Bo Tibbetts is full-time owner and water operations instructor at Public Safety Dive Services, which includes swiftwater, ice rescue, flood rescue, sub-surface operations and drowning investigations instructor. He has been providing training services to public safety personnel for nearly 14 years. He specializes in surface ice rescue operations. Mr. Tibbetts has been instrumental in standardizing the ice rescue industry with operational standards and equipment protocols for 10 years. He strongly believes in protecting our rescuers while incorporating the K.I.S.S. methodology (keep it simple and safe). While accidents happen and the public continues to reach to us in time of need, his hope is that he has given our fire rescue personnel the training, skills and the equipment that will keep them safer with the knowledge and confidence to serve our communities better.
