

ASN NURSING APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

1. Go to Website <https://www.uvu.edu/nursing/degrees/bsn.html> and click on Apply to the RN-BSN Program.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) Completion Program

BSN classes are available online, hybrid, or face-to-face.

BSN PROGRAM INFORMATION

BSN CATALOG INFORMATION

A BSN degree allows ASN-prepared nurses to learn and apply leadership skills, genomics, global health perspectives, and research for practice. A BSN degree provides the greatest opportunities for advancement in the nursing profession. In addition, a BSN degree is required for entry into graduate nursing programs, including nurse practitioner, certified nurse anesthetist, nurse educator, or nurse researcher.

RN to BSN Program

Licensed RNs who would like to earn a BSN degree are encouraged to apply to our UVU RN-BSN program. This program is offered online, hybrid or face-to-face, and you can attend full- or part-time. We are proud to assist RNs and our community partners in elevating the quality of health care delivered in our communities.

orレンス. UVU has sole discretion to deny entrance based upon the information contained in either of these two reports.

→ Complete the online Nursing Orientation. Information on completing the online orientation will be sent via your official UVU email address (my.UVU.edu). If the online orientation is not completed by the orientation deadline, you will not be allowed to start classes.

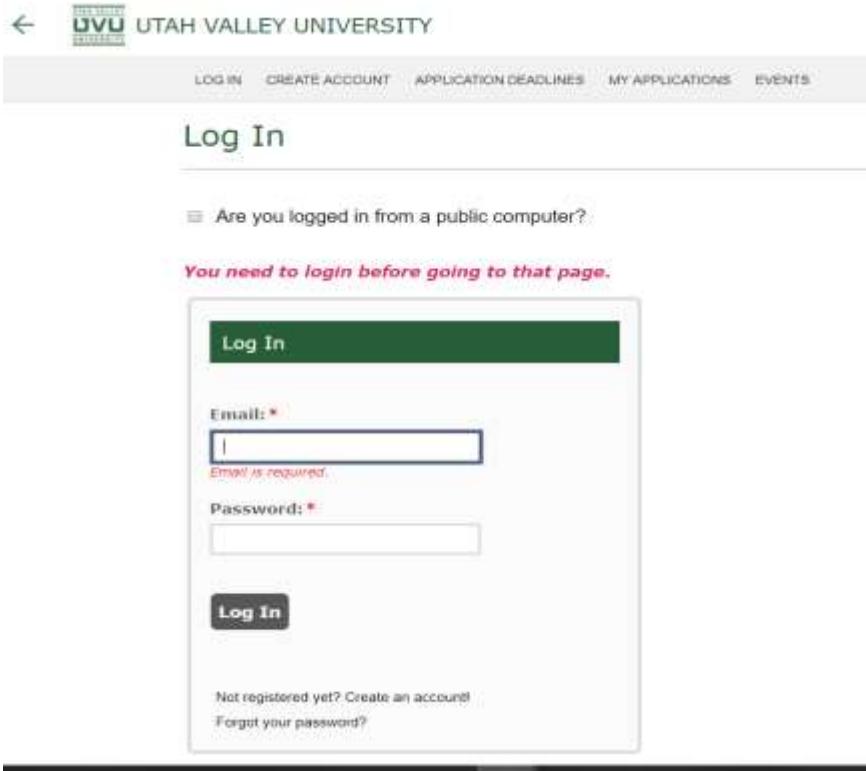

UVU Department of Nursing reserves the right to disqualify students guilty of any form of misrepresentation and/or misconduct.

Any questions about admission requirements and the application process should be directed to the nursing advisor. You will start by entering the email address and password you used when you applied to UVU.
