

Ana Caballero Ferreyro

Ana Caballero Ferreyro is a Senior at Utah Valley University, pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science with a concentration in Global Politics, alongside a minor in National Security Studies. Originally from Mexico, Ana has served as a team leader in the LEAD program, President of the Foreign Affairs club, and member of UVU's Honors Program, where she fosters an inclusive environment for students from diverse backgrounds. Passionate about social issues, she dedicates her time to service activities, helping with Mountain Sustainable Development initiatives that enhance her understanding of community needs and contribute to her personal growth as a student leader at UVU. Ana had the great opportunity to volunteer at the Conservative Climate Summit this past October 2024, where she got to meet Congressmen John Curtis and Congresswoman Celeste L. Maloy. Ana currently serves as a fellow in the Global Engagement office at UVU and a foundation ambassador at the UVU Evergreen campaign.