

Utah Women & Education Forum

October 27, 2015 (3:30-5:00 p.m.)
Library Lecture Hall (LI 120), Utah Valley University

Speaker

Dr. Susan R. Madsen

*Director, Utah Women & Education Initiative
Professor of Leadership & Ethics, Woodbury School of Business*

Why are many young women in Utah not attending college and completing degrees and certificates? This presentation will highlight many of the influences found to shape and impact these decisions. Dr. Madsen will share some key findings from an extensive statewide study conducted by Utah Women & Education Project researchers, many of which relate to assisting boys and men as well. She will also provide recommendations on what we can do to help move the needle for women in Utah. This information is powerful for anyone who influences girls and women within our state. The forum will conclude with light refreshments, giving attendees the opportunity to discuss ideas on how to help more girls and women understand the importance of college graduation. Come, listen, ask questions, and learn!

Who Should Attend?

People who influence girls and women in any setting (e.g., educators, parents & grandparents, counselors & advisors, school administrators, church youth leaders, coaches, and more). If you haven't heard these research results before, plan to attend!
