

2018

STUDENT ETHICS SYMPOSIUM

APRIL 17TH

Schedule of Events

Classroom Building, Room 417

1:00 - 2:15 p.m.

“Generating Precedence for Absolutely Universal Rights: Energy as a Foundation for Protections”

Tyler Jaynes, Department of Philosophy

“Towards the Moral Consideration of Plants”

Erin Call, Department of Integrated Studies (Environmental Studies and Geography)

“The Gospel According to Sufjan: When the Theological Becomes Personal”

Nathan Tucker, Student Fellow, Center for the Study of Ethics

2:30 - 3:45 p.m.

“The Principles of Cultural Violence and Peace”

Lucas Draney, Department of Behavioral Science (Anthropology emphasis)

“The Gambling Machine: A Material Lamentation in Odds and Ideals”

Dillon Boss, Department of History and Political Science

“Inclusion and Exclusion in Northern Ireland's Peace Process”

Monica English, Student Fellow, Center for the Study of Ethics

4:00 - 5:00 p.m.

Panel Discussion

“Human Exceptionalism: Shifting toward Biocentrism”

Gabriel Toscano, Department of Philosophy and Integrated Studies Program

Katelyn Hickman, Department of Philosophy and Integrated Studies Program

Russell Hatch, Department of Philosophy and Environmental Studies Program