Dr. Scott A. Leckman

Dr. Scott A. Leckman is a general surgeon in Salt Lake City, former President of the Utah Medical Association, and former Rotary District Governor for Utah. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Stanford University before completing his medical degree and surgical training at the University of Utah. Through Rotary International, he has organized trips to India where Utah volunteers help immunize children against polio, contributing to the global effort to eradicate the disease. His dedication to polio eradication earned him The Rotary Foundation's Certificate of Excellence in 2015 and the Regional Award for a Polio-Free World in 2020.