2007

STEP UP TO THE PLATE

Conference Program

Thank you for your support!

Message from the President

Welcome to Summer University 2007: STEP UP TO THE PLATE! This annual event is dedicated to providing you opportunities for personal and professional development. I encourage you take advantage of this conference by attending the keynote addresses and as many breakout sessions as possible.

A number of topics pertaining to effective supervision, management and leadership skills have been incorporated into the program. Recognizing that all employees have a significant role in the success of the institution—my hope is that you will take what you learn at Summer University and implement the offerings back into your stewardships.

This year the SU Planning Committee has expanded the offerings of Summer University by adding an amazing kickoff event. Thank you for your response to these events: the employee softball game, Ryan Schupe concert and employee golf tournament. Thank you to the SU Planning Committee and other volunteers who developed these ideas to enrich the Summer University experience.

I am confident that you will have a meaningful experience attending Summer University 2007: STEP UP TO THE PLATE! Please take a moment and thank members of the SU Planning Committee and those who will be sharing their expertise in the breakout sessions. Finally, I thank you for your involvement and I hope you will enjoy this year's Summer University.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "William A. Sederburg". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Ho-hum workers are transformed into insatiable achievers as John teaches the most important skill of all—learning to operate oneself more effectively. - Work hard and smart at what counts
- Unlock hidden potential in yourself and others
- Reduce stress on the job and at home
- Build stellar relationships personally and professionally
