

Angie Macias

Angie Macias is a Political Science major with a minor in Leadership in Nonprofit Organizations at Utah Valley University. Her academic work focuses on gender justice, democratic reform, and sustainable development, with particular attention to mountain women in Armenia and structural barriers they face while accessing education and legal protection. Through research and service learning preparation for CSW69, Angie has explored how geography, gender, and institutional gaps limit women and girls in rural communities. Angie aspires to work in public service and international policy, advocating for communities whose voices are not heard during global conversations.
