

Advisement Forum

Utah Valley University
March 2017 Volume IV Issue 7

Agenda

9:00-9:05	Welcome & Announcements
9:05-9:10	Pathway to QL	Kathy Andrist
9:10-10:30	Annual Update	Office of Senior Registrar

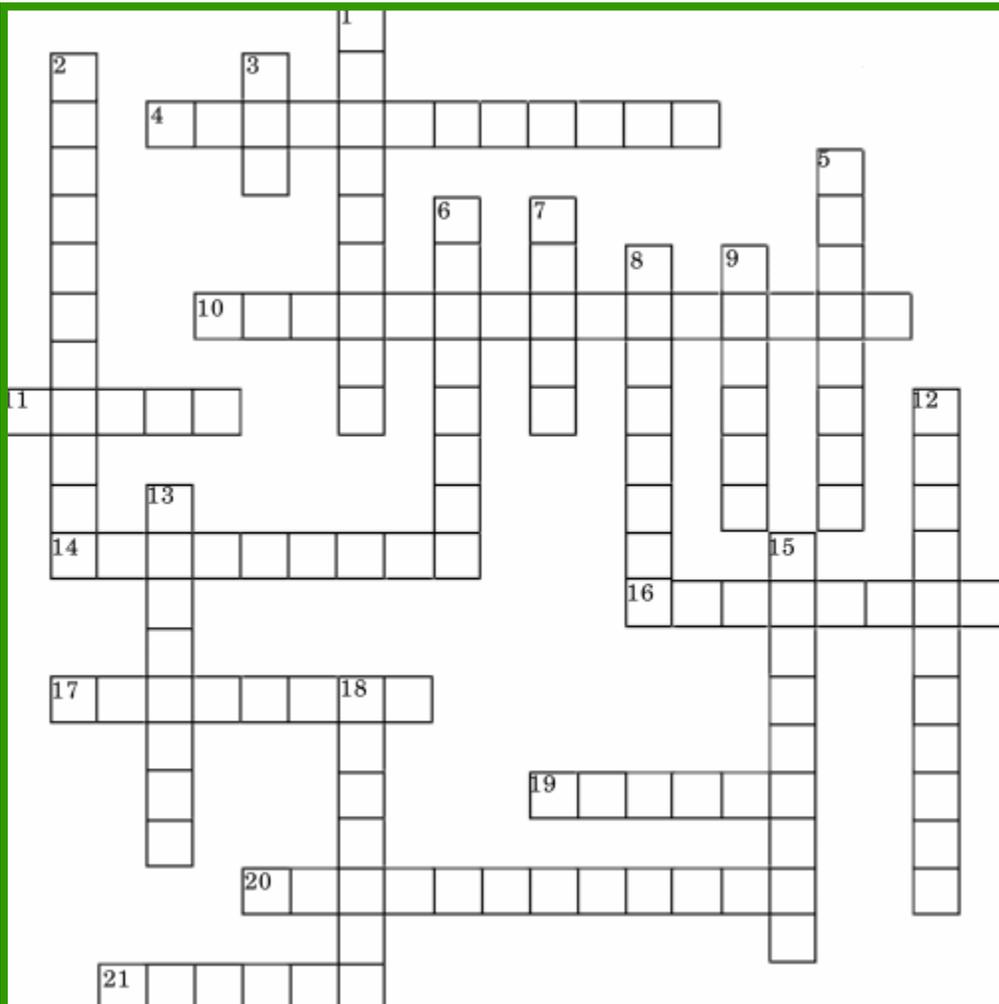

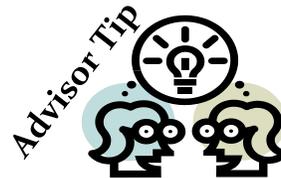

Trivia

What U.S. city dyes its main river green every year to commemorate St. Patrick's Day?

Email your answer to Andrea Calaway, AndreaC@uvu.edu, to be entered into a prize drawing. The winner will be announced at the next forum.

When I have a long appointment, especially with new students, I always make sure to review what we have discussed at the end of the appointment. Reviewing the main points of our discussion and anything they need to do, helps the important information to stay fresh in their mind. It also gives them the opportunity to write things down or make a to-do list before leaving. I've found that when I do this with students, they are more prepared for our next appointment and don't need as many reminders.

Chelsey Chalk—College of Technology & Computing

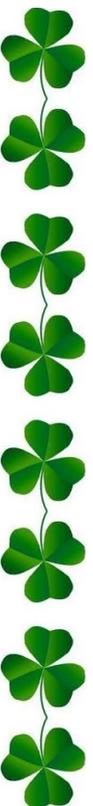

ACROSS

- 4 Holiday named for him
- 10 Irish greeting
- 11 Holiday month
- 14 White Irish clover
- 16 Clover with one more leaf
- 17 You wish for people
- 19 Irish accent
- 20 Storytellers kiss this
- 21 Another fairy spelling

DOWN

- 1 Find at end of rainbow
- 2 Little people of Ireland
- 3 Irish dance
- 5 Famous Irish song
- 6 Irish vegetable
- 7 Color of day
- 8 Meat of day
- 9 Driven out of Ireland
- 12 Ireland
- 13 St Patrick's religion
- 15 Smiling they steal hearts
- 18 Leafy vegetable

Patrice Carey—Academic Counseling Center

Patrice has been advising for four months at UVU, and she also advised for thirteen months at BYU. She likes talking to students about their goals and major exploration. Patrice also finds it rewarding to be able to help students discover the answers to their own questions and figure out what they want from life.

Outside of work, Patrice loves to read and write young adult literature. She also loves running, playing Frisbee, hiking, camping, and traveling. Patrice's general goal in life is to spend as much time in the sun/the outdoors as much as possible. Patrice's favorite color is gold. She loves chocolate-Oreo ice cream, but if we're talking about real food, then she thinks sushi is pretty great. Patrice's favorite book is The Chronicles of Narnia, and her favorite movie is Star Wars. Her favorite saying is "Can't say can't!"

Patrice has no spouse, children, or pets, but she does have a fake plant. She also has five younger siblings, plus one niece on the way. She is from Bountiful, UT, and has visited 21 states and 21 countries. Patrice aspires to own an air hockey table, and someday she would love to go to the Sea of Stars in the Maldives.

Must-Try Recipe—Mint Chocolate Fudge

1 1/2 cups milk chocolate chips

1 1/2 cups white chocolate chips

1 14-oz. can sweetened condensed milk

1 tsp mint extract

Green food coloring

Line an 8x8 pan with foil so that it is sticking out over the edges. In two separate sauce pans, both over medium low heat, melt the white chips and the chocolate chips. Add half of the sweetened condensed milk to one and half to the other. Stir both pans until they are fully melted. Add the mint extract and the green food coloring to the white chips and stir until fully combined. Remove both pans from the heat and add a few spoonfuls at a time of each one to the pan. Continue adding randomly until both sauce pans are empty. Shake the 8x8 pan a little to make it even. Very gently run a butter knife a few times through to give it a swirled effect. Refrigerate overnight. Pull the foil (with the fudge) out of the pan and away from the fudge. Cut into square pieces. Serve or store in an airtight container. Source: wineandglue.com

Saint Patrick regrets his decision to drive the snakes out of Ireland.