This seminar will focus on issues (e.g., gender wage gap, labor force participation, childcare, unpaid care work) that impact nearly all women in Utah at various times in their lives. And, these issues most definitely impact many UVU employees and students. We are fortunate to have three expert panelists who have engaged in conducting and/or analysing current research and how it can inform public policy within the state of Utah. The seminar will focus on the progress that has been made in recent years, what may be coming up in the next legislative session, and what needs to be done in Utah to better support women in their professional and life decisions.

Come, listen, and enjoy lunch! Please RSVP.
