Welcome to Utah Valley University!

At UVU we encourage you to come as you are – there is a place for you here. You have a unique story, and your continued development of self, combined with the acquisition and implementation of knowledge, can put you on the path to success — academically, professionally, and personally.

As part of our mission ethos, we are champions of learning by doing. We call it engaged learning. This approach takes the best learning from textbooks, research, and class lectures and combines it with a myriad of opportunities for practical application. Since our founding, we have created connections that help our students expand their horizons and become better prepared to enrich society and the world around them. The world is dynamic, and we believe higher education should reflect that.

Each UVU student, with her or his unique characteristics and background, is important to the whole of the university and plays a crucial role in the vibrancy of our community. I invite you to be actively engaged in your life as students, enjoying the many extracurricular activities and athletic offerings on our campus as you complete your degree. Be assured that the seriousness with which you pursue your studies will be richly complemented and supported by a comprehensive network of invested faculty, staff, and administrators. Together, these women and men will ensure that UVU is a place of exceptional care, exceptional accountability, and exceptional results.

I encourage you to explore the pages of UVU's course catalog. Our wide range of offerings in certificate programs and associate, bachelor, and graduate degrees reflects our approach to higher education. This integrated model of education, combining career and technical education alongside more traditional academic degree programs, produces first-rate scholars and practitioners in highly sought-after fields. No matter your background or interests, there is a place for you at UVU. So, come as you are — bring your dreams.

Go Wolverines!

Best wishes,

Dr. Astrid S. Tuminez

Academic Policies & Standards

Academic Year

The academic year consists of three semesters: fall, spring, and summer. Fall and spring semesters are each made up of 15 weeks of class work and one week for final exams. The summer semester is 14 weeks in length; most classes are offered in one of two seven-week blocks. The time in classes is adjusted to equal the class time of fall and spring semesters, but there is no final exam period during summer.

Course Administration

UVU reserves the right to cancel any course at any time. Reasons for course cancellations include, but are not limited to, low enrollment in the course, space unavailability, instructor change, loss of instructor, and/or program changes. Students enrolled in the course will be contacted as soon as possible by the appropriate school or college when the university decides to cancel a course.

Class Periods/Credits

All credit hours are computed in semester hours. Three hours of work per week are, on average, expected to earn one semester credit hour; however, one credit hour may include any of the following combinations of work:

1. One hour of lecture, plus a minimum of two hours of personal work outside of class, regardless of delivery mode (One hour of lecture is considered to be 50 minutes per week) ;
2. Three hours in a laboratory, internships, practica, studio work, or other academic work, regardless of delivery mode, with additional outside work in preparation and documentation;
3. Any other combination appropriate to a particular course as determined by the academic department.

All transfer courses taken on a quarter system will be converted to semester hours using a three to two credit ratio. For example, a three credit hour course from a quarter calendar institution transfers to UVU as two semester credits.

Full-time Student Status

Graduate

UVU considers graduate students registered for 9 credits or more per semester or summer to be full-time graduate students. A 9 credit hour minimum load is generally accepted by sponsoring agencies for certifying full-time status.

Undergraduate

UVU considers students registered for 12 credits or more per semester or summer to be full-time students. A 12 credit hour minimum load is generally accepted by sponsoring agencies for certifying full-time status. Financial aid recipients receiving full benefits and students on scholarships are required to carry a minimum of 12 credits per semester.

For students attending only the fall and spring semesters, 15 to 18 credits per semester is generally required to complete associate degree programs within two academic years or bachelors degrees within four academic years, assuming all prerequisites are satisfied (See individual major requirements for exceptions).

Credit Hour Loads in Excess of 20

Students who enroll in 21 or more credit hours in a semester must have approval from the deans of the appropriate schools and/or colleges.

Year Classifications & Credit Hours

Freshman: 0-29 credit hours

Sophomore: 30-59 credit hours

Junior: 60-89 credit hours

Senior: 90 or more credit hours

Grading Policies

Grades are determined by instructors, based upon measures determined by the instructor and department and may include: evaluation of responses, written exercises and examinations, performance exercises and examinations, classroom/laboratory contributions, mastery of pertinent skills, etc. The letter grade “A” is an exceptional grade indicating superior achievement; “B” is a grade indicating commendable mastery; “C” indicates satisfactory mastery and is considered an average grade; “D” indicates substandard progress and insufficient evidence of ability to succeed in sequential courses; “E” (failing) indicates inadequate mastery of pertinent skills or repeated absences from class; “UW” indicates unofficial withdrawal from class.

The following table indicates each grade variant and the equivalent grade points for that variation.

| One credit of: | Equals grade points: |
|---|---|
| A | 4.0 |
| A- | 3.7 |
| B+ | 3.4 |
| B | 3.0 |
| B- | 2.7 |
| C+ | 2.4 |
| C | 2.0 |
| C- | 1.7 |
| D+ | 1.4 |
| D | 1.0 |
| D- | 0.7 |
| E | 0.0 |
| UW | 0.0 |

The following grades are not computed in the GPA:

| Letter grade | Grade description |
|---|---|
| W | Official Withdrawal |
| I | Incomplete |

| Letter grade | Grade description |
|---|---|
| AU | Audit |
| CR | Credit Granted |
| NC | No Credit Granted |
| CEU | Noncredit—Continuing Education Unit |
| T | In Progress (Temporary Status) |

The GPA is determined by dividing the total grade points earned (credit hours times grade in points above) by the number of semester hours attempted.

Students may view final grades electronically on the myUVU system after the end of the semester. All financial obligations to the Institution and "holds" on academic records must be resolved before college transcripts are issued.

Incomplete (I) Grades

Students are required to complete all courses for which they are registered by the end of the semester. In some cases, a student may be unable to complete all of the course work because of extenuating circumstances. The term "extenuating circumstances" includes: (1) incapacitating illness which prevents a student from attending classes (usually more than five consecutive class days); (2) a death in the immediate family; (3) change in work schedule as required by employer; or (4) other emergencies deemed acceptable by the instructor.

If circumstances are deemed appropriate, the student may petition the instructor for time beyond the end of the semester to finish the work. If the instructor agrees, an "I" grade will be given. An Incomplete Grade Form indicating work completed and work to be completed must be signed by the student, instructor, and the department chairperson, and turned into the Registrar's Office at the end of the semester.

"I" grades should not be requested nor given for lack of completion of work because of procrastination or dissatisfaction with the grade earned. Per policy, students must be passing the course and have completed 70% or more of the course work in order to qualify for an incomplete.

Specific arrangements to remove an "I" grade must be made between the student and the instructor. In most circumstances, work to be completed should be finished in the first two or three weeks following the end of the semester in which the "I" was given. Failing to complete the "I" and replace it with the appropriate letter grade may negatively affect any financial aid.

Incomplete work cannot be completed by retaking the class. If such an option is preferred, the student must take the grade earned and then retake the class for a better grade. The grade for the later class will be calculated in the GPA. In all cases, the "I" grade must be made up within one year. If it is not, the "I" grade will change to an "E" on the transcript. "I" grades are not computed in the GPA.

Repeating a Course

No additional credit is allowed for repeating a course in which the initial grade was passing unless the course number for the course ends in the letter suffix "R" or "Z" (a course designed to be repeatable for credit). For other repeated courses, the most recent grade will be used in the calculation of the GPA. Upon successful completion of the repeated course, the repeat is indicated on the student's transcript (E=Exclude, I=Include). All work will remain on the records, ensuring a true and accurate academic history. (Note: Although not used in computing the UVU overall GPA for UVU purposes, many graduate programs, such as law or dental school, include ALL grades in calculating an overall GPA for admissions criteria.)

Courses are not accepted from other institutions for the purpose of posting a repeat of a course already taken at UVU.

Board of Regents policy requires that students shall be charged at the full cost of the instruction tuition for repeating a course more than once, unless the institution determines that the repetition is a result of illness, accident or other cause beyond the student's control or unless the course is prescribed by the student's program of study. This affects all courses beginning January of 2003.

Changing a Grade Other than an Incomplete

Policy

Any student who has reason to believe that a grade assigned in a specific course was not justified has the right to appeal that grade.

Procedure

Student Action—

Grades may be appealed within one year of issuance in the following manner:

First, the student shall approach the instructor of the course as soon as possible after receiving the final grade. They have the right to discuss the merits of their appeal in an informal and non-threatening environment.

Second, after obtaining feedback from the instructor regarding the rationale for assigning the original grade, and assuming dissatisfaction still exists at the conclusion of the first step, or if the original instructor is no longer available, the student has a right to submit a written appeal to the department chair, in a consultation setting.

Finally, if a mutual understanding cannot be reached in the second step, the student has the right to submit a formal written appeal through the Office of the Registrar to the University Academic Standards Committee, which exercises final authority in adjudicating the appeal.

Faculty Action

During the first year after the issuance of a grade, an instructor for a specific class may submit a grade change form with proper documentation directly to the Records Office.

During the second through fifth years, the grade change form must be accompanied by an Academic Standards Petition filled out by the student and submitted by the course instructor or department chair directly to the registrar. If a grade change is requested and the faculty member who gave the original grade is no longer employed by UVU, the appropriate department chair may make the change if it is warranted.

After five years, a grade change may be considered only where evidence exists to prove that an error occurred in the recording of the original grade or extreme extenuating circumstances existed. In the latter case, an Academic Standards Petition with appropriate documentation may be submitted to the Office of the Registrar for possible consideration by the University Academic Standards Committee.

When the Records Office receives a signed change of grade form from an instructor, the new grade(s) are entered into the computer. An explanation of the transaction is entered into the student's record, including what the old and new grades are.

Withdrawal & Reinstatement

Withdrawal from Classes

Students may drop and withdraw from classes according to the dates and deadlines posted on the Semester Student Timetable. Classes may be dropped and not appear on the transcript through the drop deadline. After the last day to drop noted on the Semester Student Timetable, a grade of "W" will appear on the transcript for all official withdrawals and students will be responsible for tuition and fees. A "W" grade could impact a student's satisfactory academic progress with the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office.

Withdrawing from a course after the last day to withdraw deadline may only be for extenuating circumstances and not solely for academic difficulty, and requires the signature of the department chair with a department approval stamp. Such changes to a student's schedule may adversely affect current and future financial aid, scholarships and/or refunds. Students are cautioned to see a financial aid advisor before attempting to completely withdraw from school.

If a student stops attending (but does not officially withdraw) before the last day to withdraw, they should receive a "UW."

If a student stops attending (but does not officially withdraw) beyond the last day to withdraw, they may receive the grade earned up to that point, or an "E", at the instructor's discretion.

"UW's" are calculated into the grade point average (GPA) as 0.00, the same as "E's" (failing grades).

Administrative Drops and Withdrawals

Students may be dropped or withdrawn from classes by the administration if they: 1. register, but do not attend courses within the first three class periods of a semester; 2. register for courses for which they have not completed prerequisites; 3. neglect to pay tuition and fees for any given semester by the deadline published in the Student Timetable; or 4. other administrative reasons. Such changes to a student's schedule could affect financial aid, scholarships, and/or refunds.

Withdrawal from the Institution

It is the responsibility of the student who withdraws from school to complete the online Leave of Absence process. If withdrawing (Leave of Absence) after the refund period noted in the Semester Student Timetable, a grade of "W" will appear on the transcript for all official withdrawals and students will be responsible for tuition and fees. A "W" (official withdrawal) grade could impact a student's satisfactory academic progress with the Financial Aid and Scholarships Office. Complete withdrawal from college may adversely affect financial aid and/or Veterans' benefits.

Simply stopping attendance does not qualify as an official withdrawal, and a student who does so may receive a failing grade.

Reinstatement

Students who withdraw from UVU and then desire to be reinstated during the same academic semester may do so by obtaining clearance from the Registrar's Office and completing the late registration process.

Student Military Leave Procedure

Students activated into military service during an academic semester for which they are currently enrolled have the following options to choose from, in addition to other alternatives provided by existing policy and regulation. The student is responsible to notify appropriate Institution officials regarding the implementation of the selected option.

1. A request to withdraw from school will be honored with a full refund of all tuition and fees paid. Non-punitive "W's" will be recorded on the transcript and the date of action maintained on the student's record.
2. Incomplete grades may be negotiated with individual faculty and/or departments based on realistic means of completing the required objectives of the course(s). Where recommended by the department (faculty), the time limit for completing the "I" may be extended. This option may include "home study" as a means of completing the required work with faculty approval and where practical.
3. Current grades (grades earned at the point of termination) may be issued at the discretion of individual faculty. This is also a negotiated option.

In all cases, the student activated into military service is eligible for readmission.

Noncredit Continuing Education Unit (CEU)

Noncredit or Continuing Education Students are taking courses to pursue personal or professional interest, gain general knowledge, learn a new skill, upgrade existing skills, or enrich their personal understanding of a wide variety of topics. These courses do not offer college credit, but in some cases noncredit or continuing education students can earn continuing education units, certification or other evidence of class completion to meet personal or professional requirements. Noncredit course work cannot be substituted for a credit requirement or any required course on a degree pathway.

College Credit

College credit at UVU may be obtained through the following methods: 1. UVU Credit (includes Cooperative Education); 2. Transfer Credit; 3. Challenge Credit; 4. Foreign Language Challenge Credit; 5. Advanced Placement Credit; and 6. CLEP (College Level Examination Program).

1. UVU Credit

UVU credit is obtained through admittance to UVU, registering for classes, and satisfactorily completing all required course work. Courses completed through this method will receive a letter grade that will be used in calculating Grade Point Average (GPA).

Cooperative Education

Cooperative Education (Coop) offers another avenue for students to obtain UVU college credit. Students enrolled in cooperative education work as paid employees of a business, agency, or institution while enrolled at UVU in classes related to their career. Academic credit for cooperative work experience is granted according to the number of hours a student works during the semester using the following formula:

| Credit hours | Minimum hours of work |
|---|---|
| 1 | 75 |
| 2 | 150 |
| 3 | 225 |
| 4 | 300 |
| 5 | 375 |
| 6 | 450 |
| 7 | 525 |
| 8 | 600 |

Coop credits are registered for at the same time and in the same manner as UVU credits.

Courses completed through Cooperative Education will receive a credit/no-credit grade which is not included in the calculation of the GPA.

The maximum number of coop credits that may be applied toward a certificate is 8; a diploma is 14; an associate or bachelor's degree is 16 credit hours. Departments define how coop credit is applied to specific programs. Additional coop credit may be taken (but not applied toward graduation) with approval of the cooperative education director and the appropriate dean.

2. Transfer Credit

It is the student's responsibility to have official transcripts of any previous college work completed elsewhere sent to the UVU Admissions Office. Transcripts accepted as official by the UVU Admissions Office are automatically sent to the Transfer Credit Office for evaluation and posting. The Transfer Credit Office may require the student to supply the catalog, bulletin, or course outlines from previous schools attended to assist in determining the transferability of specific courses. Transfer credit may or may not apply to UVU graduation requirements, regardless of the number of credits transferred.

Transfer courses with grades below "C-" will not be accepted by UVU. Transfer courses are not calculated in the GPA. Individual departments reserve the right to impose limits on the age and grade level of transfer credit. There is no limit to the number of transfer credits that may be accepted; however, UVU graduation requirements such as residence, total credits, and GPA must still be met.

Transfer courses will not be accepted from other institutions for the purpose of posting a repeat on a course already taken at UVU.

Courses in religion will be evaluated on the basis of the particular orientation of the course as determined by the UVU Religious Studies Committee. In order to be considered, these courses must be listed on an official transcript from a regionally accredited institution and must demonstrate scholarly rigor and critical engagement with the subject matter.

General Education for Transfer Students

For transfer students from any Utah State Higher Education institution, UVU shall accept at full value all General Education course work approved by the sending institution, provided it meets the minimum C- letter grade requirement, in any area specified by the Board of Regents document R470. These areas include Composition, Quantitative Literacy, Fine Arts, Humanities, Social and Behavioral Science, Biology and Physical Science. UVU shall require transfer students to complete any additional coursework needed to satisfy the unmet portions of the UVU General Education requirements. Previously completed General Studies course work shall be applied to assure the best possible fit with UVU's General Education requirements. As each transfer student's requirements may vary, see the Transfer Credit Office (BA 113 for specific requirements.

An AA or an AS degree earned at any USHE institution will meet the General Education requirements of UVU. The degree must include equivalents of UVU's English, Mathematics, and American Institutions requirements or the student will have to fulfill these requirements separately.

Credit for ACT/SAT Scores

On May 12, 2015, Senate Bill 196 - Math Competency Initiative passed which mandated that the State Board of Education establish a qualifying score for ACT/SAT scores in order to award college credit for a mathematics course. This course must satisfy the state system of higher education quantitative literacy requirement. This initiative will go into effect as of the 2016-2017 school year. High School students who have graduated during the 2016 school year and onward will be eligible for QL 1900 based off of an ACT score of 26 or an SAT score of 660.

U.S. Institutions outside of Utah

For transfer credit to be accepted by UVU, the institution from which credit is to be transferred must be accredited by one of the following regional associations:

- Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (MSA)
- Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU)
- North Central Association of Colleges and Schools (NCA)
- New England Association of Schools and Colleges, Inc./Commission on Institutions of Higher Education (NEASC-CIHE)
- Southern Association of Colleges and Schools/Commission on Colleges (SACS-CC)
- Western Association of Schools and Colleges/Accrediting Commission for Community and Jr. Colleges (WASC-Jr.)
- Western Association of Schools and Colleges/Accrediting Commission for Sr. Colleges and Universities (WASC-Sr.)

A completed associate degree (i.e. AA or AS) designed for transfer earned at one of these regionally accredited institutions will fill most of the UVU general education requirements if the degree includes a minimum of 30 semester credit hours of general education that is broad and representative of UVU's general education core. The completed AA or AS degree must include direct equivalents of UVU's English, Mathematics, and American Institutions requirements or the student must fulfill these requirements separately. If the courses within the transferable degree aren't considered to be transferable or general education courses, the classes and the degree may not be recognized and courses will be evaluated individually for transferability and equivalency.

Non-accredited institutions may be accepted on an exception basis by individual departments.

Military courses are evaluated using the ACE recommendations from the Guide to the Evaluation of Education Experiences in the Armed Services. Approved credits will be applied if they directly pertain to a student's individual undergraduate degree program.

International and Foreign Institutions

The Transfer Credit Office, working with department academic advisors and faculty, is authorized to evaluate credit from foreign colleges, universities, and/or International Baccalaureate (IB) Diplomas after a student has been admitted to UVU. International students requesting transfer of credit from foreign institutions of higher education must submit a transcript from an approved Foreign Credentials evaluation Service. See the Transfer Credit Office (BA 113) for a list of these accepted services.

Transfer courses from international and foreign institutions are not calculated in the GPA.

3. Challenge Credit/Experiential Credit

(Equivalency Examination and/or Documentation of Earned Competency)

No more than 25 percent of the minimum credits required toward a bachelor's degree, and associate degree, diploma, or certificate of completion, may be awarded through experiential and/or challenge credit. Challenge credit and experiential credit are not eligible for use in a certificate of proficiency. Credit for courses that appear in the current catalog may be awarded to individuals who can prove through appropriate assessment and/or documentation that they have already acquired the equivalent knowledge and/or expertise required for successful completion of that course.

To receive experiential/challenge credit for a specific course, the student must

1. Be enrolled at the University.
2. For Challenge credit, complete a comprehensive examination (theoretical and/or applied) with at least a "C-" grade; or for Experiential credit, provide documentation of practical experience to the satisfaction of the department chairperson and dean showing course objectives have been met; or with the departmental approval, complete an advanced course with a grade of "C-" or higher (if deemed necessary by the department) as a validation procedure.
3. Pay, in advance, a nonrefundable processing fee.
4. After successful completion of requirements, pay the per-credit-hour fee.

A specific course shall be challenged only once, and a student shall not receive challenge/experiential credit for a course that the student is/or has been previously enrolled in and received a grade, including a "W or AU" grade.

Duplicate credit will not be awarded.
Grades shall be recorded only as "CR" (credit) and shall not be calculated in a student's university GPA.

4. Language Challenge Credit

Students may obtain an Experiential Language Credit Request Form in the UVU Languages and Cultures Department.

Students who have acquired proficiency in languages offered at UVU by means other than college courses (high school, foreign residency, etc.) may earn up to 16 credit hours. To qualify for these credits, a student shall complete a course in that language at a higher level than the credits for which they apply; and the grade in that course must be a “C-” or better.

To qualify for credit for language courses not offered at UVU, a student may, as an alternative, take the appropriate language test at any accredited four-year institution and provide UVU with the satisfactory (C- or better) test results. In this circumstance, the student must meet with the Languages and Cultures department chairperson to ascertain the maximum language credits that may be applied to any degree from UVU.

Proficiency tests to determine placement (not credit) in advanced courses are administered in the UVU Classroom Testing Center prior to the beginning of each semester. Students unsure of their language skills must take the test or receive permission from the course instructor before registering for advanced classes.

Students who qualify for credit under the above provisions (for example, they register for, and successfully complete, Spanish 2010 with at least a “C-” grade, thus qualifying for the credits for the previous courses—1010 and 1020) must petition for those credits (application forms are available in the Languages and Cultures Department) and pay a fee for each credit hour. No additional tuition will be charged for those credits. The credits will be listed on transcripts as “CR” and are not calculated in the GPA.

Additional information regarding language challenge credit and other policies are available from the Languages and Cultures Department.

5. Advanced Placement Credit

Students who complete an Advanced Placement Exam through CollegeBoard may earn up to 8 academic credits per test with a score of 3, 4, or 5, as per the policies set forth by the Utah State Board of Regents. Students having AP test scores of 3 or higher should contact the Transfer Credit Office to ensure posting of the results to their UVU transcripts.

Specific equivalencies and acceptance criteria are updated annually, upon departmental faculty review and approval.

If all residence, credit, and grade point average requirements have been met, there is no limit to the number of Advanced Placement credits that may be accepted; however, duplicate credit for tests and course work shall not be applied.

AP credit will be posted as a "CR" grade and will not be calculated in the GPA.

6. CLEP Credit (College Level Examination Program)

Students may receive college credit for CLEP exams as specified on the approved list in the Transfer Credit Office. Additionally, students intending to transfer to another institution from UVU should meet with their intended transfer institution to gain advance information on how that institution accepts CLEP credit.

CLEP credit will be posted as a “CR” grade and will not be calculated in the GPA.

The amount of credit given through CLEP subject examinations is determined by the appropriate departments. No more than 25 percent of the minimum credits required toward a degree may be awarded through CLEP and/or Challenge/Experiential Credit hours.

Course Number System

0000-0999 Remedial or preparatory noncredit courses; may not be counted toward a certificate, diploma, associate, or bachelor’s degree. Technical, nontransferable courses may count toward a certificate.

1000-2999 Lower division (freshman and sophomore courses); courses designed as transfer courses; count toward a certificate, diploma, associate, and/or bachelor’s degree.

3000-5000 Upper division (junior and senior courses); courses designed to count toward a bachelor’s degree, or any other degree as required by department.

6000 Graduate courses; regular courses in master’s level programs.

Learning Enrichment courses with 1000 level numbers do not satisfy General Education requirements for the associate or bachelor’s degrees. These classes may count as electives for the Associate in Arts, Associate in Science, and Bachelor of Science degrees.

The letter suffix “R” indicates that a course is repeatable for credit (example: PES 161R). Course descriptions indicate the number of “repeats” allowed.

Variable and partial credit is indicated by letter suffixes of “A,” “B,” “C,” etc. (example: ACC 201A = 4 credits and ACC 201B = 2 credits). Changing the hours of credit for a variable-credit class after registration may be done only through the add/drop (class change) procedure. Such changes must be made prior to completion of that partial course.

“Honors” credit courses are identified on the transcript by an “H” following the course number (example: ENGL 225H).

Global/Intercultural credit courses are identified on the transcript by a “G” following the course number (example: ANTH 101G).

Policy

Academic standing is determined by the grades a student earns at UVU. A student with the most recent semester grade point average (GPA) and cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale is in good academic standing. When a full- or part-time undergraduate student fails to maintain a semester or cumulative GPA of 2.0 on a 4.0 scale, the student shall be notified of progressive academic intervention actions.

Students placed on alert status, academic warning, academic probation, and continued academic probation remain eligible for all extracurricular activities as governed by the rules of the specific activity. This policy does not include nor preclude additional program requirements that may be mandated by specific departmental majors.

Procedures

Academic intervention shall be applied progressively in the order described below.

Alert Status

When a student is not making adequate progress towards course completion and the instructor is unable to resolve the issue with the student, the student may be placed on alert status. A registration hold may be placed on the student's record. The student must then meet with their academic advisor for guidance before the registration hold will be removed.

Academic Warning

When the semester GPA falls below 2.0 and the cumulative GPA is 2.0 or above, the student shall be placed on academic warning regardless of alert status. A registration hold shall be placed on the student's record. The student must complete an academic success warning workshop and meet with their academic advisor before the registration hold will be removed.

Academic Probation

When the semester and cumulative GPA both fall below 2.0, the student will be placed on academic probation. A registration hold shall be placed on the student's record. The student must complete an academic success probation workshop, develop an academic success plan, and meet with their academic advisor before the registration hold will be removed.

If the student on academic probation fails to raise the cumulative GPA to a 2.0 or above in the subsequent semester, the student will be placed on continued academic probation. A registration hold shall be placed on the student's record and the student must prepare an academic success plan with their academic advisor as well as the academic standards counselor before the registration hold will be removed. The student may also be required to attend another academic success probation workshop and/or enroll in a college success class.

All students on continued academic probation will be required to submit an in-progress grade report to the Academic Standards Office in order to register for any subsequent semester(s). The student shall continue to receive advisement from the academic standards counselor, as well as their academic advisor, to monitor and promote academic progress.

Academic Suspension

When on continued academic probation, a student receiving a semester and cumulative GPA below 2.0 in a subsequent semester shall be placed on academic suspension. The student shall be immediately dropped from enrollment in all current semester classes and a registration hold shall be placed on the student's record. The student shall be suspended for a minimum of one full semester. During this time the student is expected to resolve all academic problems that led to the academic suspension.

To re-enroll at the University, a student must submit a Petition for Academic Suspension Review to the Academic Support Committee. This committee will make suggestions for specific customized interventions to be approved by the Academic Standards Committee. A decision shall then be rendered as to whether, and under what conditions, the student may continue to study at the University. The student must complete the requirements set forth by the Academic Standards Committee before the registration hold will be removed.

Academic Probation Returning from Academic Suspension

When the academic suspension petition is granted, the student is allowed to resume their academic studies under probation returning from suspension. This status allows the student to register for classes under the guidance of the Academic Standards Office, in conjunction with their academic advisor. As long as the student acquires a semester GPA of 2.0 or above in all subsequent semesters and abides by the conditions outlined by the Academic Standards Committee, the student may continue to enroll in classes. The student will remain on academic probation returning from academic suspension until the cumulative GPA is at or above 2.0.

Academic Dismissal

When failing to comply with the conditions set forth by the Academic Standards Committee while on academic probation returning from academic suspension, the student shall be dismissed from the University and immediately dropped from enrollment in all classes. A registration hold shall be placed on the student's record.

The student may not re-enroll at the University or submit a Petition for Academic Dismissal Review for a minimum of one full calendar year from the date of academic dismissal. During this calendar year, the student may also be required to attend another institution and complete 18 credits with at least a 2.5 GPA. Upon review by both the Academic Support Committee and the Academic Standards Committee, a decision will be rendered as to whether or not, and under what conditions, the student may re-enroll at the University

Any student who returns to the University after being dismissed will be placed on academic probation returning from academic dismissal and will be required to follow the academic plan outlined by the Academic Standards Committee.

Academic Probation Returning from Academic Dismissal

When the Petition for Academic Dismissal Review is granted by the Academic Standards Committee, the student is allowed to continue their academic studies on academic probation returning from academic dismissal. The student is allowed to register for classes under the guidance of the Academic Standards Office, in conjunction with their academic advisor. As long as the student acquires a semester GPA of 2.0 or above in all subsequent semesters and abides by the conditions outlined by the Academic Standards Committee, the student may continue to enroll in classes. The student will remain on probation returning from dismissal until the cumulative GPA is at or above 2.0.

When a student is unsuccessful at this level and does not have the ability to benefit from continuing with their education at the University, academic counseling will be provided by the Academic Standards Office to explore alternative pathways to success.

Appeals

When the student's Petition for Academic Suspension Review or Petition for Academic Dismissal Review is denied by the Academic Standards Committee, the student may present an appeal to a hearing panel that consists of the Academic Standards Committee and a representative appointed by the President of the Utah Valley University Student Association (UVUSA). After review of the petition, the hearing panel will determine if the student's appeal is granted or denied. If the appeal is granted, the hearing panel shall determine the conditions for re-enrollment at the University.

If the student is unsatisfied with the hearing panel's decision, the student has the right to appeal in writing to the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Academic Renewal

For students who are challenged with a low GPA or for those who have experienced a period of low grades that does not reflect their academic potential, UVU offers academic renewal. A student is allowed to petition the Registrar for academic renewal only one time during his or her enrollment at the University. This process shall remove a limited amount of previous academic work from the student's GPA and from credit toward graduation. To be eligible a student shall meet the following conditions at the time the petition is filed:

1. The student must be currently enrolled at UVU.
2. A minimum of two years has elapsed since the most recent course work to be eliminated was completed.
3. The student has completed at least 30 semester hours of UVU course work with a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.50. These 30 hours shall have been completed after the course work the student is requesting to eliminate.
4. The student's cumulative GPA is below the level necessary for graduation in his or her current program of study. In most instances, this is a 2.0 cumulative GPA.
5. The requested course work has not been used toward an existing degree.

The student may request a maximum of two specific semesters/terms of academic course work be eliminated from his or her earned credits and cumulative GPA. Individual courses shall not be accepted.

If the petition qualifies under this policy, the student's permanent academic record shall be annotated to indicate that no work taken during the disregarded semester(s) and/or term(s), even if satisfactory, shall apply toward earned credits, GPA, academic standing, and/or graduation requirements. All work shall remain on the records, ensuring a true and accurate academic history. The words "Academic Renewal" and the affected semester(s)/term(s) shall be annotated on the student's transcript.

Academic renewal shall not be requested to earn or change academic honors status on a student's transcript.

Academic Renewal cannot be applied for either hours attempted/completed (quantitative Satisfactory Academic Progress), or cumulative GPA (qualitative Satisfactory Academic Progress) for Title IV (Federal Financial Aid) purposes. Students who are granted Academic Renewal at UVU will have the credit hours removed from their earned credits and GPA for academic purposes. However, for Satisfactory Academic Progress purposes, students are measured based on the original grades and not the changes due to academic renewal.

No exceptions shall be made to this policy. Students shall be aware that this policy may not be accepted at transfer institutions, and all credit, including those with academic renewal, may still be calculated by the transfer institution.

Academic Distinction

The Dean's list recognizes those who have demonstrated outstanding academic performance during a term or semester. To be eligible:

1. The student must complete 12 semester hours or more in any semester and a commensurate number of hours in any term.
2. The student must earn a semester GPA of 3.6 or above.
3. The student must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.0.

Accreditation

Utah Valley University is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Accreditation of an institution of higher education by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities indicates that it meets or exceeds criteria for the assessment of institutional quality evaluated through a peer review process. An accredited college or university is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Accreditation by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities is not partial but applies to the institution as a whole. As such, it is not a guarantee of every course or program offered, or the competence of individual graduates. Rather, it provides reasonable assurance about the quality of opportunities available to students who attend the institution.

Inquiries regarding an institution's accredited status by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities should be directed to the administrative staff of the institution. Individuals may also contact:

- www.nwccu.org

The Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) is an independent, non-profit membership organization recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the regional authority on educational quality and institutional effectiveness of higher education institutions in the seven-state Northwest region of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington.

In addition, some programs or majors have other specialized accreditation.

- Specialized Accreditation, Certification, and Approvals

Gainful Employment information is provided in compliance with the U.S. Department of Education's disclosure requirements for programs eligible for Title IV financial aid that prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation as required in 34 CFR 668.6(b). All programs list the following information: CIP Code, Level of Program, Program Length, Tuition and required fees, Estimated costs for books and supplies, Debt at program completion, Program completion in Normal Time, Job Placement, and Related Occupations. Gainful Employment Program Disclosure is listed on all marketing materials for potential students.

General Education

General Education Information

Whereas a major provides students with specialized knowledge, General Education ensures that students have the breadth of knowledge that characterizes well-rounded and well-informed citizens. General Education provides the skills of analysis, problem-solving, creative thinking, and critical thinking that prepare students for an unknown and ever-changing future.

Completion of the UVU General Education requirements will fulfill the General Education requirements at all colleges and universities within the Utah System of Higher Education. However, certain majors, both at this institution and other Utah institutions, may require specific General Education courses. While UVU has not articulated these courses with higher education institutions outside the State of Utah, they will generally articulate to other regionally accredited colleges and universities in the United States. It is the responsibility of students to complete the appropriate General Education courses required by their departments regardless of the generalized list printed in this catalog.

Note: Students taking General Education courses without having declared a specific major are advised in the Academic Counseling Center, LC 402, telephone 801-863-8425. Students who have declared a specific major that is taught at UVU will be directed to the appropriate academic advisor upon completion of new student orientation and assessment activities.

Department Articulation Agreements

In addition to General Education courses, many departments have articulated specific courses that transfer to help fulfill baccalaureate degree requirements. Information concerning these courses may be obtained from UVU department advisors or the Admissions-Transfer Services Office, BA 114.

General Education Code System

General Education course designator codes (Attributes) aid students and transfer institutions to identify how General Education courses meet graduation requirements.

The following list identifies General Education core and distribution courses as they apply to the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees and Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees, and can be used to search the registration menu:

AS - American Institutions

BB - Biology

CC - English Composition

FF - Fine Arts

HH - Humanities

LH - Foreign Language

PP - Physical Science

SS - Social Science

QL – Quantitative Literacy

XF - Must be taken with another course to equal FF (see department)

General Education Requirements

Interstate Passport

The Interstate Passport enables successful transfer of a block of lower-level general education learning to other institutions participating in the Interstate Passport Network. Students who complete their Passport at Utah Valley University will not be required to repeat or take additional course work to meet lower-division general education requirements in the Passport's nine areas when they transfer to any other Passport institution. Utah Valley University will begin transcripting the Interstate Passport following the Fall 2016 semester. Students with an interest in achieving the Passport should see our website at http://www.uvu.edu/transfer/passport.html and contact their Advisor.

Associate in Arts/Science Degrees and Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees

These requirements satisfy the General Education requirements for both the Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science Degrees, as well as the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science Degrees at UVU, taking into account adjustments that may be required by academic departments to fulfill their specific needs. Honors courses with the same prefix and number also satisfy distribution requirements. Total core and distribution is 35 credits.

Additional Guidelines for Completion of the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees

The Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science Degrees are designed to complete General Education requirements and could complete lower division pre-majors for baccalaureate degrees at UVU or other colleges or universities.

The General Education courses shown above constitute the majority of the credits required for these degrees. In addition to the General Education requirements, these degrees require 25 additional credit hours.

Associate in Arts Degrees require 8 hours of these 25 hours to be from the same recognized foreign language.

See your specific academic department for further information on appropriate course work to complete a pre-major or the remaining 25 hours. The Academic Counseling Center (LC 402) has some specific outlines available to transfer to other institutions.

Associate in Applied Science Degrees

This is a general outline. Refer to the department or Graduation Office for specific requirements. A total of 16 credit hours is required. Students must have a minimum of three credits in each area, except “F” (Physical Ed/Health/Safety/Environment).

A. ENGLISH

Complete for 3 credits:

|---|
| ENGL 1010/101H Introduction to Writing |
| or |
| MKTG 2200 Business Communication |

B. MATHEMATICS

Complete for 3 credits:

|---|
| MAT 1000 Integrated Beginning and Intermediate Algebra |

|---|
| or |
| MAT 1010 Intermediate Algebra |
| or |
| Any Higher Mathematics course |
| or |
| Any approved Departmental Mathematics Course |

C. HUMANITIES/FINE ARTS/FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Transfer Information

For students transferring to four-year Institutions, Colleges, and Universities in the Utah System of Higher Education.

UVU courses numbered 1000 or above will transfer within the Utah System of Higher Education. However, the application of these courses toward graduation is determined by academic departments of receiving institutions.

For students transferring to colleges and universities in the Utah System of Higher Education before earning an Associate in Arts or an Associate in Science Degree, or a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science Degree, a certified letter verifying completion of the UVU General Education requirements may be requested from the Graduation Office. This letter will cause the gaining institution (run by the State of Utah) to accept the completion of UVU General Education requirements as fulfilling all of the General Education/Liberal Education requirements of the gaining institution.

Note: Completion of an Associate in Arts/Science Degree waives only General Education requirements. It does not waive the necessary hours to graduate. A student transferring to another institution should check with that institution to see how their credits have been accepted toward their degree.

Private, Parochial, or Out-of-State Colleges & Universities

Since these schools are not bound by Utah State Regent's policies, colleges/universities outside the Utah System of Higher Education may have specific requirements and may not accept all courses available at UVU. Students should contact the institution they are transferring to in order to determine how their credits will be accepted.

Brigham Young University

Brigham Young University accepts the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees for completion of its General Education requirements. Courses with grades of “D+” or lower will not transfer. Some departments at BYU have specific General Education course requirements that will still need to be taken at BYU. Individual departments at BYU should be consulted for exceptions.

Note: BYU has a limit on the number of transfer students admitted.

General Information

Utah Valley University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, citizenship, genetic information, or other basis protected by applicable law, including Title IX and 34 C.F.R. Part 106, in employment, treatment, admission, access to educational programs and activities, or other University benefits or services. Inquiries about nondiscrimination at UVU may be directed to the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights or UVU's Title IX Coordinator / Director of Equal Opportunity at 801-863-7999 – TitleIX@uvu.edu – 800 W University Pkwy, Orem, 84058, Suite BA 203.

Mission

Utah Valley University is an integrated university and community college that educates every student for success in work and life through excellence in engaged teaching, services, and scholarship.

Our Values

UVU's culture supports our mission of student success. Student success encompasses both terminal degrees and the holistic education of students, and we believe that we can fulfill this mission best in an environment that allows all individuals to thrive personally and professionally. To this end, UVU, operates in accordance with three core values: exceptional care, exceptional accountability, and exceptional results.

Exceptional Care

We invite people to "come as you are" and let them know that "UVU has a place for you." Care means that we strive always to "see" the person in front of us — their strengths and weaknesses, struggles and triumphs, past and potential, and inherent dignity and worth. This does not mean that we set low expectations or make excuses for poor efforts. Instead, our commitment to exceptional care means that we set the bar high and provide challenging, honest conversations and feedback because we are deeply invested in seeing every member of our community succeed.

Exceptional Accountability

We are strongly committed to working ethically and effectively. We approach each situation from a position of integrity, knowing that everything we do can help or hinder a positive student experience. We honor the resources and mandates we have been entrusted with and strive always to do our best to honor that trust. We respect each member of our community, seek to understand and fulfill our responsibilities, and recognize both individual and collective successes.

Exceptional Results

We are committed to creating opportunity systematically for as many people as possible. Our engaged curricula, programs, and partnerships address the intellectual and practical needs of our service area and the larger community. We seek to prepare our students to thrive in a rapidly changing economy and an interdependent, complex world. We aspire to greatness in all that we do, while also measuring progress against rigorous metrics that show our students are becoming competent and ethical professionals, lifelong learners, and engaged citizens.

Action Commitments and Objectives

Include

Through open admission and other practices, UVU provides accessible and equitable educational opportunities for every student who wants to receive a rewarding postsecondary education.

- Objective 1: UVU integrates educational opportunities appropriate to both community colleges and universities.
- Objective 2: UVU provides accessible, equitable, and culturally diverse learning experiences and resources for students of all backgrounds, including those historically underrepresented in higher education.
- Objective 3: UVU fosters an inviting, safe, and supportive environment in which students, faculty, and staff can succeed.

Engage

UVU delivers rigorous, meaningful, and experiential learning opportunities driven by a shared responsibility for student success.

- Objective 1: UVU faculty, staff, and students practice excellent, engaged teaching and learning activities as a community of scholars, creators, and practitioners.
- Objective 2: UVU develops relationships and outreach opportunities with students, alumni, and community stakeholders.
- Objective 3: UVU employees demonstrate a commitment to student success, professionalism, ethics, and accountability.

Achieve

UVU champions a university experience that helps students realize their educational, professional, and personal aspirations.

- Objective 1: UVU supports students in completing their educational goals.
- Objective 2: UVU students master the learning outcomes of the university and their programs.
- Objective 3: UVU prepares students for success in their subsequent learning, professional, and civic pursuits.

Roles

As a regional state university, Utah Valley University:

Provides quality academic learning opportunities for students through programs at the certificate, associate, baccalaureate, and graduate levels. To encourage responsible citizenship, emphasis is placed on engaged teaching and learning as well as scholarly work, research, creative achievements, career and technical education and community and professional engagement.

Provides access to higher education and offers a broad range of opportunities from developmental education through honors programs. The institution provides services designed to meet the educational and personal needs of students, to foster student success, to prepare students for meaningful lifework, and to provide access through a variety of modalities, including satellite campuses and the use of technology.

Promotes economic and cultural development to contribute to the quality of life of the region and state. The institution fosters economic development and provides a talent-force to meet the needs of a dynamic economy by offering credit and non-credit programs and services for individuals and organizations. UVU provides cultural experiences that enrich the community and offer significant and varied opportunities for continuous learning.

Historical Development

Utah Valley University was established as Central Utah Vocational School in September 1941 with the primary function of providing war production training.

Post-war training needs found the school offering programs throughout the region and at the Utah County Fairgrounds. The three school districts within Utah County combined efforts to purchase a thirteen-acre site close to Provo High School.

In 1963, the name was changed to Utah Trade Technical Institute to emphasize its growing role in technical training. The name change to Utah Technical College at Provo in 1967 was accompanied by the authority to award the Associate in Applied Science Degree. The Associate in Science Degree was added in 1972.

The initial 185-acre Orem Campus was dedicated in 1977. In 1987, the name was changed to Utah Valley Community College and the Associate in Arts degree was added by the Utah State Board of Regents.

In 1993, the name was changed to Utah Valley State College reflecting the change in mission to offer high demand baccalaureate degrees.

The Utah State Legislature approved, in February 2007, a name change to Utah Valley University that became effective July 1, 2008. The Utah State Board of Regents approved the corresponding mission change in December 2007 to give authority to offer master level degrees; this also became effective July 1, 2008.

Accreditation

Utah Valley University is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities.

Accreditation of an institution of higher education by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities indicates that it meets or exceeds criteria for the assessment of institutional quality evaluated through a peer review process. An accredited college or university is one which has available the necessary resources to achieve its stated purposes through appropriate educational programs, is substantially doing so, and gives reasonable evidence that it will continue to do so in the foreseeable future. Institutional integrity is also addressed through accreditation.

Accreditation by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities is not partial but applies to the institution as a whole. As such, it is not a guarantee of every course or program offered, or the competence of individual graduates. Rather, it provides reasonable assurance about the quality of opportunities available to students who attend the institution.

Inquiries regarding an institution's accredited status by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities should be directed to the administrative staff of the institution. Individuals may also contact:

- Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities
- 8060 165th Avenue N.E., Suite 100
- Redmond, WA 98052
- (425)-558-4224

The Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) is an independent, non-profit membership organization recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the regional authority on educational quality and institutional effectiveness of higher education institutions in the seven-state Northwest region of Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington.

In addition, some programs or majors have other specialized accreditation.

- Specialized Accreditation, Certification, and Approvals

Gainful Employment information is provided in compliance with the U.S. Department of Education's disclosure requirements for programs eligible for Title IV financial aid that prepare students for gainful employment in a recognized occupation as required in 34 CFR 668.6(b). All programs list the following information: CIP Code, Level of Program, Program Length, Tuition and required fees, Estimated costs for books and supplies, Debt at program completion, Program completion in Normal Time, Job Placement, and Related Occupations. Gainful Employment Program Disclosure is listed on all marketing materials for potential students.

Graduation

Graduation Office
Office: BA 113
Telephone: 801-863-8438

Utah Valley University offers the following degrees: Master of Accountancy (MAcc), Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Computer Science (MCS), Master of Education (M.Ed.), Master of Science in Nursing (MSN), Master of Public Service (MPS), Master of Science in Cybersecurity (MS), Master of Social Work (MSW), Baccalaureate degrees, Associate in Applied Science (AAS), Associate in Arts (AA), Associate in Pre-Engineering (APE), Associate in Science (AS), Associate in Science in Business (ASB), Associate in Science in Nursing (ASN); Diplomas, and Certificates are also offered.

General Graduation Requirements

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the rules and regulations of both the University and their specific majors. Detailed information concerning graduation requirements is available in this catalog as part of department descriptions. Responsibility for satisfying all graduation requirements rests upon the student. UVU reserves the right to change graduation requirements at any time.

The University confers degrees, diplomas, or certificates upon students who meet both the General Education requirements of the University and the specific requirements of one of the academic departments.

Credit Requirement

| Certificate/Degree | Number of Semester Credit Hours Required for Completion |
|---|---|
| Certificates of Proficiency | Less than 30 credit hours |
| Certificates of Completion | 30–33 credit hours |
| Diploma | 50 credit hours |
| Associate in Applied Science Degree | 63–69 credit hours (some disciplines may require more due to specialized accreditation) |
| Associate in Arts or Associate in Science degree | 60–63 credit hours |
| Specialized Associate's degrees | 68-85 credit hours |
| Baccalaureate degree (Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Professional Bachelor's degrees) | 120–126 credit hours, 40 of which shall be upper-division credits (level 3000 and above) |
| Graduate Certificate | 9–29 credit hours |

Grade Point Average Requirement

A minimum cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 (C) is required for graduation. In some programs specific course grades below 2.0 will not be accepted for graduation and some programs require a higher cumulative grade point average (see individual program requirements).

Graduation Catalog Requirement

Candidates for graduation will be held to the requirements of the catalog under which they were admitted. Students have a maximum of 7 years to complete bachelor degrees and 5 years to complete associate degrees; 6 years are allowed for master degrees. In the case of bachelor degree programs, the seven year limit begins when a student is formally matriculated into the program. When students take longer than the given years to complete, they must have attended UVU during the Catalog Year to use those degree requirements towards graduation.

Programs that are no longer being offered may not be pursued by students who were not admitted or formally matriculated in that program during the accepted period of time. Students may not combine portions of different catalogs to fulfill graduation requirements. Once a catalog is selected, students must abide by all the graduation requirements specified within that catalog. Minors can only be sought if offered during that catalog year. Please see the Graduate Studies section of the catalog regarding catalog year requirements for master degree programs.

Global/Intercultural Requirement

The Global/Intercultural requirement is a graduation requirement at the baccalaureate degree level. Courses that may be used to complete this requirement will be coded with a GI course attribute. The purpose of the Global/Intercultural requirement is to assist students to become better prepared to understand and participate in the global and cultural interdependencies that characterize our world. Students who take courses at another university and want to use them for the Global/Intercultural requirement must petition through the GI committee. See the Registrar's Office (BA 113) for further information. For a complete listing of the courses offered at UVU that fulfill this requirement, see the Course Descriptions section in the back of this catalog for course numbers ending in "G".

Residence Requirement

Credit hours in residency (UVU credits) at a UVU campus, satellite, or branch campus, or through distance education or concurrent enrollment, are required for all certificates, diplomas, and degrees. Minimum hours are as follows:

1. Certificates of proficiency require 25% of total credit hours (rounded up);
2. Certificates of completion require 10 credit hours;
3. Associate degrees and diplomas require 20 credit hours;
4. Baccalaureate degrees require 30 credit hours (10 credits of those 30 shall have been completed within the last 45 credit hours earned for the degree).

Multiple Degrees

Students may earn multiple certificates. Students may earn only one academic associate degree from Utah Valley University; either an Associate in Science or an Associate in Arts. With some exceptions, students may earn multiple Associate in Applied Science (AAS) degrees, specialized associate degrees, and baccalaureate degrees.

A second bachelor's degree may be awarded when all requirements for both degrees are satisfied, along with the following:

1. All UVU General Education requirements are satisfied;
2. Thirty semester hours beyond the original degree are completed;
3. Twenty semester hours of the 30 hours in item 2 above must be completed at UVU (resident hours);
4. Students must receive Dean's approval for a second bachelor's degree.

Dual Baccalaureate Majors (One degree– with two majors)

A baccalaureate degree with dual majors may be awarded when students complete all requirements for two approved degrees from the approved dual majors list, but has not met the required 30 semester hours for a second degree beyond the original degree. The student shall receive a single baccalaureate degree; the diploma and transcript shall list both majors.

Other information regarding the dual major:

1. Students apply for graduation for one degree, and only one degree type, such as a Bachelor of Arts, or a Bachelor of Science;
2. In order to be awarded a dual major, both majors must be completed during the semester when (or prior to) applying for graduation
3. If Students have already graduated in one of the majors, they may not apply for a dual major.
4. After being awarded a dual major degree, students may not apply for graduation for one of the dual majors separately.
5. Students shall have no more than three course substitutions from the required courses for the two majors combined.
6. Students may not receive minors in either major, but may be awarded a minor from another area if all requirements are met.
7. Credits shall not exceed the 160 credit hour limit with the two combined majors.

Degree Requirements

Master Degrees

Please see the Graduate Studies section of the catalog regarding degree requirements.

Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees

Graduation requirements for the Bachelor of Arts/Science Degrees are:

- Completion of a minimum of 120 semester credits, or more if specified by program requirements;
- Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. Departments may require a higher GPA.
- Residency hours - minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours;
- At least 40 credit hours in upper division courses;
- Completion of General Education requirements. See General Education section above for specific courses required for graduation;
- Completion of specific departmental (major) requirements;
- Completion of Global/Intercultural Requirement course.

For a Bachelor of Arts Degree in programs offering the degree, students must complete 16 credit hours of course work from one language to include the 1010, 1020, 2010 and 202G levels, or transferred equivalents. Some ESL course work may be used to fulfill this requirement. See the ESL department for specific details.

Note: Academic departments may require specific General Education courses in addition to major requirements.

Multiple Emphases

Students may earn additional emphases, with departmental approval under a specific bachelor's degree by completing the requirements for those emphases. Additional emphases shall appear on transcripts, but no additional diplomas will be awarded.

Associate in Arts/Science Degrees*

Graduation requirements for the Associate in Arts/Science Degrees are:

- Completion of a minimum of 60 or more semester credits;
- Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. Departments may require higher GPA;
- Residency hours - minimum of 20 credit hours earned through course attendance at UVU;
- Completion of General Education requirements. See General Education section for specific courses required for graduation;
- Completion of specific department (major) requirements.

Note: Academic departments may require specific General Education courses in addition to major requirements.

*The Associate in Arts Degree differs from the Associate in Science Degree in that a minimum of 8 credits must be earned in the same Foreign Language.

Language Proficiency

A second language is required to obtain the Associate in Arts Degree. This language must be different from the student's native language. Language proficiency may be demonstrated by any one of the following methods:

- Eight credits of the same language taken at UVU or transferred from another college; or
- Application of foreign language challenge credit as described in the Foreign Language Challenge Procedures (available from the Languages Department Chair);
- Language credit does not apply to the General Education Humanities Distribution area (except for any 202G course) but will apply as elective credit in the Associate in Arts/Science Degree and as Humanities credit for the Associate in Applied Science Degree.

Associate in Applied Science Degrees

Graduation requirements for the Associate in Applied Science Degrees are:

- Completion of a minimum of 63 semester credits;
- Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above;
- Residency hours - minimum of 20 credit hours earned through course attendance at UVU;
- Completion of department General Education requirements;
- Completion of specific department major requirements.

Diplomas

Diplomas require a minimum of 50 credits in a specialty area. Some programs offering Associate in Applied Science Degrees also offer diplomas. Not all departments offer diplomas. See specific department program listings for details.

Certificates of Completion

Certificates of Completion require a minimum of 30 credit hours. Not all departments offer a Certificate of Completion. See specific department program listings for details.

Certificates of Proficiency

Certificates of Proficiency vary in credit hours from 3-29 credit hours.  Not all departments offer a Certificate of Proficiency.  See Specific department program listings for details.

General Graduation Information

Application for Graduation

Graduation is not automatic. Prospective graduates must complete the online Graduation Application the graduation website (www.uvu.edu/graduation).  Applicants may also be required to fill out additional forms/surveys. The application must be completed by the Application deadline as listed below:

Application Deadlines

- Fall semester: First Friday in October
- Spring semester: First Friday in February
- Summer semester: First Friday in June

Graduation applications are processed each semester. Diplomas are mailed to graduates after final grades are reviewed and graduation requirements are verified as completed for all students at the end of the semester. Students failing to complete graduation requirements by the following dates for which they have applied must reapply for graduation. REQUIREMENT DEADLINES

- Fall semester: January 15th
- Spring semester: May 31st
- Summer semester: September 15th

Requirements may include, but are not limited to: all current semester grades, all "I" (Incomplete) and "M" (Missing) grades, grade changes, challenge and experiential credit, AP (Advanced Placement) credits, CLEP (College Level Examination Program) and DSST (DANTES Subject Standardized Tests) credit, transferred credit, required testing and departmental exceptions. All these items MUST be completed and submitted by the above deadlines. Failure to comply will cause the student to have their graduation declined for that semester. Students will then have to apply for another graduation semester.

Commencement

Commencement exercises are held once each year at the end of spring semester. Students who have completed their graduation requirements during the summer, fall, or spring of that academic year are invited to participate. Attendance is strongly encouraged, but not mandatory.

Financial Holds

Candidates for graduation who owe money to UVU will not receive their diplomas until all debts are paid.

Graduation with Distinction

Honors at graduation are available to students who meet the following minimum cumulative grade point averages: (Honors designations are computed on hours completed; 20 hours minimum for associate degrees; 30 hours minimum for bachelor degrees.) These Distinctions are awarded and based only upon GPA and are not related to participation in the UVU Honors Program.

Associate Degrees

- Honors GPA 3.60
- High Honors GPA 3.80

Bachelor Degrees

- Cum Laude GPA 3.60
- Magna Cum Laude GPA 3.80
- Summa Cum Laude GPA 3.90

Note: Please contact the Honors Program (LC 204) for information about the UVU Honors Program.

Valedictorians

Each of the Colleges and Schools of the University will select a valedictorian from a list supplied by the Graduation Office of candidates graduating with honors during the academic year. The status of valedictorian is determined by each school and college, based on competitive criteria. Please check your school or college for requirements and details.

Student Code of Conduct

Purpose of this Policy

To advance the educational objectives of Utah Valley University, this Student Code of Conduct (“Student Code”) establishes standards and procedures necessary to maintain a community conducive to UVU’s three core values: exceptional care, exceptional accountability and exceptional results. This Student Code supports the intellectual, personal, social, and ethical development of all members of the community by promoting the values of civility, integrity, inclusivity, respect, and responsibility. Students at the university are expected to uphold these values through the exercise of their personal freedom and reasoned discourse. This Student Code also establishes the conduct expectations for students of Utah Valley University, outlines students’ rights and due process procedures for addressing alleged student violations of university policies, delineates the range of disciplinary sanctions for violations and establishes procedures for appeal of disciplinary sanctions.

Policy

For a full version of this UVU Policy 541, please visit www.uvu.edu/policies, and click on Policy Manual.

Behavior which violates the Student Code of Conduct should be reported to the office of Student Conduct 801-863-5841 (non-emergency) or Campus Police 801-863-5555 (emergency).

4.1 Scope of this Policy

4.1.1 This policy applies to all students admitted to the University or enrolled in university courses, either full-time or part-time, and to all student conduct that occurs on university campus or at university-sponsored activities. It also applies to off-campus conduct, not otherwise protected by law, that adversely affects the university community and/or fulfillment of the University’s mission, values, and operations. The Dean of Students or designee shall decide whether the Student Code shall be applied to misconduct occurring off-campus on a case-by-case basis. If a student withdraws from the University while a disciplinary matter is pending, the University may continue to apply this Student Code and its processes for resolving that specific disciplinary matter.

4.1.2 The University may respond to allegations of student misconduct at any time even if the alleged misconduct occurs before classes begin, after classes end, during breaks within the semester, or during the break between semesters. The University may also institute its conduct proceedings after a degree is awarded in the event misconduct is subsequently discovered. Where warranted, the University retains the right to revoke an awarded certificate, diploma, or degree.

4.1.3 All academic and behavioral misconduct complaints are subject to the due process procedures for investigation, resolution, and appeals as set forth in this Student Code, with the exception of sexual misconduct and protected class discrimination and harassment, which are exclusively subject to the procedures found in UVU Policy 162 Sexual Misconduct and UVU Policy 165 Discrimination, Harassment, and Affirmative Action.

4.2 Student Responsibilities and Rights

4.2.1 Nothing in this policy shall be interpreted to deny the rights of individuals protected by the U.S. Constitution, including their protected rights to freedom of speech and association, including as set forth in UVU Policy 161 Freedom of Speech.

4.2.2 The University expects all students to engage in responsible conduct, to obey the law, to maintain integrity, and to uphold high standards of individual honesty in all their actions and academic work. The University promotes an environment that values inclusivity and civility, and encourages students to be thoughtful and respectful in their dealings with other members of the campus community.

4.2.3 Students are responsible for knowing the information and procedures in this policy and other university policies applicable to students. The University publishes this Student Code in its catalog, online and in print, and in the University's Online Policy Manual. The University reserves the right to modify this policy. Alleged policy violations are governed by the policy version in place at the time of the alleged violation. However, Student Code procedures effective at the time of the reporting of the alleged violation will govern the investigation and resolution.

4.2.4 Students shall promptly participate in good faith in informal or formal student conduct investigations related to this policy. If the complainant or respondent fails to participate, the Student Conduct Office may make findings without the response of that party, potentially leading to an unfavorable outcome for that party.

4.2.5 As members of the university community, students have certain rights in addition to their constitutional rights and protections. Students should respect each other's rights. The University will endeavor to safeguard these rights for all.

4.2.5.1 Academic Evaluation. Students have the right to performance evaluation based on a written syllabus, to accurate information regarding changes in course programs or university requirements and reasonable accommodation of those already enrolled in a program or class(es), to receive academic credit and/or degrees when all specified requirements and coursework have been satisfied, and to make academic appeals including but not limited to grade changes and withdrawals. See UVU Policy 152 Accommodations for Individuals with Disabilities; UVU Policy 523 Grading; UVU Policy 601 Classroom Instruction and Management; UVU Policy 635 Faculty Rights and Professional Responsibilities.

4.2.5.2 Due Process. Students have the right to be protected from unreasonable decision-making by the University and to have access to University policies that affect them. The University is committed to providing students with balanced and fair systems of misconduct resolution. This Student Code is administrative in nature and is not a civil or criminal proceeding. Students are presumed not responsible for misconduct until responsibility is established by a preponderance of the evidence. Students' non-participation or silence during any process under this policy will not be used against them, but the University's decisions will nonetheless be made on the available information. The University complies with Utah State Board of Regents' Policy R256 Student Disciplinary Processes, which sets forth minimum standards of due process for student disciplinary processes related to behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters that may result in either expulsion or a minimum ten-day suspension.

4.2.5.3 Freedom from discrimination. Students have the right to be treated fairly and with dignity regardless of race, color, national origin, age (40 and over), marital status, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, disability, religion, genetic information, height, weight, veteran status, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law, and as revised in UVU Policy 165 Discrimination, Harassment, and Affirmative Action and UVU Policy 162 Sexual Misconduct.

4.2.5.4 Freedom from sex discrimination and sexual misconduct. Students have the right to be free from sex discrimination in UVU educational programs and activities, including but not limited to educational programs, employment, admissions, and university-sponsored activities, consistent with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972. Sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual violence, sexual assault, relationship violence, and stalking, are types of sex discrimination prohibited by Title IX and/or UVU Policy 162 Sexual Misconduct. Students also have the right to a prompt and equitable response from the University when the University learns of any form of sex discrimination.

4.2.5.5 Freedom of Speech. Students have the right to free exchange of ideas and to artistic expression, the right to free speech, open discussion, inquiry, and academic freedom in the University and on the university campus without prior restraint or censorship, subject to limitations on unlawful/unprotected speech and to clearly stated, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory rules regarding time, place, and manner. See UVU Policy 161 Freedom of Speech.

4.2.5.6 Ombuds. Students have the right to access the University's Ombuds Office for consultation and assistance resolving matters of personal and school issues, including but not limited to concerns and conflicts regarding other students, faculty, university policies and processes, and housing disputes.

4.2.5.7 Privacy, Confidentiality, and Records. Students have the right to be protected from the University's improper disclosure of a student's educational record consistent with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 and UVU Policy 542 Student Records Access. Students also have the right to inspect all records pertaining to themselves, which are not considered by the University to be private records of university personnel. Students are entitled to request corrections or expungement to educational records they consider inaccurate or misleading. Also see UVU Policy 635 Faculty Rights and Professional Responsibilities.

4.2.5.8 Student Government and Student Organizations. Students have the right to form and operate an organized student association or club within the guidelines prescribed by the University. Students also have the right to representation through student government on university committees, councils, commissions, and other formally constituted bodies that make general policy and procedure decisions directly affecting students or that govern student activities and conduct. See UVU Policy 532 Associated Student Organization and Club Membership.

4.3 Standards of Student Conduct

4.3.1 Students are individually responsible for their conduct. In addition, student organizations may be held collectively responsible for the conduct of their student members during student organization activities or while acting on behalf of or at the request of the student organization.

4.3.2 Students shall not engage in academic or behavioral (non-academic) misconduct as described in this section. Categories of prohibited misconduct include but are not limited to the following:

4.3.2.1 Abuse of student conduct process. Abuse or interference with university student conduct processes, including but not limited to falsification, distortion, or misrepresentation of information; failure to provide information or documents, or destruction of information or documents during the student conduct process; attempting to discourage an individual's honest participation in or use of the student conduct process; verbal or physical abuse and/or intimidation or any other retaliation of a party, witness, or other participant in a student conduct process; failure to comply with the sanction(s) imposed by the student conduct administrator; or influencing or attempting to influence another person to commit an abuse of the student conduct process.

4.3.2.2 Academic misconduct and other acts of dishonesty. All forms of academic misconduct and other acts of dishonesty, including but not limited to cheating, plagiarism, fabrication, and/or possessing or providing to the University any false, falsified, altered, forged, or misleading information, materials, documents, accounts, records, identification, or financial instruments.

4.3.2.3 Alcohol. Use, possession, distribution, being under the influence of alcoholic beverages or paraphernalia on the university campus or at university-sponsored events or activities, and other conduct prohibited by UVU Policy 157 Alcoholic Beverages, Unlawful Drugs, and other Illegal Substances. Alcoholic beverages may not, in any circumstance, be used by, possessed by, or distributed to any person under 21 years of age.

4.3.2.4 Animals. Animals on campus, or other conduct prohibited in UVU Policy 160 Animals on Campus. Service dogs or miniature horses that are trained to perform work or tasks related to a disability are permitted.

4.3.2.5 Damage or destruction. Unauthorized damage to or destruction of university property or the personal property of a member of the university community.

4.3.2.6 Discrimination. Protected class discrimination as defined by UVU Policy 165 Discrimination, Harassment, and Affirmative Action, including but not limited to negative or adverse conduct towards university employees or students in the terms or conditions of employment; university admission or education; access to university programs, services, or activities; or other university benefits or services on the basis of inclusion or perceived inclusion (in the case of disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression) in one or more of the protected classes that has the effect of denying or limiting participation in university employment or in a university program or activity.

4.3.2.7 Disruptive behavior. Disruption, obstruction, or interference with university operations, teaching, learning, research, administration, other university activities, and/or other authorized non-university activities that occur on the university campus as defined in section 3.22.

4.3.2.8 Drugs. Use, possession, distribution, manufacturing, or being under the influence of illegal drugs or other controlled substances or drug paraphernalia, including abuse, misuse, sale, or distribution of prescription or over-the-counter medications, and other conduct prohibited in UVU Policy 157 Alcoholic Beverages, Unlawful Drugs, and other Illegal Substances.

4.3.2.9 Federal, state, or local law or regulation. Violation of federal, state, or local law or regulations that adversely affects the university community and/or the pursuit of its objectives.

4.3.2.10 Fire safety. Violation of local, state, federal, or university fire policies, including but not limited to causing a fire that damages university or personal property or that causes injury to another; improper use of university fire safety equipment; or tampering with or improperly engaging a fire alarm or fire detection/control equipment while on university property.

4.3.2.11 Gambling. Activities that violate state or federal law regarding gambling, including but not limited to risking anything of value for a return or risking anything of value upon the outcome of a contest, game, gaming scheme, or gaming device when the return or outcome is based upon an element of chance; and is in accord with an agreement or understanding that someone will receive something of value in the event of a certain outcome. Gambling includes a lottery and fringe gambling.

4.3.2.12 Harm to person(s). Intentional or reckless physical harm, threats, intimidation, hazing, bullying, cyberbullying, coercion, retaliation, and/or other conduct, including assisting in the foregoing, that threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person. Additionally, participation or cooperation by person(s) being harmed does not excuse the violation.

4.3.2.13 Misuse of computing facilities. Unauthorized use of computing facilities and other conduct prohibited in UVU Policy 441 Appropriate Use of Computing Facilities, including but not limited to attempting to gain access to any system or account without authorization from a system administrator; sharing passwords or accounts; copying or changing system files or software without authorization from a system administrator; using destructive or invasive software; displaying images, sounds, or messages that are obscene where others may be affected by them; consuming inordinate amounts of system resources; crashing machines or systems deliberately; and using the university computing facilities for disruptive or illegal activities.

4.3.2.14 Other policies. Violation of other written university policies, guidelines, or practices.

4.3.2.15 Retaliation. Reprisals or retaliation as defined in this Student Code and other applicable policies.

4.3.2.16 Sexual misconduct. Sexual misconduct, as defined by UVU Policy 162 Sexual Misconduct, includes but is not limited to acts and attempts of dating and relationship violence; domestic violence; discrimination based on sex, pregnancy, pregnancy-related conditions, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression; hostile environment based on sex, pregnancy, pregnancy-related conditions, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression (including intimidation and hazing/bullying); sexual harassment; sexual assault (including nonconsensual sexual contact or nonconsensual sexual intercourse); sexual exploitation (including engaging in sexual trafficking); and stalking.

4.3.2.17 Theft. Intentional and unauthorized taking of, attempted taking of, or maintaining possession of university property or others' personal or public property, including goods, services, or other valuables.

4.3.2.18 Tobacco. Smoking, vaping, or using electronic cigarettes or tobacco inside campus buildings and within 25 feet of entrances, windows, and air intake vents, or other conduct prohibited in UVU Policy 158 Tobacco.

4.3.2.19 Trademark/copyright violations. Unauthorized use (including misuse) of university or organizational names, logos, images, or other university trademarks or copyrighted materials, or other conduct prohibited by UVU Policy 135 Use of Copyrighted Materials.

4.3.2.20 Unauthorized access. Trespassing, misuse of access devices or privileges to university property, or unauthorized entry to or use of buildings or offices, including unauthorized possession, duplication, or use of any means of access to any university building (i.e., keys, proximity cards, etc.), or propping open or other unauthorized use of alarmed doors for entry into or exit from a university building.

4.3.2.21 Weapons. Unauthorized possession or use of a firearm, ammunition, explosives, dangerous weapons, or dangerous chemicals on university property. UVU students must adhere to Utah law regarding the lawful possession of permitted and concealed firearms on public university campuses.

4.3.2.22 Wheeled devices. Skateboards, roller blades, roller skates, bicycles, hoverboards, and similar wheeled devices are not permitted inside university buildings or on any stairways, structures, landscaped areas, or concourses, or other areas as prohibited by UVU Policy 403 Restrictions on the Use of Skateboards, Roller Blades, Roller Skates, Bicycles, Motorcycles, and Hoverboards.

4.4 Non-University Legal Cases

4.4.1 University student conduct processes may apply to a student charged with conduct that potentially violates both the law and this Student Code (that is, if both possible violations result from the same alleged conduct). Processes under this Student Code may be carried out before, after, or at the same time as civil or criminal cases at the discretion of the Dean of Students or designee or as otherwise required by law. Determinations made or sanctions imposed under this Student Code are not subject to change when civil or criminal charges addressing the same alleged incident or act are dismissed, reduced, or resolved in favor of or against the student.

4.4.2 When a student is charged by federal, state, or local authorities with a violation of law, the University will not request special consideration for that individual because of their status as a student. If the alleged offense is also being processed under the Student Code, the University may advise off-campus authorities of the existence of the Student Code and of how such matters are typically handled within the university community. The University will cooperate with law enforcement and other agencies in the enforcement of criminal law on campus and in the conditions imposed by criminal courts for the rehabilitation of student violators (provided that the conditions do not conflict with campus policies or sanctions).

4.5 Reporting, Investigations, and Disciplinary Proceedings

4.5.1 Reports of any suspected or alleged violation(s) of the Student Code shall be made to the Student Conduct Office.

4.5.2 In responding to reports of alleged violations of the Student Code, the University shall provide prompt, fair, and impartial investigations and disciplinary processes. During these processes, both complainant and respondent shall be provided equitable rights and opportunities, including notice and an opportunity to be heard, as outlined in section 5.0.

4.5.3 The University may sanction any student who violates this Student Code and other applicable university policies, up to and including expulsion from the University.

4.5.4 If a student has been disciplined for serious violations of institutional policies regarding sexual misconduct, sex discrimination, harassment, or other serious misconduct resulting in suspension or expulsion, the University may enter a notation on the student's transcript in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

4.5.5 The University prohibits retaliation as defined in this policy. The University shall take steps to prevent retaliation and respond to threats or acts of retaliation, up to and including expulsion from the University. Individuals who deliberately make false or malicious accusations of violation of this Student Code or other applicable university policies may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including expulsion from the University. However, a no-violation finding does not in itself constitute proof of a false or malicious accusation.

4.6 Interim Measures

4.6.1 The Director of Student Conduct or designee may institute interim measures before the final resolution of an alleged incident of misconduct, including ensuring the safety and well-being of members of the campus community, preservation of university property, or if the student poses an ongoing threat of disruption or interference with the operations of the University. Interim measures may include but are not limited to

4.6.1.1 University issued no-contact directive(s);

4.6.1.2 Providing an escort;

4.6.1.3 Making reasonable adjustments to exams, assignments, and/or providing alternative course completions options in collaboration with faculty;

4.6.1.4 Making adjustment to class schedules, including the ability to transfer course sections or withdraw from a student course without penalty;

4.6.1.5 Making adjustments to living, transportation, and working situations;

4.6.1.6 Limiting a student's or organization's access to certain university facilities or activities pending resolution of the matter;

4.6.1.7 Interim suspension, which may include denial of access to campus (including classes) and/or all other activities or privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible, as the Dean of Students or designee may determine to be appropriate.

4.6.1.8 Any measure deemed necessary and appropriate by the student conduct administrator in compliance with this policy.

4.6.2 Interim measures do not replace the student conduct process, which will still proceed in a timely manner.

4.7 Sanctions

4.7.1 The University may sanction any student who violates this policy, up to and including expulsion from the University. Sanctions are intended to educate students on the effects of their behavior and invoke change in future decision making. Sanctions shall be applied in a fair manner and be assigned in accordance with two criteria: (1) educational value for the student found in violation of this policy; and (2) the sanction being commensurate and consistent with the type of violation and any prior misconduct. Except in urgent circumstances where there is significant threat of harm, disruption, or of undermining the integrity of the educational environment, the student conduct administrator shall not impose irreversible sanctions (i.e., denying access to class, final exams, or other student programs).

4.7.2 One or more of the following sanctions may be imposed upon students for violation(s) of the Student Code or other university policies.

4.7.2.1 Academic sanctions. Sanction of academic nature including but are not limited to failing grades, reduced grades, and/or redoing academic exercises.

4.7.2.2 Disciplinary no-contact directive. Specified parameters restricting communicative contact and/or physical proximity with a university community member or campus entity.

4.7.2.3 Discretionary sanctions. Educational meetings or interventions, behavior agreements, work assignments, essays, service to the University, or other related alternative, educational and/or restorative remedies.

4.7.2.4 Expulsion. Permanent separation of the student from the University.

4.7.2.5 Fines. Fines may be imposed as published on the Student Conduct Office website.

4.7.2.6 Group sanctions. Sanctions imposed upon student organizations found to have violated the Student Code as listed above, including loss of all privileges or status.

4.7.2.7 Loss of Privileges. Denial of specified privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible for a designated period of time.

4.7.2.8 Probation. A written reprimand for violation of specified standards. Probation is for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student is found to violate any university standard(s) during the probationary period. Probation may also include specific conditions that the student must meet.

4.7.2.9 Restitution. Compensation for loss, damage, or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.

4.7.2.10 Revocation or withholding of degree. Revocation or withholding award of a degree or certificate otherwise earned.

4.7.2.11 Suspension. Separation of the student from the University for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission will typically be specified at the time of the suspension.

4.7.2.12 University-sponsored housing sanctions. Removal, probation, or reassignment.

4.7.2.13 Warning. A written notice to the student that the student is violating or has violated university standards of student conduct as laid out in this policy and that the misconduct must not be repeated.

Policy

5.1 Reporting

5.1.1 While all members of the university community are encouraged to report any suspected violation(s) of the Student Code to the Student Conduct Office, university employees are required to report any suspected student violation(s) of the Student Code to the Student Conduct Office within 24 hours of learning of the alleged violation. The Student Conduct Office will then forward the report to the appropriate student conduct administrator as outlined in section 5.8.1.

5.1.2 While all members of the university community are encouraged to report any suspected violations of UVU Policy 162 Sexual Misconduct or Policy 165 Discrimination, Harassment, and Affirmative Action, university employees (except licensed counselors and health providers, as provided in Policy 162) are required to report any suspected violations of Policy 162 to the Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action/Title IX within 24 hours of learning of the alleged violation. Any reports of such violations that may be received by the Student Conduct Office will be immediately reported to the Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action/Title IX.

5.1.3 Individuals may submit reports of alleged violations of the Student Code or other university policies through several methods listed on the Student Conduct website at https://www.uvu.edu/studentconduct/report, including options for reporting anonymously.

5.1.4 Reports made through tip/crisis reporting methods designated on the student conduct website will be forwarded to the UVU Police, Associate Dean of Students, Director of Crisis Services, and other individuals as needed for an effective response. Each report will be individually assessed to determine the nature, severity, and likelihood of harm to members of the university community and the appropriate response.

5.2 Amnesty

5.2.1 The University encourages all community members to proactively assist others whose health or safety are at risk. The University will not pursue student conduct process against a reporting student, a complainant, a respondent, or witness for personal involvement in minor policy violations, including but not limited to the use of alcohol, marijuana or other drugs, at or near the time of the incident as long as the reporting student's behavior did not place the health or safety of any other person at risk. The University may, however, initiate an educational discussion with any student regarding their personal involvement in minor policy violations.

5.2.2 If the same person or student organization repeatedly requests amnesty for substantially similar minor policy violations, the student conduct administrator may deny amnesty to that person or student organization.

5.3 Safe Harbor

5.3.1 Students who have a drug or alcohol addiction may be granted safe harbor from discipline. If a student self-reports their own addiction to the appropriate university officials before the threat of drug testing and/or discipline, the University may decide not to initiate a conduct complaint. A written action plan by the student may be used to track cooperation with the safe harbor program. Failure to follow the action plan may nullify the safe harbor protection and the University may initiate student disciplinary processes.

5.4 Collective Violations by Student Organizations

5.4.1 When violations of this Student Code occur at events sponsored or co-sponsored by a student organization, its officers and membership may be held collectively and/or individually responsible when:

5.4.1.1 The student organization's leader(s) or officer(s) gave consent to, or encouraged, the behavior; or

5.4.1.2 The student organization's leader(s) or officer(s) knew or should have reasonably known about the behavior.

5.4.2 Hearings for student organizations follow the same student conduct process as for individuals. In any such action, determinations as to violations and sanctions may be made collectively to the student organization and/or individually and will be proportionate to the involvement of each individual and the student organization.

5.5 Confidentiality and Recordkeeping

5.5.1 University personnel involved in student conduct processes shall maintain confidentiality to the extent allowed by the Utah Government Records and Management Act (GRAMA), the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the federal Health Information Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), and other applicable laws governing record protection and/or mandatory reporting.

5.5.2 The Student Conduct Office strives to maintain confidentiality throughout the investigation and appeals hearing process.

5.5.3 The Student Conduct Office is responsible for maintaining appropriate records directly related to alleged violations, investigations, findings, sanctions, etc. as described in section 5.15 If complaints are found to be without merit, records of the complaint and processes will not be entered onto a student's disciplinary record, but the Student Conduct Office will keep record of the case in its internal databases.

5.5.4 Complainants, respondents, witnesses, and any other participants in the conduct process are prohibited from recording interviews, hearings, and other meetings before, during, and after the disciplinary process.

5.6 Support Persons and Advisors

5.6.1 As required by Utah State Board of Regents' Policy R256 Student Disciplinary Processes, in matters of behavioral (non-academic) misconduct where the University believes in good faith, based on facts known by the University at the time or when additional facts are discovered later, that the student conduct matter may result in expulsion or a minimum ten-day suspension, the additional protections provided in this section apply. Students may waive any rights described in this section. This section does not apply to UVU Police Department law enforcement activities.

5.6.1.1 Before interviewing the student, the investigator or representative of the Student Conduct Office shall notify the student in writing of the allegations (including the time and place of the alleged misconduct, where available) made against the student and of the student's right to have a support person or advisor throughout the process who may be, but need not be, an attorney. This notice will be given at least 24 hours before a student is interviewed about the student conduct matter. If a student wishes to seek counsel from a support person or advisor, the University shall reschedule the interview, giving the student reasonable time to obtain a support person/advisor.

5.6.1.2 In meetings and interviews under section 5.12 and section 5.13 of this policy on behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, student complainants and respondents may be accompanied by a support person/advisor of the student's choice, who may be an attorney. During such meetings or interviews, the support person or advisor may only advise the student and may not actively participate in the investigation or process.

5.6.2 During any appeals hearing undersection 5.14 of this policy, student complainants and respondents may each have a support person/advisor of their choice, who may be an attorney, advocate for them.

5.6.3 A support person/advisor may not be an employee of the University who would have a conflict of interest in serving in the support person/advisor role. Support persons/advisors must be willing to agree maintain the confidentiality of student conduct investigation and appeals hearing processes.

5.6.4 The University may proceed with the investigation and hearing processes in a timely fashion without the complainant or respondent if that party fails to respond or declines to participate. The University may set reasonable deadlines and move forward with processes regardless of whether a party and/or a party's support person/advisor is able to accommodate those deadlines.

5.7 Preliminary Review

5.7.1 After receiving a report of an alleged violation of the Student Code or other applicable university policies, the student conduct administrator shall promptly conduct a preliminary review to determine if interim measures are needed, if a violation of the Student Code is alleged, and if an investigation is necessary to resolve a genuine dispute of material facts.

5.7.2 If the student conduct administrator determines that no violation of the Student Code has been alleged and/or there's no genuine dispute of material facts, the administrator shall issue a written notice of this decision to the respondent, complainant (if required by law), and the Student Conduct Office.

5.7.3 A preliminary review dismissal shall be final with no additional internal appeals available to the parties.

5.7.4 If the student conduct administrator determines that a violation of the Student Code or other policy has been alleged and that an investigation is necessary to resolve a genuine dispute of material facts, then the Administrator may proceed with an investigation of the alleged violation.

5.7.5 The student conduct administrator shall report the complaint to the Director of Student Conduct or designee.

5.7.6 At the recommendation of the student conduct administrator, the Director of Student Conduct or designee may apply an interim measure to a student or student organization or invoke other safety measures, as provided in section 4.6, pending the outcome of the investigation and subsequent proceedings.

5.7.6.1 The Dean of Students or designee will notify the student in writing of this action, including a brief description of the reason for the interim measure. When required by law, such as in sexual misconduct cases, applicable notices will be provided to both complainants and respondents. A student who receives an interim suspension may request a meeting with the Dean of Students or designee to present information and/or reasoning as to why the interim measure is inappropriate or unnecessary.

5.7.6.2 At the discretion of the Dean of Students or designee, and in collaboration with faculty and/or the appropriate academic dean(s), alternative coursework options may be approved to minimize impact on the student during any interim measure.

5.8 Delineation of Authority

5.8.1 For purposes of this policy, the Dean of Students shall delegate authority for the investigation, resolution, decision-making (including appeals), and sanctions based on the type of misconduct as defined in section 3.1 and 3.2 as follows:

| Type of Misconduct | Student Conduct Administrator | Student Conduct Appeal Decision Maker |
|---|---|---|
| Academic | Faculty member of course in which misconduct occurred | Academic dean of college/school or designated chair of department in which misconduct occurred |
| Behavioral | Director of Student Conduct or designee | Dean of Students or designee |

5.9 Informal Resolution

5.9.1 Informal resolution may include an inquiry into the facts but typically does not include an investigation. Informal resolution is flexible and includes options such as mediating an agreement between the parties, separating the parties, referring the parties to counseling programs, negotiating an agreement for disciplinary action, conducting targeted preventive educational and training programs, or providing remedies for the individual harmed by the offense. Informal resolution also includes options such as discussions with the parties, making recommendations for resolution, and conducting a follow-up review after a period of time to ensure that the resolution has resolved concerns effectively.

5.9.2 Because each alleged violation is different, the student conduct administrator shall tailor each resolution to the specific facts of the case, including determining whether the alleged violation is appropriate for informal resolution. Informal resolution may result in resolutions such as behavior agreements and/or sanctions combined with educational or restorative measures.

5.9.3 Informal resolution is encouraged to resolve concerns at the earliest stage possible with the cooperation of all parties involved. Participation in the informal resolution process is voluntary. Informal resolution may be appropriate for anonymous and/or third-party reports, or when respondents accept responsibility for their violations. Information resolution may be inappropriate when one or both of the parties are reluctant to participate in good faith, or when there are allegations of violent behavior.

5.9.4 Any unsuccessful informal resolution, including but not limited to noncompliance with the informal process, may be referred for student conduct hearing.

5.9.5 After concluding informal resolution, the student conduct administrator shall notify the complainant and respondent in writing of the resolution that was agreed upon.

5.9.6 Participation in informal resolution does not prohibit either party from terminating informal resolution and/or requesting an investigation at any point during the informal resolution process. Where a report is closed after informal resolution, the matter may later be reopened at the discretion of the student conduct administrator when requested by the complainant and/or if the student conduct administrator determines there is good cause to do so.

5.10 Investigation

5.10.1 If the student conduct administrator determines an investigation is necessary, the University shall conduct a reliable and impartial investigation by interviewing relevant witnesses, collecting relevant documentary evidence, and preparing a written summary of findings. The purpose of the investigation is to establish whether there is a reasonable basis, based on a preponderance of the evidence, for concluding that the alleged violation of the Student Code has occurred. The University reserves the right to engage an outside investigator to conduct the investigation if it is determined there is a conflict of interest or other compelling reason to do so.

5.10.2 If a student withdraws from the University before the completion of an investigation and hearing, the University may continue to investigate and apply this process for resolving the specific disciplinary matter in the student's absence. If a respondent is found to have violated university policy, the University may restrict the respondent's readmission on terms or under circumstances it may prescribe at the time of the finding.

5.10.3 Complainants, respondents, and witnesses shall be treated with respect throughout the investigation process, disciplinary process, and other proceedings.

5.10.3.1 Accordingly, the University endeavors through this policy and diligent effort to secure the following for complainants and respondents:

5.10.3.1.1 Reasonably prompt and equitable resolution of allegations for respondents and complainants,

5.10.3.1.2 Freedom from retaliation for making a good faith report or for participating in any investigation or proceeding under this policy.

5.10.3.1.3 Timely and equal access to allegations for respondents and complainants, and the opportunity to respond to information that will be used against them in any disciplinary proceeding.

5.10.3.1.4 The opportunity for complainants and respondents to offer information, present evidence, and identify witnesses during an investigation.

5.10.3.1.5 Interim measures made available for complainants, respondents, and witnesses, and the opportunity to request modifications necessary for physical and/or emotional safety.

5.10.3.1.6 Timely notice of meetings where complainants' and respondents' presence is necessary.

5.10.3.1.7 Simultaneous notification to complainants and respondents, in writing, of the results of any proceedings.

5.10.3.1.8 The opportunity for complainants and respondents to articulate concerns or issues about proceedings under this policy.

5.10.3.1.9 Reasonable time for complainants and respondents to prepare responses, as permitted under this policy.

5.10.3.1.10 Written notice to complainants and respondents of any necessary extensions of timeframes under this policy.

5.10.3.1.11 Reasonable accommodations for all participants in the student conduct process who have a disability and who request disability accommodations. Such requests may be made to the student conduct administrator, who will refer such requests to the appropriate ADA coordinator and then implement approved accommodations.

5.11 Notices to Complainants and Respondents

5.11.1 The student conduct administrator will give written notice to:

5.11.1.1 Complainant(s) of their options to report to other campus and community authorities as applicable, when complainants allege a violation of the Student Code to the student conduct administrator.

5.11.1.2 Complainants and respondents, if the student conduct administrator's inquiry advances beyond preliminary review according to section 5.7, of the time and place of alleged policy violation(s), which policies were allegedly violated, and how those policies were violated. The student conduct administrator will also provide the parties with written notice to appear at a pre-hearing meeting. If additional violations are later alleged, a further notice shall be provided to the complaining and responding students.

5.11.1.3 Complainants and respondents of their ability to participate in campus investigations and/or student conduct processes by providing relevant information and recommending relevant witnesses. If students choose to not participate in the process, the case may proceed without them and a decision may be made without any input from the student.

5.11.1.4 Complainants and respondents of their right, in behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, to be accompanied by a support person/advisor of their choice, who may but need not be an attorney, throughout the student conduct process. Students must notify the student conduct administrator at least five school days in advance of the pre-hearing meeting of their support person/advisor's identity and the nature of the student's relationship to the support person/advisor. The University has the right to disqualify a support person/advisor when their participation would create a conflict of interest or a potential disruption in the student conduct process.

5.11.1.5 Complainants and respondents of how to request information for disability accommodations and/or language translation services.

5.12 Pre-Hearing Meeting

5.12.1 The student conduct administrator will conduct a pre-hearing meeting with the respondent. The complainant and/or others may be invited to attend the same or a separate pre-hearing meeting, depending on the circumstances. If any party chooses not to attend, the pre-hearing meeting may still proceed.

5.12.2 The pre-hearing meeting will occur promptly after the student conduct administrator determines, after preliminary review, that an investigation/pre-hearing is necessary.

5.12.3 Parties will be given the opportunity to present relevant information in response to the alleged misconduct before and during the pre-hearing meeting.

5.12.4 The pre-hearing meeting and outcomes will be shared with the parties to the extent allowed by law, but will otherwise remain confidential.

5.12.5 If the respondent does not admit to the alleged violation(s) and/or the allegations cannot be resolved by mutual consent, the matter will be considered in a student conduct hearing.

5.12.6 If the respondent accepts responsibility for the violation, but sanctions are not agreed to, sanctions will be determined in a student conduct hearing.

5.12.7 During the pre-hearing meeting, investigation, or other pre-hearing processes in behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, the complainant's and/or respondent's support person/advisor may only advise the student and may not actively participate.

5.13 Student Conduct Hearing

5.13.1 Allegations of misconduct and/or sanctions not resolved during the pre-hearing meeting will be referred to a student conduct hearing, which will be scheduled as promptly as possible after the pre-hearing meeting. The student conduct administrator may delay the hearing if further investigation is needed or other circumstances require a delay. Hearing proceedings may be conducted over the course of multiple meetings.

5.13.2 The participating parties will receive notice of hearing meetings and access to all evidence to be considered at the hearing at least five school days in advance.

5.13.3 Student conduct hearings will be conducted according to the following procedures:

1. The student conduct administrator will conduct the student conduct hearing with the respondent. The complainant and/or others will be invited to attend the hearing. If either party fails to attend the hearing without good cause and without prior notice to the student conduct administrator, the hearing may proceed. Neither party is required to participate in the hearing for the hearing to proceed. The University reserves the right to modify hearing procedures to protect the safety of all parties involved.
2. Student conduct hearings and outcomes will be shared with the parties to the extent allowed by law, but will otherwise remain confidential.
3. Student conduct hearings will be conducted by the student conduct administrator.
4. In behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, the complainant and respondent have the right to be assisted by a support person/advisor of their choice during the Student Conduct Hearing and during any subsequent appeal hearings. Parties must notify the student conduct administrator at least five school days in advance of the hearing of their support person/advisor's identity and the nature of their relationship to the support person/advisor (including whether the support person/advisor is an attorney). The University has the right to disqualify a support person/advisor when that person's participation would create a conflict of interest or potentially disrupt the student conduct process. (If the complainant or the respondent do not provide the required information about their support person/advisor at last five days in advance, the support person/advisor may attend but shall not participate in the hearing.) Support persons/advisors may give opening statements, advise students throughout the hearing, question witnesses as allowed by the student conduct administrator, and present a closing statement. Support persons/advisorsmay not serve as witnesses. Neither the Rules of Civil Procedure nor the Rules of Evidence apply to these hearings.
5. If the complainant, respondent, and/or other witnesses have concerns for their personal safety, well-being, or fear confrontation during the hearing, they may request other reasonable means of participating. the student conduct administrator will determine whether the proposed means are reasonable.
6. Reasonable efforts will be made to accommodate the schedules of all participants in the hearing. Typically, no more than one extension will be granted.
7. In student conduct hearings involving more than one respondent, the student conduct administrator may permit separate or joint student conduct hearings concerning each student.
8. The complainant, respondent, and the student conduct administrator may arrange for witnesses to present relevant information during the student conduct hearing.
9. Records, exhibits, and written statements will be accepted if deemed relevant by the Student Conduct Administrator.
10. All procedural questions are subject to the final decision of the student conduct administrator.
11. After all pertinent information has been received, the student conduct administrator shall deliberate on all available information and determine, based on a preponderance of the evidence, whether the respondent hasviolated the Student Code.
12. The respondent and complainant will receive prompt notice of hearing decisions in writing to the student's university email address, or hand-delivered, typically within five school days of the hearing date, unless circumstances require delay. The notice will include whether the policy was violated, actions taken to resolve the complaint, and any applicable sanctions to both respondents and complainants to the extent allowed by law.
13. A finding of not-in-violation will resolve the matter with no further action or appeals.
14. Disciplinary sanctions may be imposed upon respondent(s) found in violation of the Student Code and communicated to the respondent in a written sanction letter. Elements of the sanctions may be imposed either singularly or in combination with other sanctions. Sanctions do not take effect until the completion of the appeal process, if any, unless otherwise specified by the student conduct administrator.

5.14 Appeal Process

5.14.1 Respondent(s) or complainant(s) may appeal a decision or sanction of the student conduct administrator to the Student Conduct Appeal Panel within five school days of the decision. These appeals shall be in writing and shall be delivered to the Student Conduct Office via email or postal mail. Untimely requests will not be considered absent extraordinary circumstances. Activities such as graduation, study abroad, internships/ externships, business travel, or educational, sabbatical, or extracurricular activities generally do not in themselves constitute extraordinary circumstances.

5.14.2 When requesting the appeal, the respondent or complainant must identify in the written request at least one or more of the following grounds for appeal:

1. New evidence unavailable to the party during the investigation has been discovered that could substantially impact the investigation, findings, and/or resolution.

2. Substantial departure from the procedures outlined in this Student Code or that the process was unfair and/or biased, which substantially impacted the outcome of the investigation or hearing. The duration of the investigation or severity of the sanction are not considered procedural errors.
3. Findings lacked substantial evidence such that no reasonable person would reach the same conclusion as the student conduct administrator.
4. The sanction imposed is substantially disproportionate to the severity of the violation (i.e., too severe or not severe enough).

5.14.3 Unless the appeal panel (the composition of which is explained below) determines by majority vote that one or more of the grounds stated in 5.14.2 has been met and that modifications to the original decision should be recommended, the student conduct administrator's decision or sanction shall be upheld.

5.14.4 While an appeal is pending, the student conduct administrator may impose interim measures.

5.14.5 The Student Conduct Office shall promptly convene a three-member appeal panel from the Policy 162/165 review panel pool. The appeal panel will include one faculty, one staff, and one student.

5.14.6 Panel members must be in good standing with the University and must not have any relevant conflict of interest. The student conduct administrator will notify the parties of the panel members' identities and appeal procedures in this policy. Within 3 school days of receiving this notice, parties may request in writing that a review panel member be disqualified based on bias or conflict of interest and explain the reasons for this request. If the Student Conduct Office, in consultation with the Office of General Counsel, confirms a bias or conflict, a new panel member shall be selected.

5.14.7 The Office of General Counsel will appoint an impartial attorney to preside over the appeal hearing as hearing officer. This attorney must have no prior involvement in either advocacy or investigatory matters related to the conduct matter. The hearing officer will ensure order, fairness, due process, efficiency, and civility at the hearing, and ensure a relevant and sufficient evidentiary record for the panel's consideration. To advance this aim, the hearing officer may set time limits proportionate to the complexity of the case; exclude irrelevant and unduly repetitious exhibits, witnesses, questions, statements, or other information; and exclude material deemed privileged under the law. Formal rules of evidence do no apply. The appeal panel shall consult with the hearing officer during the appeal process regarding legal, procedural, policy, and other questions as needed. The hearing officer, in consultation with the panel, will review and respond to any pre-hearing questions or objections from the parties related to hearing matters.

5.14.8 Once the panel is confirmed, they shall promptly determine, based on a preponderance of the evidence, whether the appeal request meets one or more criteria under section 5.14.2.

5.14.9 The Student Conduct Office shall then notify parties in writing of the appeal hearing panel's determination and, if a hearing is warranted, of the appeal hearing date, which will be scheduled promptly.

5.14.10 The hearing officer may conduct a pre-hearing conference to formulate or simplify the issues; obtain admission of fact and documents that will avoid unnecessary proof; arrange for the exchange of proposed exhibits; outline expectations for the hearing; or agree to other matters that may expedite the orderly conduct of the hearing.

5.14.11 The complainant and respondent will be allowed to attend the entire appeal hearing, excluding deliberations. In behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, the complainant's and respondent's support person/advisor, if any, will be allowed to attend the entire appeal hearing, excluding deliberations. Admission of any other person to the appeal hearing shall be at the discretion of the hearing officer.

5.14.12 The scope of the appeal hearing and the standard of review shall be limited to those stated in section 5.14.2. Along with written notice of the hearing date, the Student Conduct Office shall provide the review panel and parties copies of a summary of the case (where applicable), written findings, sanction letter, the written request for appeal, and any additional opposition statements already provided by the parties.

5.14.13 The appeal hearing is an opportunity for the parties to be heard by the appeal panel in person about the issues and criteria being considered for the appeal, including addressing the information in the summary of the investigation, any supplemental statements or new evidence unavailable during the investigation, any written impact or mitigation statements, to identify witnesses for the panel's consideration, and to respond to any questions from the appeal panel.

5.14.14 In behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, the respondent and complainant have the right to be assisted by a support person/ advisor of their choice, who may be, but need not be, an attorney and who may participate during the appeal hearing. Parties must notify the Student Conduct Office at least 5 school days in advance of the hearing of their selected support person/advisor and the nature of their relationship to the support person/advisor (including whether the support person/advisor is an attorney). The University has the right to disqualify a support person/ advisor when their participation would create a conflict of interest or would create the potential for disrupting the student conduct process. If the complainant or the respondent do not provide the required information about their support person/advisor at least five days in advance, the support person/advisor may attend but shall not participate in the appeal hearing. Support persons/ advisors may give opening statements, advise students throughout the hearing, question witnesses as allowed by the hearing officer, and present a closing statement. Support persons or advisorsmay not serve as a witness. Neither the Rules of Civil Procedure nor the Rules of Evidence apply to these hearings.

5.14.15 Documents, evidence, other statements, and requests for the appearance of witnesses to be considered at the hearing may be made by the panel, respondent, complainant, and/or student conduct administrator, and must be submitted in writing to the Student Conduct Office at least 5 school days before the hearing, and must include explanations of how each document or request is relevant to the reasons for the appeal. Only witnesses and other evidence that are relevant to the section 5.14.2 bases for appeal may be considered by the appeal panel. It is the responsibility of the party requesting a particular witness to invite that witness to attend the hearing.

5.14.16 In the event that any party fails to attend the appeal hearing without good cause and prior notice to the Student Conduct Office, the appeal panel may proceed with the hearing. Neither party is required to participate in the hearing for the appeal panel to proceed.

5.14.17 The hearing, except for deliberations, will be audio recorded by the appeal panel chair, who will give the recording to the Student Conduct Office. A copy of the audio file and/or transcription will be made available for review by either party upon request. Participants are prohibited from recording interviews and other meetings before and after the hearing.

5.14.18 Each party has up to 60 minutes to present their portion of the case (opening statement, testimony of the party and party's witnesses, questioning the other witnesses if any, and closing statement). The hearing officer will keep track of time.

5.14.19 The hearing officer will begin the hearing by asking the student conduct administrator to provide an oral summary of the investigation process, findings, and conclusions contained in the case summary and sanction letter.

5.14.20 The respondent and complainant shall each have the opportunity to make a personal statement, relevant to the scope of the appeal and bases for the appeal, including the personal impact of the alleged misconduct and/or sanction, the relief sought, and mitigating or aggravating information. In behavioral (non-academic) misconduct matters, each party's support person/advisor shall also have the opportunity to make an opening statement relevant to the scope of appeal. Each party, or their respective support person/advisor, may call witnesses that the hearing officer deems relevant to the scope of the appeal, question witnesses through the hearing officer, present evidence, and make concluding remarks.

5.14.21 The panel may question any party and witness. Only the person to whom a question is directed may answer (for example, support persons/advisors shall not be permitted to answer the appeal panel's questions on a party's behalf.)

5.14.22 Panel deliberations and voting shall occur in closed session from which all other persons are excluded. The hearing officer shall be present during the deliberations but shall have no vote. A majority vote by the members of the panel who attended the hearing shall decide whether the appealing party has shown one or more bases for appeal stated in section 5.14.2.

5.14.23 The panel shall provide the Student Conduct Office a summary of their findings and recommendation(s) regarding whether and how to uphold, modify, or remedy the conduct and/or sanction decision or process within 5 school days of the appeal hearing. The Student Conduct Office will promptly provide the recommendation(s) to the appropriate dean or designee as outlined in section 5.1.1.

5.14.24 The student conduct appeal decision maker, in consultation with the Office of General Counsel as needed, is responsible for reviewing the recommendations of the appeal panel, all the information that was available to the appeal panel, and determining whether to (1) remand the investigation to the original or an alternate student conduct administrator for additional investigation; (2) affirm the student conduct administrator's original decision; (3) adopt the sanction and resolution recommendation(s) of the appeal panel; and/or (4) determine an alternative outcome. If the matter is remanded for further investigation, the appropriate student conduct administrator shall promptly investigate and provide a written summary of the new evidence considered and/or changes to the findings, if any, to the student conduct appeal decision maker, who shall then determine sanctions or resolutions.

5.14.25 The student conduct appeal decision maker shall promptly notify the respondent and complainant in writing of their decision and the rationale for the outcome. The decision of the student conduct appeal decision maker is final, with no additional internal appeals available.

5.15 Records

5.15.1 The Student Conduct Office shall submit and maintain for confidential storage all Student Conduct Office records, including investigation findings, informal remedies, disciplinary action, and any subsequent appeals. Student Conduct records shall typically be retained for ten years after a student's graduation or withdrawal.

5.15.2 Records documenting informal resolution and or remedies and investigations resulting in no-conduct violation shall also be submitted to and maintained by the Student Conduct Office, but will not be entered in to a student's permanent disciplinary record with the University.

5.15.3 Student Conduct disciplinary records are educational records as defined by FERPA and shall be private. Access shall be limited to university officers on a need-to-know basis. Disciplinary sanctions resulting from serious violations of institutional policies regarding sexual misconduct, sex discrimination, harassment, or other serious misconduct resulting in suspension or expulsion may be notated on the student's official transcript. Additionally, the University may disclose to an alleged victim of any crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense the final results of a disciplinary process conducted by the institution against the alleged perpetrator of that crime, regardless of whether the institution concluded a violation was committed.

5.15.4 Transcript notations regarding suspension and/or expulsion shall not contain any information about the underlying conduct, but will state that formal disciplinary action resulting in suspension and/or expulsion has been imposed. If a student withdraws from the University before the completion of an investigation and prior to a final determination, an updated transcript will be sent to any transferring institutions if suspension and/or expulsion are determined.

5.15.5 Transcript notations for suspension shall remain on a student's transcript for the duration of the suspension, and typically not longer than one year after the suspension period. Transcript notations for expulsion will typically remain on a student's transcript indefinitely.

5.15.6 Students may apply to the Dean of Students or designee to have their disciplinary records and/or transcript notation removed. Factors relevant to the decision to retain or remove specific records and/or transcript notations include the amount of time that has elapsed since the infraction, whether the student has graduated, and the seriousness of the infraction and the resulting sanctions.

Location: LA 114
Telephone: 801-863-8357Email: cgie@uvu.edu
Web: Center for Global and Intercultural Engagement

- Hours: Monday - Friday 9 a.m. - 5 p.m.

The Center for Global and Intercultural Engagement (CGIE) supports the University efforts to prepare globally competent citizens. To accomplish these objectives, CGIE collaborates closely with colleges, schools, and other units across campus to create a community of students, staff, and faculty that share multicultural and international knowledge, attitudes, experiences, and efforts. We are committed to fostering an inclusive atmosphere for all students and to preparing them for an increasingly complex, diverse, and globalized society. CGIE is comprised of three programs.

1. Office for Global Engagement (GEO): GEO facilitates international academic and co-curricular engaged learning experiences through study abroad and exchange programs, diplomacy, and intercultural events. Our programs include Study Abroad and other international travel opportunities, Global Initiatives, Visiting Scholars, and Dignitary & Global Events. GEO liaisons with the General Counsel for International Agreements, the UVU Internships office for international internships, and with the Office of Engaged Learning for the G/I Distinction program. We serve as the central hub for the UVU's affiliate membership with the United Nations Department of Global Communication, UN Academic Impact, and the Fulbright Program.
2. Multicultural Student Services (MSS): Our programs provide a full range of support services targeting historically underrepresented populations with an eye toward inclusion of all students across campus. The mission is to promote educational opportunities and intercultural enrichment for diverse students, LGBTQIA+ students, and the wider campus community. Our programs aim to nurture student achievement and develop relationships that support student success, academic growth, retention, and completion of educational programs. Services include general academic advising and cultural navigation, registration and financial aid help, student leadership opportunities and support, multicultural club advisement and support, academic and social events, and initiative programs that provide specific resources for students who identify under the African diaspora, Latino/a/x, LGBTQIA+, Native American, and Pacific Islander student populations.
3. International Student Services (ISS): Our programs provide advisement and support on visa, employment, and academic issues for UVU's international student population. Students with questions regarding immigration, visa, or related issues may visit one of our advisors in LA 114. ISS activities including orientations each semester for all new international students, managing the federally mandated Student and Exchange Visitor Information System (SEVIS) to ensure that all international students at UVU are legally "in status," and providing a variety of services designed to promote the academic success of our international students.

E-mail: dustin.lamont@uvu.edu
E-mail: agebers@uvu.edu
Web: Intramurals

The Intramural Sports Program is one of the largest co-curricular activity programs that complement the formal academic curriculum. It offers extensive opportunities to currently enrolled Utah Valley University students, faculty, staff and their spouses/partners in a number of competitive and structured activities each year. Participation in the program is voluntary and determined by interest.

Participation can provide one with opportunities to have fun, learn new sports, meet people from other cultures, test one's physical ability as well as offer a break from routine. Team sports generally take on a league structure and a post-season tournament to determine champions. Special events range from one day to several day tournaments. In most events, skill levels and divisions are established to allow competition for men's, women's, co-ed and Mixed teams at various skill levels.

The Intramural Sports program strives to provide programming for all levels of ability and experience. Our aim is to serve the recreational needs of the majority of the student body and not just the athletic minority.

Club Sports bridge the gap between intramural and intercollegiate athletics by providing competition at specialized levels, participation in tournaments, and opportunities to practice. Although some clubs remain solely recreational, most are highly competitive.

UVU Club Sports offers a structured environment to practice and play the game students' love.  Participation in Club Sports allows individuals to engage with the University in a unique way.  Club Sports are managed and run by the participants themselves, including coach selection, travel, fundraising, scheduling, practices, and participant development.  Club Sports are meant to enhance the individual learning experiences through involvement, commitment, and working in a team setting.

A competitive spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship is encouraged in order to provide all with a wholesome recreational experience. Participants and staff are asked to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with, and in support of, those values set forth by Utah Valley University.

National Student Exchange

Office: LC 409q
Telephone: 801-863-6219
E-mail: sue.stephenson@uvu.edu

National Student Exchange (NSE) is a domestic “study away” experience that fits into university initiatives for globalization and diversity. NSE embodies the overall mission of Utah Valley University by providing high impact meaningful Engagement Opportunities for its students. The National Student Exchange, which is a service within the Career Development Center, provides opportunities for undergraduates, to study for up to one calendar year at another NSE member university and pay UVU tuition rates or the in-state tuition rate of the host school.

With more than 200 colleges and universities from which to choose, students can find a campus that is “custom” to individual degree plans, with just the right combination of courses, facilities, and environment to meet unique personal and academic needs and interests. Spending time at another campus will allow students to grow academically and personally. Students will develop a greater appreciation for the different regions, cultures, and people. NSE extends beyond the borders of the United States to include U.S. territories as well as Canadian provinces. Students participate in order to:

- Broaden personal and educational perspectives
- Explore and appreciate new cultures
- Widen university boundaries
- Take courses not offered at the home campus
- Learn from different professors
- Access courses with different perspectives
- Explore new areas of study
- Experience personal growth
- Live in a different geographic area
- Acquire life skills
- Investigate graduate or professional schools
- Look for future employment opportunities
- Become more mature, independent and resourceful

NSE participants have found their exchanges culturally enriching, academically rewarding, and one of the most significant experiences of their undergraduate education. Since its founding in 1968, more than 100,000 students have had the opportunity to break out of their comfort zone, and experience life from a different point of view.

Students will need a 2.5 cumulative GPA and one-year of university work to join these students who have been placed in life-changing exchange situations which challenged their thinking, expanded their educational and personal experiences, and encouraged them to take healthy risks.

After graduation, when you look back at your college days, NSE can be one of those memorable highlights! Don’t let this rare opportunity pass you by!

Within the UVU community misunderstandings and disagreements needing resolution occur. The UVU Ombuds is a mediator and resource who is familiar with campus policies, student’s rights and responsibilities, and can help find useful options within these guidelines. In order to serve as a mediator, as opposed to an advocate, the Ombuds neutrally and objectively listens to all problems and works with the parties involved to find a solution. The Ombuds may be used as a resource for help in a variety of difficult situations. The Ombuds can help with:

- University related or personal issues
- Interpersonal conflicts
- Sexual Harassment
- Academic complaints and conflicts
- Housing/Landlord disagreements
- Discrimination complaints
- Grading procedure disputes
- School policy and procedures
- Others

All services are offered free of charge.

Parking and Transportation Services

Located: 936 S. 400 W., Orem
Telephone: 801-863-8188
Web: Parking Services

Hours:

- Monday - Friday 7 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Parking permits are required to park anywhere on the UVU main campus and west campus. UVU uses license plate reader technology and assigns a digital permit to your vehicle license plate at the time of permit purchase. Parking permits are available in our office at 936 S. 400 W. or online through the link found at uvu.edu/parking - there is also information on the site regarding parking maps, regulations, and other information to assist you in parking on campus. We can also be contacted by phone at 801-863-8188 Monday through Friday 7 am to 5 pm.

Parking for People with Disabilities

Only those vehicles carrying distinctive (logo) license plates for people with disabilities or temporary/permanent permits obtained from the Utah State Division of Motor Vehicles at 150 E. Center in Provo plus a valid UVU handicapped parking permit shall be allowed to park in stalls for the disabled. If all disabled stalls are full in a given area, those displaying a disabled permit may park in the nearest available stall.

Student and Employee Parking

Students and employees operating vehicles on University properties must adhere to all state, local, and university traffic/parking regulations. To park on campus, students and employees must obtain a valid parking permit from Parking Services. Employees and Students will need to provide their vehicle information e.g. license plate number, make and model before a permit can be issued to them. Permits are not required to park in any employee or student lot after 5 p.m.

Visitor Parking

Visitors operating vehicles on University property must adhere to all state, local, and university traffic/parking regulations. There are three visitor pay lots on campus.

- Park at one of our two metered lots
- Park at one of our eleven pay-by-phone lots
- Purchase a Day Pass online and park in the outlying parking lots of L9, L10, M28, or M29.

If you are visiting campus, you will need to use one of our pay lots when you park on campus.  There are thirteen pay lots throughout campus. The L1 pay lot at the front of campus is $1 per hour and has a 2 hour maximum limit for short term parking. The Parking Garage in the middle of campus is $1 per hour with a 2 hour minimum. Both of these lots have parking meters that will accept all major credit cards (we transitioned to a cashless system) or you can use the totally contactless Passport phone application. The remaining 11 pay lots require payment through the phone application only.

Our Day Pass can be purchased by faculty, staff, students, or guest. The cost is $5 per day and it allows access to our parking lots, L9, L10, M28, M29.

Payment is required in all of our pay lots between 5 a.m. and 10 p.m., seven days a week

If you have any questions regarding parking on campus, please contact the Parking Services Office at 801-863-8188.

Testing Services

Office: Wolverine Service Center–North Entrance

Testing Services assists students, faculty, and the community. It is divided into three branches: Assessment, Classroom Testing, and the Proctored Exam Center.

Assessment Center

Located: WS 101
Telephone: 801-863-8269
See: Testing Services

The primary responsibility of the Assessment Center is to provide assessment testing for various courses. Testing sessions for are conducted throughout the day, some require an appointment while others do not. Check our website for details at uvu.edu/testingservices, and take special note of our hours, as they do change at different times during the year.

New students must meet one of following assessment requirements:

- ACT/SAT Scores
  - English: Not older than 5 years.
  - Math: Not older than 2 years.
- New Student Assessment (some students may need to take the ALEKS or Accuplacer exam)
- Transfer Credit
  - Completed English Composition and Algebra at another college/university, with a C or higher (verified by official college transcripts mailed directly from your previous institution to UVU Admissions).
  - Another function of Testing Services is to administer screening instruments, standardized tests, and other assessment instruments required by University programs and departments. Some of these include the GED, CLEP, ACT, EMT and POST tests. Certification testing for different programs offered by UVU and the surrounding community is also available. Students can obtain information on tests in the office and hours of operation by calling 801-863-8269 or by visiting the web page at: uvu.edu/testingservices.

Classroom Testing Center

Located: WS 112
Telephone: 801-863-7461

The Classroom Testing Center (CTC) is located in the Wolverine Service Center (WS 112). The CTC provides testing services enabling students to take participating instructors' exams in the center on a flexible schedule. The CTC is generally open six days a week Monday - Saturday. Students can obtain test schedules and scores by logging into chitester.uvu.edu and use UV Link user name and password to log in. Highlight the exam name and click on View test score(s).

Proctored Exam Center (PEC)

Located: WS 111
Telephone: 801-863-8544

The Proctored Exam Center (PEC) provides testing accommodations to UVU students with disabilities as well as services for distance education students who need to have a test proctored from another university or college. Students with disabilities requiring assistance MUST obtain a letter from the Accessibility Services Department before being eligible to use the PEC. Scheduling an individual appointment for testing is required for both parties. For scheduling information and further assistance, call 801-863-8544.

UVU Clubs

Office: SL 122
Telephone: 801-863-8820
Web: Clubs

UVU Clubs connects students to UVU in a unique way that reflects each student's individual interests and academic desires.

The Clubs Branch, also known as the ICC Executive Board, works with 100+ active clubs by facilitating club success on campus. Many clubs are very active on campus and have received local, state, and national recognitions.

By getting involved in a club, students have the opportunity to increase leadership, citizenship, and service skills that enhance UVU and the community. Students meet new people, develop skill sets, and most of all, have fun. For information on existing clubs and/or procedures for chartering a new club, look on the web at uvu.edu/clubs, or contact the UVU Clubs Office in SL 122.

Veteran Success Center

Office: WB 100a
Telephone: 801-863-8212
E-mail: veterans@uvu.edu
Web: Veterans Success

Veterans eligible for VA Education Benefits may obtain assistance at the Veteran Success Center located in the Woodbury Business Building. Veterans not receiving VA educational benefits are also encouraged to send their Military Transcripts or JST (Joint Service Transcripts) to the transcript office to begin the evaluation process.

Guideline for Enrollment and Progress

According to VA standards of progress, educational benefits will be paid for courses required for graduation in the student's declared educational objective. Eligible persons will be required to maintain the academic standards of the school and to actively and consistently pursue their declared educational objective in order to maintain benefits. To receive Veterans Educational Benefits, students are required to attend class. Benefits will be terminated for non-attendance. This may cause an over-payment to the student and result in debts that the student is ultimately responsible for. Some veterans receiving VA educational benefits must verify their attendance to receive their benefits. Please check with the Veteran Success Center for current procedures.

Veterans and dependents receiving grades of "UW" (unofficial withdrawal) or "W" (withdrawal) will have to reimburse the VA for any difference in pay, retroactive up to the beginning of the semester; exceptions may be made if students can report mitigating circumstances to the Department of Veterans Affairs. Benefits will not be paid for a course that is audited (AU).

New Military Connected Students

New students applying for VA educational benefits may be requested to submit to the UVU Veterans' Service Coordinator either original or certified copies of the following documents: (1) VA claim (c) number, if applicable, and (2) Confirmation of VA.Gov application, (3) Certificate of Eligibility. This information is needed as soon as possible to ensure timely and accurate processing of benefits. UVU forms can be found online at uvu.edu/veterans. Official transcripts from all previously attended colleges or universities are required. The VA will not pay for any course the student has previously taken and successfully completed.

Continuing & Returning Military Connected Students

All continuing and returning military connected students must submit to UVU Veteran Success Center promptly after registering for the semester a Veterans' Class Schedule Form that can be found online. This form must be submitted each semester to indicate that the student requests to receive educational benefits for that semester. Please be aware that adding and dropping classes may cause a debt with the Department of Veterans Affairs. Students are required to keep the UVU Veteran Success Center informed of any changes made to their class schedule. Failure to inform of changes may result in a debt to the University or the VA.

In accordance with Title 38 US Code 3679(e), Utah Valley University adopts the following additional provisions for any students using U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Post-9/11 G.I. Bill® (Ch. 33) or Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment (Ch. 31) benefits, while payment to the institution is pending from VA. Utah Valley University will not:

- Prevent the student's enrollment;
- Assess a late penalty fee to the student;
- Require the student to secure alternative or additional funding;
- Deny the student access to any resources (access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities) available to other students who have satisfied their tuition and fee bills to the institution.

However, to qualify for this provision, such students may be required to:

- Produce the VA Certificate of Eligibility (COE) by the first day of class;

- Provide a written request to be certified; or turn in proper documentation requesting certification;
- Provide additional information needed to properly certify the enrollment as described in other institutional policies.

Other Important Student Information

Student Right to Know

Utah Valley University hosts information regarding the Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act of 1991 on the HEA Student Consumer Information website. The Student Right-to-Know Act of 1991 requires all colleges and universities participating in Federal Student Aid Programs to disclose campus security policies, crime statistics, and information on students receiving athletically-related student aid, graduation rates, and other basic information about the University. To access a copy of the current Campus Security Report please visit www.uvu.edu/police.

Alcohol, Tobacco & Drugs

Utah Valley University, historically and at present, seeks to encourage and sustain an academic environment that promotes the health, safety, and welfare of all members of its community. In keeping with these objectives, alcoholic beverages, unlawful drugs, or other illegal substances shall not be consumed, used, carried, sold, or unlawfully manufactured on any property or in any building owned, leased, or rented by UVU, or at any activity sponsored by the University. (UVU Policy 157)

Any individual known to be in violation will be subject to University disciplinary action and to substantial legal sanctions pursuant to Local, County, State and Federal laws.

Smoking is prohibited in all University buildings and concourses. (UVU Policy 158)

All students can access a copy of the University Drug Policy online each semester at www.uvu.edu/wellness/aboutus/drug-policy.html. It explains the policy and University sanctions that may follow as a result of inappropriate drug and or alcohol use and the known health risks associated with inappropriate use.

Confidentiality of Records Policy

Utah Valley University is concerned for the confidentiality of student academic records, and a reasonable balance between the obligation of the institution for the instruction and welfare of the student and its responsibility to society. The University will make every effort to maintain student academic records in confidence by keeping information from individuals who are not authorized to receive it or who might use it for illegitimate purposes. The policy also reflects the efforts of the University to comply with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974.

Upon presentation of appropriate identification and under circumstances which preclude alteration or mutilation of records, students will be able to inspect all records relating to themselves which are not considered by the University to be private records of University Personnel. A student is entitled to an explanation of any recorded data and may initiate action leading to a hearing, if necessary, to correct or expunge information he or she considers inaccurate or misleading.

Faculty and administrative officers who have a legitimate need to use student records will be allowed access to such records, as needed without prior permission from the student. A request from an educational institution to which the student has applied for admission, or from an institution or agency, from which the student is seeking financial assistance will be granted without written permission of the student. Similarly, data will be furnished to university accrediting bodies and governmental officials without written permission of the student.

No student information other than directory information will be given to any third party (except those mentioned above) without written consent of the student, and then only those records accessible to the student. The term party is construed to include parents, employers, government agencies, or any other people or organizations. Parents or guardians may have access to grade reports of a student's activity if the parents establish to the satisfaction of the University that they are providing one-half or more of the student's support. Court orders and subpoenas for records will be referred to and acted upon according to the directions of the Registrar. The University will make a reasonable effort to notify the student prior to release of information in response to subpoenas or court orders prior to actual submission of the material.

Directory information will be released to news media and to others upon request.

Directory information is defined as follows:

- Name of student
- Student identification number
- Telephone number of student
- University student email address
- Photographs
- Participation in officially recognized activities and sports
- Weight and height of members of athletic teams
- Hometown city and state of student
- Verification of current enrollment
- Dates of enrollment
- Degrees conferred, dates, major field of concentration and honors received

Students may request, at any time, through the University Registrar's office.

Civil Rights

Utah Valley University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, citizenship, genetic information, or other basis protected by applicable law in employment, treatment, admission, access to educational programs and activities, or other University benefits or services. The following office has been designated to handle inquiries regarding non-discrimination: EOAA/Title IX – 801-863-5704 – 800 W University Pkwy, Orem, 84058, Suite BA 203.

Complete policies and procedures regarding Civil Rights (UVU Policies 152, 153, 154, 157, 158, 160, 161 162, 165) can be found at www.uvu.edu/policies, then click on Policy Manual.

Policy

The University prohibits all forms of protected class discrimination, harassment, and retaliation that violate Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VII), Title IV of the Higher Education Amendments Act of 1972 (Title IV), Title VI of the Higher Education Amendments Act of 1972 (Title VI), or related applicable laws. The University shall respond promptly and effectively to reports of protected class discrimination, harassment, and retaliation and shall take appropriate action to stop and prevent the recurrence of such conduct on the complainant and/or the university community.

Prohibited Conduct

Violations of policy 165 include acts of protected class discrimination, harassment, and retaliation within the meaning of Title VII, Title IV, Title VI, or related applicable laws. The University shall respond promptly and effectively to reports of protected class discrimination, harassment, and retaliation and shall take appropriate action to stop and prevent the recurrence of such conduct on the complainant and/or the university community. The University shall take steps to prevent retaliation and shall take strong, responsive action to threats or acts of retaliation. Individuals who, in bad faith, deliberately make false or malicious accusations of violation of this policy shall be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment and/or expulsion from the University. A finding of no violation by the investigator(s) does not in itself constitute proof of a false or malicious accusation. The University may discipline any person who is found to have violated this policy.

Freedom of Speech and Peaceful Assembly

Policy

Because free expression and the free exchange of ideas are central to the goals of a university, Utah Valley University is committed to the principles of free speech and assembly guaranteed by the United States Constitution and the Utah Constitution, and in accordance with generally accepted concepts of academic freedom. The University is committed to protecting and enhancing the free exchange of ideas and to artistic expression, the right to free speech, and academic freedom in the University and on the university campus without prior restraint or censorship, subject to limitations on unlawful/unprotected speech and to clearly stated, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory rules regarding time, place, and manner.

Preparation Strategies

- Plan your peaceful assemblies through the Dean of Students Office
- Reserve an appropriate location from the list below
- Schedule appropriate amplification, if necessary
- Contact University Police for traffic and crowd control, if necessary
- Post fliers and/or cardboard signs according to the University Signage Policy
- Pay rental charges, if required
- Commit to obey local, state and federal laws and University policies
- Agree not to disrupt the educational process of the University

Prohibitions

- Disruption or obstruction of university functions, organized meetings, or other assemblies in such a way as to invade the rights of others to assemble and the rights of speakers to free expression
- Violence
- Assemblies inside buildings where minors or vulnerable populations are predominantly present
- Damage to University or private property
- Use of administrative or academic offices
- Jeopardizing public order or safety
- Interference with entrances and exits to buildings or the normal flow of pedestrian or vehicular traffic
- Interference with classes and teaching, and activities related to teaching or research

Penalties

Persons violating the time, place, and manner restrictions relating to protests and demonstrations may be subject to arrest or other action authorized by law after notice is given of the restrictions being violated and the personas refuse to cease and desist. Student violations of UVU Policy 541 Student Code of Conduct may face disciplinary action.

Locations Appropriate For Peaceful Assembly

Locations are subject to availability; some locations may not be available at all times due to previously scheduled engagements. Speakers may speak in any outdoor area, as long as such speech does not violate time, place, and manner restrictions in UVU policy 161 section 4.8.6.

Locations include rooms inside the Sorensen Student Center, Grand Ballroom, Theater, Centre Stage or meeting rooms; Athletic fields/Lawn areas; Events Center: Arena, or Presidential Level; Student Life and Wellness Center Plaza; and Pope Science Courtyard

Scheduling

Although it is not necessary for persons planning protests, demonstrations, or speakers to obtain prior permission from the University, the University encourages such personals to contact the campus Event Services to reserve or schedule a place in advance to ensure availability.

UVU Event Services, SC 103, 801-863-8612
Events Center Scheduling, EC Concourse, 801-863-8767

Sound equipment shall be used only at volume levels that so not disrupt or disturb teaching, research, or other duly authorized meetings or activities at the University, and in accordance with city ordinances.

Utah Safety Law

In 1965 the Utah State Legislature passed a law requiring every student, teacher, and visitor in any public or private school to wear industrial quality eye protection devices while participating in or observing the following: industrial educational activities involving hot or molten metals; operation of machinery or equipment that may throw particles of foreign matter into the eyes; heating, treating, tempering, or kiln firing of industrial materials; chemistry or physics laboratories when using caustic, explosive, or hot chemicals, liquids, or solids.

Tuition & Fees

Tuition & Fees Policy

Tuition and student fees are established by the Utah State Board of Regents. University Policy regarding payment of tuition and fees states that all tuition and fees assessed at the time of registration are due and payable. This policy applies to all registration periods. Tuition and other charges are subject to change without notice. Please check current policies, procedures, tuition and fee tables, payment deadlines, and other important information at uvu.edu/registration.

Early registration not covered by Financial Aid or paid in full by the published payment deadline may be purged (dropped) for non-payment. After the published deadline, Utah Valley University will not drop courses for non-payment or non-attendance. Students who change their mind are responsible to drop their own classes or file a Leave of Absence. Filing a Leave of Absence does not absolve a student of any financial obligation to the University for tuition or other charges owing or repayment of a financial aid disbursement. Students must drop or withdraw by the published 100% Refund Date or they will be responsible to pay the total tuition and fees owed. For exact refund and drop deadlines, please refer to the Registration Dates and Deadlines at uvu.edu/registration.

Students who default on all or any portion of their tuition and fees will be suspended from further registration and records activity at UVU until their accounts are paid in full.

Past due tuition accounts may be reported to a Nationwide Credit Reporting Agency, and/or turned over to an outside collection agency for collection.

Tuition Surcharge Policy

Students are encouraged to avoid accumulating credit hours beyond those needed to successfully complete their identified program of study. A student may be charged the excess credit hour surcharge for credit hours in excess of 125% of a student's program of study. The surcharge amount for resident students is double the current year's resident tuition rates for the number of credit hours taken. Non-resident students will continue to pay non-resident tuition. (Board of Regents Policy R515)

For further information regarding this policy, please contact your advisor or the Graduation/Transfer Services Office.

Dropping/Withdrawing from Courses

When students enroll in a course, they are reserving a seat in the class. If a student decides not to take a class, it is the responsibility of the student to drop the course before the 100% Refund Deadline. Dropping the class before this deadline removes the charges from the student's account and allows other students to register. Charges for classes dropped after the 100% Refund Period deadlines will remain owing and will not be credited back to the student's account balance.

Student Financial Responsibility

Before students can register for classes they must review and agree to the terms and conditions outlined in the Student Financial Responsibility Agreement, then review and update their address and other demographic information. It is important that students carefully update their demographic information as the University periodically sends bills, refund checks, and other important correspondence through the mail.

The Student Financial Responsibility Agreement (SFRA) includes agreements to pay tuition and fees, requires adherence to payment and withdrawal deadlines, outlines the consequences of delinquencies, and presents required financial aid consents. It also provides students an opportunity to consent to electronic delivery of their 1098-T Tax Form. The following is a brief description of terms included in the SFRA. To view the SFRA document in full, visit uvu.edu/cashier/sfra.html.

- FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY: I agree to pay all tuition, fees, and other related costs that result from my registration and/or future drop/add activity and understand that acceptance of these terms constitutes a promise to pay agreement.
- DROPPING/WITHDRAWING FROM COURSES: I understand and agree it is my responsibility to drop my own classes if I decide not to attend and further understand that I must drop my classes and/or file a Leave of Absence before the 100% Refund Deadline or I will be responsible for all tuition and fees.

- CONSEQUENCES OF DELINQUENT ACCOUNT/COLLECTION: I agree to pay all charges by the published deadlines and understand the consequences of delinquencies on my account including late payment charges, registration holds, and possible collection fees.
- COMMUNICATION: I understand all correspondence from Utah Valley University will be sent to the student's myUVU email account (including my billing statements) and therefore I am responsible for reading the e-mails I receive from UVU on a timely basis. I agree to keep my contact information current with UVU and further agree to allow Utah Valley University and its agents to contact me at any address, telephone, or cell phone number that I provide now or in the future.
- FINANCIAL AID DISBURSEMENTS: I understand that if I am expecting Financial Aid, I am responsible to follow up and ensure I have met all requirements to receive it, and acknowledge that I may be charged a late fee if my Financial Aid has not disbursed by the Late Fee Deadline. I further acknowledge that aid is contingent upon my enrollment and attendance in each class.

Tuition Refund Policy

The tuition refund policy is established by the Utah State Board of Regents and amended by each college or university to fit their programs. Utah Valley University refunds to students who withdraw from school or drop classes as follows:
Semester:

- Through the 100% refund date published on the Student Timetable....100%
- After the 100% refund date published on the student Timetable....0%

Exact dates for semester, block, and weekend classes can be found at uvu.edu/schedule.

Students must drop classes or completely withdraw by the published 100% Refund Deadline in order to have the charges removed from their account. Students who withdraw after that date will not receive a refund; if they have not paid, they will continue to owe the University for these charges and will be subject to collections procedures if left unpaid.

Changes in enrollment may affect Financial Aid eligibility and amounts received. Financial Aid awards may be revoked when dropping courses, thus increasing the amount owed.

A Petition to the Refund Policy Form can be obtained online through myUVU or from the Office of the Registrar.

State-Mandated Refund Policies

Students who are living in the following states while actively participating in UVU courses will receive refunds as designated by the state departments of education.

New Mexico

5.100.3.11 PAYMENT AND REFUNDS FOR TUITION:

A. Cooling off period: Any student signing an enrollment agreement or making an initial deposit or payment toward tuition and fees of the institution shall be entitled to a cooling off period of at least three work days from the date of agreement or payment or from the date that the student first visits the institution, whichever is longer. During the cooling off period the agreement can be withdrawn and all payments shall be refunded. Evidence of personal appearance at the institution or deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery by mail or other means shall be deemed as meeting the terms of the cooling off period.

B. Refunds prior to commencing instruction: Following the cooling off period but prior to the beginning of instruction, a student may withdraw from enrollment, effective upon personal appearance at the institution or deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery (as defined above), and the institution shall be entitled to retain no more than $200 in tuition or fees as registration charges.

C. In the case of students enrolling for non-traditional instruction, a student may withdraw from enrollment following the cooling off period, prior to submission by the student of any lesson materials and effective upon deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery (as defined above) and the institution shall be entitled to retain no more than $200 in tuition or fees as registration charges or an alternative amount that the institution can demonstrate to have been expended in preparation for that particular student's enrollment.

D. Refunds following commencement of instruction: An institution registered with the department shall adhere to either the following tuition refund policy or to a policy established by the institution's state of residence or accrediting body.

E. A student may withdraw after beginning instruction or submitting lesson materials, effective upon appearance at the institution or deposit of a written statement of withdrawal for delivery (as defined above), and the institution shall be entitled to retain no more than $200 in tuition or fees as registration charges or an alternative amount that the institution can demonstrate to have been expended in undertaking that particular student's instruction plus a pro rata amount of any additional tuition and fees earned and paid according to the following schedule:

| Date of withdrawal as a percent of the enrollment period for which the student was obligated | Portion of tuition and fees obligated and paid that are eligible to be retained by the institution |
|---|---|
| within 1st 10 percent | 10 percent |
| within 2nd 10 percent | 25 percent |
| within 3rd 10 percent | 40 percent |
| within 4th 10 percent | 55 percent |
| within 5th 10 percent | 70 percent |

| Date of withdrawal as a percent of the enrollment period for which the student was obligated | Portion of tuition and fees obligated and paid that are eligible to be retained by the institution |
|---|---|
| within 6th 10 percent | 85 percent |
| thereafter | 100 percent |

F. "Enrollment period for which the student was obligated" means a quarter, semester, or other term of instruction followed by the institution which the student has begun and for which the student has agreed to pay tuition.

G. Tuition/fee refunds must be made within 30 calendar days of the institution receiving written notice of a student's withdrawal or of the institution terminating enrollment of the student, whichever is earlier. Upon request by a student or the department, the institution shall provide an accounting for such amounts retained under this standard within five work days.

H. The institution's payment and refund policies shall be clearly articulated in the institution's catalog and as part of all enrollment agreements.

Special Lab & Course Fees

Some classes require fees in addition to standard tuition and fees. The online class schedule indicates such lab, course, and materials fees.

Late Payment Fee (Late Fee)

Late Payment Fees are assessed each Wednesday night throughout the semester with a begin date according to the Student Timetable. Late fees are assessed on ALL unpaid account balances at 20%, not to exceed $200.00 per semester, including accounts awaiting Financial Aid.

Late Registration Fee (Late ADD Fee)

Special approvals are required to register late for a class. The length of time for each late registration period is relative to each part of term and is governed by the Student Timetable. Students who add classes during the late registration period must finalize the process by paying for appropriate late registration fees in addition to their tuition/fees according to the published dates on the Semester Student Timetable.

Payment Options

At the Cashier Windows

- Cash
- Check
- PIN-based debit

Online through Tuition Payment Plus

Electronic Checks

Electronic Check payments are free of charge and can be made online only with the bank routing number and account number. Payments can be made from a personal checking or savings account. Corporate checks, credit card checks, home equity, traveler’s cheques, etc. are not accepted. Electronic check payments are processed through Tuition Payment PLUS, accessed through myUVU. Any check returned by the payor’s bank for any reason, will be considered a “dishonored” check and all penalties for a “dishonored” check will be applicable.

Credit Cards

Payments with credit cards are accepted online only and will be charged a non-refundable service fee of 2.85% (minimum $3.00). Most major credit cards are accepted including VISA, MasterCard, American Express, and Discover.

Tuition Payment Plan

The tuition payment plan allows students to pay installments on their tuition and fees over the course of the semester with a minimal fee to enroll. If students enroll before the published Payment Deadline dates, their classes will not be dropped for nonpayment. In addition, enrollment in the payment plan before the Late Fee Deadline will prevent the 20% late fee from being assessed. More information about the payment plan can be found at https://www.uvu.edu/collections/tuition.html.

Check Cashing Procedures

The University does not accept two-party checks. Checks written to UVU must have the student’s UV ID number, and the payor’s address and phone number on the face of the check.

Checks made for an amount larger than the total tuition and fees due will not be accepted.

Dishonored Checks

A dishonored check is any check returned by the payor’s bank for any reason, including, but not limited to, insufficient funds, no account, bad account, stop payment, unauthorized account, refer to maker. Checks written that later have a “stop payment” placed upon them will be considered as “dishonored”.

A service charge will be assessed on each dishonored check unless the payor can document in writing from the bank that it was a bank error.

Third Party/Sponsored Payments

Students are responsible for ensuring that appropriate documentation for a third-party or sponsored payment is submitted to the Accounts Receivable Office prior to the start of classes each semester. If paperwork cannot be submitted to the Accounts Receivable Office by the published Payment Deadline, students should consider enrolling in the Tuition Payment Plan to avoid having their classes purged (dropped) for nonpayment.

Students who are sponsored by a third-party must comply with the terms of the sponsor agreement and verify that all tuition and fees charges are paid by the sponsor. Any balance not paid by the sponsor remains the student responsibility and is subject to all payment deadlines and late fees.

If a student adjusts their registration schedule after their authorization has been received by UVU, it is the student's responsibility to verify that any course or tuition and fee changes will be paid by the sponsor and that these changes are reported to the Accounts Receivable office for proper processing.

If the sponsor does not provide funding by the end of the semester, the student will be responsible for payment of tuition and fees.

Undergraduate Tuition and Fees

Tuition and student fees are established by the Utah State Board of Regents. Tuition and such other changes as appear in the catalog and other College publications are subject to change without notice. All tuition and fees are payable at the time of registration. Checks for more than the total tuiton and fees due will not be accepted.

Master of Accountancy, M.Acc

Requirements

The Master of Accountancy (MAcc) degree prepares students for professional positions in accounting with the potential for advancement throughout their career. Building upon an undergraduate education in accounting and business it qualifies students for entry-level positions in public accounting, industry, government, and not-for-profit organizations. The MAcc qualifies students to sit for the Uniform CPA Examinations in the State of Utah which is a necessary step in becoming a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). It also provides a base from which students may pursue related certifications such as Certified Internal Auditor (CIA), Certified Management Accountant (CMA), and Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE). Combined with appropriate experience the MAcc can lead to a wide variety of significant leadership positions in accounting and business including Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and Chief Executive Officer (CEO).

Healthcare Services, A.A.S.

Requirements

The Associate in Applied Science in Healthcare Services is designed for individuals working in a health-related area who have obtained, or are working toward a technical certification, license, etc. Many of these students will be looking for a pathway to allow them better upward mobility in their professions or education to help them become a certified health professional. Students initially finish a program at Mountainland Technical College to develop a portfolio that presents licenses and work-related certifications as well as provides a rationale for receiving technical, experiential credit. Students matriculating into UVU's AAS program will add to their portfolio core courses that provide fundamental knowledge of health professions, human anatomy and physiology, as well as elective courses; students enhance their technical knowledge and skills in one or more health-related areas (e.g. surgical technician, medical assistant, and medical billing and coding).

Respiratory Therapy, A.A.S.

Requirements

An Associate of Applied Science in Respiratory Therapy consists of comprehensive classroom and clinical curricula that prepares students for matriculation into the BS Respiratory Therapy program and credentialing exam offered by the National Board of Respiratory Care (NBRC). The NBRC is the credentialing arm of the American Association of Respiratory Care. Successful completion of the curriculum and the credentialing exam certifies students as a Registered Respiratory Therapist (RRT) and enables them to apply for licensure in their state of residence. Employment opportunities with health care providers range from home health and hospice to neonatal, pediatric, and adult intensive care units in UVU's service area and across the country.

Dental Hygiene, B.S.

Requirements

This is a Bachelor Completion program, meaning you must first have a two year degree in dental hygiene to apply and be accepted. Please refer to our website at www.uvu.edu/dental and/or call us at 801-863-7536 or 7592 for specific information about the application process. The BS degree builds on the AAS degree in dental hygiene. The BS degree consists of 120 credits and builds on the credits already earned in the AAS program. This degree can be for those who want to: increase their knowledge in their field, move onto an advanced degree, become a hygiene faculty and teach, work for private companies, research work for the government, become a mid-level provider or want to improve their critical thinking and problem solving skills. This degree is aimed at the working professional, as the Dental Hygiene courses are offered on-line. There is not a clinical component. There are also no special fees involved. The first four (4) semesters and AAS pre-requisites are listed. You must have completed your AAS degree before you can matriculate into the BS program. Because applicants will present with a variety of previous courses already taken, the following plan is only meant to be a guide. It is based on a student completing the UVU AAS Dental Hygiene Degree. Once you have applied, and are in the BS program, you must speak with the Department of Dental Hygiene advisor to help you customize a plan that works for you.

Degrees & Programs

Engineering Design Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The Associate in Applied Science Degree is a "job ready" degree and applies the technical and functional elements of several Drafting and Design fields. Students will take courses in the fundamentals of drafting and design, industry standard two-dimensional and three-dimensional software, Architectural Design, Civil Design and Surveying, Electrical Design, Mechanical Design, and Structural Steel Detailing and Design. Students will take other supporting classes and advanced courses in a minimum of two specialty areas of their choosing.

Surveying Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The AAS in Surveying Technology meets the educational component for licensure as a Professional Land Surveyor (PLS) in the State of Utah according to the State of Utah Office of Administrative Rules 156-22-302(c)(1). This degree prepares students for immediate employment beyond entry level work in surveying or civil engineering firms. Students will be prepared to perform many of the various field and office tasks related to surveying including site and topographic surveys, boundary investigation and research, map-making, various survey adjustment calculations, writing of legal property descriptions, and other survey technician duties and responsibilities.

1. Completion of a minimum of 64 semester credits required for a AAS degree
2. Overall grade point average 2.5 or above with a minimum of 3.0 GPA in all Surveying Technology courses. No grade lower than a "B" in all Surveying Technology Foundation courses.
3. Residency hours: Minimum of 20 credit hours of Surveying and Mapping courses through course attendance at UVU.

Surveying and Mapping, A.S.

Requirements

Geomatics is the study of geospatial measurement and representation including such disciplines as land surveying, photogrammetry, remote sensing (satellite imaging and laser scanning), geographic information systems (GIS), cartography, global positioning systems (GPS), and some parts of geography and civil engineering.

Geomatics is a discipline which integrates acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Based on the scientific framework of geodesy, it uses terrestrial, marine, airborne, satellite-based sensors, and measurement systems and technologies to acquire spatial and other data. The Land Surveying component of Geomatics includes investigation, analysis, and application of boundary/ property laws and legal principles pertaining to specific public and private properties and is a regulated profession wherein a license to practice land surveying is issued by each state in an effort to protect the public and private interests in property boundaries.

Students in the Geomatics program may earn an Associate in Science in Geomatics which will help them be immediately employable as entry level surveyor GIS technician. Students may also earn a Bachelor of Science in Geomatics which will prepare them to successfully pass the national Fundamentals of Surveying (FS) exam which is a significant step towards surveying licensure. The bachelor degree program has been developed around four core disciplines which build on an in-depth foundation of knowledge needed for the professional practice of surveying and GIS. Geomatics program goals are to secure ABET/ASAC accreditation by Fall Semester 2017 and to continue to encourage student interest in obtaining graduate degrees in the field of Geomatics from other nationally ranked institutions. The program is operating under an annual cohort system starting in the fall semester of each year, so matriculation is required to ensure that each perspective student completes all required course prerequisites prior to entrance into a cohort.

Civil Design and Surveying Technology, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Civil Design and Surveying Technology will be dedicated to teaching the technical and functional elements of civil design and surveying, and will educate students in the process of taking civil related projects from data obtained from ground observations and measurements made by surveying to conceptual design to completed construction documents and finally to surveying and staking the proposed design on the ground so it can be constructed. Students will be required to take civil and surveying courses currently offered in the Engineering Design Technology (EDT) department including the courses from the Drafting Technology program and the Surveying and Mapping program. From these courses students will learn the basics of surveying, civil drafting and design, and be trained in industry standard two-dimensional and three-dimensional software packages. Students will also take courses in surveying applications, land development, advanced field and office surveying, and civil design. A student with a Certificate of Proficiency in Civil Design and Surveying Technology will be prepared for an entry level job as a civil drafter/ designer or survey technician. They can increase their education, training, and employability by completing the Associate of Applied Science in Engineering Design Technology, Certificate of Proficiency in Mapping Technology, Certificate of Proficiency in Surveying Technology, Associate of Applied Science in Surveying Technology (pending), Associate of Science in Surveying and Mapping and/or a Bachelor of Science in Surveying and Mapping.

Mechanical Design Technology, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Mechanical Design Technology applies the technical and functional elements of mechanical design. Students will take courses in the fundamentals of drafting and design, basic mechanical drafting and design, two-dimensional and three-dimensional software packages, electrical design, and advanced mechanical design.

4. Residency hours-- minimum of 5 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.

Structural Design Technology, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Structural Design Technology applies the technical and functional elements of structural steel detailing. Students will take courses in the fundamentals of drafting and design, basic structural steel detailing, two-dimensional and three-dimensional software/Building Information Modeling (BIM) packages, and advanced structural design and detailing.

Surveying Technology, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Surveying Technology is intended to provide part of the educational competency required for licensure as a Professional Land Surveyor (PLS) in the State of Utah. If an individual holds a bachelor of science degree in a related surveying field such as civil engineering or construction management, according to the State of Utah Office of Administrative Rules 156-22-302(c)(3), they may complete an additional 30 semester hours of surveying specific course work to complete the educational component for licensure. This certificate meets this regulatory educational requirement if the related degree includes algebra, calculus, geometry, statistics, or trigonometry. It prepares students for immediate employment beyond entry level work in surveying or civil engineering firms as a crew chief or a position with similar responsibilities. Students will be prepared to perform many of the various field and office tasks related to surveying including site and topographic surveys, boundary investigation and research, map-making, various survey adjustment calculations, writing of legal property descriptions, and other survey technician duties and responsibilities.

1. Completion of a minimum of 28 semester credits required for a Certificate of Completion in Surveying Technology
2. Overall grade point average 2.5 or above with a minimum of 3.0 GPA in all Surveying Technology courses. No grade lower than a "B" in all Surveying Technology Foundation courses.
3. Residency hours: Minimum of 8 credit hours of Surveying and Mapping courses through course attendance at UVU.

Architecture, B.Arch

Requirements

The Bachelor of Architecture (B-Arch) is a five-year professional degree designed to meet the National Architectural Accreditation Board (NAAB) requirements. The degree features a rigorous design-oriented curriculum with a solid foundation in technology, practice-based coursework, plan and document generation, building codes, specifications, digital parametric modeling, building information modeling, architectural visualization, digital fabrication, building envelope systems, structural systems, and building sustainability. Students will become experts in current design and building technologies, making them ideal employees in architecture offices and related design & construction industries including civil, mechanical, and electrical. The program is structured as a two-plus-three stackable credential, awarding an Associate of Science in Engineering Design Technology after the first two years and a comprehensive professional B-Arch degree for the final three years. This allows students who do not wish to pursue licensure a two-year path into the profession. In their final three years, students engage in coursework which readies them to become licensed, practicing architects, projects managers, principals, owners, and community leaders in the profession. Students acquire leadership skills through courses in professional practice, ethics, and architectural registration exam preparation. Students learn to design buildings in a historical and cultural context through rigorous coursework in areas such as history, theory, culture, study abroad, and community service projects. Concurrently, students engage in arts and science courses to expand critical thinking. Transfer students with associate degrees from other institutions are invited to apply for admission into year three and are accepted based on transcript and portfolio review. Upon graduation, and completing their internships, students will qualify to take the Architectural Registration Exam (ARE) to become licensed architects in the State of Utah. A total of at least 151 hours of coursework is required for the Bachelor of Architecture.

3. Residency hours: Minimum of 45 credit hours of Architecture courses through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.
4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements. Students are responsible for completing all prerequisite courses.
5. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Surveying and Mapping, B.S.

Requirements

Surveying and Mapping is the study of geospatial measurement and representation including such disciplines as land surveying, photogrammetry, remote sensing (satellite imaging and laser scanning), geographic information systems (GIS), cartography, global positioning systems (GPS), and some parts of geography and civil engineering. Surveying and Mapping is a discipline which integrates acquisition, modeling, analysis, and management of geo-spatial reference data. Based on the scientific framework of geodesy, it uses terrestrial, marine, airborne, satellite-based sensors, and measurement systems and technologies to acquire spatial and other data. The Land Surveying component of Surveying and Mapping includes investigation, analysis, and application of boundary/property laws and legal principles pertaining to specific public and private properties and is a regulated profession wherein a license to practice land surveying is issued by each state in an effort to protect the public and private interests in property boundaries.
Students in the Surveying and Mapping program may earn an Associate in Science in Surveying and Mapping which will help them be immediately employable as an entry level surveyor GIS technician. Students may also earn a Bachelor of Science in Surveying and Mapping which will prepare them to successfully pass the national Fundamentals of Surveying (FS) exam which is a significant step towards surveying licensure. The bachelor degree program has been developed around four core disciplines which build on an in-depth foundation of knowledge needed for the professional practice of surveying and GIS. Surveying and Mapping program goals are to secure ABET/ASAC accreditation by Fall Semester 2017 and to continue to encourage student interest in obtaining graduate degrees in the field of Surveying and Mapping from other nationally ranked institutions. The program is operating under an annual cohort system starting in the fall semester of each year, so matriculation is required to ensure that each perspective student completes all required course prerequisites prior to entrance into a cohort.

Art History, Minor

Requirements

Because art history is cross-disciplinary by nature, a minor in art history would compliment almost any degree, whether within or outside of the arts. The minor requires 18 credits of art history courses, including the survey classes Art to and from the Renaissance, as well as four upper division electives, ranging from ancient to contemporary art history. The minor creates a more diverse skill set for students of the visual arts, as well as a more culturally rich educational experience for students outside of the arts.

Art and Design - Graphic Design Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements

Situated in the heart of the “Silicon Slopes,” UVU’s graphic design program is uniquely situated to offer students cutting-edge learning, internship, and job-placement opportunities. As students use the latest software to practice communicating creatively using typography and imagery, they learn to approach problem solving from marketing and artistic standpoints that resonate with target audiences. Courses emphasize creative, concept-intensive communication, and effective design implementation in both print and interactive design.

Art and Design - Illustration Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements

The program is ideal for students wanting to pursue careers in traditional illustration, digital illustration, or animation. In addition to working with faculty who are professionals in their fields, students have access to the best software in the industry. Courses in figure drawing, children's book illustration, anatomy and figure structure, flash animation, 3-D computer rendering, and advanced illustration are just a few of the classes available to students. The courses offer a well-rounded and practical learning experience. Students in the illustration program benefit from interaction with instructors who are nationally known professional illustrators.

Art and Design - Painting and Drawing Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements

Within the painting/drawing program, students emphasize one of four areas: drawing, watermedia, painting, or printmaking. In their senior year, B.F.A. students receive one-on-one instruction from the professor of their choice. Students explore their personal artistic identity while learning the rigor and attention to detail needed to put together a solo exhibition as their culminating experience.

Art and Design - Photography Emphasis, B.F.A.

Requirements

UVU's photography program teaches the language of photography. Students will take courses to diversify their skill set in the creation and appreciation of different approaches to photography. They will work with film, historic photographic processes, and cutting edge digital technology. Students learn about and work in commercial and fine art environments. They will be taught working methods in the darkroom, studio lighting techniques, motion, and digital manipulation. The photo program emphasizes a hands-on and engaged approach. We actively look for opportunities to get our students on location and into real world scenarios through internships, study abroad programs, service oriented programs, and classes taught off campus.

Sociology, B.A.

Requirements

Sociology is the scientific study of society which includes studying individuals in their primary and secondary groups and larger social institutions. It examines the social context of individual and collective lives. Sociology is a relatively young discipline that describes, explains, and predicts social interactions and institutions using theoretical as well as social scientific methods of inquiry. According to the American Sociological Association, the essential concepts that students will learn within sociology are social construction of everyday life and sociological imagination; social structure; socialization; social stratification, and social change. Students will also gain competencies in critical and theoretical thinking and application of social scientific methodology towards rigorous data analysis.

Biology, A.A.

Requirements

Students interested in biology, or related fields, are encouraged to earn at least a baccalaureate degree (BS). Many professions (e.g., Pharmacy or Medicine) require additional post-baccalaureate education. The AS/AA degree is intended for students who plan to use it as a first step toward a baccalaureate degree. The AS/AA degree may be granted to those who do not continue in a bachelor's program and meet the minimum requirements.

Bioinformatics, B.S.

Requirements

Bioinformatics is the fastest growing field in Biology. In general terms, bioinformatics is the synthesis of computational methods and biological systems and comprises many sub-fields that approach different questions in biology. A Bachelor of Science in Bioinformatics will prepare students to enter a variety of fields such as: medical informatics and interventions, new agricultural paradigms, pharmaceutical discovery, and molecular genealogy predictions, among others. This degree would provide students with the knowledge, skills, and experience to be competitive for both graduate school and employment opportunities.

Botany, B.S.

Requirements

Students interested in botany, or related fields, are strongly encouraged to earn at least a baccalaureate degree (BS). To be competitive in the job market additional post-baccalaureate education is suggested. The BS degree in Botany may be used for entry into a career or in preparation for graduate (Masters/ PhD) or professional schools (medical, pharmacy etc.).

Microbiology, B.S.

Requirements

Microbiology is the study of microorganisms, the smallest living things on earth, including bacteria, viruses, fungi, protozoa, and algae. While microorganisms are most known for their ability to cause disease, they are actually ubiquitous on earth and central to many of the essential life processes on this planet. The field of microbiology is a major contributor to human, animal, plant, and environmental health as well as central to the food/beverage, biotechnology, bioremediation, and pharmaceutical industries. This curriculum will examine the diverse roles of microorganisms and cover the fundamentals of microbial diversity, physiology, and genetics. Students will examine the roles and interactions of microbial populations in aquatic, terrestrial, human, animal, and plant systems.

A degree in microbiology can open the door to a wide variety of careers in different industries. Studying microbiology will prepare students to go to medical, dental, veterinary, or graduate school, and also provides them a highly employable career option in healthcare, industry, or government agencies. A degree in microbiology allows students to easily enter the workforce or continue on to a professional or graduate program.

Degrees & Programs

Master of Business Administration - Finance Emphasis, M.B.A.

Requirements

The UVU Master of Business Administration is an applied graduate degree that reflects the Woodbury School of Business's long and distinguished history of providing excellence in business education. Our innovative team-based curriculum reaches beyond the walls and textbooks of a traditional program and includes not only instruction in the disciplines of business, but also offers many opportunities to apply important skills such as leadership, teamwork, ethical decision making, critical thinking and problem solving, written and oral communication as they are woven throughout the curriculum. Students immerse themselves in all aspects of business management, including accounting, marketing, economics, and social responsibility. Students participate in an international project and travel to the country of their project hosts. The program culminates with a comprehensive real-life consulting project with a company operating in our region.

The full-time track for the Master of Business Administration program at Utah Valley University is a one year, accelerated MBA program that offers either of two concentration areas in management or accounting.

The part-time track for the Master of Business Administration program at Utah Valley University is a two year plan for working professionals which embraces the university's designation as an engaged learning campus and also offers either of two concentration areas in management or accounting.

The MBA program is AACSB accredited.

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of 36 hours of approved credit with no grade lower than a "C" as described in this program.
2. Graduates may not transfer more than ten hours into this MBA program, preferably from an AACSB accredited institution. All transfer courses will be reviewed by a graduate committee managed by the Woodbury School of Business.
3. Final approval for graduation will be determined by the MBA graduate committee of the Woodbury School of Business.
4. A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher must be maintained within program.

Chemistry - Biochemistry Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Biochemistry studies the chemical composition of living things. Biochemistry combines the study of biology with organic and inorganic chemistry as applied to topics such as enzymology, genetics, toxicology, pharmacology, food science, and medicine. Students with this degree may pursue graduate study or work in the field of biotechnology or in one of the many related areas or be eligible for many employment opportunities in chemistry and biology.

Chemistry - Professional Chemistry Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

This bachelor's degree in professional chemistry prepares a student for employment as a chemist. It also prepares a student for further study in a graduate degree or professional program. This degree is designed to meet American Chemical standards for a bachelor degree. Job opportunities for students with this degree are very good. Students with this degree can have careers in test laboratories, government laboratories, hospital laboratories, research and development, quality control, manufacturing, and many other areas.

In obtaining this degree, students will learn how to:
Use modern scientific instruments and interpret results
Apply principles used in chemistry to solve everyday problems
Think analytically
Use problem solving skills
Categorize information
Apply learned math skills
Develop laboratory skills

Chemistry Education, B.S.

Requirements

The degree in chemistry education prepares a student to teach chemistry in secondary education. Students that complete this degree receive endorsements to teach chemistry. Completion of this program is dependent upon being accepted into the Secondary Education program through the School of Education. There is a great demand for teachers in chemistry and employment opportunities are excellent.
In obtaining this degree, students will learn how to:
Use modern scientific instruments and interpret results
Apply principles used in chemistry to solve everyday problems
Think analytically
Use problem solving skills
Categorize information
Apply learned math skills
Develop laboratory skills

Degrees & Programs

Clinical Mental Health Counseling, M.S.

Requirements

The Master in Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) prepares individuals to provide counseling services, mental health evaluations, and referrals to ameliorate and prevent cognitive and emotional crises as well as personal and interpersonal problems. Instruction will include coursework on individual and group counseling, psychotherapy theory and practice, human development, psychological assessment, psychopathology and diagnostics, professional standards and ethics as well as the governing laws and regulations of the field. Successful graduates will be eligible for employment and licensure as a Clinical Mental Health Counselor in the state of Utah.

Total Program Credits: 62

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education (with official transcripts from all institutions attended). The degree can be in any discipline, provided student meets the expected GPA and prerequisite coursework.
2. GPA Requirements: The minimum cumulative GPA is 3.4 on a 4.0 scale.
3. Prerequisite Coursework:
   General or Introductory Psychology, Abnormal Psychology, Intro to Counseling (or equivalent),
   Research Methods, Statistics
4. Complete the UVU Graduate School Application.
5. Personal Interview: All candidates will be screened and those deemed to meet or exceed basic application requirements may be invited for an interview. Thisinterview does not guarantee acceptance into the program as students will compete with all other applicants for matriculation into acohort.
6. Three total letters of recommendation from academic and professional sources.

Computer Science, A.S.

Requirements

The CS Associate degree is a transfer degree used when a student is contemplating changing schools. Because it includes all general education classes, attempting to earn this degree four semesters will necessarily lengthen the time to earn a BS degree.

Total Program Credits: 62

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of a minimum of 30 semester credits.
2. Minimum grade of C- required in all courses.
3. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above.
4. Residency hours -- minimum of 10 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.

Computer Science, Minor

Requirements

The program provides the student with entry level programming instruction, and an overview of some portions of the program.

Total Program Credits: 18

| Elective Requirements: | | | 9 Credits |
| | Complete at least three CS courses numbered 3060 or above | | 9 |

Graduation Requirements:

1. To fill the requirements for a computer science minor students must have no course grade lower than C- in any of the CNS courses required for the computer science minor

Computational Data Science, B.S.

Requirements

The BS in Computational Data Science develops strong interdisciplinary skills in mathematics, statistics, computer science, and big data processing. The program teaches how to create algorithms and write code and scripts to solve problems beyond the basic use of existing tools in support of an industrial, enterprise-level big data pipeline. The mix of competencies and experiences required for data science differs significantly from those developed in the individual degree programs in the four areas mentioned above. Students will gain real-world experience as a springboard to working in industry as a data scientist or to pursue a graduate degree.

3. Must have a minimum grade of C- with a combined GPA of 2.5 or higher in all discipline requirements and the General Education requirements thatare marked with an *.
4. Residency hours -- minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU. 10 of these hours must be within the last 45 hours earned. At least 12 of the credit hours earned in residence must be in approved Computational Data Science (CDS) courses.
5. All transfer credit must be approved in writing by UVU.
6. No more than 80 semester hours and no more than 20 hours in CDS type courses of transfer credit from a two-year college.
7. No more than 30 semester hours may be earned through independent study and/or extension classes.
8. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course. CS 305G satisfies this requirement.

Computer Science - Computer Networking Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The Networking specialization in the Computer Science degree program is designed to prepare students with strong internet-related programming and/or engineering skills. In addition to core Computer Science courses, it requires in-depth courses in network and Internet operations as well as extensive experience in web and network software development.

Computer Science - Computer Science Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Computer Science spans the range from theory through programming to cutting-edge development of computing solutions. Computer Scientists master the theory and practice of computing, and explore new and exciting ways to use computers. Systems like Google and Amazon are created by computer scientists.

Computer Science - Full Stack Web Development Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Computer Science spans the range from theory through programming to cutting-edge development of computing solutions. Computer Scientists master the theory and practice of computing, and explore new and exciting ways to use computers. Systems like Google and Amazon are created by computer scientists.

Software Development, B.A.S.

Requirements

The Bachelor of Applied Science in Software Development is a degree to provide a solid foundation of software development skills. It consists mainly of 45 credit hours of computer science classes: the core computer science classes, plus several additional computer science courses selected so as to have greatest practical applicability. The degree will qualify students for mid-level programming jobs with good long-term prospects but not necessarily technical leadership roles.

The program will appeal to students who largely complete a major, but realize that they need a different major in order to secure a good job. The program is also designed for individuals who have graduated from college, but find it necessary to be retrained in software development in order to enhance long-term employment prospects. For students who already have a baccalaureate degree, they can complete the computer science portion of the program in five to six semesters, depending on the desired course load.

Software Engineering, B.S.

Requirements

Software Engineers design and develop large software systems. In addition, they may lead teams of software developers or quality assurance engineers. They also work with users and customers to understand their needs. Software systems we take for granted, such as Microsoft Office, are implemented by software engineers. Software engineers employ innovative software development approaches, such as Agile software development, to effectively manage software development projects.

Degrees & Programs

Computer Science, M.C.S.

Requirements

The Master of Computer Science (MCS) at Utah Valley University is an applied graduate program resulting in a professional degree. Students graduating with this degree will have a broad grounding in computer science as a discipline and be well equipped to take on leadership roles in a wide range of computing technology-related industries. Student education will be focused on developing software systems using current technologies while allowing them the freedom to explore and exploit new technologies to solve real-world problems. Students will be required to develop a broad base of competency by passing required courses in large scale implementation, applied mathematics computing, information management, and software engineering. Electives will allow a student to continue to add breadth to their education or allow them to focus on specific areas of computer science they find interesting or feel will best advance their professional objectives.

Total Program Credits: 30

| Matriculation Requirements: | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1. Application for admission to the MCS will include letters of recommendation and a statement of purpose.2. Applicants must have an overall grade point average in their undergraduate work of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale.3 For international students whose native language is not English, a TOEFL score of 80 iBT (550 pBT) or higher, or an IELTS band score of 6.5 or higher within the past two years, is required.4. Applicants with a bachelor's degree in a computer-related field (Computer Science, Computer Engineering, Software Engineering, or a closely related field) who have completed the following courses (or equivalent courses from other institutions) with a C+ or better will be deemed to have the fundamental computer science background to enter the program:• CS 2300 Discrete Structures I• CS 2420 Introduction to Algorithms and Data Structures• CS 2810 Computer Organization and Architecture• CS 3060 Operating Systems Theory• MATH 1210 Calculus I5. Applicants without a bachelor's degree in a computer-related field or who have not completed the above courses with a C+ will be deemed lacking in fundamental computer science background to enter the program.6. Applicants found lacking in fundamental computer science background can be conditionally admitted to the MCS. Conditionally admitted students will have an individualized MCS Leveling Plan (MCS LP) developed for them by the Computer Science Graduate Committee. Once the MCS LP has been met by the applicant, the applicant will be deemed to have the fundamental computer science background to enter the program. Graduate policy precludes conditionally admitted students from taking 6000 level courses.7. All applicants will be subject to the approval of the Computer Science Graduate Committee. | | | |

Construction Management, A.A.S.

Requirements

Students may earn an Associate in Applied Science degree. The Clyde Institute of Construction Management Program has been designed to provide students a strong foundation in Construction Management that prepares them for jobs in construction site supervision and/or for advancement on to a BS degree in Construction Management. The program provides courses in building construction, construction management and construction science that apply to all segments of the construction industry with an emphasis on heavy civil and commercial construction. Students will learn about construction materials and methods through the use of readings, 3-D models, hands-on laboratory exercises, and site visits. Construction management courses in estimating and scheduling are also provided along with a strong background in mathematics, computer technology, business and other general education subjects. A supervisory course is also required so students can learn to manage workers at construction sites.

Woodworking Education, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The CP in Woodworking Education is a package of existing courses that provides licensed, secondary education teachers in Utah with a pathway for adding the Associate level Woods endorsement to their professional portfolio. In addition, it establishes a means for individuals who wish to enter the teaching profession and are seeking a teaching credential with a means to demonstrate the content knowledge required for the Associate level Woods endorsement. It supports the endorsement portion of the licensing process only. It is not a full-fledged teacher preparation program and does not result in a recommendation for licensure.

National Security Studies, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The NSS certificate of proficiency is aimed at students with a baccalaureate degree who are looking to re-tool or specialize in national security in order to enter or advance in a national security career. The certificate will provide an interdisciplinary program that prepares students for and allows existing professionals to advance in public and private sector national security careers through acquisition of subject matter expertise and analytical skills. This certificate will expose students to the wide variety of critically important security challenges and issues faced in the twenty-first century, such as terrorism and cyber security, nuclear proliferation and weapons of mass destruction, piracy and global pandemics, sovereignty and the use of force, and civil liberties and the rule of law. Students will also acquire skills such as critical thinking, writing, briefing, and analysis techniques specifically tailored for the national security field, but applicable in many others. Whether students are interested in counterterrorism, homeland security, intelligence gathering and analysis, foreign relations, law and politics, diplomacy, or international development, the NSS certificate of proficiency will provide insight and skills needed to succeed in these professions.

Forensic Science - Forensic Laboratory Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The Forensic Laboratory Emphasis within the BS in Forensic Science will provide students with a comprehensive science-based undergraduate education, which enables students to enter into a forensic science career. This emphasis will provide the necessary technical and theoretical knowledge, skills, and abilities of modern forensic techniques. Students will employ the theoretical and practical principles of chemistry, biology, physics, and mathematics in order to perform forensic science work commonly conducted within a crime laboratory. Science-based study and application of these principles will expose students to a stimulating academic environment conducive to scholarly inquiry. Students will gain the knowledge and ability for research-based projects and for potential improvement of the forensic community. Throughout this program, students will utilize effective written and oral communication skills required of forensic experts, as well as demonstrate work ethic, professional demeanor, reliability, and proper interpersonal skills.

National Security Studies, B.A.

Requirements

The BA/BS in National Security Studies (NSS) will provide an interdisciplinary program that prepares students for public and private sector national security careers through acquisition of subject matter expertise and analytical skills. This baccalaureate degree program will expose students to the wide variety of critically important security challenges and issues faced in the twenty-first century such as: terrorism and cyber security, nuclear proliferation and weapons of mass destruction, piracy and global pandemics, sovereignty and the use of force, and civil liberties and the rule of law. Students will also acquire skills such as critical thinking, writing, briefing, and analysis techniques specifically tailored for the national security field, but applicable in many others. Whether students are interested in counterterrorism, homeland security, intelligence gathering and analysis, foreign relations, law and politics, diplomacy, or international development, the NSS BA/BS will provide insight and skills needed to succeed in these professions.

Culinary Arts, A.A.S.

Requirements

The Culinary Arts Institute (CAI) at UVU provides premier training for students interested in a career in professional cooking or baking. The program offers small, hands-on classes, focusing on individualized attention and development. The Culinary Arts Institute provides experience, through “engage” industry based learning.

The Culinary Arts Institutes comprehensive course of study covers several service areas; including not only learning how to cook and bake, but key requirement to success such as; customer service, business and finance management, marketing and advertising. CAI students learn how to apply these skills to a variety of food service establishments and operations. The practical and theoretical instruction covers such areas as food service safety and sanitation, professional dining room service, menu planning, nutrition and purchasing-storeroom management procedures.

While studying Culinary Arts at UVU, students gain a solid understanding of the food and beverage industry and learn the newest techniques in food and baking production using state-of-the-art equipment in our kitchen labs. The CAI also applies real world training as students run, full service, fine dining operations at Restaurant Forte, located in the UCCU Center and the Canyon Park Café located the Culinary Arts Institute in North Orem. These industry based learning models allow students to work with a wide range of foods while directly interacting with the public. In order to get the full breadth of running their own food service establishment, students work in a variety of functions including waiting tables, purchasing, preparing food, hosting, and supervising as the head chef.

Cybersecurity, Graduate Certificate

Requirements

The Graduate Certificate in Cybersecurity at Utah Valley University is a post-baccalaureate program for students who wish to complete advanced studies in the field of cybersecurity. This program is designed to provide students with advanced technical and managerial knowledge of cybersecurity, preparing them for senior technical and leadership roles in the field. Coursework includes a balanced approach, combining critical analysis of cybersecurity theory with hands-on education for essential applied cybersecurity techniques and tools.
The program takes two semesters to complete the 18 credits of graduate level courses. Courses include cybersecurity operations, advanced network defense, cybersecurity management, case studies, secure coding, ethical hacking, and the legal and privacy implications of cybersecurity.

To be successful, students should have a strong background in technology. Students should have completed undergraduate work in a related field or have applicable work experience. For those who do not meet this requirement, select undergraduate courses are available to provide the foundational knowledge needed. Please contact the academic advisor for more information.

Digital Cinema, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

Digital Media (DGM) fuses both fundamental theory and practical application in the production of electronically-generated content to be delivered via internet, radio and television, digital cinema, computer games, animation and cinematic visual effects, as well as for emerging technologies such as mobile computing (hand-held computing devices). The curriculum integrates these digital mediums to entertain, educate, and communicate ideas through meaningful human interaction. DGM provides motivated and dedicated students the opportunity to work closely with professionally active faculty members committed to the future of the digital disciplines. Students in Digital Media may earn either a Certificate of Proficiency in Digital Cinema, Associate in Applied Science Degree, or a Bachelor of Science Degree. Areas of emphasis include: Digital Communication Technology, Audio Production, Digital Motion Picture Production, Gaming and Animation, Internet Technologies.

Digital Cinema Production, B.S.

Requirements

The BS degrees in Digital Cinema Production trains students in the development, production, and post-production process of filmed media content for a variety of platforms. Using a hands-on, practical approach, students learn the tools, equipment, technologies, software, and protocols that are used on sets and post-production facilities, large and small, throughout the world. The curriculum focuses on creating character driven stories and how to use emerging digital technologies to enhance storytelling. Advanced students can choose to focus their study on different skill-sets within the digital cinema production process including, but not limited to, directing for digital cinema, writing for digital cinema, cinematography, production, post-production, documentary, and sports broadcasting.

4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements.

Geographic Information Systems, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Geographic Information Systems (GIS) provides students with a focused program of study in the fundamentals required to succeed in a wide range of careers in geospatial science. GIS includes the hardware, software, and data required to capture, store, display, and analyze geographically referenced information. Students in the certificate program learn the theory and methodology of geospatial data collection, storage and management, interpretation, and visualization through courses in cartography, remote sensing, GIS theory and applications, and geospatial field methods. In directed class projects students apply geospatial data techniques to real-world problems while gaining firsthand experience in project design and management.

Geography, Minor

Requirements

The Minor in Geography allows students to focus on either of the major sub-disciplines of geography, namely physical geography or human geography, or to follow a broad curriculum in geography. The minor will also overlap with the coursework required of students seeking a Utah state teaching endorsement in geography.

Earth Science Education, B.S.

Requirements

Earth Science is the study of the Earth, including its water and atmosphere, and their relationship to humans and other living things. Earth Science applies chemistry, physics, mathematics and biology to scientific problems of the Earth. The Earth Science Education program prepares students to receive a Utah State teaching credential with an endorsement in Earth Science. Through careful choice of courses, students may also earn endorsements in the other physical sciences.

Total Program Credits: 121

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Complete the following courses: GEO 1010, GEO 1015, MATH 1050 or MATH 1055, MATH 1060, BIOL 1610 with a grade of "C" or higher in each.
2. Complete a minimum of 30 semester hours of college credit.
3. Apply to the department of Earth Science for admission.

Secondary Education Requirements:

1. ACT exam minimums: Composite 21, English 20, Math 19; or SAT exam minimums: Critical Read /Math 1000, with Math and Reading scores of 450; or If student has a bachelor degree or higher, he/she does not need to meet this testing requirement.
2. GPA of 3.0 or higher with no grade lower than a C in content area courses.
3. Completion of all General Education requirements and the majority of content area courses.
4. Pass LiveScan Criminal Background Check.

Environmental Science and Management, B.S.

Requirements

Environmental Science is the study of the Earth's surface, including its water and atmosphere, with a particular focus on their relationship to humans and other living things. Environmental Science applies chemistry, physics, mathematics and biology to answer questions about the Earth and its interrelationships with living things. Environmental Management focuses on the maintenance of environmental resources, for example water resources. Environmental scientists may conduct studies in the field, in the laboratory using advanced analytical equipment, and in the office using specialized computer software. The program is preparation for a variety of career paths, including water monitoring, treatment, and pollution control with local, state or federal agencies; environmental consulting with private industry; and other careers that draw on a background in the natural sciences, including law, public policy, and public health.

Geography, B.S.

Requirements

Geography is the study of the earth's places, peoples, environments and their interrelationships from both the physical and social science perspectives. Geographers use many different scientific tools to study the relationships between earth's systems including geospatial technology and are employed in public agencies, local governments, federal offices, technology sectors, business planning, and careers related to spatial planning. The Bachelor of Science in Geography provides students with a program of study in the fundamentals of geography and prepares them to succeed as geographers as well as in many other careers related to geography. Students learn theories and methods of analysis related to land use and land cover change, urbanization, sustainability, human-environment interactions, and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) technology through the core courses of the program. Through elective courses, students can choose to further focus their studies on physical sciences, social sciences, and/or geospatial techniques to meet their career goals.

Geology, B.S.

Requirements

Geology is the study of the Earth, including its water and atmosphere, and its relationship to humans and other living things. Geology applies chemistry, physics, mathematics and biology to answer questions about the Earth. Geologists conduct studies in the field, in the laboratory using advanced analytical equipment, and in the office using specialized computer software. Geology is particularly focused on the Earth's history, resources, hazards and resources including groundwater. Sub-disciplines of geology include economic geology, geochemistry, geologic hazards, geomorphology, hydrogeology, petrology, and tectonics. A B.S. in geology is preparation for a variety of career paths, including hazard assessment with government or private companies, ground and surface water monitoring and development, oil and gas, mining, and many other careers that draw on a background in the natural earth, including law, public policy, and public health; the program is also excellent preparation for graduate school.

Dual Language Immersion, Endorsement

Requirements

The Dual Language Immersion (DLI) Endorsement program is designed to prepare teachers to be sensitive and responsive to the needs of dual language immersion (DLI) learners and to become advocates for DLI in a variety of educational settings. Coursework is designed to address historical and political foundations of DLI education and methods and materials for engaging DLI students in challenging educational experiences. The UVU endorsement program is intended to provide educators with an opportunity to develop, expand, and integrate their knowledge of content, pedagogy, and cultural perspectives in dual language immersion education. Completed program coursework qualifies students to apply to the Utah State Office of Education for an endorsement to their current Utah Teaching License. USBE Education Endorsements are provided through the school district. UVU will accept up to 12 endorsement credits to apply toward a UVU M.Ed. Emphasis program.

Total Program Credits: 15

| Discipline Core Requirements: | | | 15 Credits |
|---|---|---|---|

Educational Leadership, Graduate Certificate

Requirements

The Graduate Certificate for Educational Leadership in UVU's School of Education (SOE) is designed to align with the current Ed Leadership emphasis in the M.Ed. The certificate will meet the needs of candidates who have previously completed a master's degree (M.Ed) and now wish to prepare as potential administrative and instructional school leaders for Utah's schools. Curriculum for this option will be based on the standards for administrative/supervisory endorsement from the Utah State Office of Education (USOE), and the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC). The grad certificate program will be formatted to meet the needs of adult learners, with courses offered in the evenings and in blended and online formats, but will not require them to retake core courses previously completed. The administrative/ supervisory certificate will prepare leaders for 21st century schools in the areas of curriculum, instruction, and human resource administration. Course objectives will emphasize performance of school and classroom leadership functions, functional knowledge of local, state, and national educational agencies and regulations, demonstrated competencies in administrative skills, and applied understandings of current research around effective teaching, theories of learning, and educational policy. Candidates will be required to complete supervised internship work that is required by Utah code.

Master of Education - Applied Behavioral Analysis Emphasis, M.Ed.

Requirements

The Master of Education Degree (M.Ed.) at Utah Valley University is an applied master's program aimed at building the instructional skills and professional competency of teachers. Currently there are twelve emphases for participants: Applied Behavioral Analysis; Educational Leadership; Educational Technology; Elementary Mathematics; Elementary STEM, English as a Second Language (ESL), Gifted and Talented Education, Higher Education Leadership, Reading I, School Counseling, Secondary Teaching and Teacher Leadership. The M.Ed. program emphasizes coursework that prepares teachers to become instructional leaders, with classes in advanced pedagogy, subject matter content, curriculum design, and assessment. Core coursework in research methods is required of participants in all options, however, students select a topic for a culminating project according to their interest or area of licensure in K-12 education.

Total Program Credits: 35

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Application for admission.
2. Bachelor degree from an accredited institution.
3. Overall grade point average in undergraduate work of 3.0 or higher or have a grade point average of 3.0 or higher for the last 60 semester hours of college or university credit.
4. Interview with School of Education Graduate Committee.
5. Three professional letters of recommendation.

Preference will be given to individuals who have at least one year of successful teaching experience in grades K-12. A one-year internship will count as the preferred year of successful teaching.
Preference will be given to practicing teachers who have access to an established classroom.

Master of Education - English as a Second Language Emphasis, M.Ed.

Requirements

The Master of Education Degree (M.Ed.) at Utah Valley University is an applied master's program aimed at building the instructional skills and professional competency of teachers. Currently there are twelve emphases for participants: Applied Behavioral Analysis; Educational Leadership; Educational Technology; Elementary Mathematics; Elementary STEM, English as a Second Language (ESL), Gifted and Talented Education, Higher Education Leadership, Reading I, School Counseling, Secondary Teaching and Teacher Leadership. The M.Ed. program emphasizes coursework that prepares teachers to become instructional leaders, with classes in advanced pedagogy, subject matter content, curriculum design, and assessment. Core coursework in research methods is required of participants in all options, however, students select a topic for a culminating project according to their interest or area of licensure in K-12 education. Students who have completed the appropriate USBE endorsement through a UVU approved district endorsement program will be admitted to this endorsement emphasis. All endorsement courses must have been completed within three years of admission to the M.Ed. Endorsement Emphasis to comply with the five-year limit on acceptable coursework. UVU will accept up to 12 endorsement credits and an additional 24 credits will be earned through UVU.

Total Program Credits: 30

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Application for admission.
2. Bachelor degree from an accredited institution.
3. Overall grade point average in undergraduate work of 3.0 or higher or have a grade point average of 3.0 or higher for the last 60 semester hours of college or university credit.
4. Interview with School of Education Graduate Committee.
5. Three professional letters of recommendation.

Preference will be given to individuals who have at least one year of successful teaching experience in grades K-12. A one-year internship will count as the preferred year of successful teaching.
Preference will be given to practicing teachers who have access to an established classroom.

Reading I, Endorsement

Requirements

The Reading Endorsement Program (REP) is designed to prepare teachers to be responsive to current scientific-reading research for teaching reading and to become advocates for reading research in the educational setting. Coursework is designed to address historical and political foundations of reading education and methods and materials for engaging students in challenging educational experiences. The UVU endorsement program is intended to provide educators with an opportunity to develop, expand, and integrate their knowledge of cognition, content, pedagogy, and cultural perspectives in their curriculum. Completed program coursework qualifies students to apply to the Utah State Office of Education for an endorsement to their current Utah Teaching License. USBE Education Endorsements are provided through the school district. UVU will accept up to 12 endorsement credits to apply toward a UVU M.Ed. Emphasis program.

Secondary Teaching, Graduate Certificate

Requirements

The Graduate Certificate in Secondary Teaching is designed for individuals who have earned a bachelor's degree. They must have completed coursework in one of the teaching major subject areas for secondary education approved by the Utah State Board of Education (USBE) prior to admission into either program. The primary goal of the program will be to ensure that teacher candidates, through support, supervision, and evaluation, can demonstrate and apply the competencies required by the USBE for teacher licensure. Includes the basic coursework and field experiences required of all teacher candidates for an initial teaching license, ensuring that competencies in both subject knowledge and pedagogy are met.

Total Program Credits: 29

| Matriculation Requirements: |
|---|
| Requirements for admission to the Graduate Certificate in Secondary Teaching (GCST) program would include the following:1. Verification of a bachelor's degree from an accredited university in a recognized content major (or with equivalent coursework) in a discipline taught in Utah secondary schools and for which UVU can recommend a secondary teaching license. Any coursework required by the Utah State Board of Education (USBE) for a content major* must be completed with a grade of C or higher prior to admission into the GCST program.2. A cumulative GPA of 3.0 or a GPA of 3.0 for the last 60 credits of university coursework.3. Passing scores from the Praxis II [subject-area test(s)] as required by the USBE.4. Successful completion of a background check through USBE.* Students will have completed a content-specific methods course prior to admission into the program. These courses are not offered in the School of Education, but in the appropriate content areas across the University. The following courses would be examples.• ART 3500 Secondary Art Education Methods I WE (1.0)• ART 3510 Secondary Art Education Methods II WE(3.0)• ENGL 4210 Methods in Teaching Literacy I (3.0)• ENGL 4220 Methods in Teaching Literacy II (3.0)• ENGL 4230 Methods in Teaching Literacy III Teaching the Conventions of Writing (3.0)• GEO 4200 Teaching Methods in Science (3.0)• PHYS 4200 Teaching Methods in Science (3.0)• CHEM 4200 Teaching Methods in Science (3.0)• BIOL 4200 Teaching Methods in Science (3.0)• LANG 4200 Methods of Teaching a Foreign Language (3.0) |

Graduation Requirements:

1. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above, with completion of each Emergency Services class with a C- or higher.
2. Completion of a minimum of 32 credits.
3. Residency hours -- Minimum of 10 credits required through course attendance at UVU.

Note: CERTIFICATION: Upon completion of courses for the Basic Recruit Certificate, students are eligible to apply for certification at the Firefighter I, Firefighter II, Hazardous Materials First Responder-Awareness and Hazardous Materials First Responder-Operations levels through the Utah Fire Science Certification System. Students are also eligible for certification at the Emergency Medical Technician-Basic level through the Utah Bureau of Emergency Medical Services.

Paramedic, Certificate of Completion

Requirements

Our degree provides our students with the knowledge, skills and abilities to assist them in obtaining a job in Emergency Services, or if already employed, to give them the knowledge, skills and abilities to advance in their careers.

Total Program Credits: 31

Matriculation Requirements:

1. Complete Anatomy and Physiology (transfer credit accepted) with a grade of C or higher: ZOOL 1090 (requires BIOL 1010 as a pre-req) or ZOOL 2320 and 2420 with labs (requires BIOL 1610 and CHEM 1110 as pre-req).
2. Meet the English requirement: Placement into ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005 or higher with valid test scores, (Completion of ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005 highly recommended).
3. Meet the Math requirement: Completion of MAT 0950 with a grade of C- or higher, or placement into MAT 1000 or higher valid test scores, (Completion of QL Requirement highly recommended).
4. Possess a current Utah EMT certification (MUST REMAIN VALID THROUGH THE COURSE)
5. Have current CPR certification.
6. Successful completion of criminal background requirements (UVU and State of Utah Bureau of Emergency Medical Services).
7. Be at least 18 years old and have a valid driver's license.
8. Have current vaccinations as required by Utah Bureau of EMS. (Additional vaccinations may be required for clinical site internships)
9. Have current TB test results as required by Utah Bureau of EMS.
10. Obtain a current physical examination supporting entrance into the Paramedic Program.
11. Complete UVU paramedic application process, including written testing, oral interview, passing of background and drug screening \testing, and be accepted to the program.

| | ESEC 4230 | Paramedic VIII-Practical Preparation and Testing | 3 |
| | ESEC 4240 | Paramedic Capstone | 3 |

Graduation Requirements:

1. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. (Departments may require a higher GPA.) Upon completion of the course requirements and recommendation from the Medical Director, Program Director and Utah Bureau of Emergency Services Course Coordinator, students are eligible to apply for certification as an Emergency Medical Technician/Paramedic through the National Registry EMT and the Utah Bureau of Emergency Medical Services.
2. Completion of a minimum of 31 credits.
3. Overall course GPA of 2.7 or higher.
4. Residency hours -- Minimum of 10 credits required through course attendance at UVU.

Emergency Services Administration - Emergency Care Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

A degree in emergency services prepares practicing and future emergency service professionals through a program that balances technical skills, critical and ethical thinking, leadership, and effective communication. The department's programs address multiple emergency service educational needs, from professional certifications to degrees.

Degrees & Programs

Associate in Pre-Engineering - Biological and Chemical Engineering Emphasis, A.P.E.

Requirements

The pre-engineering program at UVU has been created for students who plan to complete the first two to three years of their engineering education at UVU and then transfer to a baccalaureate university to complete their engineering degree. With adequate planning, pre-engineering coursework completed at UVU will transfer to all of the Utah universities with baccalaureate engineering degrees. All students who declare pre-engineering as their major are automatically accepted into pre-engineering status. After completion of the pre-engineering program at UVU, the student applies for professional status at an institution of the student's choice.

2. Overall grade point average of 2.0 (C) or above. 2.5 or above in Math, Science, and Engineering
3. Residency hours -- minimum of 20 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.
4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements.

Associate in Pre-Engineering - Computer and Electrical Engineering Emphasis, A.P.E.

Requirements

The pre-engineering program at UVU has been created for students who plan to complete the first two to three years of their engineering education at UVU and then transfer to a baccalaureate university to complete their engineering degree. With adequate planning, pre-engineering coursework completed at UVU will transfer to all of the Utah universities with baccalaureate engineering degrees. All students who declare pre-engineering as their major are automatically accepted into pre-engineering status. After completion of the pre-engineering program at UVU, the student applies for professional status at an institution of the student's choice.

Civil Engineering, B.S.

Requirements

Civil engineering is the oldest engineering discipline. The Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering prepares graduates to apply mathematical and scientific principles to the design and supervision of infrastructure components including: buildings, roads, bridges, dams, tunnels, mass transit systems, and airports. Civil engineers are also involved in environmental studies and the design and supervision of municipal water supplies and sewage systems.

Electrical Engineering, B.S.

Requirements

A Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering provides a broad foundation in electrical engineering through combined classroom and laboratory work and prepares students for entering the profession of electrical engineering as well as further study at the graduate level. The core courses will provide students with a strong background in mathematics, physical science, and fundamentals of engineering.

3. Residency hours - minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU. 10 of these hours must be within the last 45 hours earned. At least 12 of the credit hours earned in residence must be in approved CS + ECE courses.
4. All transfer credit must be approved in writing by UVU and the electrical engineering program coordinator.
5. No more than 80 semester hours and no more than 20 hours in CS and ECE courses of transfer credit.
6. No more than 6 semester hours may be earned through independent study.
7. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.
8. Taking Fundamentals of Engineering (FE) (NCEES - Electrical and Computer Engineering) exam.

Mechanical Engineering, B.S.

Requirements

Mechanical engineering, which has evolved over the years as new technologies have emerged, is one of the broadest engineering disciplines. The Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering prepares graduates to apply mathematical and scientific principles to the design, development, testing, and manufacturing of machines, robots, tools, biomedical devices, power generating equipment such as steam and gas turbines, wind turbines, solar systems, internal combustion engines, and heating, cooling, and refrigeration equipment.

Total Program Credits: 126

| Matriculation Requirements: |
|---|
| 1. To be admitted to the BSME program, a student must complete the foundation courses in Mathematics (MATH 1210, 1220, 2210, 2250); Physics (PHYS 2210, 2215, 2220, 2225); Chemistry (CHEM 1210, 1215); English (ENGH 1005 or ENGL 1010, 2010); and Engineering (ENGR 1000, 1030, 2010, 2030, 2140, 2160, 2450) with a minimum grade of C.2. Students need a grade point average of 2.5 or above.3. A student not meeting all of the admission requirements, may request in writing, a provisional admission status for a semester from the department. The provisional admission status must be approved by the mechanical engineering program coordinator. |

Automation and Electrical Technology, A.S.

Requirements

The EART program prepares Electrical Automation Technicians to troubleshoot, wire, repair, adapt, maintain, program (PLC's & PAC's), and control large automated electrical systems found in Industrial and Manufacturing Industries worldwide. The EART Technician will work with DC & AC motor controlled machines; Programmable Logic Controlled (PLC's) and Programmable Automation Controlled (PAC's) machines, systems, and devices; Hydraulic and pneumatic controlled machines; conveyor, fluid, and bulk storage systems; flex, soft start, and variable frequency drives; Robots; servo, and stepper motors. Because of their highly skilled hands on training the EART student is in high demand from many industries.

Mechatronics Engineering Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The Mechatronics Engineering Technology Degree from Utah Valley University prepares graduates to work in the Utah manufacturing sector as an automation technologist, design technician, PLC programmer, as well as many other aspects of implementing manufacturing systems. Students complete courses in PLC programming and architecture, materials, CAD, electrical and mechanical components, pneumatics, and motor control. Students will also take courses in technical writing, physics, chemistry, and business to round out their professional profile.

Electrical and Control Technology CA, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Electrical and Control Technology CA prepares technicians and technologists to troubleshoot, wire, repair, adapt, install, and maintain electrical and industrial motor control equipment found in many local industries. Knowledge and experience are gained through theory and engaging “hands on” labs that prepare graduates to work safely around industrial and commercial electrical equipment. Electrical DC and AC theory, transformers, circuits, wiring, motors, motor controls, relay logic, logic gates, and the National Electrical Code for commercial and industrial systems is emphasized. Skills are developed in troubleshooting, testing, and analyzing electrical circuits. This is the first employable step in the exciting career path of working with electrically automated equipment.

English with an Emphasis in Technical Communication, A.A.

Requirements

UVU's English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others' "different" voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

Cinema and Media Studies, Minor

Requirements

Cinema Studies focuses on analyzing film and the screen arts as some of the most important cultural productions of the twenty-first century. Students approach movies as cultural texts and gain an understanding of the social, political, historical, and industrial contexts that produce cinema. The minor broadens students' knowledge of how these texts shape and are shaped by culture. As an interdisciplinary program, cinema studies draws on faculty expertise from various disciplines and includes global and historical perspectives. The minor also builds personal knowledge and professional competencies.

English Literary Studies, Minor

Requirements

UVU's English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others' "different" voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

English - Literary Studies Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

UVU's English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others' "different" voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

English Education, B.S.

Requirements

UVU's English program is designed to give students skill, confidence, and versatility in writing, speaking, and interpreting texts. The program provides opportunities for students to consider and practice the applications of effective language use in diverse situations: professional, pragmatic, social, political, and aesthetic. The English program emphasizes knowledge and use of standard English in all written work, yet incorporates an understanding that English is a desirably diverse and variable phenomenon. The courses of study in English are designed to familiarize students with much of the traditional canon of literature. They are also designed to provide students with the critical and ethical skills necessary to interrogate this canon, to incorporate and legitimize their own and others' "different" voices, not just in the academy, but in any of the many situations in which language influences human activity.

Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation - Exercise Science Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

The Exercise Science curriculum has been designed to address student needs and current market demands. Through practical experiences in laboratory settings using state of the art equipment such as the Biodex S4, students are exposed to real life rehabilitation experiences as well as researching functional abilities and performance aspects of collegiate athletes. Additional classroom and lab experiences allow students to conduct 3-D motion analysis, measure muscle activity using wireless EMG technology, and analyze gait patterns using the GaitRite System, as well as conducting assessments to determine maximum oxygen uptake (VO2 Max), body composition, and anaerobic power.

Exercise Science and Outdoor Recreation - Exercise Science Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The Exercise Science curriculum has been designed to address student needs and current market demands. Through practical experiences in laboratory settings using state of the art equipment such as the Biodex S4, students are exposed to real life rehabilitation experiences as well as researching functional abilities and performance aspects of collegiate athletes. Additional classroom and lab experiences allow students to conduct 3-D motion analysis, measure muscle activity using wireless EMG technology, and analyze gait patterns using the GaitRite System, as well as conducting assessments to determine maximum oxygen uptake (VO2 Max), body composition, and anaerobic power.

Financial Planning, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

This certificate adds to the Woodbury School of Business flexibility to meet the needs of individuals seeking to complete the educational requirement to sit for the Certified Financial Planning Board's professional accreditation. It provides the required seven courses in a residential setting for individuals who already have a bachelor degree but lack these required courses. It will supplement the existing bachelor program in Personal Financial Planning and the online seven course program the Woodbury School of Business currently offers in collaboration with Dalton Education.

Economics, B.A.

Requirements

The Bachelor degree in economics at WSB is designed to give graduates the analytic and quantitative skills to be effective business decision makers as well as to understand basic economic theory and application that can be useful should they choose to continue graduate studies in economics or related disciplines. Historically, graduates with economics degrees who go on to legal studies, an MBA, or other related professional degrees do significantly better than students from other disciplines. Students with language skills may take an appropriate range of academic courses and obtain a Bachelor of Arts degree.

American Studies, Minor

Requirements

American Studies provides students with an interdisciplinary approach to the study of American cultures. Through examination of historical, religious, and literary texts, political institutions, popular culture, film, art, and the physical landscape, students will explore how Americans create meaning in their lives and make sense of the world in which they live. By encouraging students to approach their majors from the perspective of several overlapping disciplines, American Studies courses will foster deeper critical thinking and broader contextualization.

Constitutional Studies, Minor

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the “queen of the sciences.” It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

History, Minor

Requirements

UVU's History Program is dedicated to developing the twenty-first century student. We provide the general student body a broad range of courses that increase global awareness, engagement and informed citizenship, as well as develop critical thinking, writing, and oral expression. In addition, History majors can choose from a large number of in-depth upper division courses that further their content knowledge and expand their abilities to critically analyze past and current events in a variety of regions and nations. In all courses, students and faculty observe the human experience by investigating the diverse historical perspectives of the past and present. History faculty endeavor to teach in ways that foster independent thinking, engage the students with historical conversations and debates, and improve students' ability to communicate in a variety of media. Students who successfully complete our programs will have a valuable set of skills for further study in graduate and professional programs, and careers in public service or private enterprise.

Political Science - American Government Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the “queen of the sciences.” It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

Political Science - Global Politics Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the “queen of the sciences.” It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

Political Science - Peace and Justice Studies Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Political science enjoys a central position among the social sciences. Aristotle characterized politics as the “queen of the sciences.” It is a broad discipline that encompasses philosophical, historical and analytical studies of governments, politics and policies. Political science students learn not only the concepts, theories and methods associated with the discipline, but also gain the cognitive and presentational skills required of tomorrow’s public and private leaders. At its core, politics is about building and maintaining communities at the local, state, national and international levels that enable citizens to live enriching and fulfilling lives. Political science students develop not only an understanding of those communities, but also the ability to influence them.

Information Systems and Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The two-year AAS in Information Systems and Technology is designed to help students develop job-ready computer skills to meet today's industry needs. Students complete a foundational core in programming, database, web application design, data communication, and networking. After that, students select a specialization in either Information Systems or Information Technology to complete a focused set of courses to obtain more in-depth knowledge and skills for a variety of computer-related jobs. If planned carefully with an advisor, this program provides a smooth, stackable pathway to the B.S. in Information Systems degree or the B.S. in Information Technology degree at UVU.

Information Systems - Business Intelligence Systems Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The BS in Information Systems program prepares students to be Information Systems professionals. Graduates develop and deploy enterprise-level systems to meet organizational needs. The Business Intelligence Systems (BIS) emphasis prepares graduates to become business intelligence analysts who produce financial and marketing intelligence by querying data repositories, generating reports, and devising methods for identifying data patterns and trends. Organizations store an enormous amount of data. People who are able to perform data mining and can analyze the data to detect trends and form predictions are highly sought by national and regional organizations.

Information Systems - Healthcare Information Systems Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

The healthcare industry relies heavily on information systems to store patient information so that medical professionals can analyze the data. Information systems professionals who specialize in HIS find exciting careers. The BS in Information Systems program prepares students to be Information Systems professionals. Graduates develop and deploy enterprise-level systems to meet organizational needs. Students who graduate with the Healthcare Information Systems (HIS) emphasis will use their knowledge of information technology and records management to form the links among health-care professionals and administrations and information technology professionals.

Information Technology - Computer Forensics and Security Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Electronic data is often used as evidence in court. Forensic specialists learn how to identify, preserve, and extract data from electronic devices, such as computers and smart phones. The Bachelor of Science in Information Technology (IT) degree prepares students to install, manage, and maintain the computing infrastructure on which organizational systems run. The Computer Forensics and Security emphasis provides students with a solid foundation for employment by government or corporate sector to work in a computer forensics lab as a forensic analyst or in information security.

Information Technology - Network Administration and Security Emphasis, B.S.

Requirements

Every organization uses some form of information technology to perform its operations. The Bachelor of Science in Information Technology (IT) degree prepares students to install, manage, and maintain the computing infrastructure on which organizational systems run. The Network Administration and Security emphasis prepares students to work as data communication consultants, information security analysts, and network administrators. The core of the BS IT program prepares students to have a strong foundation in computer architecture, data communication, information security, networks, and system administration.

Deaf Studies, Minor

Requirements

In the Deaf Studies minor, students will examine elements of what culturally-Deaf people in America have traditionally called "the Deaf-World" with special attention to the framework of meaning from within which culturally-Deaf people interpret what it means to be Deaf. This minor challenges students to approach cultural descriptions critically, and provides a historical, cultural, and linguistic foundation.

Latin American Studies, Minor

Requirements

The minor in Latin American Studies (LAS) provides a comprehensive and interdisciplinary understanding of Latin American and Latino culture, history, and language. This is particularly important for preparing UVU students to be fully competitive in the global marketplace since two of the top ten trading partners of the United States, Mexico and Brazil, are located in Latin America. Students learn to comprehend the unique geographical and historical complexities of Latin America and its place in the world, as well as the multifaceted cultural backgrounds of their fellow students whose families are from that vast area. A minor in LAS complements a diverse number of majors giving our students the opportunity to prepare for a future working with either Utah's growing Latino population or beyond the state pursuing opportunities abroad.

Deaf Studies - General Deaf Studies Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

This four-year degree is a liberal arts degree that provides in-depth study into all facets of the Deaf-World. Students choose among two emphases. There is no special application process, but students should declare their major by contacting the academic advisor for the Languages Department.

This emphasis provides an opportunity for students to gain advanced ASL skills and thorough knowledge of the Deaf-World. Graduates with this emphasis will be prepared to work in various fields related to deafness. They will also work in fields that are not specifically tied to the Deaf-World but which require the skills and knowledge cultivated through the acquisition of any liberal arts degree. This emphasis is also terrific preparation for graduate school in any number of disciplines.

Deaf Studies - Interpreting Emphasis, B.A.

Requirements

This four-year degree is a liberal arts degree that provides in-depth study into all facets of the Deaf-World. Students choose among two emphases. There is no special application process, but students should declare their major by contacting the academic advisor for the Languages Department.

Emphasis #2: Interpreting:
This emphasis provides an opportunity for students and focuses on helping them to gain interpreting skills and certification. There is currently an intense shortage of interpreters for the Deaf across the United States. UVU offers two distinct programs to prepare students to enter the interpreting profession: The Novice-Level Interpreter Preparation Program (NLIPP) and the Advanced Certification Interpreter Preparation Program (ACIPP). These programs can accommodate students of any skill level and courses fit right into the Deaf Studies degree requirements.

Marketing, Minor

Requirements

The Marketing Department offers students three different tracks in the marketing minor, each providing a theoretical and in-depth professional preparation in the field. The first is the Marketing Management track, which provides a broad base of experiential classes and the most flexibility in scheduling for employed students. The second is the Digital Marketing track, which provides courses in internet marketing, social media, and web analytics. The newest track is Professional Selling, which prepares students for a career in sales with courses in personal selling, sales management, and sales analytics. Whichever track is chosen, a professional internship is highly encouraged.

Master of Science - Mathematics Education, M.S.

Requirements

The Master of Science in Mathematics Education (MS-MEd) is designed for individuals interested in strengthening their understanding of mathematics, statistics, and educational theory and practice in order to enrich their own teaching of mathematics and statistics. Completion of the program will also qualify individuals to teach concurrent enrollment courses and to teach at some community colleges and universities. For college-level academic concurrent enrollment (dual-credit) courses, the Utah Valley University Mathematics Department requires that instructors have a master's or doctoral degree with 18 graduate hours in mathematics or statistics. However, the MS-MEd does not lead to a teaching license. The program is flexible to serve the needs of in-service teachers.

Total Program Credits: 30

Graduation Requirements:

1. Completion of a minimum of 30 credits.
2. Overall grade point average of 3.0 (B) or above.
3. Residency hours -- minimum of 21 credit hours through course attendance at UVU.
4. Courses and project requirements must be finished within a five-year period. No courses will apply toward graduation which are older than five years.
5. Individual grade of C or higher in all coursework applied toward the degree.

Mathematics, Graduate Certificate

Requirements

The Graduate Certificate in Mathematics aims to improve mathematics education and student achievement by focusing on two specific research-supported areas. First, by delivering high-quality content-based knowledge critical to student achievement, and second, by targeting in-service teachers who desire to teach dual credit in high school, given that dual-credit/dual-enrollment students are more likely to persist in college and are more likely to complete a bachelor's degree in less time than those who did not attempt college credits in high school. Graduate courses for this program will be available to match in-service teacher's schedules—evenings and during summer sessions—taught on the main campus and live-interactive by Utah Valley University's full-time faculty.

Nursing, ASN

Requirements

The UVU Nursing Program is a student-centered engaged learning experience where faculty facilitates learning nursing care through simulation and patient care. The Associate in Science in Nursing w/ BSN Completion (ASN) program prepares the graduate to function individually as a member of the healthcare team in structured healthcare settings in which clients have common health problems. Acceptance into the ASN program is by a competitive, point-based application process. Prerequisite courses must be completed before applying to the program. For more information on applying to the ASN program see our website at www.uvu.edu/nursing or contact the Pre-Nursing advisors in LC 404 at 863-6484. After completing the 4 semesters of the ASN program, students would be eligible to graduate with an ASN and apply to take the NCLEX-RN exam. Graduates of the ASN program would be eligible to remain in the program, and seamlessly transition to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) portion of the program. BSN completion takes an additional 2 full time semesters if students have also completed all the GE requirements, ZOOL 4400, and MATH 1040 or MATH 2040.

Nursing, B.S.

Requirements

A bachelor of science in nursing degree prepares students to practice across all types of health care settings. A BSN provides the greatest opportunity for advancement in the nursing field. A BSN is also required for entry into most graduate nursing programs including nurse practitioner, certified nurse anesthetist, nursing educator, or nurse researcher. Students interested in the BSN would first need to complete the ASN program. Acceptance into the ASN program is by a competitive, point-based application process. Prerequisite courses must be completed before applying to the program. For more information on applying to the ASN program see ou website at www.uvu.edu/nursing or contact the Pre-Nursing advisors in LC 404 at 863-6484. After completing the 4 semesters of the ASN program, students would be eligible to graduate with an ASN and apply to take the NCLEX-RN exam. Graduates of the ASN program would be eligible to remain in the program, and seamlessly transition to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) portion of the program. The BSN at UVU is a completion program and students who are not entering directly from the UVU ASN program must be licensed RNs prior to admission. For more information on entering the program if you are already an RN see the RN to BSN program at www.uvu.edu/nursing.

Human Resource Management, B.A.

Requirements

The HRM program will provide students with practical and applied skills, experience in applying those skills, and a variety of intellectual tools to prepare them for HRM careers in business, government, and non-profit organizations. The proposed classes, engaged pedagogy, and instructors will aim to prepare students for staffing organizations, setting and advising procedures for recruitment, interview, and placement. Additionally, students will be prepared for carrying out disciplinary action, tracking leave and absences, and ensuring the health, safety, and development of organizational employees. HR graduates will also be prepared to advise company management on labor law issues.

Humanities, A.A.

Requirements

The discipline of humanities is the study of human intellectual and artistic creativity and what the resulting artistic forms reveal about the human experience. This field of study draws on other disciplines such as history, fine arts, literature, intellectual history, music, foreign languages, theology, and philosophy to see how the several artistic forms communicate and work together to give an in-depth record of the meaning of human life in the past and present. The discipline also emphasizes the relationship between the arts, culture, and society. A background in humanities is helpful in preparing for employment in education, business, government, civil and foreign service, tourism, and in preparation for graduate studies.

Philosophy, A.A.

Requirements

Interest in studying philosophy begins with the desire to engage life's greatest questions: finding the meaning of human existence, making sense of reality and our place in the cosmos, giving systematic form to our ethical and political intuitions, explaining the history of human ideas, and other equally significant problems. Often students wonder how the study of philosophy can provide the foundation for successful and meaningful employment. Contrary to popular belief, a philosophy major is one of the best preparations possible for careers in a large number of different areas. An article in the London Times rightly called philosophy the "ultimate 'transferable work skill'" insofar as it prepares students for a wide array of practical services. As a group, philosophy majors consistently score at or near the top on standardized tests, gain employment on graduation at higher than average rates, rank highly in median mid-career salary, and enjoy a well-earned reputation for rigorous thinking. In fact, the Association of American Colleges and Universities tells students, "[y]our specific choice of major matters far less than the knowledge and skills you gain through all your studies and experiences in college. In terms of jobs, employers don't hire majors. They hire individuals with potential to succeed over the long term and add value to their companies or organizations." The study of philosophy, one of the oldest and most rigorous disciplines, provides students with critical thinking, writing, and arguing skills necessary to succeed in today's competitive working environments.

Philosophy, A.S.

Requirements

Interest in studying philosophy begins with the desire to engage life's greatest questions: finding the meaning of human existence, making sense of reality and our place in the cosmos, giving systematic form to our ethical and political intuitions, explaining the history of human ideas, and other equally significant problems. Often students wonder how the study of philosophy can provide the foundation for successful and meaningful employment. Contrary to popular belief, a philosophy major is one of the best preparations possible for careers in a large number of different areas. An article in the London Times rightly called philosophy the "ultimate 'transferable work skill'" insofar as it prepares students for a wide array of practical services. As a group, philosophy majors consistently score at or near the top on standardized tests, gain employment on graduation at higher than average rates, rank highly in median mid-career salary, and enjoy a well-earned reputation for rigorous thinking. In fact, the Association of American Colleges and Universities tells students, “[y]our specific choice of major matters far less than the knowledge and skills you gain through all your studies and experiences in college. In terms of jobs, employers don’t hire majors. They hire individuals with potential to succeed over the long term and add value to their companies or organizations.” The study of philosophy, one of the oldest and most rigorous disciplines, provides students with critical thinking, writing, and arguing skills necessary to succeed in today’s competitive working environments.

Ethics, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

A student in the Ethics program is offered an innovative approach in correlating various disciplines with structured ethical research. The program offers students opportunities to enhance their capacity to enter their chosen professions, careers, and vocations as ethical leaders. Students will examine real world ethical issues in the context of various disciplines, a valuable credential for employment and further education.

UVU has had a vested interest in Interdisciplinary Ethics since the 1980s, offering prestigious programs such as Ethics Across the Curriculum and hosting the only Ethics Center in the USHE system. The undergraduate Ethics curriculum and the Center for the Study of Ethics have received repeated national recognitions for their innovative and influential programs, conferences, events, symposia, and lecture series that educate students and the community about contemporary ethical issues.

Environmental Studies, Minor

Requirements

Environmental Studies explores the complex links between human culture and the natural world. The program challenges students to critically examine both the ecological and social context of environmental issues and the numerous connections between natural and social systems, from local to global scales. It is undeniable that humans have a profound impact on the environment. To have the greatest positive influence, we must seek knowledge of the structure and function of natural systems, as well as an understanding of how culture affects the way we perceive nature.

Gender Studies, Minor

Requirements

The Gender Studies minor allows students to study the extent to which gender and gender relations are socially influenced. Students will examine the ways in which conceptions of masculinity and femininity directly impact social and political institutions and practices, cultural expressions (such as art, communication, media, literature, music and film), law, education, business, scientific inquiry, interpersonal relations, sexuality and family. The minor broadens students' understanding of their chosen major and career path while facilitating the recognition of gender dynamics in their own lives.

Humanities, Minor

Requirements

The discipline of humanities is the study of human intellectual and artistic creativity and what the resulting artistic forms reveal about the human experience. This field of study draws on other disciplines such as history, fine arts, literature, intellectual history, music, foreign languages, theology, and philosophy to see how the several artistic forms communicate and work together to give an in-depth record of the meaning of human life in the past and present. The discipline also emphasizes the relationship between the arts, culture, and society. A background in humanities is helpful in preparing for employment in education, business, government, civil and foreign service, tourism, and in preparation for graduate studies.

Philosophy, Minor

Requirements

Interest in studying philosophy begins with the desire to engage life's greatest questions: finding the meaning of human existence, making sense of reality and our place in the cosmos, giving systematic form to our ethical and political intuitions, explaining the history of human ideas, and other equally significant problems. Often students wonder how the study of philosophy can provide the foundation for successful and meaningful employment. Contrary to popular belief, a philosophy major is one of the best preparations possible for careers in a large number of different areas. An article in the London Times rightly called philosophy the "ultimate 'transferable work skill'" insofar as it prepares students for a wide array of practical services. As a group, philosophy majors consistently score at or near the top on standardized tests, gain employment on graduation at higher than average rates, rank highly in median mid-career salary, and enjoy a well-earned reputation for rigorous thinking. In fact, the Association of American Colleges and Universities tells students, "[y]our specific choice of major matters far less than the knowledge and skills you gain through all your studies and experiences in college. In terms of jobs, employers don't hire majors. They hire individuals with potential to succeed over the long term and add value to their companies or organizations." The study of philosophy, one of the oldest and most rigorous disciplines, provides students with critical thinking, writing, and arguing skills necessary to succeed in today's competitive working environments.

Religious Studies, Minor

Requirements

The Religious Studies minor fosters and facilitates an interdisciplinary approach to the academic study of religion. Due to its influential role at the local, national, and international levels, religion requires careful study utilizing academic methods employed in the examination of other cultural institutions. This includes the study of the history, theology, literature, folklore, etc., of various religions in an effort to study religion as a cultural phenomenon. The program is intended to serve our students and community by deepening our understanding of religious beliefs and practices in a spirit of open inquiry. Its aim is neither to endorse nor to undermine the claims of religion, but to create an environment in which various issues can be engaged from a variety of perspectives and methodologies.

Humanities, B.A.

Requirements

The discipline of humanities is the study of human intellectual and artistic creativity and what the resulting artistic forms reveal about the human experience. This field of study draws on other disciplines such as history, fine arts, literature, intellectual history, music, foreign languages, theology, and philosophy to see how the several artistic forms communicate and work together to give an in-depth record of the meaning of human life in the past and present. The discipline also emphasizes the relationship between the arts, culture, and society. A background in humanities is helpful in preparing for employment in education, business, government, civil and foreign service, tourism, and in preparation for graduate studies.

Philosophy, B.A.

Requirements

Interest in studying philosophy begins with the desire to engage life's greatest questions: finding the meaning of human existence, making sense of reality and our place in the cosmos, giving systematic form to our ethical and political intuitions, explaining the history of human ideas, and other equally significant problems. Often students wonder how the study of philosophy can provide the foundation for successful and meaningful employment. Contrary to popular belief, a philosophy major is one of the best preparations possible for careers in a large number of different areas. An article in the London Times rightly called philosophy the "ultimate 'transferable work skill'" insofar as it prepares students for a wide array of practical services. As a group, philosophy majors consistently score at or near the top on standardized tests, gain employment on graduation at higher than average rates, rank highly in median mid-career salary, and enjoy a well-earned reputation for rigorous thinking. In fact, the Association of American Colleges and Universities tells students, "[y]our specific choice of major matters far less than the knowledge and skills you gain through all your studies and experiences in college. In terms of jobs, employers don't hire majors. They hire individuals with potential to succeed over the long term and add value to their companies or organizations." ## Degrees & Programs

Physics, Minor

Requirements

Must be admitted to a bachelor degree program at UVU. A minor in physics represents a substantial investment in mastering the basics of physics and gaining suitable problem solving skills that may then be applied to other disciplines. The minor requires 20 credit hours of physics credit.

Total Program Credits: 20

Physics Education, B.S.

Requirements

Prepares the student to teach high school physics and AP physics. The program allows for those interested to supplement their studies with extra courses in physics or other science through elective upper division credit. A seminar course provides the student with exposure to careers in physics.

| Matriculation Requirements: |
| 1. Students are admitted directly to the Baccalaureate degree program in Physics Education upon acceptance to the Secondary Education Program. |

2. Students must obtain the departmental Advisor's signature on an approved program plan prior to enrollment in their second semester of study.

Secondary Education Requirements:

1. ACT exam minimums: Composite 21, English 20, Math 19; or SAT exam minimums: Critical Read /Math 1000, with Math and Reading scores of 450; or If student has a bachelor degree or higher, he/she does not need to meet this testing requirement.
2. GPA of 3.0 or higher with no grade lower than a C in content area courses.
3. Completion of all General Education requirements and the majority of content area courses.
4. Pass LiveScan Criminal Background Check.

3. Residency hours -- minimum of 30 credit hours through course attendance at UVU, with at least 10 hours earned in the last 45 hours.
4. Completion of GE and specified departmental requirements.
5. A minimum of 52 credit hours must be in the major with a minimum of 20 credits taken at UVU. A minimum of 24 chemistry and physics credits must be upper-division.
6. Successful completion of at least one Global/Intercultural course.

Physics, B.S.

Requirements

A Bachelor's degree is physics provides the student with an understanding of the laws of nature and with the experimental and analytical techniques necessary to describe and solve problems in physical systems. The degree is most useful in preparing students for further graduate study in physics, astronomy, engineering or other science. However physics BS degree recipients have also entered graduate programs in law and medicine and other diverse programs. Those not intending to pursue advanced degrees find successful employment in a variety of careers, including education, computer science, electronics and related industries and more.

Health Sciences, A.S.

Requirements

The Associate of Science (AS) in Health Sciences will provide students who are undecided on which health program they will pursue an opportunity to complete an AS degree that includes some of the prerequisites for the BS degrees in health profession programs offered by Utah Valley University (UVU), and many of the health degrees offered across the USHE system. This Associate of Science in Health Sciences will allow the student to continue their education at UVU and other USHE schools in the areas of biology, chemistry, exercise science, and other health and science BS degrees. The degree includes instruction in medical terminology, physiology, anatomy, and other areas that will give the students a realistic overview of the health sciences. The Associate of Science in Health Sciences is transferrable to other colleges and universities and can be used as the foundation for moving on to a variety of health related disciplines preparing students to become a health professional.

Health, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Health certificate is available to all UVU students with a particular focus designed to provide high school students an opportunity to obtain a certificate of proficiency in a Career and Technical Education (CTE) field while still enrolled in high school and stack into certificate, associate and bachelor degrees at UVU. This certificate is available from the University for college students/adults looking for entry-level skills leading to further academic advancement and learn more about the Health field.

3. All core courses must be completed with grade 'C' or higher.

Public and Community Health, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Public and Community Health is available for all UVU students with a particular focus designed to provide high school students an opportunity to obtain a stackable certificate of proficiency with an emphasis in career and technical education while still enrolled in high school. This certificate is available from the University for college students/adults looking for basic entry-level skills leading to further academic advancement and learn more about Public and Community Health as a career field.

Physical Education Teacher Education, B.S.

Requirements

Graduates from the Physical Education K-12 Teacher Education (PETE) program will be prepared to meet all standards for Utah licensure for K-12 Physical Education. They should also be prepared to meet most standards for certification in the rest of the 49 states, since the National Initial Physical Education Teacher Education Standards have been used to develop, assess, and update the program on an annual basis. The focus of this program is on enhancing student outcomes – both for university students and for their future students. Outcomes that should be met by the end of the program include scientific and theoretical knowledge, skill and fitness based competency, planning and implementation, instructional delivery and management, impact on student learning, and professionalism. PETE majors learn to individualize instruction to enhance learning for all students, regardless of their abilities.

Secondary Education, Licensure

Requirements

The Professional Teacher Education Program at Utah Valley University is designed to prepare quality, entry level candidates for teaching in secondary education programs grades 7-12.

All students who matriculate into the professional licensure program must have a major in an approved content area. Students seeking licensure in approved content areas complete a major in that area and required coursework in Secondary Education to qualify for a Level I Utah State Professional Educator License for grades 7-12.

Baccalaureate degrees (BS and BA) are granted through the content area department and not through the School of Education. Licensure is granted through the School of Education Program.

To continue in the teacher education program, students are expected to maintain all program standards. They must maintain expected levels of competence in all coursework, field work, and student teaching with all course grades at or above a B- or higher. Additionally, teacher candidates are expected to adhere to standards of personal integrity, responsibility, and citizenship commonly expected of professional educators.

Process Improvement and Operations CA, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Utah Leads CP in Process Improvement and Operations CA is aimed at producing career-enhanced graduates in operations management to meet the growing demand for employees with this skill set. Students can enhance their careers through a program of study consisting not only of a theoretical base in making good business operating decisions, but the program also takes a hands-on, practical approach to learning. Practical knowledge is gained by not only offering, but requiring, each graduate to sit for a professional industry certification exam in lean management, as well as other applicable, hands-on projects with industry partners applying skills and tools learned throughout their coursework. Further, students will benefit from UVU's program connection with industry leaders who advise program directors regarding course offerings and course content that is most valuable on the job market. Students will also be provided multiple opportunities to interact and network with industry partners on in-class projects and in-class guest speakers. Students will gain knowledge in core topics such as analytics for business decisions, business decision optimization, supply chain management, process improvement tools and methodologies, and quality management tools and techniques (lean, six sigma, theory of constraints, etc.). Graduates will be prepared to enter the job market as operations professionals in a variety of industries such as technology, healthcare, supply chain, manufacturing, distribution, and logistics.

Operations and Supply Chain Management, B.S,

Requirements

The BS in Operations and Supply Chain Management is aimed at producing career-ready graduates in operations and supply chain management to meet the growing demand for employees with this skill set. Students become career-ready through a program of study consisting not only of a theoretical base in making good business operating decisions but also a hands-on, practical approach to learning. Practical knowledge is gained by not only offering but requiring each graduate to sit for at least one professional industry certification exam (Domo, Lean, Six Sigma, Project Management), and complete either an internship or an independent study applying skills and tools learned throughout their coursework. Further, students will benefit from the program's connection with industry leaders who advise program directors regarding course offerings and course content that is most valuable on the job market. Students will also be provided multiple opportunities to interact and network with industry partners on in-class projects, internships, and full-time employment post-graduation. Students will gain knowledge in core topics such as analytics for business decisions, business decision optimization, supply chain management, simulation for business applications, and quality management tools and techniques (Lean, Six Sigma, Theory of Constraints, etc.). Graduates will be prepared to enter the job market in a variety of industries such as technology, healthcare, supply chain, manufacturing, distribution, and logistics.

General Education, Certificate of Completion

Requirements

The Certificate of Completion in General Education is comprised of the courses that are required for completion of the general education requirements at Utah Valley University. The purpose of general education at UVU is a shared academic experience that provides students with the opportunity to explore new subjects, intellectual traditions, and perspectives; expands their awareness of the wider world; and prepares them with foundational knowledge, skills, and abilities that are expanded on in their disciplines of study in order to be successful learners and professionals positioned to contribute to their broader communities. When a student completes the requirements for the Certificate of Completion in General Education at UVU, the certificate is accepted at other USHE institutions as completing their General Education requirements.

Leadership for Personal and Social Impact, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Leadership for Personal and Social Impact certificate provides an academic setting where students gain theoretical and practical skills with principles of self-awareness and improvement that can immediately transform personal success and performance. As students learn and apply these principles and skills they will also be provided with and create their own engaging experiences to become more active contributors and stewards across a wide range of professional, volunteer, public, and private settings in their current and future local, regional, national, and international communities. Students from any academic major or minor are encouraged to enroll in and complete this certificate. Currently, two of the courses are offered online, (SLSS 1000 and SLSS 1200) so it is possible that students may choose to take those courses online. Initially, it is anticipated that the other courses will be offered on the main campus. As interest and demand increases, the Department of Student Leadership and Success Studies will reevaluate and may offer the remaining courses online.

Total Program Credits: 16

| General Education Requirements: | | | 16 Credits |
|---|---|---|---|
| | SLSS 1200 | The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People | 3 |
| | SLSS 2500 | Leader--Strengths-Based Leader/ Coach | 3 |

| | SLSS 405G | Leader--Global Contributor | 3 |
| | SLSS 4800 | Leader Capstone--Lifelong Change Agent | 4 |

Graduation Requirements:

1. Complete 16 credits of course work.
2. Earn a minimum 2.5 GPA in all certificate course work with no grades lower than a C-.
3. Residency hours -- Minimum of 4 credits required through course attendance at UVU.

University Studies, B.A.

Requirements

The BA/BS is designed to meet the academic and professional objectives of learners whose needs are not addressed through existing degree programs. The degree assists learners in developing essential skills valued by employers and graduate schools (e.g., applied learning, critical thinking, written and oral communication, teamwork, ethical reasoning, and global understanding) within the framework of a larger discipline. Learners will complete a structured yet customized set of upper division courses under the guidance of an advisor and faculty mentor to ensure that standards for academic rigor at the Bachelor level are achieved. Candidates for the degree will focus on intellectual skills and integrative knowledge by enrolling in courses in a general disciplinary area with intentionally-selected, specialized knowledge courses that contribute to an integrated whole, and by completing a capstone experience that further prepares them for their chosen professions or graduate school admission. Under the direction of a faculty member, students will complete a capstone course or an internship which will involve reflection and a synthesis of learning to demonstrate achievement of the learning outcomes for the degree.

Technology, A.A.S.

Requirements

The Associate in Applied Science (AAS) in Technology is designed for individuals seeking to work in a technical area or who have considerable work experience seeking better upward mobility in their professions. Students can receive up to 15 credit hours for extensive work experience, certifications, licenses, or apprenticeships. Additionally, students who earn certifications in many 900+ hour technical programs offered throughout the Utah Technical College system can transfer in their certificate and receive up to 30 hours of academic credit, or almost half the credit required to graduate from the AAS. Students in the AAS pathway will build on their technical education and experience by completing core and elective course options, including experiential portfolio, business computer proficiency, and supervision.

Advanced Manufacturing, Certificate of Proficiency

Requirements

The Certificate of Proficiency in Advanced Manufacturing is designed to provide entry-level manufacturing technician skills that are needed in expanding the manufacturing industry in Utah Valley. Although the term "advanced" might be confusing for a program providing entry-level skills, nationally this is the term that is being used. The program focuses on the basic skills used in advanced manufacturing processes expanding across the nation. The components of the certificate will include basic manufacturing skills with hands-on activities on equipment used in local facilities. Graduates of this certificate will have a basic understanding of advanced manufacturing operations with an emphasis on solving problems in the organization. While this program offers an entry-level certification for individuals pursuing a career in manufacturing, it has been designed to enable individuals the opportunity to continually expand and upgrade their applied skills as well as to maintain a thorough mastery of evolving manufacturing technologies.

Master of Science in Engineering and Technology Management, M.S.

Requirements

The Engineering and Technology Management (ETM) program prepares engineering and technological professionals to make process-, product-, and project-oriented strategic and operational decisions and become leaders in the management of technology by providing the link between engineering, science, and management. It helps companies, research organizations, and governments to plan, develop, and implement technologies by specifically addressing real needs identified by industry leaders. Effective planning, selection, implementation, and management of technology, and the teams involved, is essential to the success of any business in today's complex and time-critical global markets. Students learn to apply proven evaluation concepts and implementation strategies to fast moving, technical management decisions that make the difference in both career and business success. Courses provide practicing engineers and managers of technical teams or projects with the knowledge, tools, and skills to manage projects, operations, organizations, and people. The program includes product and project management, engineering management, quality and safety management, and statistical analysis to enable the graduate to be more effective in technical managerial and leadership roles in a business environment. The program is specifically tailored for professionals who want to advance their careers while still working full time. The entire program is available through distance learning as well as face to face and involves 30 credit hours of course work

Theatre Arts, Minor

Requirements

The minor in Theatre Arts serves as a supplement to students from all other disciplines to pursue their interest and cultivate their talents in theatre while pursuing a major in a high-demand field. It also helps secondary education majors in other subject areas to qualify students for a teaching endorsement in theatre. English teaching majors frequently complete a minor in theatre to enrich their teaching of plays and to help prepare them to qualify for an additional subject endorsement in theatre.

Theatre Arts, B.A.

Requirements

The recently revised BA in Theatre focuses theatre majors' work in a module (12 credits) in Performance, in Production, and a given specialty. The revised BA in Theatre Arts offers students a broader-based program that better reflects the liberal arts paradigm of BA degrees. It provides students with a higher level of choice than does a BFA program while ensuring that students graduate with three specific skill sets.

Automotive Power Sports, A.A.S.

Requirements

The AAS in Automotive Power Sports is designed to train technicians in the field of maintenance and repair of personal transportation craft and multi person transportation vehicles that are currently outside the realm of automotive. The degree includes: on road alternative vehicles (side by sides), personal watercraft, All Terrain Vehicle (ATV) and Utility Terrain Vehicle (UTV), snow machines, lawn and garden systems, and motorcycle technology. Graduates will gain an in-depth understanding of alternative transportation vehicles utilizing hands-on, performance based training.

A sales and service business skills course will also aid students to acclimate from school training to a live repair facility. Students will receive training in four-stroke and two-stroke engines, continuous variable transmissions (CVT), suspension and braking systems, composite repairs, and small engine electronic systems.

Requires a portfolio of acquired work experience and enhanced skills. Includes student, employer, and coordinator evaluations; on-site coordinator visits; written assignments; and oral presentations. Provides experience in formulating and completing individualized work experience objectives. A maximum of 3 credits may apply toward graduation. May be graded credit/no credit.

ACC 3000
Financial Managerial and Cost Accounting Concepts
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010, MAT 1010 or higher, and University Advanced Standing

Provide students in computer science and the technologies with knowledge of financial, managerial, and cost accounting concepts and applications. Prepares students to utilize accounting information in making business decisions. May be delivered online. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies.

ACC 3010
Intermediate Accounting I
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ACC 2010 and ACC 2020) or (ACC 2110 and ACC 2120) each with a B- or higher, (MATH 1050, MATH 1055, or MATH 1090) with a C- or higher, and University Advanced Standing
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): (MGMT 2240 or MATH 1100), ACC 2125, and (ACC 2500 or IM 2600)

Reviews and expands on fundamental accounting material learned in beginning classes. Covers an overview of the primary financial statements, revenue recognition, and the accounts on the asset portion of the balance sheet. Introduces the Conceptual Framework and current accounting standards to provide a theoretical foundation upon which practical applications are based. Lab access fee of $25 applies. Canvas Course Mats $78/McGraw applies

ACC 3020
Intermediate Accounting II
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3010, MKTG 220G, and University Advanced Standing
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ACC 3300

Addresses debt and equity financing, investments in debt and equity securities, leases, deferred income taxes, employee compensation (payroll and pensions), earnings per share, accounting changes, and error corrections. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies. Canvas Course Mats $78/ McGraw applies

ACC 3030
Intermediate Accounting for Non-Accounting Majors
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ACC 2110 AND ACC 2120) or (ACC 2010 AND ACC 2020) and University Advanced Standing

An intermediate accounting course for non-accounting majors with emphasis on interpretation and use of general-purpose financial statements and the related disclosure notes. Addresses understanding interrelationships among the various financial statements and analyzing the effects of transactions on the financial statements. Analyzes common and significant accounts/ transactions, especially those relating to the liability and equity sections of the financial statements. Canvas Course Mats $76/Wiley applies.

ACC 3120
Internal Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005), (MATH 1050 or MATH 1055 or MATH 1090 or higher), junior standing, minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0, and University Advanced Standing

Introduces students to the theories of governance, risk, and control concepts; internal auditing standards; audit techniques; and reporting practices. Applicable across disciplines.

ACC 312G
International Internal Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ACC 2110 and ACC 2120) or (ACC 2010 and ACC 2020), University Advanced Standing

Introduces students to the international internal auditing standards; global auditing case studies; theories of governance, risk, and control concepts; audit techniques; and reporting practices. Applicable across disciplines.

ACC 3300
Cost Management
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ACC 2010 AND ACC 2020) OR (ACC 2110 AND ACC 2120) each with a B- or higher and University Advanced Standing

Provides a strategic approach to cost management and the development and use of relevant information for management decision making. Builds a foundation by discussing the various concepts of cost, cost behavior, and cost estimation techniques. Addresses costing of products and other cost objects using job order and process costing, activity-based costing, and cost allocation. Introduces management control topics of budgeting and performance evaluation through variance analysis. Concludes with current topics in cost management. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies.

ACC 3400
Individual Income Tax
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ACC 2110 AND ACC 2120) OR (ACC 2010 AND ACC 2020), and University Advanced Standing

Studies federal individual income taxes. Covers the accounting theory and practices of federal individual income taxation based on a study of the laws, regulations, and income tax decisions. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies. Canvas Course Mats $116/Pearson applies.

ACC 3510
Accounting Information Systems
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ACC 3010 or ACC 3030) and (ACC 2500 or IM 2600) and University Advanced Standing

Teaches analysis design and implementation of accounting information systems. Emphasizes accounting cycles, internal controls, and computerized environments. Lab access fee of $25 applies. Canvas Course Mats $78/McGraw applies

ACC 4030
Governmental and Not For Profit Accounting
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3010 or ACC 3030, Matriculation into the Woodbury School of Business, and University Advanced Standing

Covers areas of governmental and not-for-profit accounting and reporting. Includes fund accounting, the budgetary process, governmental financial reporting, not-for-profit organizations, health care organizations, colleges and universities, and public sector auditing. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies.

ACC 4050
Financial Statement Analysis
3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation into the Woodbury School of Business, and University Advanced Standing
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ACC 3020

Teaches financial statement analysis techniques and practices, such as financial metrics, footnote disclosures, and business profitability. Informs decision making based on practical analysis of financial statement information.

ACC 4110
Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 312G, Matriculation into the Woodbury School of Business, and University Advanced Standing
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ACC 3020

Provides an introduction to independent audits of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the environment in which audits are performed, and professional ethics. Includes basic audit concepts and procedures related to planning, testing internal controls, investigating reported financial results of business process cycles, and required auditor communications. May be delivered online. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies. Canvas Course Mats $78/ McGraw applies

ACC 4140
Advanced Internal Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation into the BS Accounting degree program, and University Advanced Standing or Instructor Approval.

Covers advanced topics in the theories of governance, risk, and control concepts; internal auditing standards; and audit techniques.

ACC 4310
Advanced Management Accounting
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3300, Matriculation into any Woodbury School of Business bachelor degree program, and University Advanced Standing

Studies and applies advanced topics in Cost Management such as value chain analysis, activity-based management, and other current topics and issues in management accounting. Teaches the principles of management control including strategic planning, budgeting, performance measurement. Includes active class discussion, case analysis, and student presentations.

ACC 4400
Taxation of Business Entities
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3400, Matriculation into the Woodbury School of Business, and University Advanced Standing

For accounting majors and other business students. Provides an introduction and understanding of the construct and application of the federal tax laws. Studies the federal taxation of corporations, partnerships/LLCs, estates and trusts, gifts, and exempt entities based on the laws, regulations, and associated tax decisions. Covers the professional rules, regulations, and ethical considerations imposed on tax professionals. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies. Canvas Course Mats $78/ Cengage applies.

ACC 4410
Tax Research
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3010, ACC 3400, Matriculation into the BS Accounting degree program, and University Advanced Standing

Studies theory and practice of tax research as it applies to federal income taxation laws, rules and regulations. Applies ethical considerations and standards to tax practice. Emphasizes computerized tax research techniques which will be explored through cases dealing with administrative aspects of the IRS, court cases, client communications and a wide variety of tax topics.

ACC 4510
Information Systems Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3510, ACC 312G, Matriculation into any Woodbury School of Business program, and University Advanced Standing

Provides students a project course covering IT audit and its impact on the financial statement audit. Covers information security, social engineering, and fraud data mining are also covered as they relate to accounting information systems and the associated data. May be delivered hybrid. Lab access fee of $25 for computers applies.

ACC 470R
Current Topics in Accounting
1 to 3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3010, Matriculation into the Woodbury School of Business, and University Advanced Standing

Provides opportunities for students to become exposed to emerging technology and topics of current interest and demand in Accounting. Topics vary from semester to semester. Repeatable for a maximum of 3 credits toward graduation.

ACC 481R
Internship
2 to 8
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3010, Matriculation into the Woodbury School of Business, Approval of Accounting Department Internship Coordinator and University Advanced Standing

Provides accounting majors a transition from school to work where learned theory is applied to actual practice through meaningful on-the-job paid experience commensurate with upper-division classroom instruction. Includes student, employer, and coordinator evaluations, on-site work visits, written assignments, and oral presentations. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits toward graduation. May be graded credit/no credit.

ACC 490R
Accounting Seminar
1 to 3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation into the BS Accounting degree program, Department Chair Approval, and University Advanced Standing

Designed to provide short courses, workshops, and special programs on accounting-related topics. May be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits toward graduation.

ACC 491R
Independent Study
1 to 4
* Prerequisite(s): Department Chair approval and University Advanced Standing

For bachelor's degree students and other interested persons. Offers independent study as directed in reading, individual projects, etc., at the discretion and approval of the department chairperson. Repeatable for a maximum of 3 credits toward graduation.

ACC 5020
Advanced Financial Accounting
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3020, Matriculation into the BS Accounting degree program, and University Advanced Standing Presents accounting concepts and methods for business combinations, foreign currency transactions, foreign statement translation, and partnerships. Canvas Course Mats $78/ McGraw applies.

ACC 5130
Case Studies in Internal Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 312G

Teaches student to design policies and procedures for internal audit operations by using risk based audit plans and developing audit plans. May be delivered hybrid.

ACC 5140
Fraud Examination
3
* Prerequisite(s): ACC 3010 and University Advanced Standing

Examines the seriousness of fraud and its impact on business and society. Includes forensic accounting and fraud prevention, detection, and resolution.

ACC 6020
Advanced Financial Accounting Applications
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy program

Presents accounting concepts, methods, and applications for business combinations, foreign currency transactions, foreign statement translation, and partnerships. Canvas Course Mats $78/McGraw applies.

ACC 6030
Financial Accounting and Reporting
3
* Prerequisite(s): Acceptance into the Master of Accountancy program

Focuses on understanding the nature and financial reporting aspects of complex business transactions such as corporate acquisitions, mergers, and other strategic alliances. Includes accounting for business combinations and the various reporting requirements leading to consolidated financial statements.

ACC 6060
Professionalism and Leadership
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy program

Enhances the ability to interact and communicate with others in the professional world. Builds skill development in oral and written communication, interviewing, networking, and leadership. Explores and enhances emotional intelligence.

ACC 6130
Case Studies in Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program

Teaches policies and procedures for internal audit operations by creating risk based audit plans, developing audit objectives, and evaluating audit results.

ACC 6140
Fraud Examination and Forensic Accounting
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or the Master of Business Administration Program

Evaluates the seriousness of fraud and its impact on individuals, businesses and society. Formulates fraud prevention, detection, and resolution methods using cases.

ACC 6150
Information Systems Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program.

Provides projects covering information systems audit and its impact on the financial statement audit. Covers information security, social engineering, and fraud data mining as they relate to accounting information systems and the associated data. Canvas Course Mats $78/ McGraw applies.

ACC 6350
Management Control Systems
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program.

Evaluates the design of management control systems through case studies to enable the successful implementation of accounting strategies in a variety of for-profit entities. Emphasizes the development of the students' analytical and decision-making skills. Canvas Course Mats $134/Pearson applies

ACC 6410
Tax Research and Procedure
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to the Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program

Practices the necessary skills to thoroughly research and analyze a tax problem, as well as to report research analysis and conclusions accurately. Explores computerized tax research methods, and the organization of the I.R.S. with some of the procedural aspects of tax compliance and practice, tax related penalties, professional responsibility and tax ethics.

ACC 6420
Principles of Corporate Tax
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy program

Covers accounting theory and practices of the federal income taxation laws, rules and regulations relating to sales and exchanges of assets and the formation and operation of corporations and S corporations, and their effects upon the corporation's shareholders. Canvas Course Mats $78/Cengage applies.

ACC 6430
Advanced Corporate Tax
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program

Assesses the appropriate federal income tax for a corporation based on relevant accounting and business data. Analyzes the tax implications related to the form of entity and the location of the entity.

ACC 6440
Partnership Tax
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program.

Examines accounting theory and practices of the federal income taxation laws, rules and regulations relating to the formation and operation of partnerships, and their effects upon partners.

ACC 6460
Estate and Gift Tax
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program.

Examines the law and theory of federal taxation of estates and gifts based on Federal code, I.R.S. regulations, and digest of official income tax decisions.

ACC 6500
Advanced Accounting Information Systems
3
* Prerequisite(s): Acceptance in the MBA program

Develops the background necessary to plan, design and implement an accounting information system.

ACC 6510
Financial Auditing
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program.

Examines current auditing standards for independent audits of financial statements. Explores proposed auditing standards, relevant legislation, and selected contemporary advanced topics in auditing.

ACC 6560
Accounting Theory and Research
3
* Prerequisite(s): Acceptance into the Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration program

Evaluates the financial reporting environment. Integrates accounting theory and practical research methodology in the resolution of financial reporting problems.

ACC 6600
Business Regulation
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration Program.

Examines contemporary issues in business law, with an emphasis in accountancy. Studies secured transactions, negotiable instruments, business associations, investor protection, consumer protection and government regulation in an increasingly global and interconnected business environment.

ACC 6610
Financial Statement Research and Analysis
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy or Master of Business Administration program.

Teaches financial statement research and analysis, improving decision making based on theoretical and practical research of financial statement information.

ACC 679R
Special Topics in Accounting
3
* Prerequisite(s): Admission to Master of Accountancy program

Varies from semester to semester. Provides opportunities for students to become exposed to emerging technology and topics of current interest and demand in accounting, taxation, auditing, and accounting information systems. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits toward graduation.

Aerospace Studies (AERO)

AERO 1000
Leadership Laboratory 1A
.5

Studies basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility.

AERO 1010
Leadership Laboratory 1B
.5

Studies basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility.

AERO 1100
The Air Force Today
1
* Corequisite(s): AERO 1000

Teaches development, organization, and doctrine of the U.S. Air Force. Emphasizes Strategic Force requirements.

AERO 1110
Aerospace Defense General Purpose and Support Forces
1
* Corequisite(s): AERO 1010

Studies U.S. Air Force Defensive Forces, General Purpose Forces, and Tactical Air Forces.

AERO 143R
Air Force Physical Training
.5
* Corequisite(s): AERO 1000

Prepares students for the physical demands placed upon them at Air Force Field Training encampment normally attended between their sophomore and junior years. Provides leadership opportunities and tests a cadet's physical fitness. Repeats are allowed. See advisor for details. May be repeated for a maximum of four credits.

AERO 2000
Leadership Laboratory 2A
.5

Teaches fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Increased emphasis on performance level.

AERO 2010
Leadership Laboratory 2B
.5

Teaches fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Increased emphasis on performance level.

AERO 2100
The Developmental Growth of Air Power A
1
* Corequisite(s): AERO 2000

Studies development of various concepts of air power employment, emphasizing factors that have prompted research and technological change.

AERO 2110
The Development and Growth of Air Power B
1
* Corequisite(s): AERO 2010

Studies development of various concepts of air power employment. Emphasizes factors that have prompted research and technological change.

AERO 3000
Leadership Laboratory 3A
.5
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Teaches basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Students perform as cadet officers. Emphasizes leadership development.

AERO 3010
Leadership Laboratory 3B
.5
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Teaches basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Students perform as cadet officers. Emphasizes leadership development.

AERO 305R
Leadership Laboratory Honor Guard
1
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Teaches basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Emphasizes leadership development. Students perform as cadet officers. Repeats are allowed. See advisor for details. May be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits.

AERO 3100
Management and Leadership A
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Introduces students to the United States Air Force (USAF) and the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC). Includes conflict management, followership, leadership responsibility, officership, and process improvement.

AERO 3110
Management and Leadership B
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Introduces students to the United States Air Force (USAF) and the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC). Includes conflict management, followership, leadership responsibility, officership, and process improvement.

AERO 3200
Jet Pilot Introduction
2
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Studies principles of flight and accompanying issues. Introduces meteorology. Presents FARs as they apply to the private pilot. Provides orientation, understanding, and preparation of the US Air Force Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT).

AERO 399R
Academic Internship Leadership Intern Program
4
* Prerequisite(s): Instructor Approval for Air Force ROTC Cadets only and University Advanced Standing

Provides advanced fundamentals of military leadership, planning, organizing, and team building at various levels of responsibility. May be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits toward graduation. May be graded credit/no credit.

AERO 400R
Leadership Laboratory 4A
.5
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Presents basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Students perform as cadet officers. Emphasizes leadership development. May be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits.

AERO 401R
Leadership Laboratory 4B
.5
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Presents basic fundamentals of military leadership: drill, courtesy, planning, and organizing at various levels of responsibility. Students perform as cadet officers. Emphasizes leadership development. May be repeated for a maximum of 2 credits.

AERO 4100
National Security Affairs A
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Studies the military profession, civil-military interaction, and the forming of defense strategy.

AERO 4110
National Security Affairs B
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Studies the military profession, civil-military interaction, and the forming of defense strategy.

Automation and Electrical Tech (AET)

AET 1050
DC Electrical Math
2
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010 or Departmental Approval

Utilizes algebraic formulas and methods to solve electrical problems related to DC electrical systems. Covers the calculation of voltage, current, resistance, power, and efficiency for DC circuits. Teaches circuit analysis techniques such as superposition, source transformations, Thevenin's theorem, mesh and nodal analysis. Introduces wire sizing and resistance calculations pertaining to the National Electrical Code. Software fee of $20 applies.

AET 1060
AC Electrical Math
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1050

Utilizes algebraic formulas and methods to solve electrical problems related to AC electrical systems. Covers the calculation of voltage, current, resistance, reactance, impedance, power, VARs, volt-amperes and efficiency for single phase and three phase AC systems. Applies trigonometry, complex numbers, and phasors to circuit analysis techniques. Analyzes sine waves, transformers, transformer connections and power factor for single phase and three phase electrical systems. Covers three phase balanced systems.

AET 1130
Applied DC Theory
1
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010
* Corequisite(s): AET 1135, AET 1150, AET 1155
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1050

Reviews basic DC theory involving voltage, current, resistance, batteries, magnetism, power and the use of digital meters. Covers troubleshooting techniques and applications of DC circuits. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies.

AET 1135
Applied DC Lab
1
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010
* Corequisite(s): AET 1130, AET 1150, AET 1155
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1050

Reviews basic DC theory involving voltage, current, resistance, batteries, magnetism, power and the use of digital meters. Engages in troubleshooting techniques and applications of DC circuits in a lab-environment.

AET 1140
Applied AC Theory
1
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1130, AET 1135, AET 1150, AET 1155
* Corequisite(s): AET 1145
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1060

Reviews basic AC theory involving voltage, current, resistance, reactance, impedance, magnetism, power and the use of digital meters. Discusses operation of inductors, capacitors, and transformers. Discusses troubleshooting techniques and applications of AC circuits.

AET 1145
Applied AC Lab
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1130, AET 1135, AET 1150, AET 1155
* Corequisite(s): AET 1140
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1060

Reviews basic AC theory involving voltage, current, resistance, reactance, impedance, magnetism, power and the use of digital meters. Discusses operation of inductors, capacitors, and transformers. Engages in troubleshooting techniques and applications of DC circuits in a lab environment.

AET 1150
Industrial Logic
1
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010
* Corequisite(s): AET 1155, AET 1130, AET 1135
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1050

Introduces digital logic and relay logic theory and industrial applications of logic circuits. Discusses numbering systems, boolean algebra, circuit simplification techniques, and logic devices such as latches, one-shots, timers, counters, flip flops, and shift registers. Emphasizes the relationship between ladder logic and digital logic and focuses on conversion between both formats. Discusses application and troubleshooting of logic circuits and introduces basic concepts of state machines.

AET 1155
Industrial Logic Lab
1
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010
* Corequisite(s): AET 1150, AET 1130, AET 1135
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1050

Applies digital logic and relay logic theory to industrial circuits in a hands-on setting. Utilizes boolean algebra and circuit simplification techniques when building logic circuits. Implements control circuits with relays, logic gates, and other applicable digital devices. Applies troubleshooting techniques to industrial control circuits.

AET 1250
Industrial Electrical Code
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1060, AET 1140, AET 1145

Covers pertinent topics within the National Electrical Code related to commercial and industrial environments. Covers code related to electrical plans, specifications, wiring and installation methods, feeder load calculations, motor installation, motor controllers, panelboards, hazardous locations, protective devices, and grounding for commercial and industrial applications. Software fee of $18 applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies.

AET 1280
Electric Motor Control
4
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1060, AET 1140, AET 1145
* Corequisite(s): AET 1285
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1250

Covers installation, troubleshooting, preventive maintenance, and theory on DC/AC motors, generators, and associated industrial control circuitry. Expands on ladder logic, controls, sensors, motor starters, overloads, and electronic devices used to control and protect DC/AC Machines. Describes three phase systems, transformers, and delta-wye connections. Introduces AC variable speed drives. Supports hands-on labs and projects in AET 1285. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies.

AET 1285
Electric Motor Control Lab
4
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1060, AET 1140, AET 1145
* Corequisite(s): AET 1280
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 1250

Covers the proper use of tools and test equipment needed to maintain motors and their controllers. Emphasizes the use of schematics, line diagrams, ladder logic, and wiring diagrams. Covers DC/AC, single phase, and three phase motors. Integrates logic design, motor protection, and wiring of motor control centers. Includes the workings of single phase and three phase transformers including delta and wye configurations. Course Lab fee of $14 for supplies/materials applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies. Software fee of $20 applies.

AET 2010
Manufacturing Technology
1
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010, EGDT 1040 or EGDT 1071 or departmental approval
* Corequisite(s): AET 2015

Provides exposure to manufacturing technology and equipment that is used to fabricate industrial components utilizing machine shop technology. Covers safety and basic machining principles on a manual lathe and mill. Presents fundamental concepts of CNC programming and 3D modeling as it relates to a CAD/CAM system. Discusses basics of measuring and cutting tools, and shop mathematics as it relates to manufacturing. Covers fundamental principles from the machinery's handbook.

AET 2015
Manufacturing Technology Lab
2
* Prerequisite(s): MAT 1010, EGDT 1040 or EGDT 1071 or departmental approval
* Corequisite(s): AET 2010

Provides exposure with a hands-on approach to manufacturing technology and equipment that is used to fabricate industrial components utilizing machine shop technology. Covers safety, and basic machining principles on a manual lathe and mill. Presents fundamental concepts of CNC programming and 3D modeling as it relates to a CAD/CAM system. Discusses basics of measuring and cutting tools, and shop mathematics as it relates to manufacturing. Covers fundamental principles from the machinery's handbook to manufacture and assembly.

AET 2110
Industrial Electronics I
4
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1280, AET 1285, AET 1250
* Corequisite(s): AET 2115
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255

Introduces semiconductor theory. Covers the concepts of PN junctions, transistors, voltage amplifiers, operational amplifiers, diodes, power electronics, and other special semiconductor and industrial electronics. Includes lecture and demonstrations. Course lab fee of $29 for materials applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies.

AET 2115
Industrial Electronics I Lab
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1280, AET 1285, AET 1250
* Corequisite(s): AET 2110
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255

Introduces semiconductor theory. Covers the concepts of PN junctions, transistors, operational amplifiers, voltage amplifiers, diodes, and other special semiconductor and industrial electronic components. Includes practical hands-on labs. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

AET 2150
Introduction to Fluid Power Systems
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2155

Covers the fundamentals of hydraulic and pneumatic components and systems used in industrial applications. Studies pumps, motors, directional and flow control valves, cylinders, transmission, and fluids. Emphasizes maintenance, safety, and environmental problems. Examines troubleshooting techniques and blueprint/print reading. Course Lab fee of $15 for supplies/materials applies. Lab access fee of $45 computers applies.

AET 2155
Introduction to Fluid Power Systems Lab
1
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2150

Covers the fundamentals of hydraulic and pneumatic components and systems used in industrial applications. Studies pumps, motors, directional and flow control valves, cylinders, transmission, and fluids. Emphasizes maintenance, safety, and environmental problems. Examines troubleshooting techniques and blueprint/print reading. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

AET 2160
Industrial Electronics II
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2165

Explains the theory and operation of industrial solid state thyristor devices, power circuits, integrated circuits, and DC/AC electronic motor controls. Covers basic electronic components found in variable speed drives. Introduces stepper and servo motor theory. Includes lecture and demonstration. Course Lab fee of $11 for materials applies. Lab access fee of $45 computers applies.

AET 2165
Industrial Electronics II Lab
1
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2160

Teaches the theory and operation of industrial solid state thyristor devices, power circuits, integrated circuits, and DC/AC electronic motor controls. Emphasizes practical application of electronics found in variable speed drives. Implements stepper and servo motors. Includes hands-on labs. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

AET 2250
Industrial Programmable Logic Controllers--PLCs
4
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1280, AET 1285, AET 1250
* Corequisite(s): AET 2255
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 2110, AET 2115

Covers the theory, programming, and industrial control system applications of small and medium sized programmable logic controllers (PLCs). Studies basic maintenance, operation, troubleshooting, and programming instructions / techniques for industrial PLCs. Concentrates on interfacing analog and digital I/O to the PLC. Covers human machine interface (HMI) configuration, programming and PLC integration. Includes lecture, demonstration, print reading, and industry examples. Course lab fee of $90 for equipment applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies. Canvas Course Mats $78/McGraw applies.

AET 2255
Industrial Programmable Logic Controllers--PLCs Lab
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 1280, AET 1285, AET 1250
* Corequisite(s): AET 2250
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): AET 2110, AET 2115

Covers the theory, programming, and industrial control system applications of small and medium-sized programmable logic controllers (PLCs). Examines basic maintenance, programming, and troubleshooting techniques for industrial PLCs. Covers human-machine interface (HMI) configuration, programming, and PLC integration. Includes PLC communications via serial and industrial Ethernet. Includes hands-on labs and projects. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

AET 2270
Industrial Programmable Automation Controllers--PACs
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2275

Introduces the theory and application of advanced industrial programmable automation controller (PAC) instructions, user-defined data types, add-on instructions, and advanced programming techniques. Studies PAC programming languages including ladder logic and function block pertaining to industrial control applications. Covers theory related to PAC integration of devices to variable speed drives, analog / digital sensors, and encoders. Includes advanced Human Machine Interface (HMI) programming concepts and introduces basic concepts of programmable safety relays. Includes lecture and demonstration. Course lab fee of $90 for equipment applies. Lab access fee of $45 for computers applies.

AET 2275
Industrial Programmable Automation Controllers--PACs Lab
1
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2270

Covers the implementation and application of advanced industrial programmable automation controller (PAC) instructions, user-defined data types, add-on instructions, and advanced programming techniques. Develops PAC programs using ladder logic and function blocks to control systems and machines. Covers PAC integration of devices to variable speed drives, sensors, and encoders. Implements advanced human-machine interface (HMI) programming. Integrates programmable safety relays into class projects. Includes hands-on labs and projects. Software fee of $20 applies. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

AET 2280
Process Control Instrumentation
2
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2285

Covers basic theory on measuring process variables such as temperature, pressure, level, and flow. Discusses open loop and closed loop control including PID loops. Introduces instrumentation maintenance, installation, and device specifications. Discusses basic calibrations, safety instruments and standards, classified areas, and intrinsically safe systems. Presents competency in process and instrumentation diagrams (P&ID). Covers HART and modbus communications in industrial instrumentation.

AET 2285
Process Control Instrumentation Lab
1
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115
* Corequisite(s): AET 2280

Implements process control instrumentation on class projects. Integrates open loop and closed loop control including PID loops with industrial instrumentation and a PLC. Explores basic calibrations, safety instruments and standards, classified areas, and intrinsically safe systems. Implements process and instrumentation diagrams (P&ID) on industrial systems. Integrates HART and modbus communications into applicable industrial projects. Covers programming and troubleshooting of industrial instruments in a hands-on environment. Course lab fee of $90 applies. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

AET 281R
Cooperative Work Experience
1 to 8
* Prerequisite(s): Approval of Department Chair

Provides paid on-the-job work experience that relates to the electrical and automation field. Implements and executes goals/learning objectives based on the job description from their work assignment. Reports on goals and learning objectives at the end of the experience. Work experience, the related class, and enrollment are coordinated by the AET Cooperative Coordinator. May be graded credit/no credit. May be repeated for a maximum of 16 credits toward graduation

AET 285R
Cooperative Correlated Class
1
* Prerequisite(s): Approval of Department Chair

Designed to identify on-the-job problems and to remedy those problems through in-class discussion and study. Focuses on preparing for, participating in, and utilizing the experiences available from working in a cooperative education/internship program. May be graded credit/no credit. May be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits toward graduation.

AET 2900
Capstone Project
3
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2010, AET 2015

Integrates the concepts of Automation and Electrical Technology curriculum into a semester-long project that will be designed, built, and presented at the Engineering Technology Fair.

AET 291R
Special Topics in Industrial Systems
3
* Prerequisite(s): AET 2250, AET 2255, AET 2110, AET 2115

Explores special topics in the electrical, power, and automation fields. Offers topics depending on demand and industry needs. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits toward graduation. Lab access fee of $45 applies.

American Indian Studies (AIST)

AIST 180G (Cross-listed with: ANTH 180G) SS
Introduction to American Indian Studies
3

Provides an overview of modern and historical American Indian communities in the United States. Explores political and historical issues of major tribes and Indian communities by region. Provides students with information and perspectives on key social and cultural issues: spirituality, relations with the Federal government, notable individuals, art, literature, dance, media, health, education and activism.

AIST 327G
Indians of Utah
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and University Advanced Standing

Investigates the history of Utah's five principal cultural groups from the pre-Columbian period to the present. Considers how economic processes, cross-cultural influences, and changing Federal and State policies have shaped American Indian communities and individuals in and around Utah. Examines how identity and culture in native communities have been defined and redefined through the processes of migration (both native and non-native), conquest, assimilation efforts, and cultural persistence.

AIST 3360
American Indian Education Policy
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and University Advanced Standing

Discusses the Federal Indian Policies that dictated the educational philosophies and practices of native people. Offers a historic overview of Indian education from first contact with European settlers through contemporary American Indian/Alaskan Native education. Examines the effects of Federal Indian Policies related to the use of boarding schools and the long-term effects the experience had on Native students.

AIST 358G
American Indian Health Policy
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010, University Advanced Standing, and one of the following: POLS 1000, POLS 1100, HIST 1700, HIST 1740, HIST 2700, HIST 2710

Explores the history, political economy, and epidemiology of American Indian health issues in the United States. Examines the effects of the pandemics brought by the European conquest, the changing Native views and practices in health, the Federal government's practical and legal assumption of responsibility for Native health, and the development of the administration and organization for Native health. Considers modern health issues ranging from diabetes to domestic violence, and the policy responses to them.

AIST 3590
American Indian Law
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and (POLS 1000 or POLS 1010 or POLS 1100) and University Advanced Standing

Introduces students to the important and unique body of law known as American Indian Law. Covers the history of federal Indian law and policy; the federal-tribal relationship; tribal sovereignty and self-government; state authority in Indian country; Indian religion and culture; concepts of property in Indian law; and hunting, fishing, and water rights.

AIST 3600
American Indian Policy and Tribal Government
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010 or instructor approval and University Advanced Standing

Examines American Indian law in treaties, statutes, case law, regulations, and executive orders. Analyzes various policy approaches to the federal trust relationship, tribal sovereignty over internal affairs, civil jurisdiction over tribal lands, management of natural resources of tribal lands, and cultural preservation. Studies the traditional and modern forms of various Indian tribal governments.

AIST 3810
Precolumbian America
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and AIST 180G and University Advanced Standing

Examines evidence of the first Americans, origins of agriculture, and development of cultures and civilizations in North, Central, and South America. Surveys the most recent archaeological research on major American societies, emphasizing the balance between Native and Euro-American perspectives on history and science. Examines the effects of the European conquest of the Americas on Native populations and cultures, and on global historical processes.

AIST 3830
Indians of the Great Plains
3
* Prerequisite(s): (HIST 1700 or HIST 2700 or HIST 2710 or AIST 180G) and (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and University Advanced Standing

Surveys the histories of native communities of the Great Plains. Emphasizes geopolitical relations of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and the conditions of resistance to conquest. Highlights the identification and use of primary sources, both for scholarly activity and making sources available to native peoples.

AIST 384G
Indians of the Southwest
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and HIST 1700 and AIST 180G and University Advanced Standing

Surveys the cultural geography and social institutions of Indians of the American Southwest and their antecedents. Compares Southwestern Indian cultures and other social groups in the United States. Focuses on historic and contemporary relations among Indian cultures and with the United States federal and state governments.

AIST 3850
The Struggle for Self-determination American Indians 1891 to present
3
* Prerequisite(s): (HIST 1700 or HIST 2700 or HIST 2710 or AIST 180G) and (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and University Advanced Standing

Surveys American Indian history from the Wounded Knee Massacre of 1891 to the present. Examines how American Indians shifted from armed conflict to the employment of legal and political strategies for achieving self-determination.

AIST 4600
Contemporary American Indian Political and Social Issues
3
* Prerequisite(s): (AIST 358G or AIST 3600) and University Advanced Standing

Surveys current research and perspectives on contemporary American Indian issues. Utilizes a seminar approach in which each student will prepare summaries of books and articles to be distributed to the other class members. Includes identity, political activism, historiography, health, political, and cultural issues.

AIST 490R
Special Topics in American Indian Studies
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010 and [POLS 1000 or POLS 1100 or HIST 1700 or HIST 1740 or (HIST 2700 and HIST 2710)] and University Advanced Standing

Explores special topics in American Indian Studies and related subjects. Examples of special topics may include health, specific tribal communities, education, political issues, the humanities in Native culture, economic and community development, comparative studies, social science perspectives, or other areas of student and faculty interest. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits.

American Studies (AMST)

AMST 2000 HH
Introduction to American Studies
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010

Introduces students to the interdisciplinary study of American culture. Employs insights and approaches from literature, history, art, sociology, anthropology, and political science. Analyzes a variety of texts and artifacts. Explores selected themes and issues central to American Studies.

AMST 300R
Topics in American Studies
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010 and University Advanced Standing

Uses an interdisciplinary approach to study various topics and themes in American Studies. Topics might include Western American Culture, Nature and Culture, Popular Culture in America, Mass Media in America, etc. May be repeated for up to 6 credits toward graduation.

Anthropology (ANTH)

ANTH 101G SS
Social Cultural Anthropology
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005 with a grade of C+ or higher

Introduces students to the variability of human behavior cross-culturally and provides an understanding of the holistic approach to human behavior. Explores interrelationships, in a variety of cultural contexts, between beliefs, economic structures, sexuality, eating habits, ecology, politics, living arrangements, psychology, symbolism, and kinship. May be delivered hybrid.

ANTH 1020 (Cross-listed with: BIOL 1500) SS
Biological Anthropology
* Prerequisite(s): (ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005) and (ANTH 101G or BIOL 1010)

For students with special interests in Anthropology or the Life Sciences. Studies fossils and living primates, primate biology and behavior. Surveys humanoid fossils. Investigates human evolution and variations of basic biology as it pertains to human development. Stresses the importance of the distribution and diversity of humankind.

ANTH 103G SS
World Prehistory
3

Introduces the archaeological record of human prehistory. Explores the earliest fossil remains, and follows the development of humans throughout prehistory. Examines techniques used by archaeologists to find, recover, date, and analyze prehistoric artifacts.

ANTH 180G (Cross-listed with: AIST 180G) SS
Introduction to American Indian Studies
3

Provides an overview of modern and historical American Indian communities in the United States. Explores political and historical issues of major tribes and Indian communities by region. Provides students with information and perspectives on key social and cultural issues: spirituality, relations with the Federal government, notable individuals, art, literature, dance, media, health, education and activism.

ANTH 2030
Archeological Method and Theory
3

Explores the history, goals, theories, and methods of anthropological and archaeological research, especially as influenced by the natural sciences. Examines variations in prehistoric human behavior by analyzing the physical remains of ancient peoples throughout diverse time periods and geographical locations.

ANTH 2880
Introduction to Theory and Ethnography
WE
3

Provides foundational skills for analytic reading and writing in anthropology. Explores how to apply theory to ethnographic data. Teaches how to write argumentative essays that engage with anthropological texts.

ANTH 3000 (Cross-listed with: LANG 3000)
Language and Culture LH
3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 1010 or ENGH 1005, (ANTH 101G or any foreign language 2010 course), Sophomore status, and University Advanced Standing

Introduces cultural linguistics. Analyzes features of human languages that make possible semantic universality. Examines distinction between phonetic and phonemic units. Explores relationship between language and culture. Studies how language shapes culture and how culture shapes language.

ANTH 3050
Intro to Ethnomusicology
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Introduces a comparative study of music traditions from a variety of cultural settings. Presents concepts and research methods of ethnomusicology. Provides opportunities to develop skills of listening, observation, analysis, and demonstration. Utilizes ethnography, archaeology, and personal observation.

ANTH 3150
Culture Ecology and Health
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Examines reciprocal roles of culture, environment, and disease in human health. Covers nutrition, stress, and traditional non-Western treatments. Explores cultures' use of their own global medicine to sustain health and welfare.

ANTH 3200
Food and Culture
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the complex relationships between food, culture, and human action. Examines the cultural underpinning of human nutrition. Discusses the selected social, cultural, medical, political, and ideological uses of food. Examines the symbolism of food to better understand taboo, fasting and feasting, class and social stratification, sacrifice, hosting, cannibalism, and narrative grotesque.

ANTH 3210
Islam in the Modern World
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the different ways anthropologists have studied Muslim social life, including attempts to apply Muslim ethical frameworks to the domains of finance, politics, leisure, and the modern domestic sphere. Addresses the variety of ways Islam is practiced and interpreted. Covers Islam in Africa, the Middle East, Central and Southeast Asia, Europe and the United States. Explores issues in interfaith relations, such as the challenges Muslims face when living in a Christian-majority society.

ANTH 3300
Culture Development and International Aid
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Provides an overview of the anthropological study of international development. Analyzes development practices and anthropological critiques of these practices. Explores the way anthropological approaches can increase the likelihood of development project success. Explores peasant studies and the many concerns of rural development. Discusses poverty and how it relates to economic, social, and political development. Appraises ways to ameliorate poverty and the role of governmental and non-governmental organizations in the process.

ANTH 3315
Great Basin Archaeology
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ANTH 1030 or ANTH 2030) and (ENGL 2010 with a minimum grade of C+) and University Advanced Standing

Investigates the prehistoric and ethnographic peoples of the Great Basin of North America through the study of their archaeological remains. Examines how the analysis of ancient technology, subsistence, skeletal material, rock art, settlement patterning, the environment, and archaeological theory shapes our understanding of cultures in the region. May include a field trip to an archaeological site.

ANTH 3340
Peoples and Cultures of Mexico
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the people and cultures of Mexico. Discusses borders and immigration, indigenous cultures, rural/peasant societies, urban societies, and historical/political issues specific to Mexico. Emphasizes awareness of cultural relativity and global connectivity among the diverse peoples of Mexico.

ANTH 3350
Andean Prehistory
3
* Prerequisite(s): ANTH 101G and (ENGL 2010 with a minimum grade of C+) and (ANTH 103G or instructor approval) and University Advanced Standing

Offers an updated synthesis of the development, key achievements, material, organizational and ideological features of pre-Hispanic cultures of the Andean region of western South America. Spans around 12,000 years of pre-Hispanic cultural developments, from the earliest hunters-gatherers to the Spanish conquest of the Inca Empire. Focuses on the modern nation of Peru with an emphasis on the Paijan, Cupisnique, Chavín, Paracas, Nasca, Gallinazo Moche, Recuay, Tiwanaku, Wari, Cajamarca, Sicán, Chimú, and Inka.

ANTH 3360
Contemporary Issues in American Culture
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Examines key aspects of contemporary American culture. Discusses American values and popular culture, ethnicity, gender, childhood, food, reproduction, technology, crime, and globalization. Highlights aspects of American culture that may not be explored in other Behavioral Science curricula.

ANTH 3365
Gender and Sexuality
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Examines theories on the biological and cultural construction of sex and gender. Covers how different communities organize their lives around gender distinctions and sexual practices. Utilizes anthropological theories to analyze cultural practices and concepts pertaining to the following: differences between men and women, perceived sexual deviance and accepted sexual practices, non-binary people and third genders. Explores the way contradictory gender norms coexist and compete within the same culture.

ANTH 3370
History and Ethnography of Andean Societies
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the social and cultural processes that characterize the societies that descend from the Inca Empire--Bolivia, Ecuador, and Peru--as they have developed since the Spanish invasion. Discusses contemporary political, economic, and social problems in these countries in the context of global society.

ANTH 3400
Myth Magic and Religion
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the many aspects of religion, including its history, diversity, and how it relates to social science studies. Examines terms such as myth, magic, religion, ritual and shamanism, among others. Covers how these terms are used to discuss religious and spiritual practices around the world.

ANTH 3420
Andean Religion
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores religion prior to the Spanish conquest in the countries that were part of the Inca Empire--Bolivia, Ecuador, and Peru. Surveys the nature of Catholicism that was recreated after colonial conquest. Discusses the contemporary religious issues of Andean societies, such as secularity, and how Andean religious categories differ from categories that guide academic research on religion.

ANTH 3450
Shamanism and Indigenous Religion
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the religious systems of indigenous peoples, particularly those which have been called shamanic. Focuses on the classical study of shamanism and the literature on indigenous shamanism. Locates the study of shamanism within a social context that includes social relational and political economic contexts of the groups within which shamanism is found. Poses questions of how shamanism is different from the expanding world religions and compares and contrasts shamanism with non-shamanic indigenous religions. Analyzes at the current marketing of shamanism in New Age contexts.

ANTH 3460
Anthropology of Mormonism
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing.

Explores how an anthropological approach can enable a more in-depth comprehension of Mormonism as a religious tradition and cultural phenomena.

ANTH 3480
Global Christianity
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the key issues that have arisen in the literature that explores Christianity from an anthropological perspective. Examines the development of Christianity from its historical origins to its current status as a "world religion." Discusses how Christianity becomes relevant to different cultural contexts in the modern world. Analyzes Pentecostal, Evangelical Protestant, Eastern Orthodox, and Catholic forms of Christianity.

ANTH 3500
Discourse Semiotics and Representation 3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores classical theoretical positions on representation, meaning, discourse, and poetics. Examines performance of culture and the implications of performance theory for scientific epistemology and methodology. Surveys recent work by anthropologists who grapple with these theoretical concerns in empirical research in a range of global settings.

ANTH 3550
Memory and History
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Studies how societies remember and represent their past and present in various contexts. Examines how societies employ different senses of temporality in these processes. Explores the relationships with historiography and ethnohistory and how anthropologists and historians have dealt with these issues.

ANTH 3560
Peace Violence and Human Morality
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the cultural patterning of violence and nonviolence. Draws on theories of human values and ethics to understand how people morally justify different types of violent action, such as riots, genocide, warfare, and ritual violence. Explores cultural processes of pacifism, self-sacrifice, and reconciliation.

ANTH 3660
Globalized Society
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores the development and reactions to globalization. Traces the formation of community of nation-states and multilateral agencies called "global society." Explores the implications of global society for peoples far removed from this sphere of social organization. Provides an understanding of the world in which nation-states and their citizens are enmeshed.

ANTH 3700
Culture Psychology and Mental Health
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores interrelationships of individual personality to elements of Western and non-Western sociocultural systems. Examines relations of sociocultural contexts to self, motives, values, personal adjustment, stress and pathology using case histories and ethnography. Discusses the idea of self and personality, normality and deviance, and mental health and mental illness across social and cultural boundaries.

ANTH 3720
Applied Anthropology
3
* Prerequisite(s): ANTH 101G, ENGL 2010, and University Advanced Standing

Surveys the ethics and methods used by applied anthropologists. Surveys a range of areas where applied work is performed, including development anthropology, anthropology and health, industrial anthropology, anthropology and marketing, etc. Also explores the political, social, and theoretical implications of applied work.

ANTH 3750
Bioarchaeology
3
* Prerequisite(s): [(ANTH 1020 or BIOL 1500) and (ENGL 2010 with a minimum C+ grade) or Instructor approval] and University Advanced Standing

Focuses on the biological and contextual study of human remains recovered from archaeological sites. Presents an updated synthesis of bio-archaeological science dealing with the study of the human skeleton to reconstruct patterns of biological stress, infectious disease, lifestyle and physical activity, diet, violent death, and genetic relationships in the past. Temporal coverage principally falls on the last 10,000 years of history, and the spatial scope is global. Involves the dynamic nature of skeletal tissues and the influences of environment and culture on human variation. Acquired skills will be of value to any students interested in skeletal studies including archaeology, bioarchaeology, paleopathology, forensic science, vertebrate biology, biomedical sciences, and behavioral science.

ANTH 3830
Biology and Culture
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ANTH 101G or ANTH 1020) and (ENGL 2010 with a minimum grade of C+) and University Advanced Standing

Explores the interactions of nature and nurture as a complex whole, rather than as mutually exclusive possibilities or separate streams of influence. Includes a significant research project.

ANTH 3850
Ethnographic Methods WE
3
* Prerequisite(s): ANTH 101G and University Advanced Standing

Examines the utility of ethnographic research techniques for answering different research questions. Formulates research ethics protocols. Engages in participant observation research and teaches techniques for recording observations in field notes. Employs ethnographic writing genres to compose reports on original research. Develops skills in qualitative interview techniques and the analysis of qualitative data.

ANTH 3870
Political Anthropology
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores anthropological theories of politics and power in relation to human events and social institutions. Provides a critical history of anthropological approaches to understanding processes of regulating and controlling populations, of justifying and executing power, of coaxing populations into self-governance, and of disciplining deviance. Analyzes political processes in non-state societies and the workings of nation-states.

ANTH 4120
History of Anthropological Thought
3
* Prerequisite(s): ANTH 101G and (ENGL 2010 with a minimum C+ grade) and University Advanced Standing

Surveys anthropological thought, theory and its philosophical roots from the nineteenth to the twentieth centuries. Focuses on the concepts and theoretical paradigms deployed in different social and intellectual conjunctures, as well as on the major debates that have formed the field and separated it from other social science disciplines.

ANTH 4130
Contemporary Theory and Debates
3
* Prerequisite(s): ANTH 101G, ANTH 4120, and University Advanced Standing

Explores social theory and other disciplines. Surveys current debate through exploration of the conceptual apparatuses that are deployed and the issues that motivate current research. Analyzes contemporary anthropological writings.

ANTH 4310
Kinship and the Family
3
* Prerequisite(s): University Advanced Standing

Explores anthropological thinking on familial relationships and uses theoretical concepts to analyze a variety of kinship practices. Covers the history of the anthropology of kinship. Evaluates the adequacy of different anthropological approaches to kinship for understanding the distinct ways humans organize themselves into family groups.

ANTH 475R
Current Topics in Anthropology
1 to 3
* Prerequisite(s): ENGL 2010 and University Advanced Standing

Presents selected topics in Anthropology and will vary each semester. May be repeated for a maximum of 15 credits toward graduation.

ANTH 482R
Archaeological Field Methods Practicum
1 to 9
* Prerequisite(s): [ANTH 2030 and (ENGL 2010 with a minimum grade of C+) or instructor approval] and University Advanced Standing

Introduces students to archaeological field technique and a critical approach to the methods by which archaeology is conducted. Provides involvement in all phases of field excavation, lab processing, curation and preservation of archaeological remains, and data analysis. Provides students with hands-on training in archaeological, historical, bio-archaeological, and environmental research. Explores how to conduct archaeological survey, large-scale site excavation, date cultural materials, excavate mortuary sites and human burials, and document patterns of social complexity, subsistence, and material culture. Students must be prepared for strenuous outdoor work, including hiking, digging, carrying heavy loads, and processing field collections in laboratory settings. Includes day activities such as survey and excavation. Evenings are dedicated to seminar-style discussion and laboratory work. Involves periodic field trips to nearby archaeological and historic sites. May be repeated for a maximum of 27 credits. May be graded Credit/No Credit.

ANTH 490R
Independent Studies
1 to 3
* Prerequisite(s): For Behavioral Science Bachelor Degree students only; Instructor approval and University Advanced Standing

For qualified students who wish to undertake a well-defined project or directed study related to an area of special interest. Requires individual initiative and responsibility. Includes limited formal instruction and faculty supervision. Projects may include writing a publishable paper, passing a competency exam, producing an annotated bibliography, an oral presentation, or other options as approved by instructor. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits.

Apprentice (APPR)

APPR 281R
Cooperative Work Experience
1 to 8
* Corequisite(s): APPR 285R

Designed for electrical construction apprentice majors. Provides paid, on-the-job work experience in the student's major. Work experience, the correlated class and enrollment are coordinated by the Cooperative Coordinator. Includes student, employer and coordinator evaluations, on-site work visits, written assignments and oral presentations. Provides experience in writing and completing individualized work objectives that improve present work performance. May be graded Credit/No Credit.

APPR 285R
Cooperative Correlated Class
1
* Corequisite(s): APPR 281R

Designed for electrical construction apprentice majors. Identifies on-the-job problems and provides remediation of those problems through in-class discussion and study. Includes the study of identifying and maximizing service opportunities. Students register for this class with approval of the Cooperative Coordinator. Includes lecture, guest speakers, video tapes, role playing, case analysis, oral presentation and written assignments. Completers should be better able to perform in their field of work or study.

Architecture (ARC)

ARC 1010
Classical Architecture Workshop
3

Provides an understanding of the fundamental principles and language of architecture. Instructs in the design principles that inform classical architecture which are found in the order, proportion, archetypal geometry, and patterns found in nature and the cosmos. Creates a solid foundation for learning and applying architecture's vocabulary and syntax to compose poetic and meaningful buildings.

ARC 2110
Architecture Studio I
3
* Prerequisite(s): EGDT 1020 and ARC 1010 with a grade of C- or higher

Introduces the classical theories of architectural language, design, and craftsmanship in a hands on studio setting. Focuses on the classical vocabulary of the built environment. Investigates the forms, spaces, and ordering systems of design. Produces hand drawings in orthographic, perspective, and axonometric views. Illustrates light through shade and shadows. Applies understanding of classical building forms in the design of increasingly complex projects, Develops skills in traditional rendering and presentation techniques.

ARC 2210
Architecture Studio II
3
* Prerequisite(s): EGDT 1020, ARC 1010, and ARC 2110 with a grade of C- or higher

Exposes students to architectural site analysis and the process of evaluating a particular locations physical, historical, and cultural characteristics to inform design. Develops a building project of significant merit by measuring and documenting a selected site. Analyzes the complex elements of a site such as varying topography, watercourses, vegetation, habitats, weather patterns, and historical data to guide design decisions. Researches elements to determine the building placement, orientation, form and material selection.

ARC 2220
Construction Documents and Specifications
3
* Prerequisite(s): EGDT 1020 and EGDT 1100 with a grade of C- or higher

Prepares for the Construction Documents Technician (CDT) industry certification using standard software to complete working drawings for the architectural, civil, MEP, and structural industries. Develops a project manual and outline specifications, which coordinate with the working drawings of a commercial design.

ARC 3110
Architecture Studio III
6
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation to the B-Arch Program and University Advanced Standing.

Immerses students into the architecture studio culture and a design thinking environment. Emphasizes the fundamental design skills with attention on site and precedent. Requires research of a site and program necessary to develop cultural, theoretical, environmental, and historical contexts. Follows a Project based approach with a final presentation to a professional jury.

ARC 3120
Architectural Graphic Communication
3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation to the B-Arch Program and University Advanced Standing

Enables the student to confidently communicate design ideas to others. Includes involvement in producing complex 3D models and renderings of various project types. Combines traditional drawing techniques and contemporary software to complete assignments and projects.

ARC 3130
Codes and Construction Law
3
* Prerequisite(s): EGDT 2100, EGDT 2610 both with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing.

Explores the modern building codes and how they affect building design and construction. Examines written specifications and the various jurisdictional requirements for architectural works. Provides in-depth information about the preparation and content necessary for a set of construction documents. Defines and explains the several types of construction contracts, bidding requirements, methods of specifying, substitutions, instructions, and warranties.

ARC 3210
Architecture Studio IV
6
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 3110 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing.

Engages in the essential pre-design processes of a project type. Includes the assessment of client and user needs, space analysis, and examination of project site. Follows a project based approach with a final presentation to a professional jury.

ARC 3220
Passive Environmental Systems
3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation to the B-Arch degree program, University Advanced Standing.

Examines the principles of environmental systems design and the building envelope's affect on occupant comfort. Investigates passive heating and cooling strategies, natural ventilation, solar geometry, daylighting, climate considerations, thermal comfort, and mechanical systems.

ARC 3230
Global History of Architecture to 1700
3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation to the B-Arch degree program, University Advanced Standing.

Explores the history of architecture and urbanism from a global perspective, beginning with the first settlements to roughly 1700 AD. Analyzes buildings and their surroundings through different methods of interpreting history. Presents that architecture is the result of complex interrelationships dealing with aesthetic, cultural, contextual, symbolic, religious, social, economic, political, technological, behavioral, and ecological issues.

ARC 4110
Architecture Studio V
6
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 3210 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing.

Produces an architectural design as part of an interdisciplinary team. Integrates a complex architectural program and associated needs of a user. Utilizes collaboration between disciplines such as mechanical, civil, and electrical engineering. Follows a project-based approach with a final presentation to a professional jury.

ARC 4120
Active Environmental Systems
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 3220 and University Advanced Standing

Investigates the principles of environmental systems design and the building envelope's affect on occupant comfort and life safety. Investigates HVAC systems, indoor air quality, lighting, communication, security, fire protection, acoustics, vertical transportation, electrical, and plumbing systems.

ARC 4130
Global History of Architecture Since 1700
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 3230 with a grade of C- or higher. Matriculation to the B-Arch degree program, and University Advanced Standing

Explores the history of architecture and urbanism from a global perspective beginning with the first settlements since 1700 AD. Analyzes buildings and their surroundings through different methods of interpreting history. Explores architecture’s complex interrelationships dealing with aesthetic, cultural, contextual, symbolic, religious, social, economic, political, technological, behavioral, and ecological issues.

ARC 4210
Architecture Studio VI
6
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4110 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing

Immerses students in the design of an architectural work to fulfill a community need. Encourages networking with community leaders and citizens. Employs project components such as client interviews, research methods, and interdisciplinary study. Explores a complex architectural program and associated needs of the community.

ARC 4220
Building Envelope and Science
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4120 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing

Introduces modern architectural materials, methods of construction, and building enclosures including steel, concrete, curtain walls, high-performance materials, and thermal and moisture barriers. Evaluates the inclusion of sustainable systems to save energy and reduce the carbon footprint in building construction.

ARC 4230
Capstone Project Research
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4210 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing
* Corequisite(s): ARC 4510, ARC 4540

Applies investigative, pre-design, and research skills towards an independent capstone project. Integrates critical thinking while developing an architectural building program, assessing client-user needs, selecting a project site, analyzing environmental and climatic concerns, understanding building code requirements, analyzing the immediate site context and historic fabric, and planning for site specific zoning regulations.

ARC 4510
Architecture Studio VII
6
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4210 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing

Applies design skills through an architectural work which integrates critical and abstract thinking. Researches building systems, life safety considerations, building envelope, financial, cultural & environmental balance, and construction documentation skills.

ARC 4520
Architectural Theory
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 3210, with a grade of C- or better and University Advanced Standing

Surveys contemporary architectural thought and theory. Focuses on key figures, movements, and texts. Provides an overview of the principal theories that have informed or undermined architecture of the past four decades. Considers the changing role of theory with respect to practice. Provides a set of questions, techniques, and tools for criticism and self-reflection.

ARC 4530
Culture and Behavior in Architecture
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4110 with a grade of C- or better and University Advanced Standing

Examines the relationship between architecture, culture, history, economics, and humanity. Explores varying cultures and human behaviors and how they represent and manifest themselves in the built environment.

ARC 4540
Architecture Professional Practice
3
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4210 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ARC 4510, ARC 4230

Examines the fundamentals of running and managing an architectural firm including project management, finances, working with consultants, stakeholder considerations, and ethical issues. Prepares for the Architectural Registration Exam (ARE).

ARC 459R
Special Topics in Architecture
3
* Prerequisite(s): Matriculation to the B-Arch degree program and University Advanced Standing.

Provides exposure to emerging technologies, techniques of design and construction, and the craft of building lasting high quality structures. Varies each semester with a different topic. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits towards graduation.

ARC 4610
Architecture Studio VIII
7
* Prerequisite(s): ARC 4510 with a grade of C- or higher and University Advanced Standing

Applies design skills through an architectural work which integrates critical and abstract thinking. Researches building systems, life safety considerations, building envelope, financial, cultural and environmental balance, and construction documentation skills.

Art (ART)

ART 1010 FF
Introduction to Visual Arts
3

Develops an appreciation of the visual arts by investigating the elements and principles of art, art criticism, art production, and the history of art. Includes written critiques and assignments. Requires students to identify works of arts and describe their significance in writing. May be delivered hybrid.

ART 1020 FF
Basic Drawing for Non-Majors
3

For non-majors. Introduces basic drawing techniques and stresses fundamentals of observation-based homework. Includes practice and skill building. Investigates basic black and white media such as graphite and charcoal. Requires sketchbook, in-class and home work assignments.

ART 1050 FF
Photography I
3

Emphasizes the use of camera operation, including aperture and shutter speed adjustments to control exposure, depth of field, lenses, and camera format. Teaches how to see photographically, using elements of composition and lighting to make stronger images. May be delivered online. Software fee of $12 applies. Course fee of $11 for equpment applies. Lab access fee of $26 for computers applies.

ART 1110
Drawing I
3
* Prerequisite(s): Major in Art and Design or Art Education

For Art and Design and Art Education majors. Introduces fundamental drawing concepts and media. Emphasizes mastery of basic drawing principles and integration of these principles into a personal drawing style through exposure to a variety of structured drawing experiences.

ART 1120
2D Design
3

Introduces skills, techniques, and materials associated with two-dimensional design fundamentals. Studies a variety of media, techniques, and subjects, exploring perceptual and descriptive possibilities regarding design both as a developmental process as well as an artistic end. Provides experience in a range of traditional and non-traditional design media. Projects and critiques examine integration of both visual elements and principles of design according to contemporary standards.

ART 1130
3D Design
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1120

Presents a survey of the history and main lines of development and influential factors in three dimensional design. Examines important designers, firms, and decisive turning points in the history of three dimensional design. Emphasizes planning, purpose, and function through project oriented assignments. Teaches proper use of tools and materials. Course fee of $25 for materials applies.

ART 1210
Spatial Drawing
3
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ART 1110

Provides students with essential drawing skills necessary for the correct representation of space. Introduces multiple linear perspective drawing methods, visualization, tonal drawing, and rendering skills. Studies perspective and spatial representation in a historical context.

ART 1340 FF
Sculpture I
3

Introduces methods and techniques of figurative clay sculpture. Students will construct armatures and build clay head and anatomy studies from the model. Includes firing and finishing techniques. Course fee of $20 for materials applies.

ART 1350 FF
Ceramics I
3

Studies clay as an expressive medium. Emphasizes techniques of working with clay, including hand building, wheel throwing, glazing, and firing. Course fee of $30 for materials applies.

ART 1400
Graphic Computer Applications
3

Introduces concepts and software related to visual communication and the creation and reproduction of art. Teaches how to create and modify digital images using Adobe Photoshop. Also teaches basic design skills using Adobe Illustrator. Teaches basic page layout skills using InDesign. Covers basic software used in visual communications. May be delivered online. Software fee of $12 applies. Lab access fee of $26 for computers applies.

ART 1410
Typography I
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1120, ART 1400. For DGM majors: DGM 1110, DGM 2250.

Teaches the principles of typographic design and communication, type selection, and type terminology. Addresses typographic history and the use of typography in contemporary design including its relationship to layout and grid structure. Teaches skills to allow students to professionally set type using industry standard software.Software fee of $12 applies. Lab access fee of $26 for computers applies.

ART 1420
Graphic Design I
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ART 1120 and ART 1400) or (DGM 1110 and DGM 2250)

Provides an understanding of basic principles needed for effective visual communication. Presents a survey of graphic design theory and practice. Introduces graphic design processes for creative problem solving, production and critique. Software fee of $12 applies. Lab access fee of $26 for computers applies.

ART 1630
Introduction to Landscape Painting
3

Teaches landscape painting and drawing techniques through direct exposure to area sites. Explores interior and exterior landscapes. Studies color, shape, relationships, light, and space. Emphasizes individual interpretation of subject matter using a variety of media. Community members welcome.

ART 1650 FF
Watercolor
3

Studies materials, techniques, and compositional methods of watercolor painting at a beginning level. Teaches the application of basic techniques for the use of transparent watercolor materials. Includes lecture/demonstration and studio time for application and evaluation. For majors and non-majors.

ART 1750
Intro to Digital Imaging
3
* Prerequisite(s): Major in Art and Design or Art Education

Emphasizes the use of camera operation, including lens, aperture, and shutter speed adjustments to control exposure and depth of field. Teaches how to see photographically, using elements of composition and lighting to make stronger images. Uses digital captures as the primary focus. Also covers how to light and photograph 2D and 3D artworks as well as create reference photos. Required DSLR or SLR cameras. Software fee of $12 applies. Lab access fee of $26 applies.

ART 1790
Dark Room Techniques
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1750

Introduces photography majors to traditional dark room processes, including development and printing methods. Teaches imagery through negative manipulation, diffusion, toning, and multiple exposure. Course lab fee of $19 for equipment applies.

ART 1810
Introduction to Interior Design
3

For individuals wishing to develop interior design skills, be employed in the interior design industry, or develop their own interior design business. Overviews the interior design profession, client profiles and the design process. Covers principles and elements of design, evaluating design, color and lighting, fabric and pattern coordination. Studies American architecture and furniture styles, history and identification, and current design trends.

ART 1820
Interior Space Design
3

For individuals wishing to develop interior design skills, be employed in the interior design industry, or develop their own interior design business. Covers aesthetic and functional home design and space planning, "presentation" drafting and presentation techniques, "universal design," quality furniture selection, and furniture arrangements. Includes kitchen design, architectural details, background materials, color fabric construction and selection. Includes lecture, guest speakers, videos, in-class labs and field trips. Completers have prepared floor plans, color and selection boards, and make client presentations.

ART 1830
Residential Interior Design
3

For individuals wishing to develop interior design skills, be employed in the interior design industry, or develop their own interior design business. Covers conceptualizing, designing, specifying and presenting residential interior client presentations. Includes business practices, building codes, portfolio preparation and advanced interior design concepts. Completers will have knowledge to be competent at mid-level interior design positions.

ART 200R
Art and Design Lecture Series
1
* Prerequisite(s): Declared Art and Design major

Offers weekly lectures exploring art and design. Addresses art education, art history, ceramics, drawing, graphic design, illustration, painting, photography, and sculpture. May be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits toward graduation. Course fee of $50 for support applies.

ART 2100 FF
Teaching Art for Children
3

Introduces concepts and techniques to teach children art in the home, community, or schools based on state and national art teaching and learning standards. Includes community-based and multicultural engagement, materials management, and content appropriate for young learners. Assists students to become independent, creative, and productive learners as they acquire the knowledge, skills, and experience to teach children ages 5–12. Course Lab fee of $23 for materials applies.

ART 2110
Drawing II
3
* Prerequisite(s): (ART 1110 or ART 1020) and ART 1120

ART 219R
Special Topics
1 to 3

Elective course for Art and Design students. Presents seminars and workshops from experts in industry. May range from a single weekend to a full semester. Repeatable for offerings of different content. A maximum of 3 credits may apply toward graduation. Lab access fee of $15 for computers applies.

ART 2220
Imagination and Visual Literacy
3
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ART 1210

Teaches visual problem solving skills that enable students to effectively find, interpret, evaluate, use, and create images that are original in concept. $25 course fee for support applies.

ART 2230
Illustrative Media and Techniques I
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1110, ART 1120
* Prerequisite(s) or Corequisite(s): ART 1210

Introduces the practice, study, and application of a variety of oil painting techniques used in the production of illustration art. Explores the development of mixed media processes and techniques using oil paint in combination with other materials and media will be explored.

ART 2240
Illustrative Media and Techniques II
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1210

Introduces the study, practice and application of aqueous painting media used in the production of illustration art. Focuses on acrylic, gouache, casein or watercolor painting techniques. In addition, develops mixed media processes and techniques in combination with aqueous painting media.

ART 2250
Gestural Drawing
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1110, ART 1210

Introduces the drawing of basic shapes and forms used to create solidly-constructed, animated characters. Emphasizes understanding and communicating movement of the human form as shapes and drawing imaginatively. Course fee of $100 applies for support.

ART 2260
Digital Painting for Illustration I
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1110, ART 1400

Introduces the digital illustrator/painter to the application of various animation software programs such as basic raster, vector, and 3D. Software fee of $12 applies. Lab access fee of $26 for computers applies.

ART 2270
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1110, ART 1120, ART 1210, Art and Design major or department approval.

Studies the anatomy of the human figure; dynamics, posing and motion. Emphasizes figure-drawing skills such as extreme foreshortening, perspective and drawing the gestural motion of the human form. Uses live models (draped and/or undraped). Course Lab fee of $120 for support applies.

ART 2280
3D Computer Modeling
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1400 or DGM 1110

Teaches basic techniques of computer software-based 3D modeling, focusing primarily on Polygon and Subdivision Surface workflows applicable to virtually all modern 3D software packages. Includes basic lighting, surfacing, and rendering techniques. Includes computer animation techniques. Software fee of $12 applies Lab access fee of $26 for computers applies.

ART 2340
Sculpture II
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1340 or Department Approval

Teaches intermediate techniques of clay sculpture, including armature construction, base relief, figurative sculpture based on human and animal forms. Develops the skills to create a sculpture from clay model to finished piece. Course fee of $40 for materials applies.

ART 2350
Ceramics II
3
* Prerequisite(s): ART 1350 or Department Approval
