Carols and have talked to others about it.

I am close to my family.

I am completely neutral about the event center, since I have never attended anything in there.

I am not interested in the events. Too busy with school.

I am the first child in my family to go to college. I would want to prepare and let my siblings or friends what my experience is so they will know its not as bad as what they hear.

I am very social and like to let people know rather where I have gone is good or not.

I do not attend events.

I do not have family out here.

I do not know anyone looking to attend college

I do not live in the area.

I don't always know when events are going on.

I don't attend events

I don't attend events

I don't attend events at the UCCU center

I don't attend events there therefore i cannot comment either way.

I don't attend much because of mostly time constraints.

I don't care to share things that i feel neutral about.

I don't care.

I don't care. I understand why college students have a a higher suicide rate. bahahaha

I don't do much there.

I don't ever go there.

I don't get all excited about a gym...

I don't go bragging about it, but it could possibly be mentioned after I go there for an activity of some kind.

I don't go to events

I don't go to events so I cannot talk about them.
I don't go to events there.
I don't go to many events.

I don't go, so I won't share the experience.

I don't have a lot to go off of yet.

I don't have anything bad to say so if I did say something it would be positive.

I don't have anything negative to share, and there is always something interesting going on at the UCCU Events Center.

I don't have the money to take anyone with me to events.

I don't have the time to attend the events.

I don't have time.

I don't know many people here to recommend to go but if I was going I would invite them

I don't know.

I don't like going to stuff alone.

I don't like to attend solo.

I don't like to do things alone...?

I don't often attend events.

I don't really attend events there so how could I share with someone what it was like?

I don't really attend that often.

I don't really go there

I don't really go therefore there is nothing to share.

I don't really go to a lot of things on campus--I'm just too busy. If someone asks me about my experience, I would tell them, but I don't think I would go out of my way to tell someone about it.

I don't really have anything to share.

I don't really know how to describe it.

I don't really know when the UCCU center would ever specifically come up in a conversation with people who didn't attend the same event I did.

I don't really talk that much about these things unless asked, so if someone asks I would tell them about it but otherwise no.

I don't share info. with others.

I don't talk to people very often

I don't think that it is worth something talking about.
I don't typically attend events that aren't part of school.

I don't understand the question.

I don't usually recommend things to anyone.

I don't usually share my 'experiences' with a center to my friends and family members. I'm not a UCCU center promoter. It's a decent event center, but it's really nothing special.

I don't want to go alone

I enjoy attending with my friends and family.

I enjoy doing things with my friends and family, my spouse and I have enjoyed a few events together there and had a nice time!

I enjoy going.

I enjoy it. I think it's a good school.

I enjoy sharing my school experiences with my husband and children and they like hearing about them. If I attended something I found interesting or helpful, I would most definitely share it.

I feel I received great education at UVU, and feel obligated to help other new students to receive the same.

I frequently share what I did with friends and family.

I go to events with fellow teammates on the Track team.

I had fun attending the event and it was done in orderly fashion. Liked the experience.

I hardly ever attend and when I do my family is there with me.

I have 3 children that also attend UVU and we often attend activities together. My teenager and husband have also attended concerts and plays at UVU. There are always events to attend but I often cannot attend due to class conflicts.

I have a good time and want to share it with my friends and family.

I have a lot of friends that like to attend events and concerts.

I have a lot of younger almost freshmen friends, and usually they ask me about college.

I have already done this. It's a great way to show off the campus to everybody.

I have already mentioned my education to many family members. I enjoy the classes and the teachers.

I have been with UCCU for many years now. I recommend anyone I know to them.

I have done this in the past.

I have invited friends to the circus there.

I have never attended an event there. I went to the Bill Nye lecture in the ball room and there were no where near enough seats.

I have never attended.
I have never been there, and again I don't know where it is at.
I have never been to an event there
I have never been to one.
I have never gone myself!
I have not yet attended an event, so there's nothing to tell.
I have only been once.
I have only been there a few times.
I have several people in my family who are very interested in sports.
I have yet to see an event that exceeds other events throughout northern Utah (most events at UCCU are events that aren't labelled as fun enough for SLC)
I haven't been a whole lot so it's mainly just because I haven't experienced what an event is like there.
I haven't ever been there before. If I do go to something there, I'm sure that I will share my experience with someone.
I haven't ever been.
I haven't been much but I like to share good experiences.
I just go to class.
I just would not share.
I know that the two I have attended in the past, I have talked about to my friends/family.
I know they will enjoy it too.
I like a good rock concert and if the venue runs smoothly, why not?
I like going to events with my friends and showing off my campus.
I like participating in wholesome family events and share those experiences with my friends and family.
I like the UCCU Center and I like friends and family.
I like to get a group of us together to go watch the sporting events
I like to inform others whether something is worthwhile or not.
I like to share my experiences.
I like to share the experience.
I like to talk about my experiences of attending events with friends and family.
I like to talk about places I go with friends and family.
I like to talk about the things I do.
I like to talk to other people about what I did, especially if it was fun.

I liked it!

I live in Virginia

I love going to events with family and friends. Just a fact.

I love the standard that UVU events have always held.

I love to take friends and family to the expos that are available at the UCCU center.

I love UVU so I am going to let everyone know what a good place it is to be. Sporting events at the UCCU Center are good for everyone.

I never go to them, what with the lack of friends and all.

I never go, so I have nothing to share

I never go.

I plan on dragging my family to my graduation.

I probably won’t go to a game, ever.

I really don’t go around telling everyone about going places unless it is really good.

I really enjoyed it there and I would love for them to come to events with me.

I really had fun at the Three Doors Down concert and I have told a lot of my friends about the experience that I had.

I really like UVU. I think it has a lot to offer. If you are looking in the right places for what you want you can find it there.

I share almost everything with my mom and if I attended the UCCU Center for something, she would know about it.

I share everything with my family, whether it’s good or bad.

I share my thoughts in feelings often

I suppose I’d sooner attend an even with a family member or friend.

I take my family, if they are interested in a particular event.

I talk about UVU alot to my family and am proud of my school and what goes on there.

I talk to my friends and family about those sort of things

I talk to people about what I do

I tell my family and friends everything.

I tell my family and friends pretty much everything so even if I had a bad time I would tell them.

I tell my family everything about the events I go to.
I tell my friends and family about most experiences I have that are fun and that I think they would also enjoy.

I tell my mom what I do.

I tell my wife about everything I do pretty much.

I think going to sporting events or other performances are good experiences, however they are hard to fit into our schedule.

I think it is good family fun at a good price.

I think it makes the experience more enjoyable if you share it with someone.

I think it would be a positive family experience.

I told all my friends about the concerts that happen at the UCCU center.

I took my kids to the circus and told everyone about it.

I typically do not share events unless I go to them and I do not go to events at the UCCU center very often.

I usually don't talk to people about a arena but about the game or event I went to.

I usually enjoy what I go to.

I usually go to these events with friends and family.

I usually share what I like and what I don't like with people. Word of mouth goes far with me.

I usually take someone to events.

I usually talk about what I've been doing, and what I experienced at different events, whether I liked or disliked what happened there.

I usually talk to my friends and family about what I end up doing with my day.

I usually tell everyone I know about good experiences I have.

I want to do my best to get people to the games, and so I will definitely share my experience with others.

I was beyond impressed with how gorgeous the Scholarship Ball was, I still am. I want to encourage those that can afford to attend these events to do so.

I was very excited about, and thoroughly enjoyed the privilege of serving at the Presidential Scholarship Dinner. I have shared my experience with coworkers, family, friends, and various other people. I have encouraged them to save up for the event and attend it at least once in their life because it is such an incredible experience. My husband and I have attended the Christmas Fair in the past, and hope to do so more in the future. I share my experience with others. If I am enthusiastic about something I tend to share my enthusiasm. We also attended the home show one year and really enjoyed that experience, as well.

I went with family to the last event and would go to another event there. Location, nice not to have to go to SLC, especially on a work night.

I went with friends and family to a concert and enjoyed it.

I will always go to a concert with a friend or group of friends.
I will attend concerts with friends and/or family.
I will not be attending that many events at the UCCU Center.
I will probably never go.
I will share it because I talk a lot.
I would be more likely to go with friends and family if there were more family events that were offered.
I would if I had time to go.
I would let them know if the experience was negative or positive. I have attended with family members.
I would like to tell them what a great facility it is and how nice it is to go there.
I would probably tell them about the event, not where I was at.
I would share my experience whether it was good or bad. I love sharing experiences with my friends and family.
I would share my experience with a friend or family member because I am really satisfied with the quality of the school.
I would share what I thought of the event I attended moreso than the experience of being in the UCCU center.
I would share what is going on with all of my family if it pertains to them.
I would tell people.
I would tell them they will also like the atmosphere and at the same time allow them to catch a glimpse of what the university has to offer.
I wouldn't know unless I actually attended an event.
I wouldn't tell them not to go, But i had a good experience, so i would let them know about the good events there.
I wouldn't want to go alone
I'd go with family to volleyball games cause we all enjoy that.
I'd probably just talk about the event itself and not about the center.
I'd rather not go to something by myself.
i'd usually be performing in an event or at a graduation.
If I attend a concert I always share the experience with friends.
If I attend an event, I would share my experience as usual.
if i attended i would tell a family member
If I can ever attend something there I will definitely share my experience with someone I know.
IF i do go and it's a good experience, i'll let people know, but since i don't go to many sporting events, i don't plan on sharing any time soon.
If I do go to an event, I might talk about it with my roommates, but I won't be super in-depth. Just enough to cover the basics etc.

If I enjoy myself or learn something I am likely to tell someone about it or talk with someone else who was there about what they thought.

If I enjoy something I tell people about it!

If I enjoyed it, then I would share it.

If I go and it's good I will tell others to go next time.

If I go there I am going to tell people how it was.

If I go to an event and enjoy it, then I'll share the experience with others and encourage them to go as well.

If I go to something there, I'll most likely want to be there. Which in turn, would make me want to share the experience with people that are close to me.

If I go, so will my wife most likely.

If I go... then I'll tell someone about it

If I had a great experience anywhere on Campus, I would very much tell members of my family and friends.

If I have a good experience, I always tell my friends and social media contacts.

If I have a great time at an event then I would definitely tell everyone about it so they would want to go too.

If I like it I will share.

If I like something I will let everyone know.

If I like something, I share. If I don't like something, I share that too.

If I liked the event I'll share if I'm neutral (like usual) I won't share

If I make it there chance are I'll tell someone about it. Occasionally those people have come with me.

If I was to attend, I'd tell family how the experience was. That is just human nature.

If I went and enjoyed it, I will talk about it.

If I went, it would be for a good reason and I'd want to tell my family about it

If I were to go I would bring my husband for company, and he is also a student at UVU.

If it is a good experience than I will share with my friends, also if if is a bad experience I would share and discourage people I know from going.

If it is important to me then I will share it.
If it is something I would like to take the family to, I would take them to it and share the information with friends as well.

If it seems appropriate info to share, why not share?

if its a concert i would want them to come along
If its a good experience i will share it a lot more than i would something that was a bad experience
If it's another memorable experience, I'm sure I'll tell somebody.

If it's good, I'll tell them.

If someone is planning on attending an event there, I always try to let them know what to expect, especially with parking.

If something comes up
If the event is good or bad, I'll most likely say something about it on facebook.
If the event made an impression on me, whether good or bad....it doesn't stay a secret.
If the events are interesting, and I come with someone else or alone, I could talk about it with others.
If the performance was good, I'm sure I would talk about it.
If they are down in orem I would invite them.
If you enjoy something, wouldn't you want to talk about it?
im allowed to share my opinion with whoever i want. odd place for this question.

I'm an online student... I've never even seen the UCCU Center
I'm not in school for fun/social. I'm just here to get my degree so I'm not a good one to ask.
I'm not likely to go at all-- coordinating my schedule with others is even more difficult.
In most cases I would bring my husband if I was attending an event.
In my family there are five of us in college and three of us are already at UVU. We are always super busy and so I don't know if they would have time to go to any event.

It depends on if I have a good experience or not and what I attend, it has to be worth sharing.
It depends on the event and how much I enjoyed it. And since there's hardly any event going on over there that I'd be interested in...well...you know.

It depends on the event but I usually tell people what I do.
It hasn't been neither good nor bad so I have nothing to share.
It is almost always an event or experience worth sharing.
It is big, and easy to park.
It is fun to go to events there.
It isn't really a conversation that I would have.

It just seems pretty likely that I would tell someone about it since the events that happen in the UCCU center are usually really fun or significant in some way.

It just wouldn't come up in any conversation

It never comes up in conversation.

It really has nothing to do with the fact that it is 'THE UCCU CENTER' I don't really care about the name of the facility, I rather care about the quality of the performance. If the performance is good, I would definitely be willing to tell others. I would be commenting on the event however, and not so much the 'UCCU Center'...

It seems like a nice facility, so I would feel comfortable bringing a family member with me.

It was boring.

It was not too worth talking about but if it came up in conversation I would share my experience with them.

It was years ago, so there's not much to tell. Also, all of my family and most of my friends are just as poor as I am.

It will come up in conversation.

it would be a fun activity to do with friends if the event seems fun

It would have to be something really exciting or interesting.

It's a good facility so the events are going to be good as well.

It's a nice center and hold great events.

It's a very nice facility and holds great events.

It's always funner to do things with friends

It's average, if it's great, I'll tell people. If it's really bad, I'll tell people. If it's average, I probably won't feel an urgent need to tell people.

It's better to go with someone

It's easy to get to and to find seat

It's fun to be a part of the school so I want others to come as well.

It's just a building, and I'm more concerned with what takes place in the building than the structure itself. If I share an experience there it will be because of the event, not the building.

It's like sharing any other event, whether at BYU, Covey Center for the Arts, SCERA, or movie theater. Whenever I attend a good event, I tell my family about it.

It's more fun when you are with someone else.

It's nice and big.

It's pretty much the same as the McKay events center, just a different name. Everyone I know is from around here and they know how the center is. The only reason why I would talk about it is when there was an event I went to - and then I would be solely talking about the event.
it's the event not the location that is important
I've already done so a few times and don't see why I wouldn't again.
I've already done so.
I've always had good experiences with it
I've attended a concert with a friend.
I've discussed my graduation events and will likely discuss them again in the future.
I've enjoyed every event
I've gone with friends and family every single time I've attended an event.
I've never been there, so there isn't any experiences I could share.
I've never been there.
I've only been once... If someone said they were going there, I would tell them that I have been and it was great, but I am not going to go and hunt people down to tell them about the UCCU center.
Just because.
Just depends of what goes on there. Like... Battle of the bands of something.
just focused on school and work.
Just not too interested
Most likely won't attend myself.
Most of the people I know are in the same boat.
My boys don't want to go ...
My brother is a student at UVU so we might go together to a concert or something.
My brother loves basketball.
My cousin wants to go to a basketball game.
My family does not care. My friends are not interested.
My family is busy
my family lives in a different state .and are busy
My family lives in Japan.
my family was with me the times I've gone
My family will come see me graduate
My family/friends aren't that into sports or activities that are usually held there.
my friends and family know what I enjoy.
my friends and family usually go with me and if they don't I tell them about it so they will join me next time.

My husband or family will attend a performance with me.

My parents both work at UVU and several of my siblings are alumni. We would love to support UVU athletics.

My wife attends UVU with me. Lots of my family and friends live in Utah Valley.

Never say never.

Nice activities not only for students but the whole family. Would be a lot more frequent if effort was put in athletics.

No comments. :-D

No football.
No money, no time, no care.
No one asks, and I don’t have any real reason to randomly bring it up!
No one likes going somewhere alone.

no support to mens xc and track not enough time
Not going to go alone.

not invasive
Not really any need.
Not really memorable

Not something I would talk about.
not very thrilling
Nothing interesting.

Nothing spectacular has ever pushed me as far as speaking up about my experience at the UCCU events center.
Nothing to relate other than there is NO PLACE TO PARK
Oh I share my negative experiences with everybody I can.

older
Once again, the cost of tickets.

Other than the very minimal academic advising and TRIO assistance I have received, my experience has been very surprisingly good.

People are always asking the question ‘What’d you do this weekend?’ I’m not going to lie to avoid disclosing that I attended an event in the UCCU Center.

People talk. It’s the truth. Sometimes it’s unfortunate, sometimes it’s what drives further business.

Really?
Roommates and I talk about things we go to and I talk with my family about what I have been doing as well.

Same as above.
Same as before explanation
Same as last two
Same reason as the above.

seriously? the same as before.
Shut up about the stupid UCCU!
So far my experience has been a positive one.
so i can tell them about the school. the good and the bad things.
So they can go the next time the event happens.
some of the basketball games are very fan interactive. One of the photographers for sporting events said i made her day by cheering even when we were way behind. I have shared that experience with a few friends already.
Sports are not an individual event. If I had fun, I'd tell people about it.
spreading the good news will get more people to attend events held.
Sure if i had a friend ask me how things went or what happen there, or if it was required of a class that i go and give a talk about what happen there, other wise no, why would i need to talk to a random person about what happen there.
that is just my personal opinion. I don't really tell the world what i'm doing with my life.
The events are fun.
the events are usually awesome
The events are usually really good.
The events I've been to there aren't worth talking about.
The fact that it is at the UCCU center isn't a huge deal to me.
The first time I attend an event will most likely be at my graduation.
The more the merrier.
The school is good ..... I have attended several other colleges/universities. This one is a good one.
The TOOL concert I saw there years ago when it was the Mckay event center was an excellent performance.
The venue doesn't make too much of a difference... the event is what I'm more interested in.
there's going to be a lot of people here for my graduation....
They are usually with me when I go, so I don't need to explain to them.
They have a great culinary program
They have no interest
y they know about the Mckay events center
They need more stuff
They want to know if I did anything fun
They were good experiences, but not especially significant...
They will be invited to my graduation.
They will be there with me.
Those events are better when shared.
to review my experience there.
too busy
too hard to get back and forth on campus
ugh
Unless it's a completely terrible or completely wonderful experience, I'm not likely to share unless they ask specifically.
Unless the event is good i rarely talk about that kind of stuff
Usually most all of the events are worth talking about.
Usually there are good events that go on there and I would tell my friends so they can come next time.
Usually, the events at the UCCU Center are noteworthy.
very pleased with how the school conducts them selves and this school is more handicap friendly than any other school that i have attended.
Was not very noteworthy
We are interested in the same things.
We just don't have a lot of time.
We love attending things as a family
Well if I went there and it was good i would share it.
well when I do go I bet it will be good.
Well, we had fun when we went to the 30 Seconds to mars concert, and we told our friends about it because it was fun.
When bands I like come to the UCCU center, I want to tell them to come with me.
When describing an event I doubt I rant and rave about the facility. I will probably describe the event that took place rather than the venue that hosted the event. However, I believe the UCCU center does a good job at hosting events.

When i have to time to go and if my friends or family members have time

When I like something, I love it, and when I love it, I tell EVERYONE!!

When I started going to school here I went to a few events and was disappointed. UVUUSA should do way more to promote school pride.

When others tell me they are planning attend a dance or party at the UCCU center I always warn them about my experience and the experiences of others I know.

Whether I enjoy the event or not I always discuss my experience with others close to me because I enjoy hearing about other opinions if they have gone there.

Word of mouth sucks when someone has a bad experience. It wasn't horrible, but wasn't fun

Work two part-time jobs, school part-time, and a have a child... no time.

would be very interesting to share but my duties prevent me
Q.29

A wide variety of talent would engender support from a wider percentage of the community.

Accept cards and not just cash.

Again, construction. Get it done as soon as possible.

All the parking is for students with parking passes, when i wasn't a student i hated parking.

As always, the parking situation always seems to cause havoc on campus, when lots are closed for events the students suffer and attendees are confused as to where to go.

As I said before, I want this center to increase more bathrooms.

As was mentioned earlier, have more musical concerts more often.

Battle of the Bands or just let the students that play in bands have an event there!

Better access to academic advisors, professors. how about putting classes in the same building where the main office of the department is located instead of having to run all over campus.

Better bands.

Better parking.

Better parking.

Better signs for where parking is would be good. It's hard to know where you can park without getting a ticket in the Parking Pass only sections.

Bring in more concerts.
Can more student parking be opened up? Seems that there are too many employee parking to me. Can half portions be an option in both the food courts and cafeteria, for those with smaller appetites and pockets? :-)

Change the name back! I really don't like UCCU. Changing the name was as bad as when the Delta Center changed to Energy Solutions Arena.

Completely revamp the communication between Financial Aid and Registration. I was given so much go around which delayed my enrolling in classes which hindered the class options that were available to me. Very frustrating!

Concessions are too expensive and parking is difficult.

Cut down the costs for concessions!

Decorate the place, have more available tellers that can take cards, don't be rude when being patted down, and clean the place.

Demolish it and build a new one down by Utah Lake.

Did UCCU pay you to distribute this survey?

Don't have any at the moment.

Enforce parking.

Everyone I met was really rude and impatient. Obviously this happens to anyone in any field when they become irritated, but everyone there seemed like someone had just stolen their favorite candy bar; especially the cops, who frisked the shit out of me.

Find better ways of promoting activities and events to the student body.

Finish the construction and replant the trees to beautify the back end of the building - the view from the restaurant is dismal and a bit depressing.

Formal dances?

get better bands to play there? The Cribs are awesome.

Have a variety of food in the concessions stands have better events.

I also don't like the name change.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am waiting for events that are scheduled on Sundays or Mondays.

I cannot express enough how horrible parking is.

I can't think of anything at the moment.

I could not get into the UCCU center through the school while an event was going on. I had to go outside and around the whole building to the front to even get in. An alternate entrance would be nice.

I don't have any suggestions for this.
I don't know, I'm an online student

I don't like that the name was changed to the UCCU center. I think it should have stayed the Mckay events center.

I don't often go into the UCCU center, so I'm satisfied about current services.

I don't see much on campus to make me want to go to an activity there.

I hate when parking interrupts my ability to get to class on event days. It's a nuisance.

I have been really impressed.

I have no clue what this is, to be honest.

I just go to class.

I love all the space outside however since we are not suppose to walk on the grass I think that we should remove most of the lawn area and replace it with parking since we are in desperate need at that.

I LOVE that you have vending machines there - Thank you for that!

I once again think the food prices are to high.

I think everything's okay from what I see.

I think its all there

I think that the UCCU Center is great, however I think there could be more done to really identify that you are on UVU's campus. Such as a UVU statue outside the center, and more UVU signage throughout the concessions and hallways.

I think the electronic sign is too far over and I rarely see it and the events that are posted on it at the UCCU center as well as at the school.

I think the services are already quite exceptional.

I think when the show is started and there was place for more people on the floor, the guards should let people on the side sheet to come down to the floor. It is my opinion.

I thought getting frisked at the entrance to the dance at the beginning of the semester was a bit much.

I tried to buy tickets to an event a few times and the employee at the ticket counter was unhelpful and after a few attempts I decided not to attend the production.

I was going to go to the owl city concert here but it got moved, I hope the next one I get tickets for stays here.

I would have more choices for the concession.

I would love to attend a game or concert if I could afford it with the kids.

I'm hoping once the road construction is completed that a lot of the problems I've found when trying to enter the facility and finding/getting to parking will be addressed.

I'm not sure how this works, but it would be nice to have some other singers come, especially Latino/Spanish-speaking singers.

It seems that big events make parking difficult for evening students, which I am.
its a great place all around.

Its a nice place, just fill it with fans for sporting events. :)

it's all good

Its good

I've been to one Flash game and thought things were pretty good.

I've never been there, but I assume they're really great :)

Keep working. By the way, I do not like the ceiling.

Last December (2010) no one was answering the phone for ticket sales to Bar J Wranglers. Several calls were placed over the period of a week or so (during business hours), but the answering machine was the only response received. Not a good way to sell tickets (and not professional to not have someone answering the phone as advertised).

Make parking access easier for events and for free if an event is offered. They should also be close to the event as we are encouraging guest to attend events.

Make Restaurant Forte bigger. :)

Making handicap people and people with strollers go halfway around the building just to get in through a backdoor and a smelly elevator is ridiculous.

Maps or other guides would be helpful, although they may be putting some in soon.

Maybe have more than one entrance to an event. Shuffling everyone through a single pair of double doors takes FOREVER. If they maybe had 2 different entrances, then they could move the people faster, and there would be less frustration.

Maybe put in more bathrooms. I was directed to one that was essentially through hidden doors and upstairs

More concerts would be great.

More concerts! Only once or twice a year with a rock concert isn't near enough.

More entrances on the main level with signs pointing to them.

More events that are hosted in the Grand Ballroom should be hosted in the UCCU center. The size differential is huge, but crowds that go beyond 'standing room only' in the Ballroom could easily be accommodated in the UCCU center. And after all, it's not like the UCCU center is far from the main campus areas...

More food options for concessions would be nice!

more handicapped spots

more parking

more parking spaces.

More parking. When there are also classes going on, you have to park so far away.
More parking. Or at least let people know where they can or cannot park for different events. I had to park in free parking because I was not sure if I was able to park in the parking lot by the UCCU center because the ticket did not say, which made for a really long, and cold walk after the concert.

MOST OF MY GRIPES IS WITH PARKING. HOW ABOUT ON THE NORTH END OF THE LAB BUILDING NEXT TO THE OTHER HANDICAP PARKING CLOSEST TO THE DOORS AND LIBRARY MAKE THE WHOLE ISLE HANDICAP PARKING. YOU DON'T NEED TO MAKE THEM ALL VAN ACCESSIBLE. JUST TAKE THE REST OF THE ISLE AND CHANGE IT FOR HANDICAP PARKING. MOST PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES DON'T NEED IT VAN ACCESSIBLE. ALL THEY NEED IS TO BE CLOSER TO DOORS. WALKING MAYBE A LITTLE DIFFICULT BUT IT DOES BEAT COMING IN FROM THE BOONEYS. SNOW MAKES IT EXTREMELY HARD TO GET IN EXSPECIALY FOR THOSE OF US IN CHAIRS AND HAVE TO WHEEL IN FROM LONG DISTANCES.

Multiple entrances would be nice, though possibly not practical. Also a smoking section sort of door, with reentry allowed.

My main complaint comes from the structural design of the building itself, which really cannot be changed. I also have a complaint about the lack of elevators. So far, I have only found one set of elevators, on the east side of the building, which accesses the various levels of the building. It means that when I enter from the parking lot on the west I have to walk all the way around the building (and I have gotten lost before doing that from the second level) to get to an elevator. Because of disabilities I have, this is not an easy trek. This building is also a bit of a maze when trying to find your way from one side of the building to another. Referring back to SUU's Centrum, they have classrooms and offices around the perimeter of the building, with hallway between. If you are going down into the arena, you have straight access from one side of the building to another. It is open, it is useable, it is easily traversed.

Not really not sure

Nothing

Nothing new.....PARKING!

Nothing, keep up the good work!!

One of the main reasons that I do not always attend events at the UCCU center or other areas of the school is because of a lack of free parking. This is the first university I have visited where the parking is controlled until 10 PM. As a student often the fact that I may have to pay for parking if free lots are full is a major deterrent when deciding if I will go to an event.

outside grounds of UVU are always in immaculate condition. other than that i have never been to the UCCU center yet

Parking always sucks! I guess it's getting better with the new signs letting everyone know where everything is. But there could be a more updated online map letting visitors know where parking is and stuff. The construction on the grounds is a mood killer, but I'm hoping when it's finished it'll have the opposite effect. I like the online ticket purchasing, that's sweet.

PEP Rally's, better concession, better marketing for sporting events, how about a concert series like a 10 weekends straight of concerts.

Please continue to have events, etc.

Please stop blocking student parking for events at the centre during school hours. I have paid for that parking and I don't appreciate being forced to park far from campus.

Provide beer during concerts.

put an indoor track in there!

Quit taking up parking spaces, paid for by students, for events several times a semester. I understand a few exceptions, but it seems rather frequent that we are forced to park in the outer boonies because people attending an event at the UCCU center are parking everywhere...or start charging those people parking as well.

Respect for people with disabilities

Send a recap of events via text messaging or special email. Paper signage is usually a waste of time.

since all the parking lots say they are enforced from 7 am to 10 pm, with no mention of use for the UCCU center activities, people might hesitate to use the UCCU center because of the confusion and possibility of a ticket.

Sometimes the ticket prices are steep

Stop taking student parking for event parking.

The biggest problem is parking. Parking anywhere on UVU campus in general is a nightmare; here is no different. It is a nightmare trying to find a decent parking spot for any event that is even semi-packed, and it is even worse trying to get out of the parking lot after the event. Traffic gets congested really quickly. Also, I think that concessions shouldn't be as expensive as they are. The food is mediocre at best, and there isn't even a real concession stand, there are just little areas around the arena where you can buy stuff. The cost for students to attend events at the arena should be a lot cheaper also because it is our school, and we are the ones that bring in most of the business the center gets.

The concessions aren't the best, but that's my only complaint!

The directions to where to enter could be larger and brighter. also the ticket office is tough to navigate to if you are a first timer. Concessions should carry a wider variety of treats to accommodate more customers and more of a certain kind on stock so they don't run out. also opening up more then one will cut down on wait time. I missed an exciting part of a game because i chose to goto the concessions and had to wait in line.

The drawings are at least fun. Especially for health related coupons or gift cards.

The ease of entering the facility is low. How to purchase tickets and then get upstairs to the arena is very confusing. And the ticket counter employees offer nothing in the way of directions.

The only thing i would try and fix is that sometimes, there are pockets of cold air in the building, especially when the you are in there with very few games, not so much when you have say a big game in there with a lot of people, since by the time the game finish, you are nice and toasty warm.

The parking could be better, more informative.

The parking has gotten a lot better. The concessions could be a little more diverse.

the UCCU center is a stupid name. Not that McKay events center was any better. If I've learned anything from the popularity of Japanese game shows, it's that you should rename it 'super happy fun-time center'.

There have been times when there was no one at the ticket office (this was right before the game started) with no explanation as to whether we needed to pay or not. Also in the summer and during the fall right outside the ticket offices, the grass area is a swamp.I don't know if its from over watering or a busted sprinkler, but the problem did not rectify itself until they just recently turned of the water. Another issue outside is the American Flag that has seen better days. I find it disrespectful to fly a flag that looks like its been put through a shredder. It also needs to be spot lighted better. It looks like the intent to do so is there but the trees have grown to the point where they block most of the light.

This isn't a complaint about my parking to attend an event at the UCCU center, but the parking of those attending the UCCU events-- I think we students should be able to have the parking spots closest to the school, over those attending the events. For instance, last Saturday there was an event Saturday morning, and I have a class Saturday, and I wasn't the only one in my class complaining about the limited parking nearest to the school due to the event (normally it is fairly easy to find a pretty good parking spot on Saturday morning, but not when there's an event).

Two things First there should be a box office that doesn't require people to walk through the awkward staircases to get to their seats. It's not very professional or a good traffic flow. There should be ticket office that allows people to purchase tickets then immediately climb the outside stairs to enter the building. This would allow people to see the good side of the UCCU center rather than its underbelly. Second-the color lime green on the huge pipes must go. At least paint it a forest green. I know lime green was cool in the 80's. But lime green is only attractive now at a neon dance.

UCCU Center employees could have a better attitude.

We already paid a lot for the tickets, we are poor... let the parking be free.

We need more parking.
Well I haven't used it that much so it's hard to say.

When attempting to enter a high school wrestling event from the LA building, I had to walk all the way around the building to purchase a ticket.

When I have been there it's awesome.

yeah... haven't been there yet for one of your events

You need to expand and have better parking available

Hours are during my working hours.

i have tried this route every time i do they tell me we cannot get you in for at least week or more, and the office waiting room is completely empty, unless it comes from a recommendation then it is almost impossible to talk to anyone.

I actually went once when I was a freshman. The counselor I saw was Taige Bybee. I went because I had just found out my dad was having an affair and was devastated. When I told Taige why I was there and how hurt I was by my dad cheating on my mom, he replied 'We don't always have to talk about this you know.. Like next time we could talk about the boys you're dating.' I thought it was HIGHLY inappropriate and never went back. I sought counseling from an LCSW in Salt Lake.

I am a veteran so I can go through the VA

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am rarely at the main campus anymore. I don’t know the counselors.

I could definatly use this! I just don't know about it, though I would do my best to make time for this.

I don't feel like I have a mental health problem

I don't have a mental health problem

I don't have the money to pay it

I don’t know the qualifications of the counselors

I don't live in close enough.

I have been to see Lorraine Davis and I think she is arrogant, unprofessional and pushy. I don't have insurance so I have to continue to meet with her and I think the school needs to have another option of a Psychiatrist to go to.

I have my own counselor

I have no clue where it is

I have to maintain a job so that I can eat while in school and have a place to live

I know nothing about the program or where it is

I live in Colorado

I usually work during those office hours. It would cause too much stress to get there.

I work 2 jobs, so if counseling was offered only between 8-5 then I would never be able to attend and honestly, I could use some counseling. Rent trumps counseling and it's hard to find a counselor that will hold different hours other than 8-5.

I work during these hours

I work during those hours

I work full-time

I would full time and getting away is not always easy - this go again with my comment about non-traditional students

I wouldn't know where to go or who to contact if I needed it.

I'm in California

I'm just scared to go there. It's not for any rational reason, I just have never been to any kind of counseling.

I'm online and couldn't be in-person with most of UVU's staff I'm sure

Q.35

All of these if serious enough need to be dealt with in person

All or none of the above. Depends on the individual's need for someone to be physically present.

any if they were in the beginning stages. if progressed would need face to face

Any or none. It depends on the patient.

breach or compromise of computer security is big concern, I find it unsuitable

Depends on the individual depends on the person. the best way is to talk to the counselor.

Grief Counseling

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am unconvinced that online counseling is an effective substitute for face to face counseling.

I believe online counseling would be at least partially beneficial in all these areas.

I don't feel like I know enough about it to have an opinion either way.

I don't know

I don't know

I don't know enough about counseling to have an opinion.

I have no clue if it would work or not

I have no experience or knowledge to be able to answer that question.

I have no freaking idea
I really don’t think online counseling would be as efficient as in person
I think if it is a minor problem or a follow up after the main issues is mainly resolved
I think in person counseling would be much more beneficial
I wouldn’t know

possibly all of the above
Really? Porn and internet counseling seems like a paradox.
to let someone find out if they need counseling to stall someone from suicide but not to solve any problems video chat I’m sure would be affective for all of these but that will ALWAYS depend on individuals. Some will want to meet in person at a park sit behind a desk or whatever.
you are not going to solve mental problems online
Q.37

I believe it is important to have a personal connection with a counselor. Technology is disconnecting humanity, and adversely affecting personal interactions.
i believe strongly in face to face communication, I don't like the idea of online counseling
I do not believe that getting mental health help online would really help, to me i feel that face to face is the best way.
I do not feel that a computer can appropriately evaluate an individuals mental health, it is much easier to lie to a computer and not get caught than a trained professional.

I don't think mental counseling is something that you can do without real interaction, web cam or not.
I don't think online mental health would be benefital
I feel like online mental health counseling would be ineffective. You need to have a face to face in person contact for most counseling situations I think.
I just can't see where this format could work. It's so impersonal and communication gets lost in translation.
I just think face-to-face is better.
I think it would be difficult for it to feel adequate.
I think online is not interpersonal enough to attack some of these issues.
I think there needs to be personal contact whenever counseling is being provided i think with online counseling there should be an anonymity option, just chat e.g. This may help some who have issues with this.
I want to see someone face-to-face. Counseling requires a personal connection that can't be achieved over the computer.

I would much prefer a session in person instead of online.

I would never use online mental health counseling services.

I would think face-to-face counseling would be more beneficial than online.

I would want face-to-face interaction

If a person is going through a hard time, than the best way to treat it is face-to-face.

It isn't personal and wouldn't really help. Computers are not people and do not have the same effect as a face to face meeting does.

It makes it impersonal and creates a physical barrier between the therapist and client.

It seems impersonal, doesn't seem as if it would be effective.

It seems so impersonal, and it also seems like it would be easier to not face the real issues if I'm not in a physical space with the therapist

It would be very hard to read any type of body language

It would seem to me that if one were in a precarious situation, they would need an actual person face to face or on the phone to talk through the problem.

It's hard when it's not face to face interaction

it's less personal. I think a first visit's okay online, but counseling is most effective in person.

It's much easier for the patient to lie online than in person. Body language and facial expressions play a huge role in communication in counseling. It wouldn't be nearly as effective to have online counseling as to have in-person counseling.

too impersonal

Too impersonal over the computer

Too impersonal. I feel counseling needs to be in person one-on-one to be effective.

too unpersonal

unprofessional, irresponsible, lack of human contact/interaction

Very Impersonal and really does not sound effective when online, there is a lack of tone, like texting, how are you really going to be able to let someone know your real empathy or feeling when talking to someone. feelings are real and technology is not meant to be used that way.

wouldn't feel personal enough

You can't build a relationship with a computer. I would have severe trust issues being evaluated through a computer.

you can't see their body language/it would be difficult to genuinely understand & communicate

Well it was Behavioral Sciences w/Social Work but now it is Behavioral Sciences w/Sociology
Well it's kind of hard to explain but the short answer is Business.
A classroom situation where students interact with the professor and with each other, rather than just listening to a lecture.

A high level of interaction in the process of gaining academic knowledge

A high level of participation and involvement from both student and staff.

A learning style in which the faculty includes the students in the discussion or presentation rather than simply lecturing. The instructor challenges the students and attempts to elicit interaction.

A real effort provided by the professor and student to understand each other and the message being taught.

A steady communication between teacher and student.

A teacher not actually teaching. I agree with engaged learning in theory but never feel I benefit much from a teacher who gives me material I don't know and tells students to figure it out on their own without any instruction or introduction into the topic.

Absolutely nothing. However, it probably means that the person who wrote this question would want an answer like, 'I believe that students and teachers should engage together in the positive pursuit of knowledge and understanding' or some such nonsense. Frankly, I come to school to learn and adjust my learning techniques to fit whichever teacher I have so I don't care how I learn the material.

Absolutely nothing. It is some made up term that UVU is pushing on the students.

active and accountable for my own education. Involved.

Active and not Passive

Active hands on learning and debating.
Active in the discussions and more than just a lecture from a professor.
Active involvement in the education process.
active learning
Active learning
Active learning- being able to apply what you learn
Active learning on the part of the student. Interactive communication between students and instructors. Active participation.
Active learning so you are participating in discussions active learning, group learning, team learning, intimate, individualized Active learning, where the student takes an active role in their own education.
active learning.
active participation
Active participation and interest in learning, on the part of the student.
Active participation in my field as an extra-curricular: Hands-on experience
Active participation in the learning process as much as needed to produce excellent results.
Active.
actively being involved, hands on actively engaged in pursuit of learning
Actively having a role in your education and being excited about learning.
Actively involved
Active learning
Actively learning and being committed to your education.
Actively learning and changing and becoming better
Actively learning by doing. Instead of learning how to take tests, one learns about the subject matter.
Actively learning in class and being able to participate with peers.
Actively learning or taking ownership of your education.
Actively learning with others?
Actively learning.
Actively participating in class as well as outside class in order to fully understand the subject(s) you are currently taking.
actively participating in discussions and having the opportunity to have hands-on activities where we not only learn things, but apply them in real life settings.

actively participating in group activities in class.

actively participating in the classroom; taking an interest in one's own academic success.

actively participating in the learning process, not just listening to a teacher ramble for and hour.

actively participating in the learning process.

actively participating in the learning process.

actively participating in the process of applying knowledge in real life settings and expanding my understanding of the world.

actively participating in what your learning.

actively participating in your own learning actively seeking to learn and grow a knowledge base.

actively taking control of your education and the knowledge you gain or lack. Basically, being responsible for what you gain out of what is offered to you academically.

actively trying to take in the information available.

actively working and continually participating in learning and growing knowledge, progressing towards a degree.

activities to promote a deeper involvement in the areas you are learning/taking classes in. but having these be mandatory is not good.

actively learning your courses through labs, field work, etc.

actually applying the concepts learned in class to real problems and solving them.

actually being a part of learning. Doing your part to make sure you actually learn from your class.

actually doing your major while in school instead of just learning theory.

actually getting hands on experience in a class, not just being presented the theory.

actually getting involved. Not just sitting through a lecture.

actually wanting to learn and doing your best to extract everything you can from each class actually wanting to learn something. See, right now I am in Disengaged learning, I could give a crap about English, Math, or my silly Humanities class that I am guessing is there to make me more cultured. These are all required courses though. My hand is being forced. This is just how going to college works so I'll stop complaining.

actually working the trade that you are studying.

allowing the student to become fully invested in what they are learning. This can happen through a number of different ways depending on your major. It can include trips, interacting with professors on a more intensive project related to your major, etc.
Allowing the student to experience research as an undergrad. I learned more from those experiences as an undergrad than just about anything else.

An approach that integrates book/classwork with real world experience.

An individual taking an active role in their education.

An interesting course with a qualified instructor

An overused buzzword circling the campus analytical problem solving and group learning

Anything that requires the student to be engaged, to interact.

Applied learning. Learning a skill while using the skill. For example, I took a chemistry lab and didn't learn much. The last several months I have been working on research with Dr. Bernart in Organic Chemistry research. I have learned exponentially more in Dr. Bernart's lab than in the normal chemistry lab. This is engaged learning, actually applying the skills I plan do use. Engaged learning is not just class work, but learning through doing.

Applied studies.

applying learned in class knowledge

Applying things we will do in our fields of work, right now, in the classroom.

Applying what you are learning. Either by taking a class that allows you to use what you have learned in the form of a project, an internship, or just case studies in class. Engaged, to me means being involved with the class not just listening to a professor speak for an hour but actually having an active engaged discussion with the professor and class.

applying what you have/are learning to real-life applications which not only benefit you but also the community applying what you learn

Applying yourself in every way possible to understand fully the courses that you are taking especially ones that are related to your major.

be 100 percent learning, and committed in everything I learn and do

Be committed with what you are learning

Be involved

Be prepared to enter the workforce with real world experience and networking

Be responsible with all the matters at school  Attending every single class  Doing all homeworks

Becoming involved in what you are learning. Not just reading the book.

being a part of learning, interacting with the class.

Being a part of the class room and putting in your opinions about what you are learning.

Being a part of the education experience with the university being a part of the learning process, encluded

Being able to apply the things you have learned in the classroom.

being able to be up and doing activities and not just sitting in a classroom

Being able to have work experience in the field you're interested in.

Being able to learn in a positive environment from professors who love what they do and want to help students succeed. Students and teachers must engage and collaborate in learning.

Being able to participate in your education. It means being hands-on and not just listening to someone talk about their experiences.

Being able to relate to what I am learning, and a hands-on learning environment.

Being able to relate to what you are learning through active learning.

Being absorbed into the learning process so it's both interesting and easier to learn

Being active being active in campus life, being active in my classes, etc.

Being active in class discussions. Read required texts, accomplish homework with the intentions to learn. Apply myself in the learning situation and be hands-on.

Being active in my own education

Being active in our own learning experience.

Being Active in what you are doing, whether it is just doing your homework, doing some at your job or what ever you might be working on, to just be engage with it, so that you eventually complete it and in some cases learn something.

Being active in your classes and school.

being active in your education and seeking knowledge through your own efforts and in coordination with your professor.

Being active with the learning process and being able to apply what you know to real work issues.

Being actively engaged in learning means to take hold of the course material and thoroughly study it out. It isn't enough to gloss over the material, but to actually devote time to learning. In high school, A's were pretty easy to come by, in college, you get what you put into a class.

Being actively involved in your education and classes and being able to adequately use them in real life.

Being actively involved in attaining useful knowledge

Being actively involved in each class, where you are getting to know others in the class and the teacher.

Being actively involved in your learning. Hands on learning.

being an active part of your education/the learning process

Being an active participant and having interactive classes in which the student is involved in the course outline and in which the student participates on an active basis and is not just a fixture to whom the teacher lectures but is someone with whom the teacher interacts.
Being an active participant in learning

Being an active participant in the learning process - including inclass participation as well as out of class completion of assignments and readings

Being an active participant.

being apart of the learning process

Being committed to your education and going outside of the classroom to apply the academic theories that you are learning in real world situations. EX: Doing internships that apply to your major.

being completely connected in every way

Being engaged in class as well as outside of class. Applying those things you learn in class to real life experiences. Engaged learning also entails presentations, group work, and service/internship opportunities.

Being Engaged in the community means working on real life problems instead of imaginary ones. Being engaged means taking responsibility for your own learning and applying yourself rather than passively expecting to be taught everything with minimal effort.

Being engaged in what you’re learning.

Being engaged in your learning. Being involved not going inside school, but outside as well and trying to get the best out of the education being provided to you.

being engaged in your learning?

Being engaged with people while i learn.

Being evolved in learning

Being focused and really trying hard to understand the material.

Being fully immersed in the education you are receiving.

Being fully learning and taking the opportunity to learn.

Being fully vested in learning. Being engaged means that you are on the edge of your seat with note paper and pen in hand eager to learn. Mind is free from distraction

Being immersed in the lesson and being involved

Being in the classroom having discussions with teachers and other students.

Being interested and engulfed into the course

Being interested and fully attentive to the lesson - you want to and are excited to know more.

Being interested and involved in what I'm trying to learn.

being interested in what you are doing, or a more hands on approach. This survey is a poor example of being engaged.

Being into and involved with what you’re learning

Being involved
being involved

Being involved and apart of the resources UVU has to offer.

Being involved and having more hands on education.

Being involved and not just getting all the facts, but synthesizing it and using that information.

being involved and proactive in my own education, seeking opportunities to apply what I am learning

Being involved and really studying hard to get the most out of my education.

Being involved as you learn.

Being involved in activities on campus and doing everything you can to participate on campus events.

being involved in all your classes and with other students.

Being involved in classroom discussions, participating, and caring. Education should not be waiting for someone to fill your head with knowledge but seeking for knowledge yourself

Being involved in learning interacting with teachers and other students.

Being involved in learning.

being involved in more than your classes and having a pride in your school.

Being involved in my education process

Being involved in my education, and being involved as much as possible in the industry as well.

Being involved in one’s learning.

Being involved in order to further your learning.

BEING INVOLVED IN THE CURRICULUM

Being involved in the discipline as well as just learning about it.

Being Involved in the learning process

Being involved in the learning process.

Being involved in the learning process.

Being involved in the learning process.

Being involved in the learning process. Actively Engaged in my education and to have the resources to do so.

Being involved in the learning process. Actively taking part in your learning experience.

Being involved in the learning process. Being interested in the topic. Both the instructor and the students are interested and participating in the learning process. Team work Being involved in the learning process. Hands on.

Being involved in the learning, not just sitting and listening to the lectures of professors.

Being involved in your school community. Attending debates, talks and activities on campus. Applied what you learn in class

Being involved in your field of study, getting hands-on experience.

Being involved in your learning because the subject material is being presented in an enjoyable and relate-able manner.

Being involved while getting and education

Being involved with the actual field of study in the field, not just in the classroom.

Being involved with your learning

Being involved, and invested.

Being involved, hands on learning. Seeing the why or the application of what I am learning to real life

Being involved, hands on.

being involved.

being involved. Proactively participating in your educational pursuits such as student government, athletics, service etc.

Being on top of your studies and trying hard. Also being taught hands on I suppose being part of the program. not just letting the instructors talk the entire time, actually engaging in the discussion.

Being present in class and integrating new material effectively.

Being proactive and capable of asking/receiving answers without humiliation.

Being proactive and showing initiative in education and not just doing what is required to get by.

being focused on your learning

Beyond the scope of just being there.

Both the educator and the educated are fully submerging themselves in the experience.

Both the student and the teacher are working together towards the goal of providing an education, not a bell curve grade. Both students and teachers should expect themselves and each other to put in the necessary work for the course. Engaged learning is gaining an education, not cramming for a test.

caring about what you are being taught. Being interested in your classes and the subjects you are taking ‘Checking In’. Taking what is presented and incorporating it into my life, my ideas and my approach to everyone and everything. Recognizing that what a professor (or fellow student) suggests are merely STARTING POINTS for what I want to learn.

Classroom participation. The instructor facilitates a positive environment for learning that involves the students active participation, e.g in class discussions.
Classrooms that invite a spirit of open dialogue. Active discussion and higher level of engagement between the student and the subject.

close knit learning environment commitment to learning.

Compromise

concentrating myself into what I am leaning at the time.

Constintly learning.

continually involved in learning

Dedicating yourself to learn something. Be responsible with what you are learning and take it to heart. Take the time to find out everything that you can about a specific topic and continue to participate fully in classes, and in other learning areas.

Dedication to your learning.

doing

Doing activities rather than listening to lectures.

Doing more than sitting in a classroom learning. Taking what I learn into the world and doing something with it.

Doing more then just reading a text book or listening to a lecture. Have a learning experience that involves you the learning getting hands on participation.

Doing not just learning. I wouldn't say that I have really experience much of that except for one or two things in general ed classes that required like a couple hours of service. I don't really know what UVU means by that.

doing our part while the teacher does theirs.

Doing something to help you learn

Doing, not just learning, but doing what you learn. Hands on.

Doing, not just sitting in a room listening to a lecture, but doing as it relates to the respective field engage learning to me, means being proactive in whatever you are learning. Taking a subject and finding out all you can to learn about it.

Education outside of the classroom or just only learning the theory.

Engage to me is giving me the ability to learn principals / concepts in my major by actually doing them. Instead of reading about it in a text book instructors show me. I am given real world examples and thus it makes my education relevant and provides me value. So much of the educational system seems to be busy work. I just need to show up put in my time and get my degree but what did I really learn, nothing. Engage learning gives me value.
Engaged learning besides, meaning being physically active in the learning process, means that you as a student determine how you will learn and what you will learn to a greater degree than other non-engaged students.

Engaged learning in my opinion means that is participatory learning, that is in group.

Engaged learning involves the professor setting expectations for the students and themselves. Keeping class open to new ideas and experiences. Challenging students to look at the world in new ways, working with other students and the professor inside and outside of class.

Engaged learning is a hands on experience that allows students and teachers the ability to prepare students for the professional world, no matter how they will interact with it once they are done with their education. It gives students real world experience so that they are able to know what they are going to do once they leave.

Engaged learning is active and involved. It means discussion and hands-on learning. It means group participation, and an environment that enables students to feel comfortable doing all this.

Engaged learning is active learning. It means that the instructors don't just lecture, and you don't just learn from the book. It is hands on experience, and learning by asking questions.

Engaged learning is actual learning. It means I am involved in what I am learning. If it is in class, I am focused, I am participating, I am actually learning something. Engaged means to me committed or busy, so if I am a part of engaged learning, I am committed to learning something, I am actively learning.

Engaged learning is being able to take the lessons provided in class and applying it to your life. You are able to take this information and share it with others to not only better yourself but your community as well.

Engaged learning is having the professor and student both very interactive in the student's learning of new information.

Engaged Learning is not only going to class but participating and doing everything possible to learn and apply the subject matter. Using what is learned to better one's life.

Engaged learning is the process in which students actively participate in their learning. Students are involved, beginning on the first day, in the decision making of the course of their study.

Engaged learning is using the skills we learn in the classroom and applying them to real world situations that improve our portfolio and chances of success.

Engaged learning is when both the teachers, and students are engaged in both roles of teaching and learning.

Engaged learning is when you are actively participating in class, homework, projects, and out in the real world, not just in the classroom.

Engaged learning means- allows all the students to participate in activities.

Engaged learning means being an active participant in my academic career. It means that I show up ready and focused on the task at hand and put in all that I have with the expected result of receiving all that I need from my professors and other classmates. It ultimately means, to me, being invested in the learning process so I can receive the dividends of my education.

Engaged learning means being an active participant in the learning process.

Engaged learning means being hands on in the classroom and during personal study. Also being actively involved in your own education as well as teachers doing the same.

"Engaged learning" means doing; doing what I'm learning, learning from mistakes, and doing better.
Engaged Learning means that a student is engaged in what is being taught to them in school by their teacher. It means that the teacher conducts the class in such a manner that the student feels like it's worth the time and effort to do the assignments and that the teacher cares about them being able to use the information in the future. Engaged Learning means that the student wants to come to school, that they want to learn, that they want to participate.

Engaged learning means that students are actively involved in their academic activities and classes.

Engaged learning means that the class and the teacher have a give and take. It means that the instructor sets up the class in a way that they pose questions or ideas, and then have the class figure out things or have discussions. It doesn't mean the teacher lectures the whole time and the students just try and stay awake.

Engaged learning means that the courses I take help me to become not only knowledgeable about the subject, but passionate. This passion will, in turn, drive me to want to complete assignments, not just do them because I have to. Engaged learning is being fully invested.

Engaged learning means that the learning is done through many different forms rather than just lectures. It means that the learning is fun and exciting for the student, and engages them in their learning. It means going outside of the norm to learn about the subject from real life examples.

Engaged learning means that the professor tries his or her best to make the students realize why they are learning the material that they are learning and how it can apply in their daily lives.

Engaged learning means that you are involved in class and you are stepping in and learning everything you need to know to get a good education.

Engaged learning means that you are participating in learning instead of just sitting around doing nothing.

'Engaged learning' means to learn, apply, talk, etc about the things that I learn in school, personal experiences, and all variety of events that are happening in my life. It is to enjoy what I learn and love what I do. It means to never stop learning and take advantage of the knowledge I can get at school.

Engaged learning means understanding the meaning of the knowledge I am receiving amid the work that is necessary. Feeling like I am pursuing a treasure, with others who are looking for their treasure with a passion.

Engaged learning means your in-tune and you don't just go to class, when your in class, your paying attention and your participating Engaged learning probably means to take an active part in your educational experience. OR I could be a hands on type of learning experience.

Engaged learning should be meaningful, purposeful, and relevant to the in-class learning. Too many professors want their class to look 'engaged' but the 'engaged' parts of the class are irrelevant to the class material and only provides extra workload for the class. There should be incentives for 'engaged learning' to encourage, but not force, participation. Forced 'engaged learning,' such as being required for the grade of the class, doesn't really do much for helping students become active in the learning process. So for me, 'engaged learning', while it's a good idea, means extra workload, often irrelevant to class material, just so the instructor can please administration by showing their class is 'engaged.'

Engaged learning to me is that you want to learn and put your best foot forward to learn, and are willing to overcome the challenge that may come your way with learning.

Engaged learning to me is, an education where I take what I am learning in the classroom and apply it to a work setting either through an internship or a job that I found through the Career service center. It is not just memorizing academic materials to be forgotten in a year.
Engaged learning to me means having to participate in certain activities in order to grow your understanding and knowledge of certain subjects.

Engaged learning to me means not just classroom learning but having opportunities available outside to apply my learning. It involves the internet, and other resources to better help me learn the subject. I see all aspects of the subject.

Engaged learning to me means that the instructor allows for discussion during all classes. Including History, which doesn't seem to be happening. History is usually just a lecture and homework. Which doesn't fit my learning type.

Engaged learning to me means that you are intrigued in what you're learning. You want to attend a class because you like it. You engage in the class, and you are apart of the discussions.

Engaged learning would be mean you are actively learning, or engaged in the learning process. An example of such would be coming to class prepared having completed the homework and read the text prior to class in stead of just prior to the test. It reminds me of BYUi's 'Learning Model.' *this is just a guess at which I have only theorized its meaning by the words used in the quotations.

Engaged learning, for me, means an educational environment that encourages me to put the things I am learning into action--to let them change me, change the course of my life and most importantly, to give me the skills necessary to make meaningful and positive contributions to the world now, not just after I graduate.

Engaged learning, to me, means that students are engaged in their learning experience at UVU by participating in class discussions and sharing knowledge and opinions outside of class with other students and teachers as well as attending UVU events.

Engaged means kept busy.

Engaged, to me, represents taking an active role in learning. Rather than just going to school to graduate, engaging means taking a personal interest and applying knowledge.

Engaging yourself in the course. Not only being there physically, but also mentally. Really getting into the work and actively participating.

Engaging yourself in the process of your education.

Engaged Learning to me means that you are very interested in learning something.

Every single students can participate in their learning.

Everyone is involved, teachers, students, no one is really left out, and teachers are willing to work with you.

Experiencing WHY I am learning from this text book. A theory is nice -- but how does it apply?? I feel a teacher can do that by using good examples and projects, but they can also do it without outside class experience. The Portuguese, and Legal departments are extremely good at this.

Experiential

Feedback

Finding ways to be not only involved in the class but with activities that involve that class or your major.

first hand, hands on focused on learning

Focusing on what is being taught, not just sitting there and doing nothing else. Taking good notes, even multiple notes so you have a way of seeing what you've learned differently in case test questions are asked in different ways than just the one way you've studied. Asking questions, meeting with the professors if you're not understanding the material. Reading the texts, participating in class discussions, and forming study groups.

For me engaged learning means to be interactive with your studies. This can be done by a variety of methods, including personal communication with in-class instruction, online interaction via chat, and or other methods that will get a student to think critically.

For me it's a joint effort from the students and teachers. You are both working to make a class interesting to take more away from it. You do all you can to learn the subjects to the best of your ability.

For me, the ‘engaged learning’ is something evident in everything that's UVU. It definitely takes a willing student to engage, but when the student is willing, the possibilities are nearly endless. Every department hosts many activities which cater to an enormous variety of interests, and the extra curricular activities are boundless. Every UVU student can spend their time critically engaging their interests and their discipline through the majors, facilities, and activities UVU offers. That's what engaged learning means to me.

fully invested into what your learning

Fully participating in class and taking an active interest in both subject matter and success in the class.

GET INVOLVED

Get Married at school.

Getting an education from actual experiences and not just from textbooks.

Getting hands-on experience to prepare us to enter the workforce.

Getting involved in the college life. Having real experience with your major, not just classroom lectures.

Getting involved in the learning. Not just sitting in class and learning. Doing something in the field.

Getting involved with the things your learning. Or learning something and then doing it.

Getting involved! Doing more then just showing up!

Getting involved. Actively seeking an education.

Getting involved. Speak up in your classes, talk to your professor's, ask question's, get it on your personal level and make it relevant to real life.

Getting out into the community and applying my knowledge. Doing something useful with the things I am learning, or experiencing things I've learned about first-hand.

Getting students involved in activities besides just sitting in a classroom listening to a lecture. Being involved in activities that help you learn in more creative ways.

Getting to know your professors on a personal level, getting involved in research opportunities, and hands-on learning experiences directly related to your field of study.

go to class to learn, not just to get a grade

Going full steam and learn about the subject
Good question. Substantive interaction between professor and students(s)in/with multiple mediums.

hands on experience not just listing to the drown of a teacher lecture ing using the whole brain to learn not just part of it.

hands on learning experiences hands On learning where the students are active in the learning process.

Hands on learning where the teacher gets students to actively participate in discussions and or learning activities.

hands on learning, outside of the classroom setting. Actually 'engaged' in doing what you are learning instead of just hearing about the subject hands on learning, where I can ask questions and get feedback from classmates and professors, where I have lots of resources to look to for assistance

Hands on learning.

hands on learning. being an active participant in your own learning.

Hands on learning... Learn, practice, revise, practice.

Hands on or actively learning rather than lecture and book-study.

Hands on, interactive learning.

hands on, realistic, not just book learning, academics or computer simulators

Hands on, which UVU is pretty good at, but with high student population and low budgets most of my classes are not engaged because there are 27 other students trying to be hands on too.

Hands on.
Hands on...and caring Instructor who care about their students. Alot of resources to help students succeeded.

Hands-on experience in different areas, executed in a way that interests the student and makes a meaningful impact.

Hands-on experience that is pertinent to your field of study. For example, as a BESC major, I love volunteering at the various conferences/symposiums put on at UVU.

Hands-on experience with the curriculum being taught.

Hands-on experiences that help you in your chosen field.

Hands-on learning by doing.

Hands-on learning, not just listening to or watching an instructor but actually doing it yourself with the assistance of the instructor so that you will know that you can do it and understanding how it is done.

Hands-on learning.

Having a desire to learn something and then going out and actually do what is needed to learn it.

Having a good education experience. Being able to get help for the courses that you are taking.

Having a teacher that provides an environment where students can actively learn in a classroom.

Having an active role with interaction from you, your class, and instructor.

Having an environment where I can feel like I’m going to succeed and the efforts I am putting in are going to give me a quantifiable path to my future goals.

Having an interactive course or activity that requires you to fully participate and be involved in the material or activity.

Having classes that are really hands on with professors that care about you individually, and are concerned with not only your grade, but if you actually understand the material.

Having the opportunity to participate in activities and events relevant to the courses I am taking outside of the classroom environment. Gaining real world experience along with classroom experience.

Having the students problem solve and try to learn for themselves rather than the teacher just giving the answers. To me, it also means students teaching each other through different activities such as presentations, group work, and service projects.

Help out the community while learning the concepts in class and applying them.

hmmmm.

Honestly I have no idea what it means.

Honestly nothing. It seems to be a catch phrase that I feel has hardly impacted my education at all. I don't even know what it means. Shouldn't it mean that my classroom education is supplement by opportunities to apply what I'm learning in real-world settings?

I am involved in my learning and doing my part in the class to get my knowledge.

I am not really sure, it sounds nice. I like your slogan 'Graduate with a Degree and a Resume'.
I am not sure what it really is. If I had to guess, I would say it is learning activities. It is not just sitting in a lecture and taking notes.

I am practicing 'engaged learning' in my culinary program. I am studying textbooks, learning from lecture and then I am given massive amounts of direct, hands-on experience to cement my learning. I am cooking for events, I am serving at events, I am setting tables, doing dishes, prepping, and so much more. I am talking to fellow professionals; I am interacting with peers; I am reading industry publications; I am being prepared for an internship, and more. My learning is very engaged and I am being immersed in my new profession.

I am uncertain.

I assume it means keep the student involved and WANTING to learn.

I believe it has to do with presenting material in such a way that a student can be hands on and apply it in a practical manner.

I don't know what that is.

I feel 'engaged learning' is when I/we as the students actively participate in the learning process. It is when there is a lot of conversation and practical application of the material that is being covered in the class. Not just read and Listen to lecture but become a part of the lesson.

I get something out of it. Not just memorized ideas for a test.

I guess it would be like hands on learning.

I have heard and seen it all over campus, but I am not sure I know a concrete, official definition. I think it has something to do with having access to the teacher, and participating in the teaching process. I love the access to the professor. I feel that almost all professors (Lynn Bennett excluded) care about their students and their success. They are friendly and willing to help (again, excluding Lynn Bennett). As far as the profuse practice of having students teach, or lengthy in-class discussion from the students I find irritating. I am paying thousands of dollars to learn from the professors, men and women who have studied the subject for years. I do not want to hear the uneducated opinions of my peers. We don't know about the subject, which is why we are in the class. Having class discussions among students I find fruitless and totally without value. I really, really dislike this. Most of my peers I find moronic, and I just wish the discussion would end so we can learn again.

I have never heard of this phrase. Sounds like a throwaway phrase that an employer or motivational speaker would use to herd the hive-minded sheep students into believing that their education is of a high standard- and that the faculty care about them.

I have no idea... I haven't had the time to think about it. But I would assume that it means being invested in what you are learning.

I have personally never like the phrase. Sounds like its supposed to appeal to the Mormon students, and not all of us are mormon. It should be changed to something that all of us can appreciate, not just one specific group of people.

I know a lot of my classes have tried incorporating a lot of team and group work so we can learn things better. I'm not exactly sure what engaged learning means, but this is my best explanation of it!
I read the textbook ahead of time and participate in class

I suppose it could mean actively participating in classes (ie, participating in discussions)

I think 'engaged learning' means actively participating in your learning experience.

I think it means learning that is personally meaningful to the student and the teacher; and that subjects are studied more comprehensively.

I think it means putting all your effort in to learning the classes you are taking.

I think it means taking concepts and using them how they would be used in the real world or similar situations. It's applied and hands-on learning.

I think it means to be actively involved in learning to the point of remembering long term what you learn.

I think it means to be using all of your senses to learn and to really do active listening.

I think that it means we learn things not only as a knowledge but also we practice in field.

I think think that learning and engaged learning should be the same thing. If learning isn't engaging it really isn't learning, is it?

I thought it meant being engaged in the classroom and the community, and not just the local community, but the world community as well. But, then I learned that it means that the school will encourage engaged learning if the cost is low enough. Sending the Wind Ensemble to the 2012 Olympics in London would have been a shining example of engaged learning, and something the school could have used for both PR and recruiting. So I guess it means 'wasting opportunities that could have had a positive impact on the school, and would have been a life-changing opportunity to a lot of students'.

I would assume engaged learning means not just learning things from the book but learning through experience.

I would assume it would really on heavy student/teacher interaction rather than simply lecture based.

I would guess that it means that me the student is participating in and outside of the classroom. As well as the professor, he/she is 'engaged' with the class.

If you're looking for my answer in response to campus marketing, I don't know. What it means to me personally is to be a proactive, committed participant in my own education.

I'm going to learn

I'm not sure I have heard the term used before. But I have heard of trying to engage students and I understand it to mean trying to get their attention, interest, and interaction.

I'm not sure what it means. Probably that every student is involved and that everyone is striving to provide the best quality education.

I'm not sure... something along the lines of learning that would challenge the student to apply what they learn in the world as they learn it?

immersion into the programs you are taking. Dedicating time and resources to learn the objective.

In my opinion, 'engaged learning' means to share a connection of undivided attention with the instructor. I feel encouraged, confident and eager to apply my new knowledge.
interacting with what you are learning about

Interaction between the professor and the student. Actively trying problems out that apply to the real world.

Interactive

interactive learning between the student and the teacher. Interesting and valid studies that will help the student in the long run.

interactive learning for students and faculty.

Interactive learning. Smaller class sizes. Actual application, hands on stuff.

interactive learning.. less lectures more interaction with the students

Interactive.

Interest in subject / homework / in class work. Desire to participate.

internships

'Into learning' 'enjoy it' ect... ect...

Involve students beyond the classroom and prepare them for jobs with experience in and out of the classroom to help students succeed.

Involved

Involved learning

Involved learning

involved with the student were they are participating in the learning process

Involved, hands-on learning that better prepares you for what working in the real world will be like.

involvement

It goes beyond a level of passive participation. It requires two parties at least. And essential interaction between the student, the teachers, the class and eventually the world around them. The relationship is symbiotic. Each party gives and takes to expand their knowledge and understanding. It is an active process of acquiring skills and applying those skills to your world.

It is an interactive process, where you take lectures, readings, and application of the materials covered in the classroom, and blend them all together. During lectures you feel that you are part of them and contribute to the class, rather than just sitting back and listening to the professor for hours. The readings are pertinent to class room, lecture, and life, rather than some abstract idea which you will only need for the test.

It is doing more than just sitting in a classroom with a text book and a teacher that doesn't know anything. Engaged learning, to me, is more hands on. Its more of an involved discussion. It is more. It is also what I feel my education is currently at UVU.

It is my involvement in my studies. It is very creative.

It is too busy to have no time to do other things.
It means actively participating in class, following along and understanding the material.
It means actually doing what your learning.

It means after learning a lesson from class, do some practice exercises or read it about the book. Then think about how it might benefit me in everyday life, and apply it. Engaged learning also means ask questions and research. Prioritizing classes and homework over other activities demonstrates my overall interest is to learn. Help others obtain an interest towards learning also shows engagement since the person's focus is entirely in learning (their time, mind, and actions).

It means an on-hands, in-depth education.

It means being a scholar.

It means being actively involved in obtaining an education.

It means being actively involved in the learning process through hands on type activities and not just a lecture setting

It means being an active participant in the learning process, not simply taking notes from a professor's lecture. This process requires a professor who is willing to work with students to encourage this environment. That type of professor is sadly lacking here at UVU.

It means being engaged in the classroom and also outside of class.

It mean's being serious about your schooling. Going to class, using study time wisely to get the most out of your education and ensuring you are obtaining the grades you deserve. Acting on your work, not just getting by with a C.

It means caring enough about the learning process to connect yourself to the movement going on around you.

It means getting fed back from my professors to see if i am doing great in a class or need to improve my studying skills.

It means hands on learning, learning that I am a part of. Teaching beyond lecturing.

It means hands on learning. Not just reading textbooks, hearing lectures and being tested. But learning techniques by doing. Getting out in the field a little.

It means having a well-rounded education that includes real world experience. It also means having professors who can relate and work with their students. Engaged learning means understanding that education is not just a means to an end.

It means having successful experiences with internships, volunteering, work study, senior research projects etc.

It means I can apply the subject i'm leaning to my life. school isn't about getting a job, it's about becoming inspired to change the future and make it brighter for ourselves and younger generations. it's about getting new ideas and putting them out there. engaged learning should be about learning of your passion - and learning about how your passion (whether it is philosophy, engineering, mathematics, humanities, medical, dance, or anything!) is in the world and how it applies to the human race. engaged learning is about inspiring learning in my opinion. if i'm engaged about learning the teacher won't have to teach me because I'll teach myself, the teach will inspire me and further my learning.

It means learning in a way that is much more 'hands-on' with subjects/topics that are applicable to real life.

It means learning in an interactive, hands on kind of a way.
It means learning to gain knowledge and caring about your education, not simply doing work to earn grades.

it means more than just sitting in a class room listening to lectures. it means going out and using the information I'm learning to better my education. it means 'hands on' learning.

It means not just hearing about the information, but actually learning by experiencing something.

It means not just passively attending classes and trying not to fail--it means actively participating, trying to get the most out of my time in class, and seeking as much feedback I can get from professors. It means internships and relevant classes that talk about current social/industry issues so I am prepared to not only excel in my field, but be prepared to contribute to society WHILE in school and after.

It means nothing to me. I know it is something campaign the university is pushing.

It means participating in the classroom and outside the classroom.

it means students are actually learning things, not just plug and chug, memorize and produce. I don't believe UVU does this very well, but it's an ok slogan for the idealistic goal.

It means taking an active role in learning and excelling, by putting in more than just minimal effort in classes.

It means taking an active role in the education learning process and versing myself in what is needed to achieve my goals in education.

It means taking control of my education and involving myself with the material.

It means taking what is learned in class and expanding that to yourself and using it for your benefit to further knowledge. To take the basics of class and learn more on your own.

It means teachers teach people, not lessons. It also means that a student should not walk into class and expect to learn without doing anything, or giving effort.

It means that 1)instructors are very accessible, 2)that the university and community cooperate to provide the student with a holistic education, no matter what major, it means that a portion of the work is a student teaching himself through out of class work through application and through in class participation, not engaged is the professor lecturing for an hour and then assigning homework.

It means that a student is not being simply given knowledge, they are expected and happy to demonstrate how to use it in the world around them.

It means that I am able to interact with the class. To be a part of the learnign process and get a hands on experience with the course.

It means that I'm focused on the class and that I'm not just listening but understanding and retaining the information. Also that I participate in class discussions, and I make the most of each class.

it means that in addition to the traditional class lectures you will have projects and instructors who help implement concepts for future use and resume building.

It means that we are not only involved in our own education in that we take the initiative to actually do the homework and learn but that we also have a very involved role in UVU as a school, a miniature community, and a thriving place of social interactions.

It means that we have learning experiences along with academic learning.
It means that we learn something new that we don't know what is it and we never stop learn something. We get to learn to gain knowledges, abilities, and skills to use for job, home, and many more.

It means that you are actively participating in the learning process.

It means that you are working hard on your education. That you are getting involved and participating in your learning.

It means that you don't just show up, attend classes and do your homework. It means getting involved, participating, and becoming part of the experience at UVU. Joining clubs, doing internships, helping professors, interacting with peers etc.

It means that you will committed 100 percent of your time

It means there is much thought and effort going into the learning rather than just going through the motions.

It means you are actively working to learn the subject material. It's not just lectures and books: it involves meaningful activities that teach us how to explore and learn.

It's means your not sitting back relaxed having information spat at you that you regurgitate back. Its having a personal involvement in the learning process and the learning is practical information.

Its more interactive than lectures

Its when you go out and actually see what you are learning about in the actual career.

Its where you can come and learn or just stay at home but whatever you do you are engaged in your learning experience.

Learning by doing

Learning by doing

Learn by doing.

Learning about how to get married? HAHAHAHA maybe like more active learning, rather than just listening to a lecture. Learning hands-on, learning from an expert who has a passion for what they do, and sharing that passion with you. Learning about something you're passionate about.

Learning and doing service and interacting with the jobs we would be doing

Learning and doing. Seeing real world application of conveyed knowledge. Graduating with a diploma and a resume.

Learning by actually doing things, not just having your head buried in your text books.

Learning by applying the lesson through activity or project, not simply textbook reading.

Learning by doing

learning by doing

Learning by doing and experiencing.

Learning by doing and participating in class activities
Learning by doing, for example if I were studying geology I would want to go up Provo Canyon or go to Capitol Reef and stay at the Field Station there. Or, since I am going into gaming and animation access to the Cintiq lab, and project driven course work like you would find in the industry itself. Less lecture and more hands on experience.

Learning by doing, not simply being lectured and then tested in the testing center.

learning by doing, or learning by assisting in doing.

Learning by doing, taking the learning out of the classroom.

Learning by doing.

Learning by doing.

Learning by doing. Being passionate and interested in your courses, and getting involved in the learning experience.

Learning by doing. Engaged learning to me isn't just simply sitting down and listening to the teachers. It is really getting out there and learning-hands on and not only powerpoints.

Learning by doing. Learning alongside others. Not just taught but mentored. Creating a Network of students in your field of study.

Learning by doing. Not sitting in a classroom with a Ph.D. babbling about a topic that they know lots of stuff about. I believe it includes Experiential Education and any other type of learning that is hands on.

Learning by doing. Participating with classmates and the community in projects that give me 'hands on' experience.

learning by experience.

Learning by seeing, hearing, and doing. Being active in the learning process. Interacting with your professor and guest speakers.

Learning for pragmatic purposes later in life. This would mean no theoretical classes that have nothing to do with anything (I haven’t seen any yet). However, this should also mean setting up departmental meetings with graduate schools and such. I also still haven’t seen that for the English Department.

Learning from an experienced professional Learning in a classroom, and doing more than just lectures. Doing more hands on things.

Learning in an interactive and brain-teasing way.

Learning in such a way that keeps you involved, and not just 'talked at'. It requires participation in the discussions and activities, and help us apply the material to real life.

Learning in the classroom as well as outside the classroom.

Learning in which all students take active part.

Learning in which students and teachers are interacting together and encouraging growth & learning outside of the classroom.
Learning in which you get to participate and be a part or be engaged.

Learning new things that are pertinent to the class curriculum and to life outside of the classroom. If I'm in a class and the teacher has assigned something that does not really connect to anything that I can see from the class curriculum, I find it really hard to have a desire to finish the assignment. Also if I'm learning more from the book than from the teacher, I have a really hard time wanting to go to class because the teacher doesn't teach.

Learning not only in theory about something but in real-life applications.

Learning not only through lecture or professor instruction, but through actually doing projects or procedures that are relevant to the field. Putting on emphasis on the demonstration of knowledge as opposed to the demonstration of one's ability to memorize test questions/answers.

Learning on the job, or hands on experience

Learning outside the classroom. Interacting with the business community and building a professional resume. Learning theory and applying it in a practical fashion! Being able to interact with my professor in a classroom with less than 30 students. Being challenged in more ways than traditional examinations. Becoming a professional before I enter into my profession.

Learning something of value to the individual learning. Also not be taught at. the problem is schools do not know what this means!

Learning something then working with that knowledge to do something related to my major.

Learning that allows you to apply the skills that you learn.

Learning that catches my interest and where both student and teacher as well as class mates work together in order to gain a better learning experience.

Learning that gets you hooked and that you enjoy.

Learning that gets you involved. It's a deeper form of learning.

Learning that goes beyond sitting in a classroom listening to a lecture. This could involve outside activities or in-class activities, but it would involve students (beyond just sitting in class) connecting with the material/lessons in a personal way.

Learning that goes past typical 'book' learning.

Learning that has hands-on experience for students.

Learning that has you mentally and physically involved.

Learning that includes application of the concepts learned in class and practicing those concepts in order to retain knowledge and spark excitement and interest in different subjects.

Learning that interests you and gets you involved

Learning that involves the help of all aspects including technology, professors, etc.

Learning that involves doing and changing who you are for the better.

Learning that involves more than reading text and being tested on material.

Learning that involves the students and gets them to participate and gives hands on experience.
Learning that keeps me interested and includes a hands on experience.

Learning that requires effort from yourself and your classmates to become involved with what you're learning and not just listening or trying to pay attention.

Learning that stimulates the brain effectively.

Learning that takes place when the student is committed and interested in the topic. The student can relate to the teacher and feels that the instructor cares about their comprehension.

Learning that you actually have a part in. You can participate and are able to learn more.

Learning the proper etiquette required for proper proposal to a member of the opposite sex including but not limited to the use of media, mood music, landscape, setting, proper public attendance, and timing. How to effectively 'pop the question' while keeping in mind the most influential ways of proffering the ring to get the desired effect of romance for your significant other while still being able to keep your masculinity. And lastly being able to create a memorable moment of which you and your future bride will be able to reflect upon for decades to come.

Learning things is class that are actually applicable in the real world.

Learning things you want to be apart of.

Learning through doing

Learning through doing different activities with different people.

Learning through experiencing.

Learning through hands on activities where the students have opportunities to put what they are being told through lecture into practice in real life situations.

Learning through teaching tactics that engage and connect students to examples they can relate to in their own lives.

Learning through various stimuli.

Learning to engage this survey quicker so I may be finished.

Learning where you (the student) are engaged and active in the learning process.

Learning where you are doing something with the learning not just reading from a book.

Learning while actually 'doing'.

Learning while doing

Learning while doing something

Learning while doing.

Learning while doing.

Learning while participating in school activities.
Learning with a lot of participation and focus

Learning with an intent to actually learn something. Learning while on the job or learning something that you will use later in life, not just on the next exam.

Learning with experience. Hands on.

Learning with your soon to be spouse?

Leaving UVU with a diploma and a resume, learning real world skills in and out of the classroom.

Leaving Uvu with resume and internship and being more involved in class rather then lecture

Lectures and testing catered to my learning styles and abilities. My learning capabilities are not average and normal teaching styles sometimes fail me.

Less theory, more practical application

Loving learning and being hands on in your own education.

Making an effort to get the best education you can by seeking out extra opportunities to apply the knowledge you learn in the classroom.

Maybe involving the students more in the learning process than just having them listen to a lecture or read a textbook.

Means active application to real world situations from classroom learning.

Means having the opportunity to learn and seek goals out there that are willing to help you learn.

Means im intrested in learning the material.

Means learning skills that we need in the work place. For example, for one of my education class we have to go and volentree in a high school classroom for 15 hours. That is a great example of engaged learning.

Means that as you take classes you are able to obtain experience in that class through projects.

Means that the teacher use different methods of teaching rather than just learning. Graduate with a Resume!

Means that we learn by doing.

Means to me, that I should be proactive in my education, and with my instructor as a team, learn the material I have signed up for and if I have difficulty work as a team to find a plan for improvement.

Means to participate.

Means your personaly intersted in it. youre actively trying to learn

Mentally present and actively participating through a variety of means

More ‘hands-on’ and in class activities. Student participation like random students performing problems on the board as if they were teaching the class.

More stuff to do in a course where a student is already overloaded with a full course load.
More than coming to class and sitting down staring at the teaching. Having student and teacher interactions during every class period and being proactive with the teacher and assignments/tests after class hours. Taking a step forward to learn and not expecting things to come to you.

More than just going through the motions. Teachers and students alike put in the extra effort to fully understand the material.

No idea.

Not just being lectured to. Getting your hands dirty.

Not just ‘book learning’

Not just coming to class and listening to a professor, but actually being involved in the learning process, and wanting to learn.

Not just discuss but do.

Not just learning from books but getting hands on experience.

Not just memorizing facts but applying it to real life. Experiences to strengthen what is learned in class.

Not just reading a book and repeating information but rather learn through doing or experiencing what you are learning or at least having the objectives of classes be to teach you skills that are applicable everywhere like thinking in broad terms or considering many options, analyzing or practicing.

Not just reading from a book or listening to a lecture but actually doing what your learning. It is the difference between reading about a science experiment and actually doing one yourself.

Not just studying for the tests. actually engage in classroom discussion, and engage in personal and group studying.

Not just teacher lecturing, but you are engaged in learning as well.

Not much.

Not only sitting in a classroom getting information stuffed into your head, but also getting involved and having hands'on experiences.

Not really sure i have not heard of it before

Not simply repeating factoids memorized for the sole reason of passing a class, but applying and immersing oneself in the instruction and lessons taught.

Participating actively in learning--hands-on.
Participating and focused. Gaining applicable learning to better yourself in all aspects.
Participating in an activity that gives me real world experience.
Participating in discussions in class and throughout the community. Applying what I am learning in my job and gaining skills to develop the knowledge that I am learning... Researching and what not Paying attention and being involved.

Paying attention in class.

People attending their course and learning what the instructors have to offer with eagerness; the instructors are interested in making sure the students have the best education. Both the students and the instructors give each other the proper amount of respect.

Physical learning of a subject, current applications.

Platitude.

Practical assignments and experiences, not just regurgitating a book.

Practical, hands-on experiences or activities that supplement and relate directly to course material.

Preparation prior to class. Active discussion. Comfort in exchanges with teachers and other students. ACTIVE learning.

Proactive hands on learning versus simple lecturing.

Put forth the effort to learn. Not just skimming over and forgetting the next day.

Put my mind heart might into learning

Putting classroom learning to application in real scenarios. I'm quite fond of it for my legal classes.

Putting effort and focus into gaining knowledge on your own accord.

Putting effort into learning, caring about what you are studying.

Real world training and less

Really being interested in the things you are learning. Not just learning them so you can get a passing grade.

Really putting forth the effort to learn and talking to professors if any questions arise in class.

Service learning. Group work.

Smaller classes means more interaction with classmates and the professor. It means more availability with the professor. More involved learning.

So far, it seems to mean that the professors assume that the students don't know how to learn and try to teach us things like note-taking and how to find books in the library, skills which can be learned without wasting valuable classroom time.

Something I don't have or do Something that I actually want to learn about. And I'm there to learn it. When I'm at home I still search it on the internet not for school but for fun.

Something that you participate in and can connect to your real life situations.

SOMETIMES HAVING OTHER PEOPLE AROUND I LEARN I LEARN FROM THE AS WELL AS I HOPE THEY BENEFIT FROM ME.
something you don't get here! It means that you are getting to practice what you are learning.

Sounds like participating rather than just listening.

Stimulated learning that requires active input from myself.

Student are participate in their learning.

Student being involved with their learning, participating in class, gaining one's own education that will help in whatever major going into.

Student is participating in the learning process

Students actively participating in their learning, and are pushed to become fully involved.

Students and teachers being able to discuss within a classroom. When I can ask a question and have it answered directly, I learn far better. Classes with a large amount of students or especially when it is also transmitted through cameras leave many students silent during class periods.

students are encouraged to interact in class

Students are 'into' the material and what is being taught.

Students are involved in all aspects of learning whether it be teaching concepts or participating in class discussions students are not asleep and are actually participating in class.

Students are participating in class and actively trying to learn the material.

Students not only take in knowledge but contribute.

students participating in coursework, not just straight lecture

Students, faculty, and staff being fully engaged in the learning process--being committed to acquiring and applying knowledge. It's comprehensive and interrelated learning approaches that consider not only how knowledge is all interrelated, but also how it influences, shapes, and unites our lives as individuals and communities.

Taking action and going for it taking an active role in your own education

Taking full responsibility for your learning by participating actively in your coursework and in the classroom.

Taking interest and not just memorizing and regurgitating information.

Taking your education into your own hands and being involved instead of just waiting for teachers to dump knowledge into your brain.

Taking your own education into your hands. Not sitting around waiting to be told what to do, but going up and asking professors and peers questions for a more active learning.

Teacher's helping students to learn by interacting with them.

That I am actively involved in my education. That I am excited about going to class and learning and that I am willing to do my part to make school a better place.
that I am engaged in the teaching and subject matter. Meaning that I am involved and learn in a variety of techniques, hands on, lecture, etc.

that I'm actually learning, not just going through the motions; that my teachers teach, not just regurgitate facts; that I am involved in my education and what's happening; that I am involved in more than just my class, but my environment.

That I'm engaged in what I am learning in the world I am in.

That it isn't just sitting in a classroom listening to a lecture. That you get involved with classmates and teachers to all learn together.

that teachers are involved in your success

That the instructor is just as interested in your learning and success as you are.

That we have the opportunity to actually apply the skills we are learning as we learn them. Giving real life credibility to our massing of information.

That you are actively learning?

That you are actively participating in your own education. That you get to make decisions as well as having active classes that engage your mind.

That you are engaged in the learning as well as the teacher.

That you are invested in learning, no distractions, you want to succeed.

That you are not just sitting there but that the students are actually discussing the subjects and participating in the class as well as more visual or hands on learning to keep it interesting.

That you participate in class you read your texts and do your homework and then you study beyond the minimum requirements

That you will see and experience real-world situations related to your major

The ability to communicate with my professor and learn from him. I love the fact that all my professors are available to me and are completely willing to talk to you after classes.

the everyone is learning by participating and putting in work.

The instructors should push us to think outside of the box. We should be engaged through many different styles of teaching, and we should make it a point to be involved.

The instructors taking time to help the students and getting the students involved in class discussions as well as informing them of outside class learning activities as well.

The same thing you have to do for each class. It was cool the first time, and I think the court experience is great, but I think that Engaged Learning is a waste of time after the first course.

The student gets engaged in the learning process. It's not just an instructor at the front of the class rambling on for hours.

The student is active in studying and learning the materials with interaction with the teacher, other students, online and where ever else the student can find the information they are studying.
The student is actively involved in their learning. Making an effort.

The student is an active participant in his or her education. The student is able to ask any questions and has some leeway over what he or she would like to learn. The student is responsible for learning the course material. The student is excited about learning and loves coming to class and completing homework, projects, or labwork.

The student is engaged in the content and actively applies what is taught in the classroom. The work required for assessment is authentic and related to the field in which I am working in. Learning by doing. Learning that connects what happens in the classroom to what happens in the world.

The student is involved and is allowed and able to ask questions and receive help for specific topics.

the student is ready to learn, has a passion for learning and helps create a positive learning environment.

The students participate and are involved in classes

The students participating in the lecture. Not just the teacher up front talking and giving information.

the university is trying to push this to become better and different than other universities. focus on students getting the education they want and not extra things they have to do to get a better education down the road.

There are many different ways of learning and a variety of ways to teach.

there is a lot of hands on activitys were you get personal experiance.

Thinking about the material you've learned whenever you can, even in the shower.

To actually involve yourself and apply the skills learned.

To be able to experience what you are learning, hands-on. To really find interest and be happily submerged in the subject.

To be active in the current learning environment i.e. participating in discussions and projects.

to be active.

To be attentive to your learning, wanting to learn and participate.

To be busy/involved in learning.

to be fully involed in what you are doing and do the best of your ability to do it .

To be in class, and being able to apply what you learn to be interested and active in learning a certain subject.

to be involved in the dialogue that surrounds the subject matter.

To be involved in your education, and that the university is involved in your education

To be mentally physically and emotionally involved in the study.

to be part of the whole process of learning with the students and professors and what the university has to offer us. We need to be part of all the learning and participate. Give and take is where we can engage in the process of learning.

to be physically and mentally present when being taught, also to participate
To do what we're taught. To interact consistently with other students and the teacher.

To go hands on to experiment with what you are learning

To me engaged learning is getting hands on experience with your education.

To me engaged learning means that the learning experience extends out of the classroom into real world experiences. It is an active process unlike traditional learning which is much more passive.

to me it means engaging the students. Helping them relate to what is being taught.

To me it means hands on learning and getting to know your teachers and teachers helping you

To me it means more than just sitting in a classroom taking notes and listening to a lecture. Getting involved in discussions and hands-on experiences.

To me, engaged learning means a learning environment where students are actively involved whether that be mentally or in more external ways.

To me, engaged learning means applying material learned in class to ‘the real world.’ It means using the practices of your discipline like you would for a real job. It also means learning through service and interaction with the community at large.

To me, 'engaged learning' means providing students with real world or major related applications whenever possible. It also involves the students and professors working together as much as possible to bring students up to the level that they can contribute to society.

To me, 'engaged learning' means that you are truly delving into the subject and learning it, not just memorizing facts to spew out later on a test, but learning to actually apply the things that are taught to yourself. Engaged learning is where you get to participate in the learning experience rather than let the teacher do all the work.

To me, it means that the students are engaged by the teacher and vice-versa. The class sizes are kept reasonably small so that there is more one-on-one contact between teacher and student.

To me, taking interest in and responsibility for my education is engaged learning.

To me, that usually entails project-based learning. Learning that isn't partially self directed is usually sub-par, and I prefer working with a tutoring service and having class discussions, as well as attending lectures and presentations. I am less fond of group projects, but they can be worthwhile-- assuming doing something as a group is voluntary. To be engaged in learning means that you're able to tailor your courses to your interests-- for instance: Dr. Ogden teaches Biology 1010. I am not a Biology fan-- but he made the course interesting by including political and historical aspects of Biology as a field of study within his survey course. I lucked out in getting his class-- but other classes I have taken to fulfill general requirements, that allowed me to study what I was interested in, like Professor Farnsworth's US Economic History, where I did a paper on Communal societies in Utah.

To not only know things, but know how to apply them. To learn through studying and experience.

Ummm... Next question?

Understanding and being attentive to your education.

Using a variety of learning/teaching methods; applying learning to life and not just jobs; learning abstract and concrete things together as one
Using a variety of methods to interact with students and the student's learning style(s). Labs, experiments, and experiences that require or involve Hands on/Kinesthetic, Photographic/Visual, Verbal/Aural, and/or Reading activities as means that ideally will capture and spark the student's imagination and interest in learning more about the given subject.

Using all of your senses in the learning process.

Using knowledge, not just receiving knowledge.

Utilizing available resources both inside and outside of the classroom to enhance education.

Very involved learning wanting to learn and being interested in it

Waste of time.

Well, according to the school, it's summarized as 'Learning by Doing.' It's a very 'trade school' mentality. Personally, I feel as though the teachers here are still resting upon the fact that they used to be in the industry. The issue is, in a technical degree, if you're not actively in the industry or actively taking new classes to learn new software, you've fallen behind. Most of our technical teachers have about 3 weeks of knowledge to share about the workforce, but less than a day to share about the software we're using. Engaged to ME means, 'crap, here's another class that'll teach me everything I need to learn about how hard the working world is, but nothing that will make me rise above the students coming from other Universities.'

Well, it doesn't mean just showing up to class. It allows a class experience in which people can ask questions, learn, do, and grow.

What you learn in class is directly applicable to the working world. UVU offers students a chance to explore their subject outside of the classroom. Students have the choice and resources to create an approved plan of learning outside the classroom. Students leave the university with lots of hands-on experience, regardless of whether it is related to their major or not.

When a Professor Care about the students and want them to succeed. Meaning these professors help the students in every way to succeed

When I have an active interest in the material being taught, when it's not just 'taught' but it's discovered together with the teacher and pupils. All of this to the point where the student would get onto their smart phone or laptop later to look up something relating to their class that sparked their interest.

When the student takes responsibility for their own learning and is involved and participating in their learning and classes.

When you are involved

When you do the homework and pay attention in class and do the material that the instructor assigns.

where both the professor and the student are actively involved in the learning process.

Where students AND teachers work together at the student's needed level to learn and grow.

Where the student is an active participant in their learning process where you are actively learning

Working hands on being involved with what you are learning. Making sure you remember what you are trying to learn.

Working on meaningful authentic lessons that provide a basis for future growth and personal application.

Working with professors and business professionals to gain valuable and real life experiences which will help me find a career.

Working with the community and applying what is learned in class to help people in the community.

You actually try to learn and there are hands on activities that help the learning process.

You are completely engaged in what you are learning and applying it into your life.

You are deeply participating in school and in learning and gaining knowledge.

You are doing more then just going to class, you learn the material because you want to not because you have to for the next test.

You are focused and want to learn.

You are involved in the class with the rest of your peers and teacher. A lot of participation.

You are not just listening to the lecture, but you are involved in your learning process.

You are part of the learning process.

You are participating in whatever you are learning.

You are putting in effort to learning, and trying to make the most of it. You don’t just take in information, you try to understand, make connections, apply it, etc.

You participate hands on. you are engaged in the material.

You put effort into it and actually try to learn.

Your highly motivated and ready to learn anything.

You’re doing stuff with stuff while you’re learning about stuff instead of (or in addition to) just sitting in a class room with books.

Q.57

Where is EL Not Appr.?

All classes are different
Allowing large parts of my grade to depend on group projects is unfair.
appropriate maybe, best or most efficient, no.
Certain classes (Anatomy) and other large lecture classes would be difficult certain subjects are about being told in the classroom and studying Certain subjects don't need it. Especially if it is not your major.
Classes with an overly heavy workload like Human Anatomy wouldn't work, but others yes Depends on the subject. Some it would not apply. Others, I would not want to do engaged learning (ie general ed classes)
Difficult to do in an online setting.
different classes teach different things; somethings are not really applicable to the real world.
electives (associate classes) are the ones students don't care about so I don't think UVU should waste their time getting students interested in classes that they find meaningless for their major. i.e. I'm a business major, I disliked my biology and history classes and doing the bare minimum was my priority.
Engaged learning as it is defined above isn't always relevant or helpful.
Engaged learning should be directed at core classes more than general ones. Those are the classes that students want to learn and excelling at.
Engaged learning would require a level of passion on the part of the student. They would need to be very interested in the topic to be active outside of class, especially in the community. General level or elective classes aren't going to attract the students who are passionate about the subjects, so getting them to do things in the community is just going to make them hate the class. If it's related to their major on the other hand, I believe there will be a much higher level of success.

Every class/subject is different and should be allowed flexibility

Everyone knows that at least half the classes you take ARE NOT NEEDED. Especially some of the Generals. They are just ways for the institution to make more money.

general ed courses are meant to meet requirements and not create unnecessary challenges

General Education not related to your major

Group work encourages the shy or lazy to slack

History? Algebra? I have not used algebra since High School 36 years ago. It is not needed in most cases. How would you apply that in engaged learning?

How about 'I have no idea'? Where is that option?

how do you expect to be able to apply that to a history class

I am Deaf and unless I have ASL accessible in a classroom I rarely want to be involved in participation

I believe subjects like English need to be mainly taught. I still support discussion with class and teacher, so in that sense I agree. But I don't like students teaching students. It is not helpful and often times I am given wrong information and don't feel like I learn any skills, for example, my biology class.

I do not know what that is.

I don't feel I would get much out of this type of learning for any classes I can think of.

I don't like or care to use math ha ha

I don't like working in groups

I don't like working in groups because I don't like relying on other people and don't have time to meet outside of class or go to additional lectures and things.

I don't see how engaged learning is beneficial for say a math class

I don't see how it could be used in math.

I don't see how math could be applied appropriately.

I don't see how that would apply to some lecture and online classes like Art History

I don't think for all classes it makes sense.

I don't think that applying college algebra to 'realistic situations' will ever happen. Nor would it have a place in physiology or anatomy.

I don't think working in groups really teaches you anything. Most people just let everyone else do the work and get away with the A grade.

I feel that 'engaged learning' might distract from coursework in a lot of classes.
I hate group projects. I always end up being the leader and there is always someone who doesn't do their share of the work so I have to do it or get a bad grade.

I hate group projects. They are worse at the lower levels because you encounter more people who aren't focused on that particular class. Example: Not everyone in intro to biology cares about biology.

I have a hard time seeing it for most math and history

I just don't think certain classes could be taught this way.

I just hate how every class has a group project or presentation. If engaged learning could be done on a personal basis, then I think it could work for all classes.

I often find in my current curriculum that we are being forced to do group projects just for the sake of fulfilling the university's desire for 'collaborative learning' it isn't always constructive or useful to me.

I think it needs to be applied practically and outlined ahead of time. I think it needs to take into consideration the students schedule and obligations outside of the classroom and if it is applied in an 'active' format, e.g. field trips outside of the scheduled class time, that it should not be reflected on the student's grade if the student can't make it due to work obligations. I understand the concept, but a student's grades should not suffer because 'engaged learning' is scheduled out ahead of time and is only dropped on the student two days before the intended field trip.

I understand that this might be hard for liberal arts majors where writing essays is central, but you can do engaged learning through other means (such as conferences)

I would think that Math and English need to be done individually.

I'd rather not 'do' history.

If a class has a lot of expectations, more should not be added to 'engage' or you overwhelm the students

I'm still unsure of exactly what it means.

In a language class, I find it helpful. In a history class, totally useless. The other students don't know what they're talking about, the professor does. I don't want to hear what a fellow student has to say. I find it totally irrelevant. I am not paying thousands of dollars to have a discussion with my peers. I can do so on Facebook for free. I am paying to absorb as much knowledge as possible from my professors before the class is over. I honestly could not care less about the opinions, thoughts, or ideas of my peers.

in courses such as mathematics, some students may learn better on their own or one on one instead of in groups or collaboratively.

In highly techical classes, such as math or sciences, learning as a part of a group of students when everyone is new to the material is useless and unproductive.

Introductory classes to your major-yes. Over and over again afterwards -no.

It can be but it would have to be in varying degrees of implementation. Some classes it just doesn't seem feasible or practical.

It depends

it doesn't force me to become interactive outside. But that becomes my choice whether i apply the skills of engaged learning.

It doesn't work well for some courses it gets irritating in certain classes or class sizes

it is often placed on top of normal class experience it is overbearing sometimes, it is beneficial in classes that apply to your major but is too time consuming in some classes

It is too creative for me to follow up with such a process.

it is usually not relavent to what we are learning

it just depends on the topic, might be harder in math subjects for example

It just wouldn't fit the context of some classes, or would simply complicate things.

It might not be as appropriate for a phys ed class.

It seems like history classes might not really apply it seems silly for math

It should depend on the major.

its extra stuff to get the same education i can get somewhere else.

It's hard to use engaged learning in mathematics.

It's not appropriate at all for instructors to assign group projects to students when they are required to use time outside of class. Students with families can barely find time to do their homework let alone schedule a time to meet with five other people around their class, work, and child responsibilities.

I've had classes that are only ment to be lecture type classes. And I feel like I do well in them and that they can be super fun. Example: Courtney Davis’ art history classes.

Lecture classes

lower division is establishing a foundation. Experiential INSIDE classroom

Macroeconomic is not good at all

Many courses are just knowledge courses (lower level courses)

Many subjects require a foundation of material before application of that material can be practiced. For example an understanding evolution is required before venturing into biology or anthropology.

Math

Math is boring, math with people I don't even like, boring and painful.

Math is just learning techniques....Programming is the same.

Math is math

Math is more of a singular experience.

Math would be hard
Math, come on?

Math, Philosophy Outside of Ethics or Ontology, other classes based on theory that doesn't concern itself with the existence of human subjects.

Math?

Math?

Math? No.

Mathematics needs no collaborative effort, projects, or other pseudo-education techniques.

Most people in groups are DYSFUNCTIONAL and should not reap the benefits of those that do do the work! most, but not all.

my history class last year slavery may be a little difficult. That is according to your definition.

no

Not all classes can be applied directly to the real world safely

Not all classes need it, because not all of them need to be interactive. (online classes)

Not all subjects are group oriented.

Not appropriate for any class.

Not every class requires group interaction.

Not everyone learns that way, nor does everyone have the time that this would take.

Not necessarily every subject. But I can see how it would work for some classes.

Not really for mathematical subjects.

not sure

Online classes do not facilitate this concept generally.

Some are more abstract

some classes are information heavy, and those classes are necessary while there isn't very much involment.

Some classes are just lame some classes are more about working on yourself

Some classes are strictly memorization (i.e. anatomy lab)

some classes are too short and too in-depth to spend time on anything other than lecture or asking questions

Some classes dont relate to your career. Should only have engaged learning when it applys to your career.

some classes don't seem to lend themselves to it some classes have little 'real-world' application.

Some classes just seem to be more bookwork by nature
Some classes such as Ethics and Values require one to hash it out in their own mind.
some classes with more sensitive subjects may not be appropriate for this style
Some classes you just gotta learn the stuff on your own for yourself
Some classwork belongs only in the classroom.
Some courses are just meant to lecture, nothing more or less.
some general classes like math or english it doesnt seem necessary.
Some material is more mental learning than anything else and it's hard to use that learning in outside situations.
some of class there are only personal assignments
Some of the classes are not really needed in our life even though we all have to take them as a part of general education.
Some of the classes are very individualized and can not be done in the community or a group
Some of the classes that you have to take are just fillers and dont have real world value some of them you can learn just fine online
Some people are not comfortable talking to other people.
some people dont learn some things well unless they are studying a book
Some simply do not apply. Most could.
Some students excel best and prefer to work alone in some subjects. From experience, I don't like having to rely on others to achieve a desired outcome.
Some subjects can be difficult or impractical.
some subjects are sensitive and would be hard to be engaged in
Some teachers use this as excuse to assign too much busy work that does not help learn the material and takes away from the students ability to learn the information the best way they can.
Some things are just better to do on your own.
Some things are learnable through individual processes.
Some work is easier and an individual may get more out of the information if done alone. This prevents social loafing.
Some yes, some no.
sometimes a class has nothing to do with your major
Sometimes I feel like it is busy-work, especially when it's for a general studies class (not directly related to my major)
Sometimes I strongly prefer to work alone.

Sometimes too much emphasis is put on working with other students.

Sometimes when you do assignments as a group, you only understand a part of what is being taught because you are only involved in completing a portion of the assignment. If you do things on your own, you have more work to do, but you do all parts of the assignment and therefore understand the concepts better.

Sometimes working in groups is not helpful or needed and sometimes teachers makes stuff up that has nothing to do with what we are doing.

Sometimes you can't engage in theory discussions

Subjects that I don't like, I just want to make it through the class and be done with it.

Technology, math, etc. these courses do not need engaged learning

The engaged learning experiences I have had in class have significantly increased the amount of time I have to spend doing classwork. The engage activities are added onto a normal class workload, which makes the classes more difficult for a working professional to complete.

The reason I am taking some classes is because I have to and I don't really care about the subject Theoretical Math does not fit into these boundaries. It is individual work, proving and computing. Tutoring would be the only community service that might fit in, and if I wanted to do that I would have picked Math Education.

There are classes that I do not enjoy or do not like the professor so I don't want to engage in what they are teaching and I would prefer to be less engaged in those classes.

There are some subjects that it is better to use your time studying and trying to learn material there are subjects where it is beneficial and correlates, and those areas that it does not, such as math.

There's a limit to the kinds of realistic situations math and physics principles can be applied to.

Universal statements, such as the word 'all' should be avoided. More than likely there is a class where this type of learning would not be appropriate or beneficial.

upper division philosophy classes cannot really be readily applied to reality.

While it does duplicate some aspects of the work place, it's often difficult for students with full course loads to participate in 4 group activities on top of the rest of the coursework. Scheduling 4 group projects for 3 classes is a nightmare. Plain and simple.

Why engage in GE classes irrelevant to ones major?

within reason

Writing about historical events do nothing for me in most classes unless I am expected to be able to recite the information as a teacher.

You can't always lean on others in the kitchen. You have to carry your own weight as well.

A mobile app might be a good idea.

A mobile app would be great, or making the payment link easier to find on the website (most common complaint we get in the call center).

A mobile app would be nice.

A mobile app...?

Ability of payment through bank account? Not sure.

Accept credit card payments without a fee.

ACCEPT FREAKING VISA!!!! I CANT USE MY CREDIT CARD BECAUSE YOU DONT ACCEPT IT! THAT IS VERY FRUSTRATING.

Accept more payment options.

accept visa

Accept Visa as an option for paying with your credit card. A mobile app would also be really nice as well. I have had a hard time with being able to actually get my tuition paid online every single semester.

Accept visa credit cards

Accepting all credit/debit cards, easier online credit/debit card payments.

Accepting Visa credit cards. I attended a class in 2009 and you wouldn't even accept an e-check sent off my credit line because it was a Visa credit line. It finally got rejected about three or four weeks later and I got charged for the rejection. I was able to get the charge cleared, but the entire process was a massive headache. In addition to that, I couldn't find anyone who seemed to have any answers at all. I've never had such a hard time making someone take my money.
Again, easier navigation to explain programs, and what needs to be done.

All just fine

Allow us to pay with a visa card or paypal.

Android app

Available to different types of bank accounts. I have an account with Wells Fargo, and am not interested in UCCU. I would like to be able to pay my tuition online without having to create a new bank account, and would also like to be able to use my Visa card to pay it.

Being able to accept more forms of payment (visa debit)

Being able to pay with a Visa. Being able to not have to go to the cashier's window in person.

being able to use visa online

Better organization, easier navigation

Can't think of any

Chat assistance

Debit cards Visa cards

Do not charge a fee and I would use it every time.

Don't really have any. It is a painful time and lots of money to shell out so just make the thing easy and hassle free, I'm already stressed about dropping that kind of money.

Drop the 3% fee.

Drop the fee for credit/debit use.

Easier access. There's always a lot of lag when I try and access the page. Which makes me not want to try and access it.

For a student to actually be able to pay with a VISA card.

Good

Having someone smile and greet you.

Hurry up and accept Visa!

I am able to us the website just fine the way it currently is and don't really have any suggestions for a better method.

I am not familiar with this.

I do not use Tuition Payment PLUS.

I don't have any suggestions
I don't know

I don't use these services

I had to pay for my classes in person because for some reason the online option wasn't compatible with my online billing

I haven't done enough online to make a suggestion.

I never pay my bills online ...ever. I only do things in person if at all possible. I hate all this online crap!!!

I prefer going in person.

I think it's already set up fairly well.

I think it's good just the way it is

I think online is the best

I would like to add print credit on my own. There is a web page for it but it does not accept credit cards.

I would like to be able to prepay some of the payments instead of having to wait until it comes out automatically.

I would like to see live help online, I hate always having to drive to the school it is really hard when I have to wait for a long time while having my children with me.

I'm fine with what is currently offered interactive video game that deducts money from your tuition if you win

It currently meets all of my needs

It seems to work well to me, a Mobile App would not go amiss though

It would be helpful if they accepted visa. I only have a visa debit card and I had to call my mom and have her use her master card to pay the last of my tuition.

It would be nice not to be charged additional fees to pay online. ex: with credit cards. tuition is already a lot for a student to pay and to add on more makes for financial strain

Lower Tuition

Make themselves for known so people are more aware of them

Schedule your own payment dates. I have had a couple of dates that have come before payday and had to take the late fee.

accept visa seriously my debit care can't be used because of that Always friendly and willing to help.

At tuition payment time it never seems like there are enough people working at the windows.

Be nicer

better awareness of it

Cashiers office was fast and efficient. Even the long line when I went in moved quickly.

Customer Service is extremely lacking.

During busy times of the year they need more people working.

enjoyed the quick and easy use.

Every time I go to the Cashier's office, I am the only one in line and still I have to wait at least 5 minutes to be helped. The cashiers pretend to not notice you're standing there.

Fantastic experiences during the few times I've worked with them

Good work.

great staff very helpful

Helpful but a bit hidden.

I currently receive a grant from a my Indian tribe. EVERY semester I struggle with the cashier's office. Once they get the check, it takes them a couple days to enter it into the computer, then after that it takes a few days to post to my account. This is the money that my family and I live off of. They say the fastest way to get the check is through direct deposit, but it would be much quicker for me to go get the check from the cashier's office - which they won't allow me to do anymore
I don't want people not to get in line to wait for their turn to go to cashier.
I have never heard of it.
I have not had any direct contact with the Cashiers office yet.
I just felt like some other dude....
I like that people are friendly and the line moves very quickly at the beginning of the semester.
I liked people in the office, but I did not like how I could not use international credit card to pay my tuition.
I love them
I think they are very slow workers and hardly ever know how to help me without asking a supervisor nearby.
I think they can be very rude and unhelpful.
I try very hard not to use those services.
I understand that the cashier's office deals with thousands of students, but the few times I have had to deal with them when there have been issues with FA distribution they have been indifferent to the point of rudeness, and policies seem to be designed to penalize the student. For example, I never received a Financial Aid check, and I was required to pay the fee to have the check reissued. I did not lose my check, I never received it.
I was a little confused by their follow through. When I finished what I assumed was the proper process I was unsure if I had done it right until I got the reimbursement check in the mail. And even then I wasn't 100 percent sure that is what the check was for.
I went for help one time and the lady said she could help me but wouldn't and to go to one stop instead. There were no other students in line so it bothered me she couldn't take 2 minutes to answer a question.
I wish that the processing part would be quicker.
I wish that you didn't charge such a high fee for using a credit card, its really upsetting.
I would like to see more information or have a clearer idea when student aid/loan monies are to be received.
I'm sure they do a good job but I haven't really used it yet.
In my experience, everything went smoothly.
It is hard to find a helpful person at one stop.
it is frustrating that the cashier's office doesn't take VISA
It is satisfactory.
It is usually pretty crowded during tuition payment time.
it must be a great place to take care of your finance.
It not called the Cashier's office which is kind of confusing.
It should be a lot easier than it is...
it was good
It'd be nice if you could pay tuition online with out a ridiculous extra fee.

It's difficult to find. Had to have a person at Financial Aid tell me where it was located.

it's fine

It's hidden in the back.

I've never had a bad experience there.

Lines are long, so I do my payments online

Long lines are not fun and then once you get to the window they are unorganized, which I find disrespectful.

Long lines, staff is knowledgeable.

Maybe there should be a map? It is really hard to navigate and know where you are supposed to go and where things are. I needed to talk to the financial office in the back, but stood in line for more than half an hour because it is rude to cut in line and i didn't know i needed to be somewhere else.

more people working during registration

More signs outside of the one stop area to find it.

Most important is reliability. I would rather it be slow and work wihtout having to go down and talk and try to figure it out, especially with the sums of money involved with financial aid and tuition.

My tuition refund for this semester was apparently sent, but sent to the wrong address. Last semester it got sent to the right address. Somehow between semesters, the addresses were changed so I had to go fix that and get my check re-issued. That was a hassle.

Not charging so much money for using a card. Also, accepting VISA.

Not really. I just can't trust in online payment, so I always use one stop to pay tuition. I don't have any problems so far.

Not that comes to mind.

Not the best customer service I have ever received, got what I needed done, just not that pleasant of an experience (any of the times I have gone there). Also, the person helping me wasn't exactly happy to have to answer any questions and made it very clear that she was unhappy with me.

not too bad.

One Stop accept payment but did not give hardcopy receipt

One Stop is nice and efficient. The people working there are always friendly. Good Job.

One Stop is set up really great! (If that's the place where you stand in a line and there is a circular desk with about 6 different cashiers - and you wait for the next available cashier) Quick and easy.

One stop is very convenient, and pretty quick. I like it a lot.

One time the website to pay for tuition failed (my connection otherwise was working) and I was charge a late fee for not paying on time (even though I had attempted to pay). I was able to get a refund, but it was a hassle for something that shouldn't have happened.

Overall I have always had a good experience. During busy times such as at the beginning of a semester I would recommend opening another location or adding more people. I have had a few experiences where all I needed to do was pay for something small and the wait was between 30min- 1 hour. After the rush they are always very easy to get to quickly.

Paying tuition will never be a positive experience no matter how good you make it.

People don't care. They simply don't care. They get paid either way, why try harder if they don't have to.

Perhaps find a way to make the lines shorter

Thank goodness they were fast and professional

The have been very helpful in processing my tuition payments from Vocational Rehabilitation.

The lady there was really nice and accommodating. I was only there for about fifteen seconds, though. It was just to turn in a form.

The need to be connected with the Bursars office, so if there is an issue, I don't have to visit different people in different areas of campus

The one time I paid there, my debit card was declined since they tried to pull the full tuition amount. It was actually my bank's fault, since they put a limit on what can be withdrawn per day. So the cashier solved the problem by withdrawing it in two amounts. Also, I wish that UVU accepted other credit cards than American Express.

The people that were working at the cashier's office this semester when I went to pay my tuition were extremely unhelpful. I tried to pay my tuition with my VISA and apparently you guys don't accept VISA, so she just told me that unfortunately there was nothing she could do to help me. I waited in line for almost an hour to get up to speak with her, and then she just told me there was nothing she could do to help me.

The personnel staff is amazing.

they a curtious, efficient, and fast

They are a great help.

they are fine

They are great!

They are really friendly.

They are very nice and helpful.

They do a much better job than BYU's cashier's office. It's much easier to use and there's less bureaucracy involved.

They do a pretty good job in general. If a problem does arrive it may take time but they are pretty good at working with you to figure it out.

They don't seem very happy and helpful and I avoid them as much as possible.

They have always been kinda and quick to help. No problems.

They have been uneducated about nearly everything I have went in to talk to them about.

They have good Customer Service.

They really do a great job of making you feel like you're not a slacker if you use tuition payment plus.

They seem to always have to transfer me to another department to pay a fee that isn't their job, (ex. distance education fees).

They should take debit or credit card payments online.

they were bitchy and rude. Consider hiring less bitchtastic women.

They were pleasant to work with.
They were very helpful and accommodating.

They were very helpful with my financial aid and had it distributed very quickly.

Ugh.....don't get me started. Don't get me wrong, I love UVU, but sometimes it is extraordinarily aggravating working with the people in the Administration building and here are the experiences I have had:

- Standing in line for over an hour for one stop and there are only 4 people working on busy days like the week before and the week after registration. THAT'S AWESOME. THIS BOX ALLOWS ONLY A LITTLE BIT OF FEEDBACK. APPARENTLY NOT A QUESTION ANYONE REALLY CARES ABOUT THE ANSWER TO.

um...you can pay online lol I don't trust online things very friendly and helpful

When waiting in line, it is hard to tell if the cashiers can see you.

Why do not you accept credit/debit card?

Why don't you accept Visa?

Workers should smile and be a bit nicer and know more of what they are doing.

Yes, One Stop employees trying to advise students regarding financial aid, and refusing to let the student set up an appointment with a financial aid counselor. Then, finding out that the One Stop employee gave the wrong financial aid information which cost me over $5000.

Yes, I wish they would tell you that to pay tuition there are specific people to go to before you wait in line and go to the wrong stop.

You need to figure out how to take credit and debit cards. This is a university for crying out loud. If you are not smart enough to figure it out, call someone who is.

Athletic department needs their own building.

Availability of drinking fountains: dehydration is a serious problem for students.

Bathroom upkeep. Several bathrooms seem to not be cleaned or cleaned unthoroughly.
Bathrooms are often very messy.

Bathrooms in the LA building are in a weird place. The LA building's heat is ridiculous in the winter. We could devote more effort to saving energy. What's with motorcycle parking? Do the ticket at random?

bathrooms in the north playing field.

bathrooms, they seem to be dingy and unclean.

Being able to go through the LA bldg to the hall of flags inside.

Better benches in the library, on the second floor by the windows. They are the roundish ones with a couple of tables with them (and maybe the downstairs benches in the library by the ginormous window. The benches are nicely designed, but really uncomfortable.

Better lighting at night. Sometimes people using the crosswalks wear dark clothing at it is hard to see.

Better toilet paper in the bathrooms.

Better TP! not that I use it a whole lot, but heck, nothing is worse than looking over and spying gritty, nameless, bound to be painful TP.

better training of employees

Build a legitimate testing center-the trailers are trashy and don't reflect well the status of UVU as a legitimate university. Also some parking structures could go along way to freeing up space and beautifying campus. It's kinda sad that we have almost as much space dedicated to parking as we do to buildings. Another thing I would like to see is a general entrance to campus that is well constructed and acts a gateway to UVU.

Build an indoor track. weight facilities for athletes

Cafeteria bathrooms are pretty old looking. Also, lights in the parking lot would be nice. Not only would it make it easier to see your car, but also would increase safety.

Cafeteria, there should be more food options, better food options especially for Vegetarian students. The food has gone down hill there.

Campus is not very well lit at night. It deters me from coming back to campus to study and go to Anatomy open labs. Also having the testing center as a part of the main campus building would be nice, so I could take a test in between classes instead of having to walk back and forth can't wait for the construction to be done;)

Clean the bathrooms better...they still look a little dirty.

Clean the food court areas better. Every time I sit down at a table it looks so greasy and there are several crumbs on the tables.

Clean toilets more often.

Cleaner water fountains (the drinking ones)

Cleaning the table and desk tops. To prevent the spread of germs.

could use more lighting in parking lot.
Cross walks.

Crosswalks from orange/purple lot to yellow lot.

don't have people cleaning in the hallways during evening classes, it is distracting.

Dont know.

Don't randomly block off parking. (Especially Motorcycle)

Emptying the recycle bins more often. They are always full.

Everything is always very clean and nice.

Everything is good.

Everything looks great.

Expand the number of tutors available for peer tutoring. Encourage teachers to spend time in tutoring center addressing the questions of their students. This would help them identify areas that could improve their teaching techniques and abilities.

Facilities are great. I wish more STUDENTS would pick up their own garbage instead of throwing it on the ground.

Facilities on campus are quite nice and useful. Well Done

Finish the construction.

flowers outside! make it prettier to look at

Get better toilet paper! That stuff in the bathrooms is really bad..

Get done with that construction! Buildings, roadways, others make getting to classes on time difficult. Explain to me why it is that I see 'students' who also work for the 'maintenance' (not sure if it is maintenance or something else???) in the orange covered little golf cart thingy’s, who are able to park right next to the CS building and go to classes (T/Th at 11:30 am, parking and going in the door on the 'airplane' side of the building - by the bike rack). Guess they must be 'related' to someone to have such privileges - right?

Get ride of classrooms they are most annoying and no longer very necessary, Rather restructure them. Take the arts not too many art classes are taught from the typical I sit at my own desk the instructor speaks at me, point of view. Rather students are engaged in what they are doing or learning. I know transportation makes it difficult but would history not be better taught in a museum setting? Why are such classes taught from a boring text that has not been updated since my father went to school other than to add what has happened in the last thirty years?

Get the darn science building done. That is all.

Get us a new fine arts building. There is no reason why they should build an entirely new building for 'classrooms and offices' when they could just turn the GT into a 'classrooms and offices' section and build a new facility for the Performing Arts. It would make everyone happier all around, especially because they get sick of everyone practicing in the halls. It is distracting to the Visual art majors and they hate us because of it, but there simply aren't enough rooms to practice at available times.

Gym, provide more area and equipment, don't you want healthy students?
Have better study areas in the Hall of Flags and science building. The chairs in the Hall of Flags are really uncomfortable. Hopefully the new science building includes some study areas. Places with comfortable seats, tables, and some couches.

Having worked as a landscaper/gardener for many years, I'd say the grounds in general on the main campus could use some help. They're pretty nice overall, but a little ragged around the edges.

Hiring people who don't all look the same. Some people find a 'unique individual' more approachable. I don't have this problem, but I have friends who wish for this change, and I agree with it. Professionalism aside, it's refreshing to see a visible tattoo or multiple piercings.

I actually have no suggestions. I like all the pedestrian crossing and new signs that have been put up around campus. The campus is always very clean and well maintained.

I actually like the concept behind UVU's buildings and grounds. I am eager to see what the building and grounds will look like when the science building is completed.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am satisfied.

I can't think of anything to improve at the moment.

I can't think of anything, I think they do a great job.

I do not go on campus

I do not like the parking at UVU. After paying the tuition and books and extra fees I think that parking should be free to students.

I do not live in the area.

I don't drive yet.

I don't ever see the campus facilities

I don't like having major hallways blocked, creating more student traffic and longer travel time between classes.

I don't visit campus enough to know how to improve things.

I HATE how the hallways are lined with chairs as though they were on display for purchase, rather than being welcoming to sit/study at, as well as walk past comfortably! This is especially true in the hall of flags. It's awkward sitting in these lines of chairs throughout the school, and it's awkward walking past them because inevitably your just being stared at because your walking past all these people who are looking straight at you. It's very distracting. These chairs need to be rearranged in a way that promotes more comfort and personal privacy, as well as making the walk less intimidating and threatening. Also, it's really unattractive.

I hate PARKING SERVICES>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>>

I have no good ideas for improvement to campus facilities at this time.

i have no ideas to improve on the campus facilities.

I have no suggestions for improvement.
I have noticed that the door closers are not adjusted very well in a lot of the rooms. I was Provo City Facilities Supervisor before retiring.

I like how many bathrooms there are everywhere. I can't think of any ways to improve them.

I like the main campus and its facilities. Plenty of restrooms all over.

I love my school, is very nice, new and clean something to improve, mayne it will be to take care about some students who already graduated and work there. why?...............because i saw some kindly students but others do not have patience. I think they forgot they were students before.

I love those guys, they make our lives so much easier. They're quick to respond if we have issues in the kitchen classes.

I really like the chairs at the computers in the library I only wish that there were the same chairs in the other computer labs. Mainly in the Sorensen.

I think a lot of major changes have been made, and that for the most part campus is very nice. My only complaints are PARKING, and the fact that you have to walk through the cold/snow because the main hallway after LA is still closed.

I think it is all great, maybe having the tables at the eating areas more clean because I often find them with a mess on them when I sit down.

I think it's fine the way it is.

i think its going great

I think that everything is good from my standpoint at the moment.

I think that facilities at UVU in general are very clean and well taken care of. Maybe dust a little bit more, and just keep up the good work in the bathrooms!

i think that overall they are good they could always use some updating but not horrible as is

I think that there should be more lighting after dark in the parking lot off the GT building.

i think the campus facilities are fine the way they are.

i think the facilities are great and i am excited for the construction to be finished on campus so we can use that new wing. The problem i face is the lack of parking and how far away the parking is from the campus.

I think the facilities department does an outstanding job of keeping the campus looking nice - kudos to them!

I think the parking is horrible

I think there need to be more labs, or available computers. The computers are always so busy that even when all I need to do is print something i can't get on. That may be another thing, just have a computer/computer lab that only does printing, not homework, facebook, youtube, and email.

I think that are doing a great job.

I think they are pretty good already.

I think they are very nice. I would add another dance room or two, considering how our program is growing.
I think they do a great job.

I think they do an awesome job! I would eliminate storing surplus and broken furniture and equipment and stuff in halls, stairwells, and in the parking lot by the Extended Education building.

I think they're good. Maybe build a trax system that goes around the campus instead of buses. Buses are unreliable.

I think they're great! Clean bathrooms, clean hallways, clean classrooms. Good work!

I think UVU facilities are great. We obviously need to keep adding more to buildings to accommodate more students. We seem to be heading in a good direction though. Parking could be better.

I try to stay off campus as much as possible, because it's so crowded and hard for me to concentrate.

I use a wheelchair and some of the doorways and sidewalks are too narrow for me to use comfortably.

I wish there were more programs where students could help take care of the grounds which would slightly reduce the need for janitors, would also increase school pride, and also decrease people from vandalizing/littering etc. It could be voluntary or give students something that the university can easily obtain but which is of great value to the students.

I work in the testing center, and out power goes out pretty frequently because the circuit gets overloaded—there just isn't enough support for all of the computers, printers, and other machines we need to keep the center running. Once we plugged in a space heater and it shut down an entire area of the office for most of the afternoon.

I would add more recycling bins. Having more recycling options helps eliminate trash. Sometimes I see that the recycling bins are completely full and bottles are just strewn around them.

I would agree they do a pretty good job, but there have been times when things are out for awhile (bathrooms mainly). Overall I feel the campus is kept up well, and I feel comfortable being here so I feel they are needed and do a good job.

I would check the electrical outlets more often, I have encountered non-functioning outlets several times.

I would expand parking at the business building. There is rarely any open space.

I would finish the construction, and build a parking garage. Perhaps to replace institute parking. I'd buy the small strip of land north east of institute parking and build a parking garage. It'd be perfect because it's be right near the library and the LA building where most students need to get to.

I would get rid of the old chairs with the wing tabletops like the ones in SC 202. I prefer the long tables and separate chairs like in LA 101. It is much easier to become situated and comfortable. The chair/table combos are uncomfortable and limit the amount of space you have to place books, papers, etc. They are not accommodating at all for anyone who may be even slightly overweight. Also, the food in the upstairs cafeteria is terrible. I stopped eating there half way through spring semester cause I couldn't stand it. The food is also way too expensive for what you get.

I would get rid of the tiny desks that are connected to chairs. They are neither comfortable or conducive to learning.

I would have more clocks in the hall. I don't know if this falls under their category but that's what I think!
I would improve getting around campus. With the construction right now, it's extremely hard to get where I need to go with the way my class is set up.

I would improve online campus maps. I have no idea where the Noorda Theatre is and the online maps don't describe it at all. The campus is beautiful. Maybe have more benches and stuff accessible out by the pond when all the construction is done. I'd like to spend more time out there, it's beautiful.

I would improve the library commons area; the seats, booths, tables, chairs, and microwave seem to be dirty most of the time. Cleaning the mentioned area and providing some way to clean up after oneself would improve this filthy area.

I would improve the space for students to be students. The school is cramped.

I would like more quiet study areas and a collaborative tutor center for all subjects.

I would like to see a staircase provided up the hill to the GT building with a sidewalk then connecting to the building. Also, a sidewalk is needed on the East side of the library and also on the north side so that you don't have to walk in the street, especially during the snowy times.

I would like to see lockers available in the library. Also, almost everywhere in the library gives glare on computer screens. Don't know if there is a way to help that. More study desks or areas with plugs for laptops/electronics.

I would like to see more parking in more locations. I know campus size is limited but as a student I get frustrated seeing countless empty faculty parking spaces and having to arrive at campus an hour before my class time to get parking. I could take another class if I wasn't spending time finding and securing a parking space, which is critical for me since my time is limited as a stay-at-home mother of four children.

I would like to see more seating available in other halls rather than the main ones

I would make them warmer, I'm so cold all the time.

I would prefer more hand dryers as opposed to paper towels.

I would put new Carpet inside every building on campus, so I would not have to smell the fresh clean damp smell of the carpet as soon as the cleaner goes over it.

idk haven't thought about it. don't really care at the moment

If you could somehow get better cell phone reception on campus, that would be awesome!

If you don't want students to make tracks through the lawn in the snow, don't drive where you don't want them to walk. When the go-carts drive through the snow, it makes natural lines to walk on.

I'm not sure what I would improve. The campus always looks nice when I am there.

I'm pleased with all campus facilities I use.

I'm sure there's improvements needed because most places do need improvement but I can't think of anything.

Improve Motorcycle parking. Enforce parking regulations while the campus is in session, not just 8am-4pm. After 4pm, parking sucks the worst, because the rules are less frequently followed.

In general facilities are clean and safe and comfortable.
In regards to exterior lighting, I am currently taking anatomy and many of the open labs go until midnight and in order to succeed in the class it is necessary to attend. UVU needs to accommodate the safety of the students who are here for the late classes and have the parking lot lights on until 12:15.

In the summer time when the grounds are watered, Water goes everywhere. The roads by the school are flooded. That wastes a lot of water. I wish we didn't waste any water, Installing proper ventilation in chemistry labs to improve the quality of life for the teachers and students.

It feels like I am in a warehouse. The improvements are looking better, but there is still a long way to go.

It is going to definitely be attitude. Because I am from other country, that doesn't mean I can't speak English. It might not perfect, but I don't want them to have old stereotype.

It seems like every time I use the restrooms there are always a few stalls that are out of service so maybe speeding the repair process up or even renovating the older restrooms to have a new sleek appearance and working facilities. Many of the drinking fountains could also use a replacement or at least a tune up so there is more than a small drizzle coming out. It might even be a good idea to install some external drinking fountains near each key entrance, the outer walkway centered between the CS and GT buildings, outdoor commons surrounded by the SC,WB, and BA buildings, and other outdoor walkways. Another thing that could be improved is making sure each classroom is retrofitted with the necessary equipment, for example i had a public speaking class last semester in a room that had recently been converted from a previous use but it was lacking a clock in the room so we couldn't manage time as effectively unless other students brought timers/clocks from home or on their laptops.

It seems that we desperately need more parking space.

It will be nice when you open up the connection between the Liberal Arts Building and the Sorensen Student center. It's getting cold outside. Cleaner, nicer restrooms. More study areas like the area that connects the CS building with the GT building. Some blinds on those windows for later afternoon studying would be nice, too. The study areas should provide power for laptops, too. It's hard to find a desk near an outlet sometimes. LESS BROKEN GLASS IN THE PARKING LOTS! It's ridiculous how much broken glass there is in the parking lots. I see your parking services people drive by it all the time, but they don't do anything about it. I want to be able to park without wondering if I'll have a flat tire after class.

It would be cool if UVU had a bigger gym. I run on the treadmills in there a lot and would prefer the facility be nicer with newer equipment and bigger. I noticed you got a new flat screen TV in there - which I think is great. Also brighter lighting outside, I hate walking to my car way out in the parking lot alone at night with dim lights and no cameras.

It would be nice if the heating and cooling was turned on/off on the appropriate day. The AC should not be on if people wore coats to school because it's cold outside. The girl's bathrooms are always scary by about 3pm.

It's a construction zone, this cannot be changed until the construction is finished. I frequently fear for my life in the parking lot, there is just not much in the way of designated walking traffic availability.

its fine.

I've always thought that campus facilities and grounds are kept very clean. Keep up the good work!

keep doing what you're doing, i like the campus considerably. i like the aesthetic, i like all the chairs everywhere, i like the cleanliness, i like the school.

Keep the bathrooms cleaner.
Keep them better maintained. Make sure snow is removed, leaves are really not that important to have to pick them up EVERY day. More parking (possibly a parking structure) FREE parking (follow BYU's method).

Lack of parking makes using on campus facilities very difficult.

Larger classrooms so the students don't have to sit so close to each other and the temperature of the class raises and it begins to smell like body odor. Have more classrooms with windows. Put those sweet hand dryers found on the main floor of the LA building in all of the bathrooms.

lighting in the parking lots at night, and the areas between the buildings and parking lots. i take night classes, and in the winter it is dark, and it would be more safe if it was well lit.

Make things more homey. Nicer chairs. Seriously, every other campus has decent furniture.

Many of the seating areas in the library are extremely uncomfortable. Especially the booths. They should be designed more with function in mind instead of just cool design.

Maybe a janitor should check the bathrooms every 4 hours to make sure its clean.

Maybe during the winter you can put some of those outside heaters along the way around the construction

Maybe having all the same genre of classes in one building. I have an english class in SA, a second english in WB, and a history in LA. My science class however, is in the PS.

Maybe more chairs or couches. Soft places to sit are super-nice after a long day of sitting in hard plastic chairs.

Men's restrooms need partitions in between all urinals. We need a fine arts building.

More and cheaper parking.

More and cleaner bathrooms.

More and larger facilities.

More areas for student relaxation and comfortable individual study.

More attention to the bathrooms, refilling papertowels/soap etc. Also, around the L.A. building a lot of people smoke in places they aren't supposed to (very close to the building) i would put the ash tray/trash cans further away.

more chairs are needed at the desks in the Pope science building.

More color on the walls. Let the arts department take over. There seems to be smoking in the non smoking areas, I dislike this.

more comfortable chairs, more recycling receptacles, more designated quiet areas more computer labs

more couches around the university, and more comfortable chairs and niches to study and relax between classes. Kind of like what the library has, but all around campus. the older buildings aren't very comfortable to study in.

More couches in the hallways. It's uncomfortable to sleep on the floors. Maybe there should be a designated room with dim lights for students to go in and take naps in between classes.

More couches, and large comfortable chairs because I have a 12 hour day at the main campus
More desks/tables in the hallway for studying.

More dressing rooms in the GT building for the arts department because currently dancers are changing in the bathrooms and it is crowded.

more drinking fountains

more elevators

more exterior lighting - it's scary at night

more frequent bathroom cleans... especially in the mens bathroom... especially at the urinals... especially in the CS building...

More frequent emptying of recycling receptacles--in some places at least they are filled to overflowing before being dumped.

More healthy food options and facilities to use them (ie, toasters & microwaves)

More lighting is needed on the exterior pathways to the parking lots.

More Parking

More permanent locations for classes

More private rooms for studying.

More sanitary dispensers in the hallways and bathrooms by the doors.

more service opportunitys to be on campus. its always great to go and serve your fellow man.

more sockets in the hallways. It is hard to use my personal computer for homework when all the outlets are taken.

more space and more classrooms, some of the hallways it's barely wide enough for people walking single file and there are often people going both ways

More studios for dance classes in the LA building. It's hard to run from GT back to the LA in less then ten minutes.

more tables to do work on school assignments and if possible more computers in the library

More walkways and access to class buildings

Much larger array of eating establishments.

My biggest concern with the facilities is parking. I feel that the new yellow lot (way out on the 'Lakeside') is a joke and waste of money. That money should have been put towards a parking structure. We don't need more parking far away. The few times that I've have driven past that lot, it has been mostly empty. If I had to choose between paying to park out there and walking to the building or parking in the free lot and having access to the shuttle, I would pick the free lot.

Need more parking. If it were possible parking garages closer to the buildings, by the library and the computer science building maybe.

New and updated restrooms in LC especially LC 4th floor. Facilities seems to do a great job and the campus look nice.

New carpet in the main halls. (Hall of Flags) A lot of the restrooms seem like they are super old and feel very trashy.

New elevator in gunther trades building would be great.

New gym facility

Nicer bathrooms. More parking!!!

no

No comment.

No comments. :-D

no idea

no more painting in the math area, it stinks. Pizza Hut, really? Where is Wendy's??

No opinion

no opinion at this time

No smoking anywhere near the school buildings.

No smoking within 25 feet of any building.

No suggestions

No, I really like the facilities. They are great!

none

None that I can think of.
None.

None. All good in my opinion.

nope

Not anything I can think of. I think the campus is safe, clean, and comfortable.

Not familiar with it.

Not much, they do well.

Not really a campus facility, but, more parking!

Not sure.

Not sure.

Nothing

nothing

nothing

nothing

Nothing

Nothing

nothing everything is good

Nothing from what I have seen it is a very clean and safe school

Nothing I think the campus is good.

nothing really

Nothing really.

Nothing, I think it's fine.

Nothing, I think the campus always looks clean and well-kept.

Nothing, I'm very satisfied with facilities. Unless parking is part of that. we need more parking! why isn't there an underground parking structure?!

Nothing, its very clean and safe to me.Lots of room to study and I don't feel like I am sitting on someones lap like at BYU.

Nothing, the campus has always seemed clean and there are always people working to keep it clean.

Nothing, these guys are great!

Nothing, they are always clean and they are in very convenient spots.

nothing.
Nothing.

Nothing.

nothing. everything seems to be in good condition.

Nothing. They do a great job.

Nothing; they do an amazing job.

Only that the construction creates an uncomfortable experience walking around outside in the winter.

Outdoor lighting from the buildings to the parking lots, for obvious reasons.

outside Picnic Tables around campus

Over all I am very happy with the buildings and UVU’s ability to make comfortable places to study.

Overall i feel that everything is satisfactory.

Paint fumes are rather annoying to deal with in completely enclosed hallways.

parking

Parking

Parking It is either expensive or hard to find a parking spot.

parking and a music building, there is not enough parking, the art department get's mad at us for being too loud.

Parking can always be made better, especially for day students.

Parking is a disaster! I understand with construction there will be problems, but parking is a big problem.

parking is a huge problem. there are just not enough spots and the paid parking is taken over when there are events. this is absurd.

Parking should be free for all of us.

Parking!

Parking!

Parking, because it is a mess. More shuttles, or a shuttle that runs from the library to free parking only.

Parking, it gets extremely busy.

Parking, its the devil to try and find a place to park. Also I am a starving student I would like to see food prices go down a bit I am on campus all day and if i forget my lunch I dont want to pay 8 dollars for a meal.

Parking.

Parking. Parking is terrible. I feel I have to park a long ways away to get to class, or I drive in circles for a long time until a student comes to their car to drive away. Takes up to 15 minutes to get parking.

Parking. Parking. Parking. The Facilities Department can't really improve that though. I'm just saying that the parking really sucks.
Parking. The parking at Wasatch is awesome, but the main campus is difficult. I have to pay $80 for a parking pass and have to park very far away from the building were my class is being held. I live 30 minutes away and riding the bus or a bike is not an option for me. There are no buses between Heber and Orem.

Parking... there needs to be more parking.

Pay them more money!

People paying for parking passes should ALWAYS be given priority over outside events and their participants.

Perhaps out in air dryers instead of paper towel dispensers because it would reduce waste.

prettier landscaping. it helps things look nicer

Provide more tables in the hallways to use between classes.

Quite FEW DARK PLACES ON CAMPUS AT NIGHT- NOT SAFE WHEN YUO GET OUT OF SCHOOL LATE. Need more lights along some walk ways.

Remodeling the bathroom would be a good idea

Replacing desks on campus with ones that are not sized for high school students. I'm 6 feet tall and of a stocky build. I don't fit very well in the desks in my classrooms.

Restrooms are always dirty. I have seen janitors sleeping while working and hiding in remote parts of campus

Restrooms are disgusting and old. A room for nursing mothers to pump milk would be at the top of my list though. Trying to do that in a bathroom or a car is disgusting, uncomfortable, and unsanitary. Utah law protects nursing mothers, UVU should too.

Roadways and traffic lights/circles - sometimes it's impossible to maneuver the roads to and from campus because traffic congestion near peak class times. Perhaps five lanes instead of three. Parking structures - because parking has only gotten worse. More classrooms and faculty offices. Lecturers and Adjucts should have some type of office space to meet with students - the hallway is not the place to discuss confidential/personal problems. Offices that spring up in the hallways look unfinished, unprofessional, unplanned and outright ugly. Consistent sidewalk appearance with ADA access. (New sidewalk by library has no ADA access/ramps/slopes.)

Satisfied, no complaints

Segways! j/k

Shuttles to walmart

SMELLS ALL AROUND NEED TO BE BETTER FROM THE BATHROOMS TO THE CLASSROOMS. ALSO SOME ARE TOO HOT IN THE SUMMER

So Far, So Good

Some are in serious need of upgrading. The are getting very old

Some of the bathrooms are old, like the one by the food court. Everywhere else is nice.

Sometimes campus seems like a giant, impersonal, and almost always- crowded processing facility. If there were more student lounges, more warmth, style, class, and less mall feeling- I would feel more pride.

Sometimes it can be noisy ing classtimes.
Sometimes it's slippery outside during winter time.

Sometimes the timing of light in the east parking lots is late leaving them dark for students leaving evening classes.

Stay more on top of ice on the sidewalks in the winter. I'm prone to slipping.

Stop painting the hallways yellow. Add seating or benches outside of classrooms. There is no place to sit when waiting for a class to get out. (It seems like classrooms are overbooked and 10 minutes isn't enough time to empty a classroom)

Stop roping off the grass. Dead grass is less ugly than neon yellow ropes. Stop treating parking as a revenue stream. It reinforces the idea that UVU has its best fiscal interests forever in mind, never their students' education.

Take out overhead music in general study area of testing center.

Testing center lines are long. Especially when you have a timed test you loose time that you can be using on your test.

That there should be a place where everyone know where they are. Therefore we wont waste our time looking for someone to clean up vomit right away.

The basement bathrooms in some of the buildings because they are old and not as nice and clean as some of the others.

The bathrooms get kind of nasty around 4:00 from lots of use. Other than that it's pretty clean around campus.

The bus that goes around campus takes too long. I like how it used to go to the ballroom and back to free parking. I do think those who have classes in the EE center do like the ride up there too. I think it would be best to have two bus systems going. One to EE and other to ballroom. That way it would be more accessible.

The business building's bathrooms are old and dirty

The campus is always clean except the art rooms

The carpets in classrooms need more regular cleaning. They are filthy.

The computers are very slow to log in to. I don't know what happened, but last semester they were faster. It is very annoying to wait for a long time when all you need to do is quickly printing a paper or the sorts.

The desk situation in most older classrooms is ridiculous. I learn better if im comfortable and those old desks make that impossible.

the desks are so small and close together. I am tall for a girl, but I stand at around 6 feet tall, my legs aren't super long, but I have the hardest time focusing in my desk because I am no comfortable in those small desks! I don't expect them to be super comfortable, but I'd like to not hit my knees on the back to the desk in front of mine.

The elevators are so slow, except in the library, and some of them are smelly. I have to use them because I am handicapped and they have made me late for class often.

The facilities are great, but sometimes people cleaning them in the library are very loud. I was studying on the third floor and a lady custodian was almost yelling near the elevator. Other than that though, no complaints.

THE GARBAGE NEEDS TO GET TOSSED EVERYDAY ALONG WITH THE RECYCLABLES (ESPECIALLY IN THE BASEMENT OF THE LA BUILDING). THE TRASH PILES UP FOR DAYS AND IT REALLY NEEDS TO BE EMPTY EVERY DAY MORE THAN ONCE.
The GT building is old and smelly and one of the most run down building on campus. It does not have the feel of a university but the feel of the trade school UVU has evolved from. We need an update there please! Some of my classes in the GT have leaky pipes that will drip on the students. As well as loud pipe and heating sounds so much so that I can't hear the teacher!

The Hall of Flags. I hate walking through there for many various reasons.

The janitors who are assigned to the GT building don't clean the rooms.

The older parts of campus need more natural sunlight. The remodeled LC building is a great place to learn; so is the library. Older parts of campus need to be more spacious; they need to do something with the colored pipes, that is so UVSC, it is time for a more prestigious and professional look. The classrooms need to be bigger; they need to be more like an auditorium rather than a school-desk layout.

The only thing I would suggest is having something pretty to look at in every hall. I love that the school is always clean, I just would like it to look prettier!

The parking situation! Other than that, I love the main campus facilities...I love how all the buildings are connected together.

the school of the arts building, because the building its currently in is hindering the progress of the school. doeant have the facilities needed for the best performances

The smell. The people. Up date bathrooms in some areas. Open the new science building. Make it easier to get from one side of campus to the other. huh.

The soccer/football field to the west of the education building is way OVER watered. The grass is always mushy and there is a need for a sidewalk from the parking lot to the education building. There is also a need for a computer lab/printing lab in the education building for students to use. Currently, students in the education program don't have any way to print the needed materials for classes because the computer labs have classes scheduled much of the time each day.

the temperature in all the buildings is so crazy and changes all the time. More consistency along those lines would be great. Especially as a dance major it's hard to deal with all the changes in temperature - even in the same classroom!

The women's restroom, by the library auditorium has been out of paper towel and the toilet paper rolls don't seem to be installed properly, and so you either can't unroll the tp, or the roll falls out onto the floor.

the workout gym is very tiny and you can hardly even use on weekdays or mornings because they have classes there

Their attitudes, they all look so unhappy!

There are a few areas where the external lighting is insufficient or out to the point that walking from an evening class to the parking lot included extended periods walking in near pitch-black.

There are a lot of people who sit on the floors of the basement hallways in the LA building and block traffic with their legs. It would be nice to have some chairs down there so that these students don't trip people who are trying to walk.

there are some restrooms (Losee building) that are really old and gross and i try not to go into there is a part of a building under construction, because of this I have to go outside to get to my classes and in bad weather is annoying. If the construction where complete I would be able to just go though the builds and not have to leave the builds until I was done with all my classes. So the construction is making travelling from one class to another more difficult than it needs to be.

There is nothing that I can think of.

There isn't anything I would change, I've been very satisfied with them.

There needs to be more cheap/free parking. It is insane how little there is.

There should be more facilities bathrooms etc.

They are pretty good.

They could use better hats

They do an excellent job at keeping our campus looking nice.

they do good work

They don't empty the recycling very often.

They're fine.

Things always seem fine to me.

This might seem silly, but I really hate most of the faucets in the women's restrooms in the LA. The water pressure is so high that it is more like getting a shower than washing hands. There is one faucet in each restroom that does not do this and it seems that a lot of women wait for that one rather than using the super-sprayer faucets.

This University is a commuter campus and there is no good place to study late. ost universities have their libraries open 24 hours most of the week. I find that when I need the library to study it is close to closing or not open.

Traffic leading to the roundabout is horrendous. There are also nearly constant congestion problems at the intersection nearest to the library.

Try to have more seamless renovations and construction instead of closing a large portion of campus.

Try to regulate heater vents so that soft voiced teachers can still be heard or offer a microphone option so students do not miss notes.

Turn the GT building into less of a dungeon. It is SO depressing and ghetto. I mean, my ART class does not have adequate lighting. Light is so important when doing any kind of art work, yet our facilities are lacking in quality.
Two people can't walk down the hallway at one time when our arms are full of our projects. It's a narrow maze of plain creepiness. Another reason I don't think I want to continue my course work at this University. I am switching to Graphic Design so I would spend the majority of my time in that God awful building.

update bathrooms

Update the WB bathrooms.

Upholstery cleaning for the chairs in the halls... they are filthy.

UVU has a beautiful campus.

We need more parking.
We need more space, especially as a music major. We rehearse in a room that wasn't designed acoustically to hold a band or orchestra. If you want to keep your hearing you have to wear earplugs. We also can't fit everyone in the room. We hit each other while taking out instruments, our chairs are an inch apart, and the music stands behind you hit your head. We only have 5 practice rooms for 200 musicians. We have to fight to get rooms to practice in, I hold clarinet sectionals in the instrument room because there's no space and people walk in and out of our practices to get their instruments. Before I came here they would have sectionals in the elevator and bathrooms. I chose UVU over BYU because I thought the faculty was better, but without the proper facilities we can never be that competitive with other universities.

We need stars on the giant hill going to the 'EE' building. Walking all the way around is a long walk. Also walking up the hill only works when there is no snow. (for those who don't take the shuttle, like me...)

When students park at the institute/stake center parking they jay-walk because there nearest crosswalk is far away. Maybe 1000 people Jay-walk there a Day. It is a possible Danger and should be looked into.

Why do we not have a pool?  Can we have saunas too?

Yeah they are fine, I just hope they stay nice over time you guys actually do a really great job with that, thank you.

you guys are doing fine lol

You need better parking. Parking is ridiculous for the amount you charge for parking passes.
Q.82

As previously mentioned when leaving late in the evening from the anatomy open lab. Parking lots and walk-ways should have adequate light for the safety of the students.

At 8:30 p.m. when leaving evening classes.

at the end of the shool night walk to the car parked out in the far fields....lol

Early mornings and late nights, especially when walking from buildings to parking lots and vice versa. Sidewalks are not very well lit leading from the parking lots into the Woodbury building.

Evening classes traveling from class to parking lot.

I don't ever feel safe there. Especially at night when I leave the racquetball courts after practice.

I feel unsafe because I had a stalker for a few months and tried to get help from campus officers but they did not help me.

I feel very unsafe after I get out of class at night. I attend evening classes and still have to park so far away not enough lights in the parking lot and don't know if there is a phone number to call for campus security?

I feel very unsafe leaving my night classes. I feel that it is so dark. I also feel that the smoking laws should be better enforced.

I have never seen an officer on campus. I've seen them driving around giving tickets-I would rather see them on their feet walking around campus, especially at night.

I take evening classes. I have never seen a security officer. It would be nice to have someone that could walk me to my car in the evening OR better lighting and emergency call boxes on campus.

I work till 8pm and then have a 45 min. wait for my bus this is the time I feel most unsafe.
I'm at the school from 11-5pm every day and I hardly ever see any police officers on campus. I feel like the parking is so bad that I always have to park far out and then am afraid to walk back to my car through the tunnels alone.

Leaving East side of campus by the cs building. At night most of the path is dark. We need better lighting along this path.

Lighting is terrible at night. The on-campus police spend too much time citing people for dumb stuff and I don't have a lot of confidence in them. They're more likely to give me a ticket for jay-walking than to actually help. So many areas of campus you are forced to jay-walk too and that's frustrating.

Nights on my way back to my car on the mountainside parking lot - no lights, far from the actual school, no cameras etc.

Nights. Parking lots are dark.

outside, and inside with creepers at nights?

parking lot

The lighting at night, do not like walking to my car a lone. especially crossing the street and walking across the parking lot late at night.

Walking across campus alone at night--especially to the ends of the parking lot(s) furthest away from the school buildings. There could be more light, and to have more frequent patrol of campus security/police would also be a comforting sight.

Walking home from my late night classes.

Walking to my car at night. The north parking lot is not well lit and there isn't sufficient parking so I have to park really far away and do not feel safe walking to my car at night. The parking lot is really dark and there isn't any security out there at all.
$10 per semester

$100 - anything more than that is absurd. I already get raped for tuition

$100 a semester

$100 a year, I think it is already a rip off! I pay $80 and can't find a parking spot!

$100 a yr

$100 for a full year

$100 for the year

$100 or less

$100 per year

$100 per year, $60 per semester

$100 per year. I hesitate even putting this amount because I believe that parking should be included in tuition and the general uses of the facilities on campus.

$100 per year. Or guarantee ALL OF YOUR SPACES

$100-$150

$100, if that. My classes mostly take place in the GT, so parking by the student center isn't much of an incentive when I can just park at the top of campus, or get an economy pass and take the shuttle.

$100, there is absolutely no reason to make it any more expensive, you already charge too much for parking.

$100.00 at most and please have a lot of handicap parking available
$100/semester

$100/year (as opposed to the $80 yellow pass I currently have)

$120 as long as it's good for one year

$120.00 at most. That's $20 more than a year parking pass.

$125. I don't really have any issues with parking now. I may have to park a ways out there, but I've never had a hard time finding a spot. Paying over twice as much for a spot in this parking structure is just uneconomical for the little benefit it provides.

$150  We are students. We are not rich people. Give us a break!

$150 annually

$150 for a year

$150/semester

$20.00  Anything above that is absurd. you are asking college students, most of which are working to make rent and tuition and you have the audacity to charge over $20 for parking passes now. Ridiculous and over priced. What would the school do with all the money? get more signs? LAME.

$200 but for the entire year August to the following august

$200 per calendar year or essentially Fall Spring and Summer semesters consecutively.

$200/semester or $400/year

$25 :)

$50 don't be jerks

$50 or less. Most students have to have financial aid to pay for books over that price. A parking pass is no different. Money is still being spent.

$50-$80

$75 per semester

$80 for 2 semesters, we pay that now, and that's already high.

$80 for one semester

$80 just like regular parking.

$80 Just like the regular year pass

$80 per semester. why make it higher than it is now?

$80 per Year. You should not sell pass if you dont have room.

$80 should be more than enough

$80-$100, but I would likely park somewhere else before paying that much anyway

100 or less. I already think 80 dollar parking passes are steep.
100 per year
100$ But I personally wouldn't even pay that. I just think that's a more reasonable price.

100, we're college students not millionaires.

60
60, WE ARE COLLEGE STUDENTS!!!!!!!
60. Why should it be so expensive. Don't our expensive tuition costs help cover stuff like this?
ALL OF THESE OPTIONS WAY TOO HIGH. $80. Because the distance from the structure to your class is not necessarily any closer than the distance you find in the parking lot.

All those prices are ridiculous for parking. Parking is expensive enough as it is for college students any where from $50 to $100.

Aprox. $100 (Possibly base it on which level you can park on).

Are these prices for 12 months? I guess I would pay up to $200 for 12 months.

As a one time deal, or every year? $100 each year seems fair.

Can't afford more than a $30 pass

Cheeper because I'm blind and I don't really use these services much.

College is already so expensive. How about $120 that is a 40% increase

Depends on if its a year pass or 1 semester pass

Depends on the expiration of the pass along with convenience of exiting the parking stucture. I would not pay any of the above amounts if the pass was not valid for at least a year and there was a fast and easy way to exit the parking structure such as elevators or ramps/stairs directing to campus.

For a school year $100

For a Semester pass 150$ for a year pass 500$ for a life pass 1500-2000

For a Year? How Long?

For a year? I would be willing to pay about 100-150 but no more than that.

FOR SOME ONE ON FIXED INCOME, MAKES IT HARD.
For the whole year
Handicapped Students should not be required to pay for parking, don't you think they have enough they have to deal with?

have one level be paid for visitors, some for ADA and two levels for faculty; build non-pay loop for 5 min. drop-off
I graduate so it doesn't apply to me.
I guess it would depend on how long I was on campus.
I have employee pass
i think the $80 we already pay for parking is ridiculous considering we already have to pay tuition and for textbooks
I would definitely love having a permanent parking pass in front of the student center, and I would like to say I would pay any price for that service; but in all honesty, I am a poor starving student...
I would not be willing to pay any prices this high.
I would not pay any more than the $80/year I've paid previously for a student parking pass.
I would only pay $200 if it was for more than one semester other than that I would pay the $10 more the current fees.
i would only pay 100 at most for a permit.
i would pay $50 max, I can walk from free parking and already pay enough money for tuition and books to UVU.
i would pay up to $150. But the rest is excessive.
i would pay what I pay now, $80. There is no reason for it to be above that.
i would rather park in the lot than pay any of those fees.
i wouldn't pay if it was that much money
I'd only pay for one if it cost less than a subsidized UTA bus pass
If it's for a whole year I would pay no more than $100- otherwise I'll stick with the $80 a year for regular parking
I'm ok with $200, but please realize, I have a BIG truck, and I would want it to fit if I buy
Is this per semester?
It's ridiculous how over priced it is to park. Id rather take a bus then Pay some ridiculous amount.
Keep it the same price as the current parking pass less than $100
Less than $200
less than 100
MAYBE $100
no more than $100
no more than $100 for a full year no more than $80 per year.
No more than the current cost of a year-long parking pass
No more than the regular pass for 80 dollars no more then the regular parking pass cost not willing to park in the structure parking should be free we are already paying a huge amount for school Per Semester? Or Per Year? I haven't even been willing to pay 80 per year, I would never pay more.
same as I would be for any other parking lot on campus same as regular parking pass, we should be able to park, JHC.
should be included in the parking pass price
Should be included in the student parking pass at no additional charge.
should be included in tuition, don't we pay enough for our education already someone has to pay for the structure but i would only pay 100 max.
That depends, Will the pass be good by terms? If so, certainly not more than $50/semseter. If a full calendar year, maybe $120.
That will be way to small of a structure.
The same 80 that I paid for the other pass. I attend night classes and always find parking with the yellow pass.
The same amount as a normal price, which is still too highly priced.
There is already free parking which still requires a pass for some reason, if $200 is the minimum i think we'll see more people in the free parking.
there's no way in hell I would pay 200 just to park on campus.
This is the most absurd thing I've ever heard of. Anyone who would pay even $200 is a moron.
those (and current) prices are a joke; all STUDENT parking should be free.
Those are all too much. But I would buy one.
Tuition is expensive enough to pay 200 for parking..are you kidding?
Wouldn't pay more than 100 for the year
You have not specified how long this pass would be in effect. A semester? A year? The fee scale should be similar to the other passes, so $100/year. If you can't afford it, don't build it.
YOU SHOULD BE BUILDING A PARKING STRUCTURE FOR STUDENTS!!!! NOT SOMETHING THAT COSTS OVER 200 DOLLARS!!!

your parking fees are ridiculous
1. The more graduate programs offered by UVU the more credibility UVU gains. 2. Doing well in multi-college academic competitions (where students are able to compete against students from other colleges in the state) bolsters the credibility of UVU. 3. Doing well in NCAA D1 sports increases student pride.

1. NEED MORE HANDICAP PARKING. 2. FIX DEATH TRAPS ON DIFFERENT FLOORS. 3. PUT MORE ELEVATORS IN OR PUT ESCELATORS IN. THAT WOULD MAKE IT EASIER AND QUICKER TO GET TO CLASSES. THOSE ELEVATORS TAKE TO LONG TO COME FROM ONE LEVEL TO ANOTHER.

A better awareness of events going on.

a better basketball team and maybe a football team in the future

A football team

a football team

A football team

a football team closer campus housing

a football team (make people out of state actually know or at least hear of the school??) having a better bookstore who wouldn't make me feel like they are trying to make money off of me and it think this actually applies for the starbucks and the cafeteria as well. REAL EGGS PLEASE AT THE CAFETERIA! having a better gym Not having to deal with instructors who would never reply for my emails and actually have decent instructors in my classes (not saying that all of the instructors are like that, i actually love some of my professors but there are some instructors who couldn't care less about my learning!)

A football team would give me reason to have pride in UVU, especially if they were successful

A Football team!

A football team.
A Football team.

A football team. Getting into a bigger conference. Too bad Utah State kept us out of the WAC.

A Football team. Getting rid of a couple professors.

A football team... national recognition... limit the bucreancy of paper work for clubs to fill out forms......

A good experience at a event of some sort

A new computer? Cash? I dunno? I'm here for the degree and portfolio, not the 'PEP' so to say...

A sense of pride needs to first be felt from the professors before the students will get a fire under themselves to show up and act up.

A sense that UVU is respected in academic circles for the work being done here and for the quality of instruction (that graduates are considered well-prepared and well above average in their fields).

A strong athletic program strengthens school image at and outside of school.

A wider variety of activities that are offered at better times then smack in the middle of the afternoon.

Absolutely nothing. I'm not that kind of person.

Access to events free and less outside homework and more in class involvement

Access to events without additional fees.

Activities that apply to my interests and are well planned. I have been to some activities that I was disappointed in and some that were fair. I think student government needs to try new activities. They have brought in some interesting speakers though. Bring Malcolm Gladwell!

Actually participating..

Admission standards, preferred parking for upper classmen, better public image, stricter performance standards for professors, increased competition with other schools

Advertise when games are more.

Advertising and getting students more excited! GET PEOPLE EXCITED!

Again, I think the we need to get out of the great west conference.

Again, if UVU got into a better conference it would be better recognized how well they do and students as well as the community loves to get involved with teams who are good.

All day student rallies

All handicap doors working through out the year

All Teachers with PHDs and a New Testament studies program or Near Eastern Studies program

ALLOW MORE OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE WORKING, PARENT, STUDENT

An activity that was available and got everyone involved (such as football, maybe even making intramural football more of the thing or something else that gets a majority of the students out to it whether it be music, plays, sports).
An ongoing and highly visible community service project that is recognized by most members of the local community.

As previously stated I think a football team is something that really brings in a students pride in his/her school and UVU would greatly benefit from having its own football team. It would also help with retention which this school is seriously lacking.

As stated before, besides being a great University and knowing it internally. I think UVU could benefit from giving statistical proof as to how good we really are. Show why we should be proud to be UVU students (and not just the fact that we have a lot of students). Also, have a following of UVU sports published in the big newspapers. This is weird, but I really like the fliers in the bathrooms. Something I don't feel is effective is the 100s of fliers that are posted on each bulletin board. Maybe an email like the 'UVannouncements' could be sent out on Monday of every week with just the things that are happening as far as activities.

As stated previously, UVU actively denies students their education by admitting everyone and placing 'soft caps' on the students. I feel this is unethical and should stop immediately. Then we can discuss student pride.

Athletic Dept. Academic Standards for admission.

Attend more school events, be more involved with event outside of campus schedule.

Attending more events, feeling more included be active in more things

Be an on-campus student

Be committed

Be more involved in the activities

Because of the ranking, and students are not easily to find jobs, especially international students.

Become a more relevant university in athletics and academics. Right now in athletics, we don't play well known teams. Academics, we are looked down upon by BYU and Utah. UVU has taken on the image of collecting all the students who couldn't get into the other two universities.

Becoming a member of MAWL.

Being able to attend activities without feeling over stressed about homework, or finding care for my children. I am a single mother and can't afford an off campus day care for my children, I also have been unable to get in contact with anyone about the on-campus daycare.

being more involved in the activities on campus or in clubs or something like that but I'm really only here to study and get work done so I don't have time for extracurricular activities like that Being more involved. Having UVU be more prestigious.

Being part of student government.

Better advertising of events and more Excited people marketing them.

better advisors and opportunities for students

Better athletic attendance and community support.
Better classes and programs. The testing center is horrible. I don't know who's idea was to put the testing center right next to the wrestling team and track team.

Better instructors.

Better involvement of athletics. A football team.

Better pride in academics standards.

Better service when asking questions about financial aid, general advising, more employees willing to answer questions instead of just send you on to the next person. I would like to see President Holland more and feel like he is more part of the campus.

Better sports teams that I can route for.

Better sports teams, a football team that could play against U of U, BYU, Utah state etc. Also more academic recognition among other schools.

Better teachers and a better school reputation.

Build the culture of the school. The school motto should be displayed better.

Change the entire curriculum of my major...

Cheaper and better parking. More visits from industry leaders in the film industry, and better career-placement programs. Also, make the school more of a Nation -wide recognized presence. More hands-on experience in the film and sound programs would make me coincident in starting a career in those industries, making it more likely for me to complete a degree program here instead of transferring.

Cheaper entrance fees, or make them a bigger deal.

Cheaper tuition and bigger funding for educational learning, in-class and out-of-class learning.

Close enrollment. Give me something to actually be proud of.

Close enrollment. Make UVU more exclusive and people will take it seriously. Really work on developing the programs and getting state of the art equipment so that potential students have a reason to come and be proud of their choice, rather than having students come because they couldn't get in anywhere else.

Competition against other schools.

Connections to the industry from either Alumni or employer interships would increase the value of the UVU education over other schools.

Consider the students that pay student fees, but have to work, so can't enjoy much of what they pay for. You can give my student fees back :)

Dances

Decrease the level of acceptance, make the school more than just a community college. Properly motivate students with things that matter, and not pointless trivial things like free cotton-candy.

doing something about putting some sort of light at he wee care cross walk that is a dangerouds crosswalk i have been almost t hit several times in it by drivers driving to fast or not paying attention.
Don't allow everyone in :) make it a harder school to get into so it has higher standards dont have time to participate in student activities

don't know

Don't know. I'm here to get my education and as long as I'm getting what I feel is an education that will help me learn necessary skills for the future that's all I need.

Dorms, and free tickets to sporting events.

Eh. UVU is a campus that favors non-traditional students. I don't participate much in campus events and activities, and I don't see a lot of evidence that student government applies or contributes to me as a student. I think UVU provides a good education, and I think my department has strong instructors and mentors for me. These are the reasons I have school pride. It doesn't have much to do with having a UVU t-shirt.

End open enrollment at UVU.

Even more diversity and awesome guest speakers and opportunities for students to engage with ideas and events happening in the world. These are the things I love most about UVU

Feeling a sense of unity

Find out how much of the student population is married and have an event or two catering to them.

Focus attention and money into developing other sport groups. UVU should focus on their Hockey team and put some money towards rugby. I could care less about football and basketball.

FOOTBALL

Football

football games

Football games. They always arouse student pride levels.

football team

Football team

FOOTBALL TEAM! IT WOULD BE THE EPITOMY OF MY PRIDE!

football team.

Football team.

Football team. I love the school, but we don't really have a lot going for us in the way of competition (sports) between other big schools that I know of in the area.

Football Team?

football team???

Football!

Football.
For me to get more involved in student activities.

For my personal level of pride, I don't know that there is anything that can be done. It's a personal preference and I do have pride in my school but I'm not ridiculous about it. It's a good school and there are things that are disappointing about it but I still enjoy going here.

Free T-shirt and bumper stickers

Free t-shirts.

Free tuition so that I can go to school full time!

funner events

GET A FOOTBALL TEAM!!! Recently I wanted to get a UVU hat. I decided to go to the UVU Bookstore, which had a few good options but a little too expensive for my liking so I decided to shop around. I next went to Walmart (across the street from UVU) they had a very nice BYU and UTAH merchandise options and I think I saw maybe two shirts for UVU. Disappointed in the selection I ventured over to the mall to the sporting goods store, again very wide variety for BYU and UTAH, but only two stupid looking hats for UVU and they were stupid because the logos were the same colors as the hat so they didn't stand out. Football is recognition and pride, let's us have a team.

Get a football team, get a football team

Get a football team, stop open-enrollment, mitigate other tactics of 'weeding people' out without closing enrollment.

Get a football team.

Get a football team.

Get a football team.

Get a football team.

Get more programs!!!!

Get rid of the rate tape that is destroying the aviation program at UVU. I would love to be back and flying with you, but there is no motivation.

Get the veterinary technician program

Getting more involved and having some great experiences.

Getting more involved with the school.

Getting more involved. Having a scholarship!

Getting more students involved by incorporating their majors into the social atmosphere. For example, having Digital Media students work on projects for advertising for sporting events or having athletic student participate in Digital Media projects, like filming or evaluating student designed websites.

Give me a free t-shirt.

Give me a school I can be proud of. Have quality facilities. Have quality instructors.

Give me more time to get everything done.
Give me something to be proud in. When Bill Nye came to campus, my student pride sky rocketed, almost to a religious amount of UVU dedication. But other than that, I don't care much about the speakers or sports teams. They just don't 'wow' me. But with having something noteworthy happen at UVU, so noteworthy that the newspapers off campus cared, that matters to me. That gives me something to brag about.

Give out FREE T-shirts give out prizes and other stuff to students going to school at night

Giving out more student gear, or having more contests on campus.

Go the the UVU events on campus more often.
going to more events with friends, having people to go to events with, events being able to fit into my schedule more Good question. No real answer there.

Graduation.

Greater support of the arts. More places to show student work. More and better vegan food options in the cafeteria

Hand out pride puppies that students can take home

Have a Battle of the Bands!!! or Something like once a month bands could play at the UCCU center.

Have a football team, have cleaner dances, have better (cheaper) parking options, eliminate teachers with very poor ratings.

Have a football team.

Have a football team. For some reason, it just generates more interest and pride than any other sport.

Have a legitimate division 1 football team. School pride often comes from competition with other schools especially in sports.

Have a student government which does something useful.

Have all freshmen class stay on campus in dorms for the first year. Offer a competitive meal plan to faculty, staff, and students, not just green bucks as a discount. Have more sporting activities that would bring in more revenue and excitement to the college.

Have athletic teams which can draw students to the events.

Have better teachers and education standards. If I was getting a quality education, I might feel more pride in my school.

Have fewer students who are unprepared for college attending. I have attended many classes in which the knowledge level of the students was very low even for the general education classes.

Have free activities and make them known.

Have hockey games!

Have more activities that suit my interests.
Have more activities, make signs so I'm more aware of what's going on. Have different activities in different buildings.

Have more athletic teams like football or soccer men's teams, something that will integrated more the wolverine's spirit.

Have more attractive people motivate me/??

Have more attractive UVU attire, prettier campus and programs that were ranked high in their field.

Have more family oriented activities available. There are a lot of students who have families on campus.

Have more involvment in student government. I don't know anything about anybody in student government.

Have more places other than just the library where kids can go as parents get tutoring or help in any subject. That for me would increase my UVU pride. Another thing that would increase my UVU pride would be to have some of the hall of flags event be in different buildings on campus. Not all the time I'm in that building and I miss a lot of things because I'm not in that building.

Have more students support the sports and quit having people wear BYU gear at UVU it is annoying

Have professors teach at a much higher level of understanding, and requirement for the students

Be involved in caring for the campus

Have team success better advertised or announced on campus

Have the sporting events bigger and more advertised, make them a big deal!

Having a football team. You know someone to root for, to be able to have my team and watch them win or lose.

Having a football team.

Having a football team. No student Government I hate their campaigning.

Having cheaper books that don't coast me more than 300 to 400 dollars worth of money every semester, and having all the food areas on compass, to use greenbucks, like Jamba Juice, Subway, etc....

Having other students' pride increased. I wish more students looked at UVU as it's own university rather than a stepping stone to another university.

Having underground parking under every new building.

Higher graduation rates.

Higher standards for student body

Hire better faculty, advertise athletics and things better.

Hold some higher standards for students.

Honestly if there was a way for students to bond more together that would probably increase student unity/pride. For example BYU has the Wilk center. Also if the sports teams were more competitive that would bring more people to sporting events and not just to BYU's.

Honestly, I don't really care about student pride. For me, I am going to college to get an education so I can sustain my future family. I don't care what goes on on campus and the pride that I have about my college.
How much higher can it go?

I always had a lot of student pride in high school because I enjoyed attending football games and winning trophies for my school on the drill team. I don't have that here.

I always want to attend the events, clubs, and activities at night. But I have a really busy schedule so I either don't have time or am too tired from the long day to go. But when I do go to activities I always love them!

I am a mom and wife who works full time and then goes to school in the evening. I really just do not have the time for anything extra to do.

I am a non-traditional student so I'm not sure student pride necessarily applies to me. I am here only because it is convenient and comparatively inexpensive.

I am a wife and mother, so I don't really fit into the traditional student mold. I'm not sure how this could be accomplished.

I am an employee, a grandmother, and not interested in participating in most of the UVU activities. I am proud to work for UVU and everyone knows this is where I work. I ranked it as fair because I am not your typical student.

I am an older student with a current career path. I am currently doing the online courses and will continue to do so towards my next career goal.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time. I am simply here to get my degree online. I'm almost 40 years old and I don't care where I get my education as long as I get my money's worth.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time. I am simply here to get my degree online. I'm almost 40 years old and I don't care where I get my education as long as I get my money's worth.

I am just not very into athletics so I don't have a lot of 'school spirit'

I am married and a transfer student I don't see a reason to get involved.

I am mostly going to UVU because it is convenient and affordable. If I didn't have the job I do, I would have gone to USU or U of U. I feel that in order to gain some real strong school pride, UVU needs something that they are well known for, probably like a sports team.

I am not into that student pride stuff. I feel those things are more of a child's play. I just want to get done and graduate before I am too old to appreciate the accomplishment.

I am not sure it is possible. I love attending UVU, it works around normal people and their schedules. The problem is we have all grown up with Utah and BYU as our big schools so for me I will always love Utah even though I do enjoy attending UVU.
i am not sure that it is necessary or integral to my going to college. i am focused on the academic pursuit, but not the social aspects of college since i am an older student.

I am not sure, maybe if we have a football team and competed against the U?

i am not sure.

i am only going to UVU for convinence, sorry. It is a great school. I have attended so many schools that I can't have pride for all of them. Plus, i am 27 and unassociated with the college social life.

I am proud to be a student. I don't care where that is as long as it is at a quality university. I think student pride creates segregation. This is also the problem I have with sports. Rivalries are just a source of contention. I think we should just have schools be schools and help each other out in educating the world.

I am proud to be a UVU student, but I have been involved with the CAI and found it wasn't what I thought it would be. I feel like education is too focused on degrees, getting jobs, and being an outward leader. education shouldn't be about getting a job it should be about learning about a passion you have and learning how you can affect the world with your passion. we need more activities focused on humanities, art, philosophy, and other 'degrees to no where' because 'degrees to no where' are actually degrees to anywhere, they are degree's inside the soul and degrees about the human race. it's with these degrees that people can make a positive different in this world! these are important degrees that when someone gets them they can do ANYTHING with them and not NOTHING. education is severealy corrupted, it's all about getting a job. Support and Promote degrees in sociology, humanities, art, philosophy, and 'degrees to no where' then i'll have more student pride.

I am unsure what you mean with the question of student pride. I am very happy to be a student where I am. I tell people that they should come to this school because the classrooms are small and the teachers are awesome. As far as 'Pride' goes, well, I don't really care about being a wolverine. I Don't even have a favorite sports team. I am proud to be a student here, but you will be rather hard pressed to get me to go crazy at sporting events or something of the like. I left my 'school spirit' in high school and I am happy to leave it there. The only way I can conceive of that would increase my student pride is if I were to get involved in student government.

I am unsure. I have never been very involved in basketball or other such sports as I never was very good in any of them, so I haven't paid attention to sports teams much. I would need to become more interested in these sports to even consider using my funds to attend sporting events.

I am very proud of our school. I cant imagine being prouder

I can't think of anything.

I could be more involved in school leadership and go to more athletic events.

I do not live in the area.

I don't attend many events because I work full-time, am married with kids, and am working toward a degree. I do what I need to in order to graduate and don't have time for much else. I'd go else where if I wasn't living in Utah county but UVU is conveniently close.

I don't care or understand the benefits of student pride to me as a person.

I don't care, you inferred this survey would be short with saying 'take a few minutes,' I am very dissatisfied with the extended length of this survey and that there doesn't appear to be a way to end and submit without completing it you can be assured I will never do any of your surveys again once I have completed this one. Best wishes, and thanks for taking 30min plus from my homework

Trason Lamb
I don't feel any sense of loyalty from students. Every day that I am at the school someone asks me 'where do you plan on transferring to?' or a related question. Also I feel that very few students actually care to succeed, and they are not held to high standards. Most of the faculty could care less if you pass or what type of grade you receive. I would feel more student pride if the school (it's representatives and faculty) took more pride in itself. When everyone you interact with doesn't care to be there it makes it hard to have pride to be there yourself.

I don't feel connected to UVU. I feel like a number. If there were some incentives to benefit me as a student to seek out events that would help.

I don't have any problems with the University. I just don't live in the area, and am unable to participate in the activities.

dont know
dont know
i don't know

I don't know why I should take pride in a factory line school system that all other schools follow. It is school i'm a student I must get through the system that is that.

idont know, get rid of all other school appereal that students wear here for example BYU clothing

I don't know, maybe attend more events. I think the longer I attend the greater it will become.

dont know.
dont know. I work full time, and have a hard/impossible time to get to any outside of class events.
dont know.

I don't like how some things are run.

dont like pep so not much

I don't really care about student pride, because I think it's unimportant and it reflects a sort of medieval idea of pitting one entity against another. When I say 'High' I mean that I've had a great experience at UVU, but that might not be true for others. No university is a one-size-fits-all.

dont really care.... Free money?

I don't really need an increase. I play on the baseball team and represent the school around the country so I have a fairly high level of school pride. Increasing academic vigor and entrance minimums would help to shed UVU's image as a backup school to the state's other institutions. Also getting the athletics into a conference other than the Great Worst would help the average student to begin to care about UVU's athletics. Honestly, who cares if UVU can beat the New Jersey Institute of Technology?

I don't think I need to. I'm going to school here to go to school here. It's nice to not be distracted by cheering for a hundred teams. I have a football and basketball team that I love, and that's enough for me.

I don't think it matters. I'm learning, and I like my teachers. I, however, don't think it matters where I go to school. Not to mention, the LDS Institute influence is far too great on the school, and it makes it seem like a Mormon school. I don't like that. We also continually compare ourselves to BYU, which sucks. Our school is better in so many ways, but too many students make comparisons still.

I feel pride in a school when that school has a good reputation for something. Create good reputations.
I feel that I should attend more athletic events, and I’m beginning to understand better the ways that I can impact the school for good.

I feel that if UVU was a little more difficult of a school to join and spent more on athletics such as a football team and could join Division one schools in team sports it would help with the student pride.

I have a difficult time paying attention to extracurricular school activities because of my very full schedule. I enjoy going to UVU and I like the campus a lot, but I’ve never been very good at ‘student pride.’

I have never had much school pride, even in high school. I just go to school to learn and get my education.

I have never seen our wolverine walk around the halls.

I have no desire to be affiliated with irrational sportsaholics.

I have no idea.

I have pride in the school being a good place to learn. I don't care much about activities and sports and things of that nature. The only ‘extra curricular’ things I do are ones that help me learn more things like symposiums and seminars.

I have student pride not because of the sports or the student government or whatever. I am just very impressed with my fellow students, UVU faculty, and the school's overall image. I don't know if there's anything that could be done to increase my student pride.

I haven't had a great experience with UVU and their advisors leading me in the right way, etc. that has made it so I simply don't love UVU. Due to this, I just don't have any inkling of a desire to show any school desire. (Also, I think a school needs a football team and lots of hype over the games in order to ask for students to show any sort of school pride)

I honestly just don't care. I'm there for an education and that's it. I'm not a young teenager that gets all hyped up about games and dances.

I just feel good going there. There are high standards and most students seem to appreciate being able to have a quality school. I just feel good about it.

I just joined MAWL but am currently disappointed in what they offer, compared to what they said they would offer. Some of the competition we play is disappointing. Announcing is done poorly.

I just need more friends who will go to sporting events with me. Also, it would be great if we had a football team.

I just need more time to attend events and things going on throughout campus. There are lots of activities to attend, I just usually don't have the time.

I just need to be more involved

I just need to get involved more. I feel like I'm still overpowered by BYU's pride, and I think that's because we don't have a football team.

I just need to get more involved.

I just need to get more involved. I have 2 jobs, a child at home, and commute 2 hours each day. When something changes, I'll be able to be more involved.

I just want to finish my degree and move on with my life.
I love Football. Since UVU doesn't have a team, I'm not really involved on campus after classes. I do like other sports, but not enough to schedule my homework around. So for right now I'm not really involved, but when Basketball starts I know I'll go to most of the games, and my student pride will probably go up.

I love the Illustration program, the Staff is amazing, they are the reason i have such high student pride here at UVU. A Student Studio would be nice however.

I love the school...I think the way I have increased my pride is by joining PBL/C-DECA. This gives me tons of pride.

I love UVU incredibly. I have had few poor experiences, and I realize that they are flukes, and do not represent the norm. (Again, I refer to the awful history tenured professor Lynn Bennett.) I have no idea who the student government are. I see faces once a year, and may or may not cast a vote. I don't know what they do for me, or the school. I wish I felt they were more accessible, more with the 'common people' as it were.

I love UVU, and have attended there off and on for the last 8 years. I tell people I am proud of the school I attend, however, I also work 2 jobs besides full time school. It's not that I don't want to be more proud of the school I attend...I just don't have time literally.

I love UVU. After attending FIVE Universities spanning from Hawaii to Ohio, I am in LOVE with UVU. Great job!!!

I love UVU. Never liked the color green till I came here. I think they are doing an amazing job.

I mentioned it before. I feel UVU over promises (and prices) and under delivers. They say a lot of stuff for their activities but when I attend I always seem to feel let down. I have sworn off activites with uvu because of the story I told earlier in my survey. UVU is a great place for education, but I don't consider it a good school for student life aside from education. Getting a football team would help increase my student pride.

I need something to brag about. Give me something to brag about.

I need to have my schedule taken into consideration and have my majors classes available outside of business hours.

I never know of anything going on at UVU. Also I feel like I don't fit into the environment that UVU provides.

I often forget that I'm even a 'Wolverine.' When I attended the U of U for a semester a few years ago, I always felt like a Ute. A gigantic football field always helps, and more marketing can make a student see that they are in fact attending UVU. I see flags all over local cities (BYU in Provo, UTAH in SLC), but I RARELY see any sort of decor around Orem. Maybe make Orem a UVU city and wolverine pride may increase. I also feel that many people attending here plan on transferring after 2 or 4 years of attendance. One more suggestion would be to make things like pep rally's more significant. I really think no one attends them-do they even occur? 'UVU' is a new thing to the area so pride may increase, but there needs to be more establishment of the 2nd U. People still view this place as a first step toward BYU or U of U.

i only go part time and i have a busy life so i dont know

I probably just need to be on campus more in order to feel more pride. I am an older student, so for me, my focus is my education, not all of the campus energy. However, if UVU had a competitive sports program, I could see how that could and would foster more school spirit, even for me.

i really cannot think of anything.

I really do not see anything that would push student pride in the evenings. Have more of a presence for the evening classes.
I really don't know. I have had a really up and down experience here so some days I really like it and some I hate it! I would say that my professors have a lot to do with it and the program I am in. I think more respect for what students are dealing with or have to work through would be nice. It seems that there is a lack of concern or caring for what students face everyday especially families or young couples. I don't have a family myself but I have seen those students really struggle with inconsiderate professors and programs, and even students like myself suffer.

I really enjoy watching football. I know its a hot topic and cost lots of money, but I'd be very interested in buying a 'season pass'. I've bought one for byu in the past just to watch football. Really enjoyed watching uvu hockey.

I said before, if I would get invited to the activities. I never hear about them so I don't really have a good sense of pride, because I don't hear about fun activities/speakers.

I see a disparity in the way faculty are paid at this University, as well as others. I have had the most amazing teachers, but because they do not have the Ph.D. behind their name, or they do not work in the Business program for example, they are not paid as well. I think that there should be a greater leveling of the field, and pay should also be tied to student feedback, as well as other conditions which could be determined for evaluating long term effectiveness. I feel that my program is important. I am being trained for a career, and the calibre of teaching I receive, determines what my career options will be when I am done with my training. Enticing the best teachers to join my program to teach me is achieved through several means, one of which is pay worthy of great teachers.

UVU as a school believes in its chosen programs, then it stands to reason that UVU should be willing to back those programs with equal dedication and support. I have more to say, but no more room.

I think a football team would do wonders

I think a lot of people still look at UVU as a community college (like SLCC) and don't respect it as a legitimate university. When you say you go to the U or BYU people are a lot more impressed. I think if UVU had a more legitimate sports program that could compete with large universities, people would actually start to know what it is. Also, word-of-mouth is huge!

I think as I progress as a student I will become more proud of myself and my school, right now I feel I am struggling in some classes and I think that affects my moral but the counselors have offered helped with advice, so this to will improve in time.

I think by using text messaging to make students more aware of sports and other activities going on at the school, students, including myself would get more involved and have even more school spirit.

I think increasing research opportunities and retaining additional professors would help a lot more than promoting athletics and dances. I want to say I go to a good school in academics, not a fun place to hang out.

I think it is great. This university has become a great university. The quality of the school, teachers, classes, and environment have made the school feel like a university.

I think just gathering all the students that want to cheer on their university. Lots of students at UVU, especially non-traditional, don't support their university like young adults do. There's a general feeling that UVU is just a place to get an education, and the events are just a side topping. If we can get more young adults together, like in Mawl, then we aren't afraid of celebrating our university. Again, because of recent university status change, it's something that will take time.

I think more activites that involve families also I usually dont know about activites until the are already over. I am only in school for the education but so many things are geared toward singles so its easy for me to stay out of things.

I think student pride just needs time. As the campus grows and the student numbers grow, and the athletics become more competitive the pride will grow.
I think that UVU does a great job with student pride, I'm just super busy and I don't usually attend school events.

I think the schools credibility is growing and I more proud to say I go to a university than I would be to say I attend a community college.

I think they could have more free offers for students, like t-shirts etc.

I think time is all that would be needed. UVU is a new university and once their basketball team gets some national recognition and when they get a football team that is decent, people will start wanting to come to UVU more than now, and they will go to the games. Nobody gets to prideful in a school that doesn't have a good sports team to brag about.

I think to just continue the trend - administration and faculty available and SEEN on campus and attending activities. Student council active among the students.

I think UVU is already doing what it takes to have a high level of student pride.

I view UVU as a university. I feel it is a great school, but does not carry the same name as other schools. Part of the reason is no big sports teams. But the bigger reason, is UVU is not as well known ... and it is known more as the fall back school, and not a place to choose to go. The Major programs with UVU need to gain recognition and status.

I wish there were more events and ice breakers available, I tend to be shy and its hard for me to make friends.

I work full-time, have a family, and only take 2-3 classes per semester. I also already have a bachelor degree and I've worked professionally for over a decade. I don't plan to get more involved with student activities because I have no time for it, and if I had more time it'd be given to my family. My student pride is related to the classes I take. I think classes can be better structured to provide more relevant learning. Unfortunately most classes have too much busy work, usually so the administration can meet accreditation requirements by showing what is required in the classes. Unfortunately this busy work is not teaching students how to thrive in the real-world. There a definitely really good teachers with real work experience who tailor their class to really teach and help students to learn. There a teachers who are really good at teaching their subjects but they fail to really help students learn and apply the knowledge to real-world applications.

I would have to be able to make time to be able to participate and become more activally involved in UVU with its clubs and other organizations.

I would like to practice English speaking with an American student  i would like a personal tutor to help me to check my homework done

I would like to see more people interested in student government, The president has been from the previous years Cabinet for years and no one cares.

I would like to see the Digital Media and Animation departments continue to grow so we can compete more competitively in student film festivals and create original shorts and games for the public to see.

I would like UVU to get more master's programs. I don't like to have to change colleges in a few years just to finish my education. I feel that we are not a true university yet because of this.

I would need to be involved more in the schools activities.

I would only be more proud if I were attending an Ivy league university. UVU is a great state school.

If all students were generally more friendly and less absorbed in their mp3's and telephones.
If employers recognized UVU as being equal to BYU in credibility.

If game schedules were advertised around campus more, and if there was a football team.

If I attended events.

If I attended on-campus during the day/afternoon, I would likely have a higher level of student pride, but I currently only attending a couple of classes a semester in the evenings.

If I could attend the classes I need and have the classes I need taught in a professional manor. I should get what I pay for. If my school respected me then I would feel a lot better about my school!

If I didn't have to work full time to attend events..

If i feel confident with my classes, If i feel that i am learning practical and useful knowledge. I currently taking some general classes. in this class, we cover a lot for tests. however, i am not sure if i will remember all of the knowledge that i learned in the class after finishing semester. I have good grade in all of my class so far. but i found myself that i study for test. I want to gain practical knowledge but not for the tests.

If I felt more involved.

If I felt satisfied with the education I was receiving. That would require the classes I need being offered at more times by more instructors.

If I got in for free to games with my student ID.

If I had more friends that went to the athletic events and stuff, then I would be more likely to go.

If I had more time I would attend and support athletic teams or go to concerts.

If I had more time to be involved with things that would help.

If i participated more in the school activities, I'm sure my school pride would be higher.

If I was involved more in student events. I just don't have time. And I carpool so I can't stay longer for an event because the person I ride with doesn't want to.

If I was more involved with on campus activities, I would have more- but this is my fault.

If I was more involved. I never really got involved.

If I were to care about uvu sports then maybe I would care It's too bad uvu didn't get into the wac.

If I were to go to more activities and become more involved, it would definitely increase.

If more non-sport activities were available, or if football were available.

If more people attended the sporting events and if we had a football team.

If other schools and students projected a higher respect toward UVU. Also if I knew more about what sets UVU apart.

If the quality of education continued to improve I would be more incline to feel more pride about attending UVU.

if the university had more prestige
If the university were a more prestigious one I would be prouder. I feel proud when respected speakers visited such as Bill Nye and Izumi Shimada. I'm not particularly interested in sports, dances, or pep rally type events, but that might give a greater sense of pride to some people.

If this university were better ranked or more academically challenging. Telling people I'm going to UVU doesn't make me proud, in fact it makes me kind of embarrassed. It's just not known for having the brightest students.

If UVU had a more prestigious academic reputation. Most people think of UVU as a glorified High School, not an actual college or university.

If UVU would try to develop more of a sense of prestige and professionalism; I think it would help raise the level of student pride. I mentioned in other sections of this survey that I think the school colors should be changed to more professional looking colors and that they should consider changing the current open-enrollment policies. (P.S. They said this survey would only take 10 to 15 minutes; I have been working on this for an hour and a half now, and I am only 74% done.)

If we had a sports team that was really good and a lot of people went to the games. I've always gone in the past because I knew people on the teams.

If we had really good sports teams that could beat other half decent teams. If some one asked me 'What does UVU have that _____ doesn't?' I really cant think of anything.

If we were competitive in any way that related to student pride. No one cares about UVU. Here in Utah you are 'usually' either a Utah or a BYU fan, and sometimes a Utah State fan. UVU doesn't play them in anything not in sports or anything. Why would I support UVU when I can go to a Utah or BYU game and have fun. at UVU things we play who? a school no one cares about and no one goes. Who is on our teams? and why should I care? What conference are we in? There is nothing that UVU offers that makes me want to go out of my way to have school pride. There just isn't any point. GO UVU???? I mean really? are you just some sad little kid who wants to stay in the high school pride because no one else but you cares about your little unknown school. no thank you.

If you cared more about educating students and less about getting their money I would be more inclined to take pride in this school. I'm in an 'entry' level class right now that is much too easy for me. However, I am required to take it if I want to take other classes that I am actually interested in. I understand that you don't want to allow students to bypass pre-requisites because your students' grades impact the amount of funding you get. However, it only shows that you are more interested in the funding and the increased revenue from tuition than in providing a service that I would cherish and recommend to friends.

I'm a mom, I don't have time for student activities or to get involved on campus.

I'm barely involved with the University since I'm an online student

I'm here for education, not to go to UVUSA sponsored parties.

I'm in a unique position, student pride is different for older students.

I'm just frustrated with the Business program. As i stated earlier a couple of my teachers are very hard to understand so i'm not doing as good as i would like to. On top of that I have 3 years worth of college credits that were not transferable however the classes that i had to RE-TAKE were the same if not very similar. This is going to put me at 8 years to graduate with a bachelors degree. I'm just a little bitter towards UVU because now its too late to do anything and the only thing i can do is stick with this degree and suffer my losses. Another thing is, it would be nice to have advisers that motivate me to want to get a degree. I know they have to work with a lot of students but i feel a lack of energetic energy from them every time i go in. I feel like my goal in getting a degree is just getting farther and farther away and its just going to get harder and harder.
I'm just not very involved with things that happen on campus so I don't feel a sense of pride for it.

I'm married and not really interested in social activities on campus. I just go to school for classes and don't feel the need for any other participation in my school.

I'm not happy about a frivolous parking warning. It never should have been given to me. Some professors in the business school do not speak English very well and they cannot answer questions because they do not understand. The school charges me excessive amounts of money for books and then does not offer anything back if the book is being upgraded. Even $10-$20 would make me feel good. I do not plan on giving back to the school in the future because what is doing to help me while I am a poor student paying for an education. These are just some problems among others that suck me and my friends dry of school spirit.

I'm not really interested in student pride, I am just going to school to gain a degree and don't spend a lot of time on campus.

I'm not really involved in any extra curricular activities.

I'm not really sure.... I haven't ever been to any sporting events because of lack of time, lack of transportation, lack of money, or lack of someone to go with. Also, I don't really have any friends in the sports programs. I do like all the guest speakers that come and have been to those kinds of events.

I'm not sure.

I'm not sure. I am not a traditional student. I attend the activities that interest me and that's it. I also don't have the time to attend all those that I would like to.

I'm not sure. I haven't been incredibly involved in student life this first semester in college. I might change my mind once I did though.

I'm not sure.. UVU has been a great school it is just not as prestigious as other universities. Maybe part of that is because anyone who applies gets in. So it doesn't really make me feel like I accomplished much by getting here. I am about to graduate and my parents don't really care because my younger sister is at BYU so my dad says she's the 'upper crest' of the family. Bull. I have loved UVU - just don't have much school pride.

I'm not there to have pride in the school. I am there to get an education. I have a family and job and am going to school on top of that. No offense but having pride in my school is the last thing on my mind right now. If I were younger and had time to go to activities then I probably would but I am not at that stage in my life.

I'm not too impressed with what my degree is 'worth' in the eyes of the community.

I too busy to get involved with anything not related to my classes

Improve quality of job placement after graduation; by placing good students UVU could quickly build a great reputation among employers nationwide.

Improve the facilities, create a more collegiate environment, build on- campus housing, bolster more support for the UVU teams (I would like to see a football team- but the teams that are on campus aren't supported!) Less parking lots, more of a park like campus. Reduce crowding. Make UVU a closed campus, so I feel a certain degree of exclusiveness attending it.

Incorporate more kinds of athletic events and use ingenuity in getting more students involved.

increase support of the XC and track and field teams.

Increase the quality of students graduating from UVU by making a 3.0 GPA requirement for enrollment Increase the university's image in regards to its curriculum; I have heard many negative things about UVU that I feel are not true/accurate. Many people who do not attend UVU currently comment on the poor education one receives here (which I disagree with). If anything, I believe that the school should work on improving its standing the education world. I recently found out that in order to even be considered for a Master and PhD program in Astronomy at the nearest school that offers it, I have to get my degree from a more ‘respected university.’ I really like attending UVU, and I am doing well in all of my courses (even the ones I don't particularly care for), and I would like to be able to get my B.S. in Physics here without worrying that I won't be able to attain a Masters following.

increased awareness of school activities increased student and faculty engagement with the community and more night interaction with the administration and student government

Increasing the credibility of the University as a whole.
Informing the students of school activities. Have a football stadium.

Interdepartmental awareness invest more of my time into the school.

It is low because I am more interested in my classes than student activities or athletics. I am not sure how to change that.

It is strictly a business deal- I am paying for services- I do not expect to buy something with the UVU logo on it to promote the school and provide free advertising.

It is up to me whether I want to become more involved or not. UVU has plenty of activities, but I decided what is most important for me.

It isn't that important to me.

It seems that most student activities are quite High School-ish. Many of UVU's students are older. I am 26, and would feel ridiculous participating in most of the activities at The Zone. I would like UVU to have a slightly more University feeling rather than a High School one. I am happy to be a student here, but I can't say I'm proud to be a student here.

It would be nice to be involved by being able take more of these online surveys.

It's hard because I attend school full time and work full time so there really isn't any time to attend events or anything during the week.

It's hard for me to have pride when the majority of the school revolves around basketball and baseball. Pride should revolve around everything. I am proud to go to this school because it is teaching me life lessons, teaching me what I am good at and what I can do better at. If I was to sign up for the Mr. UVU competition it would be hard for me to show my school pride because I am not a fan of sports in general.

Its high enough I believe.

It's more of a personal involvement issue. I work and go to school and when I am not at either place, I am with my husband doing something else. We don't like to pay to go to dances but I do attend concerts and rarely, athletic events. I just feel like I go to school to get a degree because that's what needs to be done before we move from Utah.
its nothing personal I just don't care much either way

It's the commute. If I was able to move out here then I would be more active.

I've just been so focused on the course work and my job that I haven't had a lot of time for activities.

ive never really have had student pride, so nothing would

I've only been at UVU for a little while, I'm sure it'll pick up on it's own.

Just keeping the level of instruction as high as I perceive it to be. I am proud to say that I go to UVU because I perceive that I am getting a great education and learning new concepts and ideas all the time.

Just the continuation of creating a quality University. The better the University becomes overall, the higher student pride will be. Look at BYU and UofU.

Just want to get my education done

Keeping doing what you do.

Know more about activities

Knowing that UVU is actively engaged in my success both on campus and off. I have to wait a full year before I can complete Upper division classes because they are not available at any other time. That is clearly unacceptable behavior for a forward thinking, engaged learning university. How would you like to have to wait a year to be paid for the work your doing now?

Larger athletic influence. More tradition.

Less arrogance from the students who want to show off their work just so people will pay attention to them. Their work should speak for itself

Less focus on 'pride' as 'support of athletics': more about learning and support of each department.

Less smoke.

Less time at work to enjoy what UVU has to offer.

Let new students to be more involved in school activities

Let's be honest- everybody sees UVU as the '2nd' rate school next to BYU down the road or U of U in salt lake. The real sense of academic pride is going to come from the professors (and students) doing really amazing things in their respective fields, and getting distinguished alumni. Focus on making that happen, promote innovation, give students a reason to stick with school projects. Digital media is seeing some exciting stuff and it's slowly gaining recognition because of what the faculty and students are doing. Give students a chance to do some groundbreaking, innovative, and/or noticeable work that will help them get jobs after graduation and you'll build up a talented alumni base with good experiences at UVU.

Like I stated earlier, I really think in order to create more student pride we need a football team. Although football is not my favorite sport, having a foot ball team give students a feeling of belonging. Many times I have been told that UVU is not a legitimate university because of the lack of a football team. Without a football team UVU still feels like a big high-school. Think about it, When there is a BYU game, Provo shuts down. Grandparents, parents and children gather together to see these games. It becomes more than football. It becomes a tradition. For me as a student, I feel this school is still unable to give us that sense of pride that others can get in schools with a football team. Student know it, so does faculty, and so does the community. At Wal-Mart, right across the street from UVU, there is a section where you can purchase School paraphernalia, and in this section there is three times the amount of BYU s there is UVU. The reason? Like it or not, Football.

love the school

Lower the prices of UVU apparel so that I can afford it.

Lower tuition. Parking passes shouldn't be more than $20. The Institute building SHOULDN'T have its own parking. That is Elitist and unfair. There should be less Sports crap.

make campus events at times that more individuals could attend.

Make events during more times that I could attend and more free events.

Make events more publicized. More awareness, chance at free tickets. Keep waffles and watercolor at the Zone.

Make student gov. campaigns something more students want to get involved in, I think some students aren't aware of the compensation. So far, student gov. seems an entity for themselves, those in gov. move up in gov. Don't get me wrong I like what they can offer to students, it just seems they are comfortable and so students don't get as involved in the election process.

Make Racquetball a sport make registaring for classes easier by not having us stay up until midnight, having more sections of a class offered so that we can get into the classes we need and advertise the sports and their accomplishments more.

make students aware of all events and get a football team

Make this a 'more accredited' university. Limit admissions so that the level of education is not just 'a continuation of high school' as I have heard many students say. Create modern, up-to-date facilities.

Make UVU a better school academically to attend. I've heard people joke about this school and make fun of it because it is academically a joke and super easy. I agree. My classes are way too easy and do not challenge me.

Make UVU activities, services and courses more oriented for people who live at least an hour from the main campus.

Make UVUSA elections and finances transparent. Educate the student population that blatant racism/sexism is unacceptable. Stop catering simply to the majority, but make this a good place to go to school for everyone who goes here.

Making sports a bigger offering in the class schedules. Or having sport groups for beginners. Truly, the teachers are what promote my student pride, the more passionate an instructor is about their class and the actual material - the more I want to tell others to attend UVU.

Many see UVU as a second rate school because it is easy to get in. However, the focus should be on how much effort it takes to Graduate. As a student, making college seem open and easy does no service to me.

Market school services more. Also, make it easier for students to get involved. Do more conferences, school publications, etc. I realize funding is an issue here, but I do think that each student should have the opportunity to serve in some capacity. Use flexible scheduling. As for the smoking question, I personally don't smoke and I don't like smoking. I would like a smoke free campus. However, UVU is a public institution. I don't want a government entity to impose restrictions that take away student choices. Although breathing smoke is very unpleasant for me, what's more distasteful is institutional baby-sitting of adults. Yes, smoking is bad, but so is being obese. Should we ban fat people from attending UVU? We are in college now, so we should be responsible for our own choices.

Maybe a football team? Maybe feeling even more included.

Maybe be involve some more fun club or activity that can be satisfy.

Maybe do some more activities that incorporate different cultures.

Maybe get athletics, etc.. more integrated into school.

Maybe if I was 22, I would have more pride. But at 44, I just don’t relate to the activities that are provided, plus I work full time so I don’t have time to be at campus other then when I have classes.

Maybe if UVU events were required, at least once a semester it would probably motivate me to attend because I’m usually focus with work, school, and homework.

Maybe know more about things that are going on at the school. because i never hear about anything

Maybe more advertisement of activites or night time activities in the halls not much going on at the school when i go to my night classes

More academic panels. ACTUAL student body elections. They are always a joke, one sided, and usually favor one group. It’s not a real election, it’s a hoop for some people to jump through with a nod from the student body for...hey yay good for you. A student association that cares about academic improvement and the students. The reason I have such high pride is because of the academic advancements that President Holland has begun implementing.

More activities and better publicity of events

More activities that apply to the health profession other than just speakers

More activities that could apply to me.

More activities that make others feel welcomed instead of just a select few doing them and not welcoming others.

More activities that would apply to something I would like. Maybe different than what they normally do. Maybe like things to accomodate all different types of people.

More activities? Or better advertised activities so people would know about them and be able to attend.

More attention to sporting events, If UVU played in a better conference more commitment

More competition with other schools (not just sporting) More academically challenging and creative classes

Higher admission standards more degrees offered

More emphasis on the arts at UVU and intellectual pursuits.

More enticing athletic events. This is difficult however since UVU is a commuter school because of this UVU lacks a solid community feel that you would get with a school such as BYU & the U.
More events that get college students there. I believe that is what makes Utah State so successful. Is there campus activities and sporting events that draws large crowds, builds unity, and pride in your school.

More facilities that are friendly to students with children. As it is, I feel consigned to the one spot on campus that is g geared that way—the family room in the library. I am otherwise disconnected.

More faculty and student interaction outside the classroom.

More family centered activities and accommodations for students with children and full time jobs.

More free hot dogs would be an incentive.

more fun events

More healthy food options available, less student discrimination towards LGBT.

More info and involvement in general from students/student classes. I feel like I know about something worthwhile after it's done and gone.

More integration for diverse students and not just during International Week, which is great by the way.

More interesting events, more desire to have student pride, take your pick.

More involvement with my major and department. More activities with students learning the same things I am learning.

More notice of student activities. I don't learn about the events in time so I never attend. I would feel more apart of the school if I could attend activities and events.

More notification of events

More organized advisers. I would have more pride if I could say that my adviser knew what she was talking about as far as my major goes.

More parking, more classroom space, more places to study and work outside of classroom other than library

More prestigious sporting events.

More pride things while walking through campus.

more spirit activities that don't cost, more free swag

More stress put on attending sporting events

More swag available at the online bookstore. Free T-shirt! Press coverage. I live in Virginia, so my opportunities to interact are limited, and frankly, I find the lack of merchandise appalling.

more things for non-traditional students.

More transparency and student influence regarding student government and the use of student fees. I take pride in and am most loyal to an institution that I can believe in and trust. It's not always clear whether the administration has the best interest of the relationship with the students (the ones paying for everyone else's job) rather than the relationship with those faculty members that are hired because another faculty member likes them.
Not because the students like them.
More UVU apparel for students to wear. I am sick of seeing students wearing BYU and U of U apparel.

More UVU stuff give-aways. The waterbottles around the beginning of school when you bought your books was really great. shirts, hats, key chains, pens, etc. Anything to show off that you go to UVU.

More Wolverine-Spirit type of activities. Required Jumpstart Orientation for everyone (it made a big difference for me- completely changed my attitude from indifference to excitement). I'd also like to see more UVU merchandise not just at the bookstore but at stores in the community. Everyone is red or blue- it's like green isn't even an option.

Mostly, I need to be more involved in the student activities

My lack of student pride is based on the disorganization of the school. I have consistently been disappointed by the lack of employee accountability and organization of the business department, which has eroded any pride I may have had in the school.

My level of student pride is already high.

My student pride is pretty high, I love the school.

N/A

Never have Guitar Hero in the halls. Never have any video game on campus.

No opinion

Nothing

Non traditional students need to feel included somehow, right now everything seems to be focused on the younger (just out of high school) crowd. A lot of students are full-time working, full-time parents that are older than 30 years old.

none

none. I love my program and major.

Not a lot. I'm pretty apathetic in that department. Maybe when UVU becomes more well-known and respected, I will be proud to say I was (or am) a Wolverine.

Not be so busy with work and school.

not be so close to byu

Not currently interested in student pride. I just want to get through with my classes and get to work. I love the school, but I'm not interested in getting involved too much. I got too much other stuff going on.

Not interest in the 'extras'. Just need the classes.

Not much more then what is currently being done. I enjoy going to school here and have had an overall good experience thus far.
Not much, I don't particularly like UVU and I plan on transferring

Not much, I'm currently the president of UVU's Collegiate DECA charter, and my student pride is based mainly off of the academic/campus environment. I love the unique campus layout, the PBL and C-DECA clubs, professors who care, guest speakers, industry professional adjuncts, etc. I don't get into a lot of the athletic, social/dance events and I don't really have a reason other than I am so involved in other parts of the University.

Not much. I am proud to be going to UVU. I am just having the issues with the online History class. I am so grateful to be attending UVU.

not much. it is not personal. I just don't have time for working, attending class, doing homework, and going to school sporting events to support them.

Not much. I'm not one to get excited about a place just because I go there, even if it is a really good school. Just be glad I don't hate you like I do BYU. It really sucked attending that place.

not much. Just want to get done.

Not open enrollment, more competitive sports teams (football included), higher general academic level.

not sure again. I am a non-traditional student, I think that has something to do with my distance of pride of the school. I do tell people that I am attending UVU.

not sure i am not really involved.

Not sure.

Not too much - I think the student body is doing a great job!

Not worried about student pride

Not your fault, just don't have student pride for any institution.

Nothing

Nothing

nothing

nothing

Nothing comes to mind.

nothing im sure it would increase if i bothered to make the effort but im too busy with school and work to do try.

Nothing more. I love UVU!

nothing really

Nothing really the school could do. Just more friends at UVU that invite me to events.

Nothing really.

Nothing really. I am an older student and I am just wanting to finish up my degree and graduate.

Nothing really. Well, maybe if I was a Student Body Officer.
nothing seriously I think that emphasizing school pride is a miss-allocation of funds that could reduce tuition

Nothing! UVU is great!

Nothing, I do not have student pride, and I don't plan on it. I just want to complete my degree and move on.

Nothing, I have never really been too school-spirited. I like the school but I am not a huge fan of student pride.

Nothing, I just don't get involved, so I don't really care. It is fun to see UVU students succeed at things though.

Nothing, I just need more time to attend student activities. I don't have enough time between school and work.

Nothing, I love UVU!

Nothing, I really just don't care.

Nothing, I'm about to graduate.

Nothing, it's more me than the school. I've just been in school too long and am burned out. I just want to graduate and be done, so every day I'm just trying to get by.

Nothing, this is a community college. The one thing I like about it is that there isn't a damn football community here. I hate sports in general and football specifically. The less I have to deal with sports, the better.

Nothing, this is College, I've got better and more important things to worry about than 'student pride'

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing.

Nothing. I have high student pride because I think UVU is a great school, but I don't feel a need or desire to participate in school 'spirit' kinds of activities.

Nothing. I'm just here to get a degree and get out.

Nothing. I am a non-traditional student with many responsibilities. School pride is low on my list of priorities. My main focus at this point is to complete school.

Nothing. I don't care about standard collegiate activities and school spirit. I care about the diploma that I'm paying too much to receive, and beyond that, my social, political, and recreational lifestyle is incredibly rich and well balanced, without the unwanted intervention of collegiate mayhem. One of the great benefits of attending a commuter school is that we can leave all the normal college bull-crap behind when we leave class. More school pride only matters if your priority is selling tickets to sporting events, rather than increasing the value of the education of the institution. In short, spend less money on non-education related activities. I don't like my tax dollars being used for aspects of the college system that don't make me a better citizen.

Nothing. I just want a degree.

Nothing. I'm a big UofU fan and hate the Cougars. Now I'm a Wolverine fan. It's a sense of pride and ownership in my University.

Nothing. I'm only going to uvu to get an education but I have no loyalties to the school otherwise. I bleed blue but can't get into BYU. Plus I have had to pay for a full semester of classes which I did not attend in the past and it has left a bad taste in my mouth

Nothing. I've never had school pride. I'm here to get a degree so I can make money.

Nothing. The issue isn't with UVU. I am only there to finish my degree, not to be involved with extra-curricular activities. I have a career and family, so there simply isn't enough time to be involved at school more.

Nothing. This is college, not high school.

Offer deals on University apparel if a member of a certain club. That way I would be more likely to buy the different apparel and items that have the UVU emblem on them.

Offer the major I am interested in. (Family and Consumer Science)

Offering more degrees and advanced degrees.

On campus housing, better athletic teams.

On-campus housing

On-campus housing.

One thing that I have always associated with student pride is the sporting events and participation. This is one thing that I have found lacking a bit at UVU, while we do have most sports outside of football, there is not a lot of information posted about them or their games save the small standing signs that show a time and location.

Participate in more activities.

Pep Rally's and better marketing, and a football team and a better conference.

Plan the free activities when I can go. The free activities are all during the day when I'm either at work or in class.

PR (show the world who we are) feature people that have graduated from UVU that hold big positions now Pride is a false sense when it comes to school. I have no desire to attend UVU events or buy and wear UVU attire.

Probably go to more sporting events and participate more in campus activities.

probably to be more involved with inurmural sports.

Programs that would have reason to be proud of.

Provide enough class availability so that I would think UVU is concerned with me completing my classes in a timely manner.
Provide free or inexpensive UVU t-shirts to students.

Providing student art exhibition.

really don't know

Recognize majors such as digital media and the contributions we make to the visibility of the school.

relive my constraint of time, but until someone else pays my rent for me, i must obligate myself to these responsibilities, versus going to more student pride situations.

Reputation comes with time and recognition of achievement. UVU is headed in the right direction.

Respect of political freedom by faculty would increase student pride in future. A facility member of a political class in subtle ways represses the different-from-him political viewpoints of his students in his class damages the development of those students' student pride. This is an example of how to help develop student pride.

Same as last year, it is a place for me to go get my education. I have never had pride in the colleges I have gone to. Much more concerned with my education than screaming about how great my school is at sporting events.

school is just something i need to get through at this point to further my career and life goals. being married and living out side of orem also contributes to this. being a student isn't my primary role at this point in my life

School spirit is a waste of time and is excessive emotion for insignificant matters.

See more advertisement of events, so I'm more aware.

See others with student pride and be more involved or aware of school activities.

Send the Wind Ensemble to the 2012 London Olympics. A school who wastes that opportunity doesn't install a sense of pride in me.

Since I only do online classes, it really doesn't matter to me at all.

Since my student pride is very high...I have no idea.

Some professors are there because they are 'passionate' about what they do. Other professors are there to draw a paycheck, and other benefits (such as children attend free) with no regard to the participation/lack of participation that they provide. Some will do everything to see that students succeed, others don't care if the fail. Having instructors who come to teach with credentials from places like Full Sail Online university makes me wonder about their abilities, especially when they constantly FAIL at providing the knowledge necessary to instruct a given course. Anyone with a Cracker Jack diploma is considered as 'qualified' to teach? Really? I don't think so... Just because the GI Bill paid for them to attend doesn't make them 'qualified'. Just because someone is considered as 'native' in a Language, doesn't mean they can teach! UVU has some truly great and wonderful professors! The ones that teeter on lack of participation, involvement and compassion need to go else

Sorry I'm a Ute fan. My first experiences in which I had immense frustration with the entire process of getting into the school and then when I called for help the people on the phone were extremely rude and unhelpful. They explained that they were extremely bust and basically just didn't have time to help me. Excuse me but that is your job. To help the students who call in. I've done customer service for years and it is possible to help people while you are busy. It's called multitasking. This whole experience kinda put me in a negative perspective of the entire school and since I do go to the Wasatch Campus full time and work full time I'm unable to attend most events. Which is completely understandable, I do not expect more events to be held off campus. I'm just saying that the lack of participation has not necessarily increased my school pride.
Spend more on Athletics, have large give aways at games if thats what it takes to get the students there. Put our teams on billboards and let the community know how successful our basketball teams have been. Build respectable athletics facilities.

Spirit Weeks, or days for Wolverine Wednesdays-- 'wear green' and get popcorn! Raffles or prizes at sporting events so people will go and then get in the habit. Football team. Theme like an alma mater or song.

Sporting event participation and advertisement by student body.

Sports programs on a larger scale.

Stop trying to be everything to everyone. By doing so, the university feels mediocre.

Strengthening the school's academic prowess by actively working to increase gradation rates.

Student pride comes a lot from a tradition of success in sports. If UVU had a team to brag about I think it would help.

Student pride could by raised by seeing the accomplishments of UVU and its students as they impact the community and world around us.

Student service activities, I haven't gotten involved yet, because I'm just starting out, but if I could be a part of a service project by attending or planning, I would feel good.

Students in the education building are far removed from all campus activities and information. There should be a greater effort to inform students in this area of available services and the goings-on of regular campus activities.

Support of the greek system currently being established on campus. A football team would be nice but its understandable the current reasons why it would not be financially wise to do it right now.

Take more classes and participate in school events more.

Teachers who have pride.

That is actually a very High for me. I am not one that gets involved in schools that much and I find myself more interested here at UVU. So nothing more can be done, UVU is already doing a great job.

The campus is associated with some professors who lack discipline and others that use outdated material.

The only thing I can think of to increase student pride, not only me, but other students as well, would be have more knowledge of the teams, who plays, when and where and more encouragement to go.

The programs over all could be more difficult.

The responsibility is on my shoulders--I should attend more student events and be more involved with the school.

The school is doing fine to encourage student pride, i just do not participate in many school events, nothing that the school has done wrong.

The school still has a reputation of being 'Utah Valley High.' That makes me not so proud of being a student here. If this is just an extension of high school I feel like I am wasting my time and money on getting a degree here. I think getting rid of open enrollment would help to get rid of that stigma. I'm not saying it should be hard to get into UVU, but I do think we should deny those who won't be an asset to our school community.

The student government and teachers do not relate. They may have lived in this area too long.
the T-shirt swap I think helped a lot because people could start wearing UVU shirts and apparel as opposed to other colleges and universities.

The university is still new, there is not much that the University exceeds in to promote a distinctive university life. The university needs to have a non-commuter feel to it. Everybody wants to leave campus as soon as class is over, there is no promotion for a close knit active campus.

The university making us feel more valued.

There is a balance between homework and having pride for your school. I think the rest of the people aren't really reachable because they work and do homework.

There is not a lot done to encourage people to attend school activities. The most I see is a poster here and there, and maybe some people handing out a flyer by the cafeteria. My highschool was known for our school pride. Students would get decked out to go support our classmates in anything we could. I honestly think the biggest thing that could be done to increase school pride school wide would be to get a football team.

Time. UVU has always been thought of as a place to go while you are waiting on BYU admission. UVU has started to shake that image, but it will take time to catch on.

Too old for that, but won't hold back from supporting UVU's efforts, if it is for good, that is.

Ugh......I love my school, as much as I've loved any school I've attended. However, I don't feel the need to buy t-shirts or sweaters or participate in a myriad of activities to express that. I work a full time job between 40-80 hour weeks and have absolutely no time to be doing a bunch of frivolous activities. I understand that some people love them and it helps them in whatever way, but I am not one of those people. I am attending UVU to get an education. Period.

Unknown. I really enjoy the campus. This is not the first university i have attended. But it is at the top.

Unsure

Uvu has a reputation of being the place where those who were rejected from byu go. I loved uvu when i first transferred, but its gone downhill lately. Its ridiculous that we need a doctors note when we are out with the flu. I feel you need to treat us as the adults we are and not the high school kids you think we are. When that happens my student pride will go up, but not while I feel like we are being babysat.

UVU having a football team? The general school spirit being higher, then i'd join in more UVU needs to compete with other universities in sports! We need a football team.

Very little. I have very little spare time and/or money to participate in extracurricular activities and feel very little influence in my education from them. I am very proud of attending this school for the educational purposes of it, and feel the rest to be personally unnecessary. However, I can see how it would appeal to others.

We don't have a football team. Foster rivalry with other schools.

We need a football team. Football teams unify a school like nothing else does. Again I will say, we need a football team. That competes with other schools. Not an intramural team. I think I would be more likely to go to more student events if we had a football team. It sucks going to a school that doesn't have any school pride.

Well, as a student in the School of the Arts we need facilities. We need a football team. Increase professionalism in the student newspaper. I am embarrassed by the content frequently. Are we a university or a junior high?

Well, considering it is Very High, I don't think there is much that could be done to increase it.
Well, I have hard time being proud of a school that is screwing me over in class availability. I don't recommend to anyone to come to UVU because there are just too many students here clogging up classes and I would be embarrassed to have suggested a friend come here and then they find out they can't get in to any classes. I love the professors here, classes are great, but you just can't get in to them. That's why I'm working on transferring to a school that doesn't have open enrollment and higher standards for qualifying student to attend.

Well, I want more UVU to be known among people more than before. I really agree that UVU is a good school and have engaged learning programs, but I still don't think so many people don't know about UVU.

Well... if I attended more events and sporting things, I bet I would be more proud of my school. But right now I'm pretty proud to attend UVU.

what would be nice is if i could find somewhere where i could get a list of all the events going on in a given week. so I could go to them. going to events couldn't hurt my student pride

When they announce it by posters in the hall way and in the bathrooms. People try to convince me to go in meets or other events that sounds fun!

Where is the student pride? When I come to campus, I do not see very many people with UVU shirts or other accessories. More promotions, more fundraisers for our school etc.

While I feel that my school pride is high, I feel it is that way because of the academics of the school. I am proud of the University. Now, this pride is not made manifest by attending the sporting activities or most of the social events. I could improve there.

Why. Fair is fine.

Work on counteracting the strong LDS influence. I am a transfer student from U of U and strongly considering transferring back because of this. Fewer ‘immature’ events, such as dances and Wolverine Wednesdays. I don't have pride in an institution that feels like a high school.

You could have music playing throughout the hallways so that it seems more lively. Have more events in the courtyard when able, and above all FINISH THE NEW PARKING STRUCTURE!!!

your doing a good job
Q.93

A) I didn't know there was a 'Wolverine Wednesday.'
B) I don't care about 'Wolverine Wednesday.'

Again, not really my thing. Don't get too excited by stuff like that.

always forget

As stated before, I am an older student and have come to school for an education. Things like that, to me, are for the younger students.

Because all of my classes are in the CS Bldg and there is nothing related to Green Wednesdays going on up there and I definitely am not interested enough to go all the way down to the main part of campus, so I just don't wear green.

because i always forget to wear green

Because I always forget.

Because i am am adult not a kid!

because I am only here for class.

because I come straight from work where I am in an office. I only have one class that day and its too much of a hassle to change into green from work for my 50 minute class.

Because I come to school to get an education, not be the pep squad.

because i didn't even know it existed, good job on that one.

Because I didn't even know there was such thing as Wolverine Wednesday.

because I didn't know about it calm down

Because I didn't know about it!
because i didn't know about it.

Because I do not have time or want to put in time to it.

Because I do not own a green shirt, and find it frivolous to purchase one for the sake of school pride.

Because I don't care about it, I am only interested in earning my degree. Student events do not matter to me.

Because I don't care, did not know it was a big deal?

Because I don't care.

Because I don't care.

Because I don't feel the need to do it for my night classes.

Because I don't go to day classes, when I am on campus it Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays.

Because I don't have time to go to athletic things and I'm really not interested in sports at UVU.

Because i dont own very much green and i dont have the money to buy me green shirts.

Because I don't really care.

Because I don't think about it. I go to campus to go to school, and then I go to work full time. I don't participate in the activities on campus because I work full time and don't really have the time for it. Plus I am 26 and most people involved in these types of activities are younger students.

Because I don't want to buy a green shirt and I don't like wearing green.

Because I don't want to.

because i forget

Because i forget

because I forget and plus I don't have a lot of green clothes anyway

Because i forget that your suppose to not very much campus life at nights

Because I hate UVU.

Because i have never heard of Wolverine Wednesday

Because I know quite a bit about it already and am just not really interested in it. I'm pretty busy a lot too.

Because I really don't care that much.

Because I spend my time doing homework and classwork, why would I dress up every Wednesday to sit in the same corner doing the same things.

Because I think it's kind of stupid. How about on specific days for specific reasons not just because 'it's Wednesday'.

Because I usually go straight from school to work and I don't have green shirts that I can wear to work because I wasn't aware of that being a green day for wolverine wednesdays

Because I wear whatever clothes are clean. I might wear green but not intentionally. Also, my college's colors are orange and black. Their rivalry school is green and yellow.

Because I wear whatever I feel like wearing.

Because I'm just trying to make it to class and get good grades. I don't always have time to pick out a green outfit.

Because I'm not a big fan

because im not interested on those events

Because I'm not on campus on Wednesdays and I have no school pride.

Because it is not in my wardrobe, and I'm attending school to learn only. I'm not seeking to build school pride for an undergraduate degree. A 4-year degree does not seem like a major accomplishment and sporting school colors would make it seem as though I have reached my potential with an undergrad; not a grad-school.

Because it seems like UVU is an extended high school program. I mean that in the best way possible. I'm just being honest.

because it should be free for all students. we are part of the university

Because no one outside of UVU cares about UVU athletics!

Because There is no Athletic that I am interested in. I more likely want to be on a team then watch. But don't know how to tryout and when tryouts are.

Because there is no point if it only saves my $1 on a j-dawg that is not good for me anyways.

Do not attend athletic events

Do you think Princeton has 'wear-orange-and-black Tuesday'? You don't foster pride in a university by telling the students over and over again to be proud of their university. You just provide the highest quality education you can and show them that's your priority.

don't attend class on Wednesday this semester

i do not own much green or i forget to wear it.
I always forget and don't have much green.
I always forget that it is Wednesday.

I always forget, and when i do remember i don't have anything green to wear.

I always forget.

I am a 'non-traditional' student. I would feel like an idiot trying to be a 20 year-old college student trying to fit in and make friends. I am here to get me degree and learn something. The social aspect of college isn't important to me. Having a good learning experience in the classroom is important to me.

I am an employee at the Emergency Services.

I am an older student who is just interested in getting through school. I am not interested in outside activities.

I am an older, returning college student. I am not interested in the typical college experience. I am just here to get an education.

I am an online student that will not be physically on campus at any time.

I am an unconventional student and am not up there on Wednesdays

I am at work from 0600 (6:00 AM) until 2330 (11:30PM)on Wednesdays... I have to wear my black uniform.

I am at work on wednesdays.

I am here to get an education. I work with those that are in my classes and participate in non-competitive campus recreation.

I am in a uniform. No green, just chef whites. I would be more likely to wear green when I am done with the culinary program, and am back to taking regular courses for my hospitality management degree. I like the idea of supporting my school in that way.

I am in uniform.

I am not a 'typical' student. I have a family and a job. I am not involved because I have so many other duties as a mother, wife, and supervisor. I do not have time.

I am not always on campus. I'm not as involved with campus stuff, since I'm a fifth year senior who is only taking two classes.

I am not at school long enough and do not own very much green

I am not on campus on Wednesdays, but if I were, I probably wouldn't remember to wear green. And I'm just not that interested in the student life at UVU. I'm there to take my classes, not to socialize. I would rather spend time with my family than attend student activities.

I am only at the campus for Tuesdays and Thursdays.

I am only there for night classes.

I am taking courses at the Canyon Park Building for Culinary Arts and we have a set uniform. The stitching of our school name is in green though.

I am unaware of Wolverine Wednesday.

I am usually not on campus for long and I just don't think of it.
I attend night classes and didn't even know about this tradition.

I base my clothing choice on what I have clean, since most of my wardrobe is business and most of it doesn't already have green in it. I don't go out of my way to change my appearance.

I can never remember.

I can't, I work every week. For me, no is easy.

I choose what I want to wear.

I come to school directly from work, and I have a specific dress code to follow. I work in Salt Lake, and do not want to go out of my way to go home to change before I go to school.

I did not even know it existed....

I did not know about it and I do not attend school on Wednesdays.

I did not know about it until just now. Honestly, I would probably forget in about a week anyway.

I did not know about it.

I did not know about it.

I did not know about this.

I did not know about this.

I did not know about Wolverine Wednesday.

I did not know about Wolverine Wednesday.

I did not know people wear green on Wednesday.

I did not know that it existed.

I did not know that such a day existed. Plus I don't own any green clothes.

I did not know there was such a thing.

I did not know there was Wolverine Wednesday.

I did not know we had 'wolverine wednesday'.

I did not know Wednesday was green day.

I did not know. I don't normally wear green.

I didn't even know about it.

I didn't even know there was such a thing as Wolverine Wednesday.

I didn't even know there was such thing as Wolverine Wednesday. Also, I don't even own much green clothing....actually...I don't think I own any.

I didn't know about it.

I didn't know about it.
I didn't know about it
I didn't know about it
I didn't know about it until just now. O.o
I didn't know about it, and don't feel the need to. I only own one green shirt anyway.

I didn't know about it.
I didn't know about it. And I am not usually on campus on Wednesday.
I didn't know about it. I don't attend classes on Wednesday.
I didn't know about it. I will though!
I didn't know about the Wolverine day
I didn't know about wearing green on Wednesday.
i didn't know about wolveren wednesday.
I didn't know about Wolverine Wednesday
I didn't know about Wolverine Wednesday until just now.
I didn't know about Wolverine Wednesday, and I don't really like the colour green.
I didn't know about Wolverine Wednesday.
I didn't know about wolverine wednesday. Again, I got back from the mission the day that school started so there are a lot of things that I don't know about this university.

I didn't know about wolverine wednesdays

I didn't know about Wolverine Wednesdays.

i didn't know about wolverine wednesedays

I didn't know about WW; will probably still not dress up for it.

I didn't know and don't have school on Wednesdays

I didn't know anything about Wolverine Wednesday.

I didn't know enough about it.

I didn't know I had to.

i didn't know i have to wear a wolverine t-shirt ...............but i have my t-shirt, because i love my school

I didn't know I was supposed to.

I didn't know I was supposed to.

I didn't know I was supposed to. That might be one thing the student body has failed to promote

I didn't know I'm supposed to wear green on Wednesdays.

I didn't know it existed

i didn't know it existed

I didn't know it existed.

I didn't know it existed. Coincidentally, I may have worn green on a wednesday, but I don't have any UVU schwag and I don't have a budget to buy any currently.

I didn't know it existed. I might accidentaly do it but I have never chose to wear green on Wednesday for the express purpose of Wolverine Wednesday.

I didn't know of such a thing. So, we just wear green on Wednesdays?

I didn't know such a thing existed.

I didn't know that it existed, I don't own very many green clothes.

I didn't know that there was a WOLVERINE WEDNESDAY.

I didn't know that there was a wolverine Wednesday.

I didn't know that was a 'function'

I didn't know that was a thing.

I didn't know that Wednesdays were Wolverine-Wear-Green-Days

I didn't know that you wear green on 'Wolverine Wednesdays.'
I didn't know there even was a 'Wolverine Wednesday'. Also, I don't have any green clothes.

I didn't know there was a 'Wolverine Wednesday'

I didn't know there was one. But I will now because I know about it.

I didn't know there was such thing as Wolverine Wednesday...

I didn't know there was wolverine wednesday

I didn't know they had it.

I didn't know we did that.

I didn't know we did that..

I didn't know we had a wolverine Wednesday.

I didn't know we had one.

I didn't know we had wolverine wednesday.

I didn't know we were supposed to wear green on Wednesdays. However, I am not usually on campus on wednesdays.

I didn't know we were supposed to, but now I do!

I didn't know we were supposed to.

I didn't know we were supposed to. Is it every Wednesday?

I didn't know we were supposed to. That's cool, I will now!

I didn't know we wore green on Wednesdays.

I didn't know Wolverine Wed. existed.

I didn't know WW existed. Plus I don't really own much green.

I didn't know you had too

I didn't know! Now I know.

I didn't know.

I didn't think of that- I guess, I should start doing that from now. :-D

I do not attend campus and therefore do not wear green.

I do not attend class on wed

I do not attend class on Wed. I was unawhere there was a UVU green day.

I do not attend classes on Wed

I do not have classes on Wednesday, or I would.

I do not have school on Wednesdays.
I do not have the time or child care to attend school activities.
I do not know why I should.
I do not live in the area.
I do not think about it
I do sometimes but but generally don't feel the need too...
I do sometimes, but I often forget.
I don't own a green shirt, and is there any benefits from wearing one?
i don't always remember
I don't always remember.
I dont attend class
I don't attend class on campus.
I don't attend classes on campus on Wednesday.
I don't attend classes on campus.
I don't attend classes on Wednesday
I don't attend classes on Wednesdays but if i did i wouldn't. I think the idea of wearing green is rather stupid.
i don't attend classes that day
I don't attend school on Wednesdays, just Tuesdays and Thursdays. And I only own one green shirt.
I don't attend the campus but if I did i most likely would.
I don't ave time
I dont care
I don't care
I don't care
I don't care about sports.
I don't care about sports. At all. I also don't believe in 'nationalism' or 'schoolism' - my brain is bigger than that.
i don't care about wearing green on wednesday
I don't care to
I don't care to.
I don't care.
I don't care.
I don't care.
I don't care. Depression does that to people.
I don't care... not that you are going to answer me but how many more times am I going to have to tell you 'I don't care?'
I don't come on Wednesday
I don't come to school on Wed.
I don't do things just because everyone else does it.
I don't even know what Wolverine Wednesday is or that it existed.
I don't even know what Wolverine Wednesday is.
I don't feel like it.
I don't feel like it.
I don't get anything if I do, so why do it?
I don't go to school on wed
I don't go to school on Wednesdays
I don't go to school on Wednesdays.
I don't go to school on Wednesday's. I'm only there on Tuesday and Thursday.
I don't have a class on the main campus Wednesdays.
I don't have a green shirt.
I don't have any green clothes, and the Wolverine-Wear at the bookstore is SO EXTREMELY EXPENSIVE, with NO better affordable choices.
I don't have any green shirts.
I don't have any green to wear.
I don't have any nice green shirts. Must've left this when i moved.
I don't have class on Wed. or I probably would. I always try to get classes on Tues and Thur evenings.
I don't have class on wednesday
I don't have class on Wednesday evenings
I don't have class on Wednesday, and had no idea that you are to wear green that day. Isn't green an envy color?
I don't have class on Wednesday. Also, the garbage cans have more school spirit than I do. I despise people who get falsely excited over stupid things like school pride and whatnot. I would probably wear red on BYU Tuesdays or whatever if I were a BYU student.
I don't have class on Wednesday; I work
I don't have class on wednesdays
I don't have class on wednesdays. But if I did, I might start.
I don't have class Wednesdays. Also I usually only go to school in the evenings.
I don't have classes on Wednesday's.
I don't have clothes that are green?
I don't have interest in sporting events. If the student body supported the theatre, music, and other arts programs as much as sports I may have more interest.
i don't have much green
I don't have one
i don't have very much green
I dont know about it
I don't know what that is.
I don't know what that is?
I don't know what Wolverine Wednesday is.
I don't know when that day is
I don't like 'costume days.'
I don't like the color and having school pride does not get me a better grade or make me a better student
I don't like the color green. If you would like everyone to wear green, sell some really inexpensive UVU shirts that no one has to drop $20 on, and I think more people would be interested in having them. If more people had them, more people would wear them!
I don't like the color green. It seems icky color on me. It just not fit for my appearance.
I don't like to follow the crowd seems redundant
I don't live in Utah... survey keeps asking the same questions
I don't look good in green.
I don't look good in green.
I don't look that good in green. And UVU clothes are too expensive for me.
I don't much care, I think school spirit is great but I don't like being involved.
I don't own a green shirt
I don't own a green shirt and don't want to buy one
I don't own a lot of green clothing because I don't particularly like green and I don't think about the fact that it is Wolverine Wednesday before I get dressed.
I don't own a lot of green shirts. I don't want to wear the same shirt each week.

i don't own any green

I don't own any green apparel

I don't own any green clothes!

I don't own any green. I have green eyes... Does that count?

I don't own any nice green blouses. I work in a professional environment, so the regular green t-shirts from the bookstore don't work. Besides, the t-shirts at the bookstore cost more than I can afford.

i dont own green

I don't own green.

I dont own to much green clothing.

I don't participate in any of the activities. I have classes when they are handing out J-dawgs.

I don't pay attention to the day enough to care that I should wear green. I also don't see the point.

I don't really care to.

I don't really care. I just go to UVU for my education.

I don't really see a point to it. All I see is signs telling me to wear green without an explanation. Why am I supposed to wear green?

I don't remember.

I dont see any events going on that support it. I didnt think that was still happening. Plus, I dont have any cool UVU apparel.

I don't see the point.

I don't think about it when I wake up Wednesday mornings. I think it's a fun idea, and I'll try to be more awake and conscious in the mornings so I wear green.

I don't think about it.

I don't think about it.

I don't think about it.

I don't think that I am on campus at the time when it would be beneficial to me to wear green.

I don't want to. Not out of disrespect for anyone or anything, simply because it isn't congruent with my personality and how I go about living my life.

I don't wear green

I feel like the times that I have seen advertisements don't always to with my schedule and that it would be a waste of my money and plus I don't always see the signage.
I find patriotism and its ilk to be an unfortunately volatile part of humanity that leads to infighting, war, racism, and all that. I have no need to feel I am somehow better for following the winning team.

I forget
I forget about it
I forget about it.
I forget about it. And don't really care. Maybe if it benefited me in some way? I wear what's clean.
I forget an I don't have lots of green stuff.
i forget and don't really care. j dawgs are not really a motivation.
I forget most of the time.
I forget most of the time. Its not a top priority for me.
I forget most of the time.....
I forget that's it's Wednesday - to be completely honest. I wear UVU apparell throughout the week though, just not specifically on Wednesdays.
I forget to wear green or I can't because of my work uniform.
I forget to wear it and am rather apathetic about it. While I was single I probably would do it.
I forget, and don't have that much green.
I forget, and I don't really care that much if I can get a J-Dawg for $3 because I'm trying to save money anyway.
I forget.
I forget.
I forget.
I forget.
I forget.
I forget.
I forget. I also don't own a lot of green clothing.
I forget. Sometimes I do, but don't make it a priority.
i forgot
I get up at 5:30am and work before I come to class and then go straight to work right after my classes are done. I don't have time to care about what to wear.
I go to a night class straight from work.
I guess my work wouldn't mind. I didn't know there was a Wolverine Wednesday.
I had never heard of it before
I had never heard of Wolverine Wednesday, don't own anything green, and am in no real mood to show school pride. School pride seems too related to sports, which I have zero interest in.

I had no idea it was ever suggested.

I had no idea that was something that was supposed to be done.

I had no idea that you should wear it on Wednesdays!

I had no idea there was a Wolverine Wednesday. This is another reason that the communication between regular campus and the education building needs to improve.

I had no idea there was such a thing as Wolverine Wednesday.

I had not heard of it.

I hate the color.

I have class during Wolverine Wednesday activities and I'm allergic to the chemicals in hotdogs and I don't eat white flour (buns) so I don't see the point in trying to remember.

I have never heard of wearing green on Wednesday and it doesn't seem that many people know or dress in green.

I have never heard of Wolverine Wed to be honest.

I have never heard of Wolverine Wednesday.

I have never heard of Wolverine Wednesday.

I have no interest in participating in Wolverine Wednesday.

I have not interest in it at all.

I have online classes, so I'm not on campus for Wolverine Wednesday.

I have to leave to work right after I finish with my last class and I don't have time to change before work. Also clothes at the UVU book store are a little price, however I have bought some and would wear them on Wednesdays if I didn't have to leave right to work.

I have to wear a uniform to school (chef's coat and paints)

I have to wear my Chef uniform and all my classes are at Canyon Park.

I have to wear my work clothes.

I have zero interest in sports.

I haven't heard of it...

I honestly don't feel much reason to express school pride at UVU.

I honestly forgot it existed. I have evening classes on Wednesdays and don't see any advertisement or notice anybody wearing green in the evening.

I joined in the past and I didn't use my membership. The t-shirt I was given was huge because they didn't have my size. It left a bad taste in my mouth so I decided not to join the MAWL anymore.
I just don't care.
I just don't think about it or I forget.
I just forget.
I just found out.
I just never think about it, and I only have one green shirt anyways.
I like free stuff
I like to choose what I wear, not wear something because someone told me to wear it.
I live in Virginia and I don't have any UVU gear.
I never attend.
I never knew I was supposed to
I never knew that was a thing.
I never really care. Sometimes I do just because where I work on Campus ask me too
I never remember about it.
I never remember in the mornings to do so.
I never remember to.
I never think about it.
I only do if I want a j-dog
I only do night classes on wed
I only have classes on Tuesday Thursday
I only have Tuesday/Thursday classes
I only heard about it last week
I rarely go on campus.
I rarely have classes on wednesday and attend night classes so nothing is going on by the time I get there. Also I come to class straight from work.
I said I was more likely to consider MAWL, asking me 'Why not?' doesn't make sense.
I see no reason to wear green
I simply do not have time to attend many extracurricular activities
I sometimes do, but it isn't a conscious decision. I wear green frequently, because it is my favorite color, and so I find myself wearing green on Wednesdays, but not because of 'Wolverine Wednesdays.'
I take an evening class after work and don't spend any additional time on campus.
I tend to forget.

I thought it was just for the J-Dawgs. But most of the time, it's just not really urgent to dress green, so I pick other clothes to wear.

I typically just wear what I like to wear. I'm not typically going to sports events so I don't bother wearing green. Also, I don't even own much green!

I usually do not think of it.

I usually don't have time.

I usually forget to wear green. It's just not programmed into my brain that I need to wear green on Wednesdays.

I usually forget, and I can't get J Dawgs because I work on wednesdays

I usually forget.

I usually forget. Plus, I don't own many clothes that are green.

I usually go to work or come home on Wednesday.

I was not aware of this tradition.

I was not aware of Wolverine Wednesday

I was not aware that there was a 'wolverine wednesday' and I don't think I even own anything green, except socks.

I was not aware that we were supposed to wear green on Wednesdays.

I was not aware, Wednesday was a wolverine green day.

I was unaware that there was such a thing as Wolverine Wednesday.

I wear a military uniform everyday

I wear green a lot not just on Wednesday

I wear green whenever I feel like it because it it my second favorite color. I feel I can choose when I want to wear that color and not because of any particular group.

I wear red, or black, or any other color

I work full time and don't have a reason to.

I work wear there is a certain dress code, I only have one green shirt that follows the dress code.

I work.

I would rather wear what I want to wear.
If I happen to wear green on Wednesdays, it's only by coincidence. As stated in other sections of this survey, I believe the university should change the school colors to more prestigious and professional colors. The green was for UVSC; we need new colors to represent UVU as an up and coming university.

If I were among the 'young crowd,' I would for sure wear the green. I enjoy the school's activities with my family, but the rest of the time, I'm pretty set on getting through the academic part of my life right now.

I'll forget

I'm an online student and didn't even know about Wolverine Wednesday

I'm at UVU to learn and get my degree. I'm not at UVU for the social scene.

I'm currently an online student, and I didn't know anything about Wolverine Wednesday.

I'm here to get a degree. I have a family and I'm not really here for the social aspect.

I'm interested in learning, not going to athletic events.

I'm never on the main campus this semester.

I'm never on the main campus.

I'm not a fan of green and I don't own green

I'm not a sports fan at all.

I'm not at school on Wednesday, and I was not aware of it.

I'm not at school on Wednesdays

I'm not interested in the sports side of the University

I'm not involved in the activities.

I'm not on campus on Wednesdays. I think it's a great idea, and that MAWL is a great idea, I just haven't been able to attend any of the events so it's not worth it for me to join. Work and night school.

IM NOT ON THE MAIN CAMPUS RIGHT NOW, SO I FORGET. WEARING GREEN DOESNT AFFECT MY EDUCATION

I'm not overly interested in sports.

I'm not sure how wearing a certain color on a certain day is going to help me retain the information in my class. I am literally on campus for exactly 1 hour. That includes parking, walking to and from class, and attending class. I do not plan what I am going to wear during the week based on one hour of campus time once a week. That being said, I would probably wear green if I worked at UVU or attended more than one or two classes on campus on Wednesday.

I'm not there on Wednesdays

I'm rarely if ever on campus on Wednesdays, and I was unaware of Wolverine Wednesdays anyway.

I'm too old to care, especially since I'm here at night.

Internet student.
It burns my skin, I am allergic to green dye

It depends on what I decide to wear that day. But it is not a conscience decision.

It doesn't matter that much to me.

It doesn't sound like something a major school like UCLA would do.

it is not a priority for me. I wear whatever i find to wear.

It is not a priority for me. I wear what I like and what will keep me warm or cool for the day.

It is not a priority.

It never occurs to me.

It's a huge shirt. Want better prizes

It's not a good color on me. Therefore, I don't have any green clothing. If there was a shirt for free. Then I would wear it for green wednesday.

It's not my color. Most of the green shirts I own are from UVU, but i am a petite person. Buying better fitted UVU apparel is difficult... not to mention expensive. I mean 50 bucks for a hoodie? Come on.

I've never been a person with a lot of school spirit, so I really just don't care to.

I've never heard of Wolverine Wednesday.

Just don't have a green UVU shirt and half the time forget to wear green on wednesday.

just vdont

Like I said, I don't care.

Low student pride due to unavailability of courses.

My age. Just feel a little old.

never even heard of that. and never noticed people wearing more green on those days

Never heard of it

never heard of it

Never heard of it.

Never heard of that. I don't own green. I can't afford to buy clothes.

Never knew about it

Never knew about it till now

Never knew about it.

Never remember that when i get dressed never thought about it. plus i dont even know where these j-dawgs are? although i do see the signs in the bathroom. it would be helpful to know that at least.

no

No benifit

no clue that there was such a thing no reason - I'm on west campus all day

no reason to.

No reason to. I just go for my classes.

No reason. I definitely can, I just haven't yet. Hmm.. actually I'm generally in the mood for a cheaper jdawg this week. Maybe I will wear green.

No school pride as a school. And UVU t-shirts are too expensive.

No school pride, And i hate the color green.

No student pride.

not a huge fan

Not important to me

not interested

not interested in hot dogs for wearing green

Not interested in sports/free T-shirt.

Not many green shirts and don't think about it.

Not one of my favorite colors. I can't find my UV Commit tee shirt that I got. It is my only UVU item that I have. I did just get a jump drive on Thursday. SO now I have 2 UVU items.

Not sure

Off-campus student

Only have 1 class on Wednesday and don't feel the need on a late evening class only on campus for 50 minutes on wednesday, and that's during the evening.

Only on campus for night classes

Rarely participate in Wolverine Wednesday.

Rarely remember; don't own much green clothing; Only would for discount on the food, which I rarely get.

Right now I'm only at UVU on wednesday for institute

Right now, all of my classes are online and I attend class in person.

School is just where I go for classes, I dont really care to get way involved in social things.

School pride does not come from wearing school colors, but from being enrolled in an institution that is at the forefront of research and development, rather doing things that a student can be proud of.
See low school pride comments.

See previous comment about loyalties to UVU

see previous statement

sometimes I do but usually I don't really care because I don't really feel any pride for the school I attend.

That is a good question, I don't really have a good excuse! I have done it a couple times, but I usually just forget.

That's not where my student pride is at. See previous answers.

The amount that I'm involved in the academics and extra-academic events at this school is sufficient for me. I'm honestly to busy to remember to wear green.

The lack of pride and lack of anyone else participating. I forget about Wolverine Wednesdays meaning 'wear green' cause I never see it happening. You should accompany them with other fun things...maybe a crazy hair day, or whatever...I don't have any good suggestions, but Wolverine Wednesday would be easier to remember if it was themed rather than just 'wear green.' Although the school color, that's a really lame 'thing.'

The last thing on my mind on Wednesday is to wear Green.

The only beneficial reason for doing so would be to get free food.

The only benefit I know of is J-Dogs and I don't like J-dogs.

The only thing I know that it does is get J Dawgs for cheap, but I'm a vegetarian.

THERE ARE MORE IMPORTANT THINGS TO BE DONE THAN TO WORRY ABOUT SCHOOL PRIDE...LIKE MY HOMEWORK AND WORK.

there is no sense of wolverine wednesday durring my night class schedule even when I pass through the center court area.

there really hasn't been a reason to for evening classes. I see more incentives fo r during the day but at night there is nothing and if there is it is not publicly known.

There usually isn't any reason to...nothing to gain by it. And often i forget.

This is college. People need to grow up and stop acting like they are in gradeschool. Sports, teams, colors, are all frivolous and childish examples of how Americans as a society never learn to grow up. It's a joke.

This is the first time I've heard of it. I'm a non-traditional student, so I'm a bit out of the loop.

to busy with other important things.

too lazy

Too much of a hassle. Green doesn't look good on me. I really didn't even know about it.

Too much trouble to remember on Wednesdays.

Um, I don't care?

UMMM really? who cares? Didn't know there was such a thing. I mean I like green and if I ever wear green on a Wednesday it is by accident.
Unaware of Wolverine Wednesdays usually coming straight from work to campus, have an office job, and must wear office attire.

Usually forget usually forget, and don't usually have time to get down where any Wednesday stuff happen was not aware of that.
Was not aware.
Wasn't aware that people did that...
Wasn't there

What does school pride have to do with anything important in life? Its just a distraction. I like the school so i come and give you guys my money. That should be enough.

What is Wolvering Wednesday?

What's the point?

What's Wolverine Wednesday?

Why not what? Why I won't join MAWL? It doesn't appeal to me ... why I don't wear green? Why should I? I am a vegetarian so the free dogs don't appeal and I'm there for a degree, nothing more.

why should i pay money for that when it doesn't support the track and field and xc program?

Why should I?

Why should I?

Why would I?

Why would I? Do I get a free hot dog or something?

why would I? It's Wednesday, another day, I don't care if its Wolverine Wednesday, its just another day I go to class, learn what I need to know and move on.

Why?

Why?

Why?

Why?

Why?

With work, family, an upcoming deployment and school I don't really think about it.

work and don't care

Work requires me to wear blue and I most often come straight from work or I am wearing scrubs for lab work.
