

President's Message

UVU alumni have honored us with the "Legacy" award for our outstanding contributions to non-traditional student scholarships. Some of the past presidents, members of the scholarship committee, and current board members were able to attend a banquet given in our honor. I hope you have been able to see and hold in your hands the award we were given. It belongs to all of you who have been so generous. We are also in the process of planning the next Elder Quest Annual Scholarship Seminar to be held April 10, 2019 in the UVU Ballroom. Watch for posters and other advertisement about the seminar as we get closer to that date but please put the date on your calendar now.

I have attended all the E Q classes this semester and I have been delighted and edified with the information I have gleaned from the classes and Potpourri Lectures. We will lose Jeannie Griffiths and Gary Browning after the fall semester. We would like to thank them for their outstanding classes. We have been "bulging at the seams" in the classroom and I hope this hasn't discouraged anyone from coming to Elder Quest.

Next semester classes will start on January 21, 2019 at the Provo Senior Center and will continue for 10 weeks. You will need to register with the Provo Senior Center, 270 West 500 North in Provo and you can do that now. They are open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday-Saturday. Your membership will be good for a full year. If you register now, you will have a membership until this time next year. You will be issued a card that will give you access to the senior center and they will take your picture for the card. If you are not a citizen of Provo, you will need to tell them that you belong to Elder Quest to get the $10 fee. Normally the fee for citizens of communities other than Provo is $100. Visitors accompanied by a member or people who want to investigate E Q before they join will be allowed to come once before joining. If you participate in the "Silver Sneakers" program, ask them about the fee for you.

You do not need to register with Elder Quest again for this semester. Your $40 membership is for the whole year.

The Provo Senior Center is not well marked. It is part of the Provo Recreation Center and is on the east side (Freedom Blvd side) of the building. Go in the east doors and walk to the desk. There are handicap parking spaces just outside the east entrance. There is also a large parking lot on the east side. If you would like to tour the center, they would love to take you.

Please take responsibility for signing up with the Provo Senior Center. You will need their card to get into the first Elder Quest class on January 21, 2019. If you wait until that day to sign up, you will have to wait in line and will probably miss part of the first class.

Be aware that if you sign up with the Provo Senior Center that you can still be a member of the Orem Senior Friendship Center. Their membership goes from January 1 to December 31, so you will need to sign up with them again after the first of the year. If you're over 80 it's free.

We want you to come with us to Provo for our E Q classes. The Elder Quest Board has been working hard to find just the right classes and activities to keep us intellectually stimulated and well informed. We love you. We value each one of you and strive to make Elder Quest valuable for you.

Ruth Hillam, E Q President

Congratulations to Elder Quester Don Norton

Recipient of the prestigious 2018 LDSPMA Lifetime Achievement Award

Don Norton was recently given the prestigious LDSPMA Lifetime Achievement Award in Editing and Production for helping thousands of editors, writers, and others in publishing

At this year's LDSPMA conference he also taught a session where he shared his most important tips and advice for members of the publishing industry. He culled these best practices through his decades as a BYU professor and as an editor working with lay writers, students aspiring to be writers, oral informants, and academics (including Hugh Nibley—and who dares edit him?).

Congratulations to UVU Elder Quest,

Recipients of UVU Alumni Legacy Award!

The UVU Alumni Association presented UVU Elder Quest with the prestigious Legacy Award for its generous support of UVU Non-Traditional Scholarships through the years, and their continuing dedication to life long learning. Karen Cloward spoke at the banquet and praised UVU Elder Quest.

The UVU Elder Quest Board was invited to attend the banquet and Ruth Hillam, President, Fran Reiser, Past President, and Joan Hahn, Scholarship Chair received the award on behalf of the UVU Elder Quest Organization. The award was presented by Kevin Walkenhorst, Alumni Senior Director, and Scott Cooksey, Vice President of Development. The award was presented at the annual Alumni Awards Banquet.

Changes and New Classes for Spring Semester

Jan 21 through March 28, 2019

The Lincoln Legacy

(New topic)

10:00 AM Monday at the Orem Public Library

Taught by Judith and Leonard Tourney

How the life of Abraham Lincoln has influenced writers, poets, composers, playwrights and filmmakers.

Mid 19th Century New England Authors: Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Dickinson, Alcott

(New topic)

1:00 PM Tuesdays

Taught by Neal Lambert

at The Provo Senior Center

THE JOY OF MUSIC: THE SYMPHONY

(New topic)

Thursday at 1:00 AM

Taught by Esther Megargel at The Provo Senior Center

Discuss some of the greatest symphonies in the history of Western Music, including selections from Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Franck, and Brahms.

Mozart's Opera The Magic Flute

Thursday, 2:30 - 3:45 pm at the Provo Senior Center

Taught by Alan Keele

Study this unique production that was originally called a Singspiel instead of an opera. Singspiel meaning Sing-speak, combining dialogue with arias and ensembles. In this tale, a noble prince is ordered by the mysterious Queen of the Night to rescue a beautiful princess who has been kidnapped.

A note from Alan to Elder Quest

I can't recall another class I've taught (in a teaching career spanning nearly half a century) which I enjoyed as much as our class last year on the life and works of the poet Leslie Norris. You Elder Quest students were terrific and responded to Leslie's remarkable poems and stories in profound and sometimes unexpectedly personal ways which deeply moved and gratified me.

In the end I came to realize that one major unintended result of the class was that I think I observed people falling in love with real poetry, some for the first time. (It's easy to think of poetry as either some kind of rhyming sentimentality or, on the other extreme, some kind of puzzlingly abstract idiosyncratic construct.) Through Leslie's poetry I think we all came to understand what real poetry is and to love good poetry more generally.

I'd like to repeat that experience somehow. Not unlike poetry, one of the arts that we often think of as too abstract, high-falutin, snooty, outdated, and downright BORING! is opera. (And some operas are all those things, let's face it.)

But there is one remarkable opera that has the power to charm children, teenagers, adults, old fogies and opera buffs alike: Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's last opera (composed not long before his death in 1791), called The Magic Flute. I think it is impossible not to fall head-over-heels in love with The Magic Flute. I confidently predict that at the end of the course most, if not all our students, will consider themselves passionate opera lovers.

The Magic Flute's plot is brilliantly simple and accessible to all ages -- it's a fairy tale setting of a love story involving a prince and a princess, a charming bird-catcher who looks just like a bird himself, a horribly wicked and devious queen and a righteous high priest -- not to mention magical musical instruments -- but the plot is philosophically also almost bottomlessly profound. It deals with the search for truth amid a fog of falsehoods, it examines whether women and men are truly equals, whether all races are sons and daughters of deity, and finally it tells us of the infinite potential of the human race.

The $10 Senior Annual Pass gives access to many amenities, but not ALL amenities available at the Provo Recreation Center. Many insurance companies will cover the cost of a full-access Recreation Center pass. Ask your insurance provider if you qualify. If you do, bring the health ID number from your insurance company to verify your eligibility. If you qualify, the front desk will issue a full-access membership to the Provo Recreation Center.

Travel Adventures with Elder Quest

Joan Hahn & Carla Teasdale

We visited Branson, Missouri November 5-10, 2018. What fun to visit this entertainment capitol for fun, history, and outstanding productions. We toured The Harry Truman Library and Museum, The Titanic Museum, Silver Dollar City, and enjoyed The Dolly Parton Stampede, the Hughes Brothers Christmas Show, and the Andy Williams Christmas Show.

ELDER QUEST TOURS 2019

Elder Questers love to travel and we are pleased to announce our trips for 2019.

"Keys to Kennedy Tour" April 23-30, 2019. We are very excited about sharing this exciting area of the US with you. We will start in Miami with a dinner cruise to view their magnificent skyline and then motor down the keys to the John Pennekamp Coral Reef State Park (the only underwater state park in our country) in Key Largo. On Glass Bottom Boats, we will explore this exciting under water world. On to Key West, where we will stand on the Southernmost Point in the USA

We will also tour the Ernest Hemingway properties, Truman's White House and more. Back on the main land we will experience the Everglades National Park, visit Vero Beach, Explore the Kennedy Space Center, have lunch with an Astronaut, and then spend the next two days at Disney World and The Epcot Center. The trip includes your hotels, flights, buses, and 14 meals. $300.00 deposit is due Dec. 5th. Prices: Quad $1,994.00, Triple $2,112.00, Double $2,323.00, Single $2,874.00

On Sept 3-9, 2019 we will tour "Yellowstone to Mt. Rushmore". We will spend two days in Yellowstone visiting Old Faithful, Geyser Basin, Yellowstone Falls & Canyon & much more. On we go to Cody, WY, to see the world famous Buffalo Bill Museum. Traveling through Wyoming we arrive at Mt Rushmore and the Black Hills. We will visit Crazy Horse Monument, Deadwood, Wild Bill Hickock's Grave & Rapid City. Find out why this city is called the "Most Patriotic City in America." Back through Wyoming, we see Devils Tower and the Worlds Largest Hot Springs in Thermopolis, WY. $200.00 deposit is due Jan 10th. Prices: Quad $1,392.00, Triple $1,486.00, Double $1,663.00, Single $2,235.00

The Logan Musical and Opera Season is one of our favorites. This year we will be going on July 11-13, 2019. We will be seeing Mary Poppins, The Marriage of Figaro, Bravo Caruso (with Michael Ballam) and West Side Story. We always include lunch at Maddox, a visit to Gossner Cheese Factory, the outlet for Pepperidge Farms, and Cox Honeyland. On our way home we will visit Promontory Point. $100.00 deposit is due Jan. 10th. Prices: - Quad $681.00, Triple $703.00, Double $748.00, Single $883.00
