

STUDENT FEE INFORMATION

What is a student fee and who decides what they go towards?

By definition a general student fee is any university-wide fee assessed upon registration to students. Revenue from these fees is used to pay for programs, facilities, and services that are determined to be essential for the enrichment and broadening of opportunities for students. This does not include tuition, course fees, and special fees for particular courses, groups, or majors (UVU Policy 511 3.1).

At the beginning of spring semester every year, the UVUSA Student Council holds Student Fee Hearings. Any department or organization on campus who currently receives funding from student fees or would like to receive funding from student fees must come present to Student Council. The presentations are reports on how the money has been spent; requests for continued funding or increases, as needed; and, most importantly, how these expenditures benefit the student body. These meetings are open to the public and Student Council encourages student participation. The Student Fee Hearings will take place from mid-January through mid-February, between 1-3pm on Thursdays. Specific dates will be announced at the beginning of Spring semester.

After the conclusion of the Student Fee Hearings, the UVUSA Executive Council (Student Body President and the Vice Presidents) prepare a Student Fee Proposal. The proposal is presented to, reviewed and voted on by the General Student Fee Board, UVUSA Student Council and President’s Council. Once passed by these entities, it is presented to the UVU Board of Trustees and finally to the Utah State Board of Higher Education for final approval.

If you have any questions about student fees, please contact the Student Body President, at uvusa@uvu.edu or refer to UVU Policy 511 found at <https://www.uvu.edu/policies/manual.html>.
